EMU University Library 2010-11 Materials Cancellation Project

The library continues to move from print to online content and subsequently is cancelling low use print titles or content which does not directly support the curricular needs of the university. This year was particularly difficult in that we needed to not only cancel $129,000 in content to offset inflation but also had to reduce the allocations to books, media, and support to offset a base budget reduction of $200,000 given back to the university as part of the library's contribution to address the $11 million reduction in state aid.

Below is a summary, by material type, of the cancellations. We improved access to a set of journal titles by migrating them from print to an online format. While more expensive, their content is now more accessible to the campus.
