

LOEX Quarterly

Affiliated with Eastern Michigan University's Bruce T. Halle Library

Volume 32, Number 3

News from the LOEX Office

The LOEX office is bustling with activity this fall. In addition to the day-to-day, LOEX is busy making plans for its historic collection. LOEX houses 30+ years of library instruction materials, documenting the evolution of librarians' direct involvement in the academic lives of students, faculty, and the other communities they serve. LOEX plans to resurrect this collection, for its significance in the history of instruction librarians, by digitizing it.

In the meantime, plans for the 2006 conference are well underway and as you read this, the deadline for proposals is fast approaching. I envision an enlightening variety of translations of the theme (Moving Targets: Understanding Our Changing Landscapes). As technology, students, reputation, and expectations constantly change, it is our duty to not only keep up, but to keep ahead. The conference is our opportunity to share ideas, strategies, and plans—a one-stop shop for all of the latest in instructional theory and application. We look forward to your proposals!

Enjoy the holidays,

Theresa Valko
Director

What's Inside

| | |
|--|----|
| Featured Web Site: Library Instruction Wiki Robert Stevens | 2 |
| TechMatters: RSS by any other name... Krista Graham | 4 |
| Step-by-Step Teaching, Part Two: Tasks and Activities Ann Brown Paola Ceccarini | 6 |
| Who Do We Teach? Freshman First Year Experience vs. Upper Division Courses in the Major Dale Vidmar | 8 |
| Ross' Rave: Mary, Mary, quite contrary Ross LaBaugh | 10 |
| Author contact information | 12 |