Deadlines

Michigan Humanities, Bridging Michigan

Michigan non-profits are currently engaging in work that is addressing systemic inequities that are facing our communities. Michigan Humanities would like to support these organizations expand their reach by offering a funding opportunity specifically for these intentional, humanities-based, public programs. Bridging Michigan will provide Michigan nonprofits with up to $1500 that can be used to spark in-depth thinking and conversation about the persistent social, economic, and cultural issues of systemic inequity that divide our communities. This grant opportunity invites Michiganders to reflect and use the humanities to look at the longer histories driving contemporary debates. We welcome diverse projects from across Michigan, addressing different themes and using a variety of public humanities formats, including reflective conversations, reading series, film screenings with discussions, web projects, walking tours, documentary films, public lectures and panels, and the creation of exhibits.

Next Deadline: October 31, 2020

Internet Society Foundation, Research on the Future, Sustainability of the Internet

Objectives are to promote novel methodologies that generate solutions to Internet-related challenges; identify and support a diverse and collaborative group of researchers and research institutions; and facilitate access to intersectional research that can be applied to decision-making in government and industry. Areas of focus (required) are Greening the Internet and The Internet Economy

Next Deadline: Statements of Interest accepted at any time.
