

EMU "Quarterback Luncheons" will be held on Thursdays in 1982 at noon in the Tower Room of McKenny Union. EMU Head Coach Mike Stock will be the main speaker at each Thursday luncheon throughout the 1982 season and will show films of the previous week's Huron game and discuss the upcoming EMU opponent. The buffet-style luncheon will be $5 per person and will include soup, salad, sandwich and a choice of beverage. Everyone from the University community is invited.

Enrollment figures stable for fall term

Eastern Michigan University President John W. Porter says he is encouraged by preliminary enrollment reports for the fall term and hopes the University will buck a statewide trend of declining headcounts and will have a stable enrollment again in 1982-83.

Porter based his optimism on an analysis of new and returning students issued by the EMU Registration Office Aug. 31.

"We're very encouraged that our enrollment continues to hold stronger than we had anticipated. Our enrollment figures are ahead of last year at this time in several categories but we are still 4,003 students from reaching our targeted goal for this year," the EMU president said.

Porter added that the University is one of the few institutions in Michigan to project a stable enrollment this year.

Total students registered for the fall term as of Aug. 31 numbered 15,247, an increase of 105 students from last year at the same date. The targeted goal for fall enrollment at EMU is 19,250 with a Sept. 8 opening day target of 17,500.

In other enrollment categories, there are 2,294 new freshmen and special students enrolled at EMU, an increase of 56 students from last year at the same time. Transfer students increased by 96 students, from 1,145 last year to 1,241 this year. New undergraduates at EMU increased by 152 students from last year and the total number of returning undergraduates increased by 151 students, from last year's 8,599 to 8,750 this year. Total undergraduate students enrolled as of Aug. 31 represented an increase of 303 students from last year. Graduate enrollment, however, declined by 197 students, from 3,159 students last year to 2,962 students on the last reporting date in August.

In addition, total credit hour production at Eastern increased from 160,236 last year to 160,613 on the Aug. 31 date.

In reflecting on the 1981-82 academic year at the University, Dr. Porter stressed the University's major accomplishments even in a period of severe fiscal constraints but cautioned against being overly optimistic.

"We've had a fairly successful year and we accomplished some things that we have a right to be proud of . . . However, 1982-83 is going to be a very difficult year for the University in a fiscal sense and we continue to watch what is transpiring in Lansing carefully," Porter advised.

The fall term enrollment headcount will be released on the University's official reporting date, Sept. 16.

Soviet Gulag survivor to speak at EMU

Victor Herman

In 1936 he noticed a change in the Soviet attitude.

"The Soviets knew by that time they would be facing a war in the near future, so they wanted to eliminate any internal threat to their power. Foreigners were considered to be part of this possible threat," he said.

In 1938, at the age of 23, Herman was arrested. He spent 10 years as a prisoner in a Siberian slave-labor camp, cutting wood.

When he got out he was exiled in a Siberian town. There he married a Russian woman, and after she became pregnant he was sent farther north into solitary exile where he was expected to live in the woods and chop wood for a nearby town.

His wife, determined to join her husband, later walked to the distant village with their infant child.

Herman was "exonerated" by the Soviets in 1955 and spent the next 20 years fighting Soviet bureaucracy in order to return to the U.S.

He gained his release in 1976 and returned to Michigan. He holds an advanced degree in languages and currently resides in Southfield.

The feature film, "Coming Out of the Ice," which illustrates Herman's experience and is based on his book, also will be shown at 8 a.m., 11:30 a.m., and 6 p.m. on Sept. 29 in Roosevelt Auditorium at EMU.

Admission to the lecture and film is free and open to the public. The events are sponsored by EMU's Office of Campus Life.

Victor Herman, a survivor of the Soviet Gulag and author of "Coming Out of the Ice," will speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 29 in Eastern Michigan University's Roosevelt Auditorium.

Herman, a native of Detroit, was the only survivor of 300 American Ford Motor Company employees jailed in Stalin's concentration camps in the 1930s. His book, "Coming Out of the Ice," details his 10-year struggle as a prisoner in a Soviet extermination camp, his restricted exile in Siberia and his battle with the Soviet government which finally won him release to the U.S. in 1976.

Herman entered Russia with his Russian-born parents in 1931 to work in an auto plant set up in Gorky under a contract with Henry Ford. He was 16 at the time.

Porter outlines state of the Mrs. Porter and I welcome you back. We hope you had an enjoyable summer. The staff has been working this summer to make 1982-83 another successful academic year under very difficult circumstances.

On September 10, 1979, I talked about our mission being self-evident: to be an institution of academic quality, uniqueness, and opportunity.

On September 8, 1980, I talked about our successes and developing a better esprit de corps. I discussed with you seven initiatives for 1980-81—all seven of which are now a reality.

In 1981, there was no fall Presidential Address. The address was not delivered until April, 1982, and it was entitled "A Message from the President—A Statement of Concern . . . A Proposal for Action."

I was convinced last fall that the climate was not conducive to accept what was to be; unprecedented budget reductions which began on September 30 and have continued. These reductions resulted in our first mid-year tuition increase in 133 years.

I believe we are now all very much aware of the state of the economy, and it is appropriate that I address the University community at the beginning of this new academic year to bring you up-to-date for 1982-83.

We are already two months into the final year of our four-year revitalization plan. I am encouraged by our success to date.

The University, though weakened slightly, is in remarkably good condition, thanks to the support of students, faculty, staff, and friends of the University.

With the anticipated achievement of our 1982-83 enrollment targets, our remaining major institutional priorities are focused on:

1. Securing the nearly $5 million rescinded during this first quarter—July, August, September.

2. Continuing to hope for a breakthrough to honor the Salary Indexing Plan.

3. Successfully opening the new Recreational/Intramural complex.

4. Looking forward to a respectable football season—and most critical,

5. Planning for the worst as we begin to confront 1983-84.

"The ultimate status of the University will be determined by the general condition of the state of Michigan."

As you know, 1983-84 is the first year that is expected to reflect significant enrollment declines in higher education. This prediction was made long before the rapid tuition increases and decline in state support.

We must end 1982-83 in a strong position if we are to sustain our successful initiatives.

I would therefore like to outline the status of the University in terms of Admissions and Retention, Instruction, Campus Student Life, Physical Plant and Safety, Fiscal Management, and University Relations, our six major University components.

But first, I want to take a few moments to talk about the state of the state, since the ultimate status of the University will be determined by the general condition of the state of Michigan.

During the past 12 months, the state has already had to rescind over $7 million which was originally appropriated to Eastern Michigan University.

Executive Order Number	Dated	Amount
1981-8	9-30-81	$ 983,880
1981-9	10-22-81	1,104,198
1982-4	4-7-82	4,738,816
1982-6	5-21-82	275,841
		$7,102,735

We hope, as I noted, to recover the $5 million after October 1, 1982, since we have on a $5 million borrowing plan.

I refer to a $5 million recovery, since the state's action could cost the University nearly $¼ million in lost interest revenue for 1982-83.

It is for these reasons that I strongly opposed the governor's fifth proposed executive order which would have rescinded another $2 million to the University, which would have meant over a 25 percent reduction since September 30, 1981. Our first efforts have been successful in this regard.

My position on this matter was that the state should reappropriate the $5 million before suggesting another $2 million reduction. Even a proposal to appropriate only a continuation budget for 1982-83 would have been a more reasonable alternative.

Unless there is a significant change in the state's fiscal infrastructure, the best we can hope for during 1982-83 are no further state reductions and the return of the $5 million.

I see no funding beyond the 1981-82 level of $35 million, which is $5 million below what is needed for program continuation and a moderate salary adjustment consistent with the Indexing Plan.

Regrettably, I am not optimistic that 1983-84 will be any better than 1982-83. There are clearly three strong sentiments in the state legislature which will affect our status at Eastern:

1. There is a recognition that more state revenue will be essential, but little support for any tax increase.

2. There is a view that the

Dated	Amount
9-30-81	$ 983,880
10-22-81	1,104,198
4-7-82	4,738,816
5-21-82	275,841
	$7,102,735

state may need to reduce its commitment to and the size of its colleges and universities for the future.

3. There is an opinion that some kind of change in the public higher education system is needed.

Our task in the weeks and months ahead will be to monitor closely the sentiments in Lansing, and be prepared to act on behalf of what is best for this University in the long run.

Admissions and Retention

For the fourth consecutive year in a row the enrollment of full-time students at our University has increased and the academic caliber has continued to improve. Closing the gap between full-time and part-time students has been a major initiative along with reaching enrollment targets for first-time freshmen, transfers, returning undergraduates, and graduate students.

Now that we have reached our enrollment targets, the number one challenge is to develop new strategies which will insure their continuation at Eastern Michigan University. I ask each of you to join me in creating an environment on campus which encourages students to continue their enrollment at Eastern Michigan University without interruption. Such an atmosphere cannot be mandated, but it can be built. Each of us—faculty, students, and staff—has a unique role to play in creating a staying environment.

"For the fourth consecutive year in a row, the enrollment of full-time students at our University has increased and the academic caliber has continued to improve."

Instruction

Two major accomplishments were achieved this past year in the instructional area which are particularly noteworthy: the ten-year North Central Accreditation and the full accreditation of our College of Business. I am also elated with the progress in the development of the College of Technology. The implementation of a new program review system, the creation of five new academic programs, and the development of four more cooperative agreements with area community colleges are other significant achievements.

I am very pleased with the status of our instructional program as we attempt to move from being just one more good regional college to the state's best baccalaureate degree-granting institution in the Arts and Humanities, Business, Education, Health and Human Services, the Sciences and Technology.

We must, however, update our equipment and provide the material support necessary to enhance quality. Students must want to get their higher education at Eastern because our instructional program makes a difference.

Campus Student Activities

Our most important resource continues to be the students who are attracted to the campus each year. I believe that to the extent to which our student body is satisfied with the campus environment, with the quality of instruction, and with the elimination of administrative impediments is the extent to which we can look forward to retaining a greater proportion of eligible returning students and attracting new students.

We have attempted to be responsive to the concerns of the student body:

- We have responded to the campus bus crisis,
- to the child care concerns,
- to the handicapped concerns

- to the counseling concerns,
- to the recreational/intramural concerns,
- to the foreign student adviser concerns, and
- to the concerns of students with special needs.

—We have created the University Ambassadors society, and the Student Foundation, and we look forward to their expansion. I also wish to thank these groups for their successful efforts.

We also hope that more students in 1982-83 will be linked to an academic major. This is important for identification, persistence, and achievement of our distinctiveness within the state University system.

Our current concern is that some students do not have firm majors and too many students go through five or six of them.

We also hope that every student will identify with at least one recognized Campus Life

The ASC staff is breathing a sigh of relief that most students are now settled in appropriate classes! Our thanks to all those department heads and faculty members who "squeezed in just one more student" for us as we worked to get new students enrolled. And thanks, also, to the department secretaries who answered our many inquiries in a pleasant, cheerful manner.

Did you know that Amelia Chan, faculty member in the Management Department, has been named Coordinator of Undergraduate Advising in the College of Business. Amelia is located in Room 515P Pray-Harold, and her phone number is 487-2344. She will be happy to talk with students who are interested in business but are not sure what area. Last year Amelia spent spring semester advising in the ASC. We are happy to have her as a contact in the College of Business.

Don't forget that today (Sept. 14) is the last day to register without written permission from both instructor and department head. Thursday, Sept. 16 is the last day for 100 percent tuition credit for course load reduction or withdrawal.

Sports

Frank Fristensky

The Eastern Michigan University women's volleyball team has a new head coach and a youthful look for the 1982 season.

Frank Fristensky is the new head coach of the Hurons. Fristensky, a native of Czechoslovakia, received a B.S. in Physical Education from the Federal School of P.E. at Magglingen, Switzerland, and an M.A. in P.E. from Magglingen in 1975. Fristensky has coached in Switzerland and was the head coach at the American University in Washington, D.C. He has compiled a career record of 125-68.

Assisting Fristensky with the women's volleyball program this year will be Ann Arbor native Mary Wisniewski. Wisniewski received a B.S. in Physical Education from the University of Delaware in 1978. She was the assistant volleyball and track coach at the U of D from 1979-1981. Wisniewski was also the USVBA Junior Team coach.

Fristensky inherits a team that he says will rely on a solid serve receive and a scrambling defense.

"I can't teach someone to jump 35 inches and hit the ball, but I can teach them to play well disciplined defense," exclaimed Fristensky.

Eastern will be looking for some strong ammunition this season as the Hurons climb back into the thick of the fight in the Mid-American Conference in which it finished fourth last season.

The Hurons have the potential to challenge the top schools in their competition. "I work hard on conditioning," Fristensky said, "and I really stress perfection on fundamentals. This will make the difference of winning. We'll rely on our defense," he continued. "We have some hard hitters but, mainly, we have a lot of desire. They want to play, and they want to play well."

The offense will be in the hands of 6-0 senior Jane Wujek (Orchard Park, NJ) and 5-7 junior Kathy Childs (Battle Creek-Lakeview). Wujek, who was a member of the Junior USA Team that toured Poland, is the team's strongest hitter. Childs is the team's setter. Other top returnees include 5-8 senior Diane Warmington (Ypsilanti), Marcia Schafer (Battle Creek-Pennfield) 5-9 junior, and 5-10 junior Dawn Diener (Flint-Kearsley).

Eastern has an attractive but tough schedule this fall. It will host the EMU Tournament (Sept. 18) and will compete in tournaments held at Eastern Kentucky, Michigan State, Kent State, Northern Illinois, and the Can-Am Tournament which will be held in Windsor, Canada. The Hurons will also compete in the Mid-American Conference Championship that will be held at Ohio University.

The 1982 season promises to be exciting and action-filled. "The outcome of this season will be reflected in the success of the team to achieve a well-trained cohesive and flexible singular unit, while sustaining the importance of the individual effort," said coach Fristensky.

Emergency Call 1-2-3
On Campus?

Activity, since campus spirit is directly related to campus life involvement.

We need to develop a new set of strategies in terms of Campus Student Life now that all of the major components are in place.

Physical Plant and Safety

Another goal of the past three years has been the improvement of the physical plant, emphasizing the attractiveness of the campus and providing a safe environment.

Campus directories, outdoor telephones, sidewalk access, and maintenance improvements have been major concerns. Although the fiscal problems faced by the University in the past three years.

I am hopeful that a majority of the University community will recognize the need to move forward with the Indexing Plan for 1982-83—a plan that will save us $4 million. With faculty and staff recognition of our budget problems we can emerge through this crisis even stronger than before.

We still must reduce the 1982-83 budget by $500,000 at a minimum. I am hopeful that those reductions can be made without major dismantling of our Effort of $300,000 designed to reduce reliance of athletics on the General Fund, and the goal of raising $1 million annually in private support from alumni and friends.

Much hard work will be needed in the months ahead if each of our development initiatives is to achieve their objectives. The results to date have been encouraging given the climate in which we must function. We have much catching up to do in the development arena, and all of our best efforts must be put forward.

The need to consolidate all of our University communications is an essential action that must be addressed during the year if our University Relations are to be enhanced.

Before closing, I want to stress again the magnitude of the fiscal conditions. I believe we must face the fact that 1982-83 will be a most difficult academic year.

Planning for 1983-84, which is already underway, will be even more strenuous regardless of whether the state recovers by October, 1983.

There are only four means by which any college or university, public or private, can maintain its successful status and current conditions:*

—One is to continue to receive increased state support or private donations;

—Two is to continue to raise student tuition and fees;

—Three is to continue to hold back reasonable wage adjustments which constitute 75 percent of the budget; or —Four is to reduce and dismantle programs and services.

—Our hope of an increased state appropriation from $30 to $44 million between now and October, 1983, is probably wishful thinking at this time.

—Raising tuition at mid-year and for 1983-84 by 20 percent could be disastrous.

*"Successful status" refers to breadth of accredited programs and services. "Current conditions" refer to a competitive salary schedule for all levels of employees.

—But our chances of convincing staff to forego further wage adjustments seems unrealistic if we are to retain the talent we have assembled.

If this scenario is somewhat accurate, we must plan now to exist within an environment which is conditioned to a downsizing of the University which anticipates the worst, but we must work vigorously for the best.

The value of "downsizing" versus "retrenchment" is that our planning for downsizing can be accomplished based upon the assumption that our successful traditions will be retained in order for us to rapidly recover to our established stabilization plan.

We have built the foundations for the future success of the University upon four solid footings:

1. Emphasis on our college concentrations.
2. Increased campus commitment.
3. Expansion of the Conference center, and
4. Development of cooperative education.

For 1982-83, I request your support in regard to four important matters:

1. Continued understanding of the impact of the state's fiscal instability upon the University's budget.

2. Support of our new retention initiatives to encourage more students to commit to the University.

3. Participate in our efforts to project an image of success and unity to generate more private support, and

4. Join in our efforts to reach consensus on what's best for the University in 1983-84.

With your understanding, concern, participation, and support of Eastern Michigan, I am confident that we are strong enough to withstand the expected pressures. I am comforted that we are united enough in purpose and mission.

I am further convinced that the abilities and talents possessed by everyone here today and in our entire University community will enable us to persevere.

Let us begin 1982-83 knowing we can make the "image" of success and the "unity" of purpose a lasting reality.

"I believe that to the extent to which our student body is satisfied with the campus environment, with the quality of instruction, and with the elimination of administrative impediments is the extent to which we can look forward to retaining a greater proportion of eligible returning students and attracting new students."

there still exists some $3 million in essential facility improvements, we did establish in 1981-82 a plan to move toward meeting the facility needs of the campus on an annual basis to maintain our image of a safe and attractive campus. Our campus can be one of our strongest attractions if we begin to take steps to link student activities to the campus environment.

Fiscal Management

When I became President in 1979, the state appropriation was $35 million. We have historically based our university budget on a 70-30 percent funding model which anticipates 70 percent of our funds from the state and 30 percent from student tuition. A $60 million General Fund budget in 1982-83 would, therefore, have anticipated state aid of $42 million and tuition of $18 million.

The facts are 1982-83 tuition is expected at $20 million and state aid at $35 million. Instead of a 70-30 ratio, we have in three years moved to a 62-38 ratio, and if the $5 million is not received, the tuition will jump to 40 percent. Those statistics describe, better than any chart, present staffing patterns.

During 1981-82, we made two major changes in terms of fiscal management which should strengthen our ability to better respond to the fiscal crisis. The centralizing of Auxiliary Services and the creation of the Budget Planning Process both should prove beneficial.

I do, however, envision the need for all of us to come together in the immediate weeks ahead to face up to the "what if" question.

"What if enrollment reaches its target, the Indexing Plan is implemented, and on June 30, 1983, there is no increase in the state appropriation for staff salary adjustments?"

I have just last week requested the vice presidents to respond to this question.

University Relations

In addition to the need to increase our presence in Lansing, which is critical, we have three major University fund raising initiatives underway—the Quirk Theatre Capital Campaign to raise $800,000, the Intercollegiate Athletic Revenue Generation
