GAUTIER, Miss. (EMUEagles.com) -- Former Eastern Michigan University men's golfer Cam Burke advanced to the final stage of PGA Tour School with an eighth-place tie in the second stage of qualifying., Nov. 19-22. The former Eagle shot a four-round total 279 (74-62-69-74) at Shell Landing Golf Club in Gautier, Miss. to secure his spot in the final stage of Q-School.

Burke's nine-under total on the 7,024-yard, par 72 layout through four rounds was highlighted by a second round 62 in which the Charlotte, N.C. native made 10 birdies to go along with eight pars for a bogey-free round. Burke also shot a third round 69 to go in between a pair of 74s shot in the opening and final rounds.

The top 19 scores and ties at Shell Landing advanced to the last qualifying stage. While Burke tied for eighth with a 279, Mississippi native Matt Fast took medalist honors with a 20-under par 268 (65-68-67-68). Burke was two shots ahead of the final qualifiers shooting seven-under scores of 281.

The EMU alum will now advance to the final stage of qualifying in La Quinta, Calif. in hopes of earning a coveted Web.com Tour card for the 2014 season. The remainder of qualifying will be six rounds at the PGA West's Nicklaus Tournament Course as well as the TPC Stadium Course, Dec. 12-17.
