The capital campaign has begun. The silent, but not secret, part will continue until the Summer of 2008, and then the campaign will be announced publicly. The campaign should be done by Summer of 2011.

With the change of rules as to what general funds can be used for, departments, University Faculty Council, etc., need to create accounts with development funds in order to be able to buy beverages, snacks, lunches, etc., the ingredients to engage in “hosting.” The new guidelines are in effect, but they also are being evaluated.

Departments and programs need a systematic way to contact alumni in order to contact them and request contributions. However, if more groups are going to contact the alumni, these efforts need to be coordinated, so we do not anger the alumni.

V. Guest: Glenna Frank-Miller and Ramona Meraz, Campus Life: EMU Fusion Fall term kickoff for students

The program is mandatory and well attended. Faculty members are needed who would like to participate in Life in the Classroom. The Honors students are having a community book to read for the first time, and if this experiment works, then a community book also will be assigned to other incoming students in future years.
