Faculty Scholarly and Creative Activity Showcase, March 15, 2018

Carillon Room, Halle Library

Graduate Studies and Research is hosting a faculty research showcase and strolling reception in conjunction with the George Liepa Sigma Xi Lecture to celebrate faculty and their recently disseminated research, scholarly, and creative activity. We invite all tenure and tenure-track faculty to display posters or other dissemination of research outcomes, like books, artwork, videos or compact discs (CD) of performing art, etc., that was disseminated during the 2017 calendar year. If you would like to participate in this inaugural event, please submit your information using the following form by February 15, 2018 : <https://docs.google.com/forms>.

As space may be limited, places will be provided on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Workshops

SPSS II Training

This "hands-on" workshop is for participants who want to know how to create and use syntax files for SPSS for Windows. The SPSS II Workshop will cover selected advanced features and syntax files. Syntax files are text files that allow the user to run programs on a SPSS data file.

The advantages of using syntax files rather than menu-driven systems will be discussed and demonstrated during the workshops.

Deadlines

National Science Foundation, Cyberinfrastructure for Sustained Scientific Innovation-Data and Software

The goal of the integrated CSSI program is to create a CI ecosystem that spans all levels of the data and software stack and scales from individual or small groups of innovators to large community resources. The program addresses all aspects of cyberinfrastructure, from embedded sensor systems and instruments, to desktops and high-end data and computing systems, to major instruments and facilities. The program will continue to nurture the interdisciplinary processes required to support the entire data and software lifecycle, and will successfully integrate development and support with innovation and research. Furthermore, the program will result in the development of sustainable CI communities that transcend scientific and geographical boundaries. The program envisions vibrant partnerships among academia, government laboratories and industry, including international entities, for the development and stewardship of a sustainable infrastructure that can enhance productivity and accelerate innovation in science and engineering. Furthermore, integrated education activities will play a key role in developing and sustaining the cyberinfrastructure over time and in creating a workforce capable of fully realizing its potential to transform science and engineering.
