General Information

Chris Foreman, Ph.D., Director
cfoream@emich.edu

http://www.emich.edu/gened

General education is the core of an undergraduate education. It is general in that it provides students with a comprehensive educational experience and prepares them for study within their major. General education teaches students to think critically and communicate effectively; it provides an introduction to the methodologies and practices of the academic disciplines; it promotes intellectual curiosity and a love of learning. General education is the heart of an EMU education and a source of institutional pride.

Curriculum Categories

General Education Core Requirements

- Effective Communication (GEEC)
- Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR)
- Knowledge of the Disciplines (GEKA, GEKH, GEKN & GEKS)

General Education Application Requirements

- Perspectives on a Diverse World (GEGA & GEUS)
- Learning Beyond the Classroom (GELB)
- Writing Intensive (GEWI)

Waiver, Placement and Substitutions

- Students may choose to complete ENGL 120 as an elective to prepare for the required ENGL 121 course. Students with an ACT English sub-score of 29 or higher, or an SAT Verbal sub-score of 640 or higher, are waivered from this requirement. International students may use ESLN 412 to meet the ENGL 121 requirement Area I, #1.
• Students with a very strong background in oral communication (public speaking and critical listening) may contact the Communication and Theatre Arts department at 124 Quirk, 734.487.3131, for a possible waiver of the required CTAC 124 course. Waivers are granted only on a case-by-case basis.

• Students with an ACT Math sub-score of less than 19, or an SAT Math sub-score of less than 520, are encouraged to take MATH 097/MATH 098 in preparation for MATH 110. However, students may take the Math Placement Test to place into MATH 110. (NOTE: MATH 097 and MATH 098 do NOT count toward the minimum 124 hours required for graduation. Students who complete MATH 097 and/or MATH 098 will be required to complete additional hours over the minimum of 124 hours to graduate.)

  o an ACT Math sub-score of 19-22, or an SAT Math sub-score of 520-570, are eligible to take MATH 110 based on that test score.
  o an ACT Math sub-score of 23-27, an SAT Math sub-score of 580-660, or a CLM score of 53-92 may take MATH 110 or another course designated as a quantitative reasoning (QR) course.
  o an ACT Math sub-score of 28 or higher, an SAT Math sub-score of 670 or higher, or a CLM score of 93 or higher are waived from the MATH 110 requirement.

• Upon a student's initial enrollment at EMU, the University Advising and Career Development Center (200 McKenny Hall, (734) 487-0400) has the authority to exercise professional judgment when accepting transfer courses for the General Education Program. Credits earned through the Advanced Placement (AP), College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), International Baccalaureate (IB), and the military are treated as transfer credit and the scores/credits are evaluated by the following departments:
  o AP - College of Arts and Sciences, Dean's Office, (734) 487-4344
  o CLEP - University Advising and Career Development Center, 200 McKenny Hall, (734) 487-0400
  o IB - Office of Records & Registration, 303 Pierce Hall, (734) 487-4111
  o Military credit - Veterans Services, (734) 487-3119

• After their initial enrollment at EMU, students who wish to receive General Education approval to take, at another institution, courses not accepted as direct (course-to-course) equivalencies to the General Education Program, must receive prior approval from the General Education Director (734) 487-0439. Waivers and substitutions for courses taken at EMU and not approved for the General Education Program can only be granted by the General Education Director ((734) 487-0439) and cannot be approved for General Education credit by academic departments.

NOTE: Exceptions to this are the courses in Effective Communication and Quantitative Reasoning whose guidelines appear above.

QRChoice Category Information

Students are placed into a Quantitative Reasoning (QR) category based upon their ACT or SAT math scores. Students with an ACT math score greater than or equal to 23 or an SAT math score greater than or equal to 580 are in the "QRChoice" category; they can take any approved QR course (or may be waived from the requirement* if the score is 28+ for ACT or 670+ for SAT). All other students, including those without an ACT or SAT score, must take MATH 110 or MATH 110E (for Elementary Education certification) as the requirement for the General Education Program.

Students who are not eligible for QRChoice may test into this category by using the College Level Math section (CLM) of the mathematics placement test. Testing into QRChoice can only be done under the following conditions:

1. A student must obtain a form designated for this purpose from the University Advising and Career Development Center (UACDC), 200 McKenny. (This is not the same as the pink math placement authorization form.)
2. The score on the CLM must be 53 or higher. No exceptions will be made to this cutoff.
3. A score of 93 or higher will earn the student a QR waiver.
4. The student cannot take the CLM test more than two times. This includes times that the test is taken for initial placement purposes.
5. A student must wait a minimum of 30 days between a first attempt and a second attempt.
6. The test must be taken within two calendar years from the beginning of the student's first term at EMU with an application decision of "regular admit." This applies also to a second attempt.

7. To take the QRChoice test, a student must have a minimum math score on the ACT of 19 or on the SAT of 520 or have passed the Elementary Algebra placement test with a minimum score of 83. Students should consider getting the QRChoice Category Request to Test Form if this situation applies to them.

QRChoice Category Request to Test Forms will be returned to the University Advising and Career Development Center (UACDC) through a secure route, and kept on file there. Students who successfully test into QRChoice will have a code entered onto their record by the University Advising and Career Development Center to be used for graduation audit purposes. A study guide can be found here.

* A QR waiver means that the QR requirement for the General Education Program is deemed to have been satisfied. A student may still have to take one of the designated QR courses if his/her program (major, minor or curriculum) requires it or if it is needed as a prerequisite to another course he/she wishes to take.

General Education Transfer Guidelines

The Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) satisfies EMU's General Education Core Requirements.

Transfer students with an MTA endorsement on their transcript will only need to complete the General Education Application Requirements:

1. Perspectives on a Diverse World - Demonstrate the application of learning in either global awareness or U.S. Diversity by completing one course, which may be transferred in as a part of the MTA
2. Learning Beyond the Classroom- Demonstrate the application of classroom knowledge and obtain hands on experience in settings outside of the classroom
3. Writing Intensive - Demonstrate the application of written communication skills within the major

* MTA may be completed after initial enrollment at EMU

For transfer students without the MTA endorsement, transfer courses completed before admission to EMU will be applied to General Education Core requirements if they meet the spirit of the requirement. To receive General Education credit for transfer courses completed after the first term of enrollment at EMU with an application decision of "regular admit," the courses must be direct equivalencies (course-to-course) to EMU's General Education Program in order to be applied to General Education requirements. Questions regarding course-to-course equivalencies should be directed to the Director of the General Education Program at (734) 487-0439.

For students who started at a community college prior to Fall 2014, and are currently working on a MACRAO agreement, please click here.
Co-Curricular Programs

Co-curricular programs are programs that "complement, but are not a part of the regular curriculum." Eastern Michigan University offers many of these opportunities for students.

- Academic Service-Learning A teaching and learning strategy that integrates meaningful community service with instruction and reflection as a means of helping students gain a deeper understanding of course objectives, acquire new knowledge and engage in civic activity.

- Learning Beyond the Classroom (GELB) A university education is about more than just classes. Students involved in activities outside of the classroom have higher retention rates and more positive educational experiences. Learning Beyond the Classroom encourages students to obtain hands-on experience and to learn about professionalism; it also provides a way to apply classroom knowledge. Learning Beyond the Classroom is a sub-section of the General Education curriculum.

- The Nonprofit Leadership Alliance Program. Designed for students from all majors and minor interested in being involved in the community, NLA provides students with a National Certification in Nonprofit Management and Leadership and the corresponding Certified Nonprofit Professional (CNP) credential. By meeting the ten core NLA competencies our students are well prepared for successful careers in the nonprofit sector. The link to the NLA program is www.emich.edu/nonprofi. Check out this video about the NLA program.

Degree Information

Basic undergraduate degrees conferred by the Board of Regents on recommendation of the president and faculty are the bachelor of science (B.S.) and the bachelor of arts (B.A.) degrees. Both degrees require completion of University general education requirements, a major and a minor, and a minimum total of 124 hours. The bachelor of arts degree includes in that total one year of college credit in a foreign language. The bachelor of science degree provides greatest flexibility in selection of the major and minor and in the use of electives.

Bachelor's degrees are also awarded in fine arts (B.F.A.) and art education (B.A.E.) - see Department of Art, College of Arts and Sciences; business administration (B.B.A.) - see College of Business; bachelor of business administration and bachelor of arts in language and world business (B.B.A./B.A.) - see College of Business or Department of World Languages, College of Arts and Sciences; business education (B.B.E.) - see College of Technology; music education (B.M.E.), music-performance (B.M.U.), and music therapy (B.M.T.) - see Department of Music and Dance, College of Arts and Sciences; nursing (B.S.N.) - see School of Nursing, College of Health and Human Services.

Many students also select pre-professional fields of study such as medicine, dentistry and forestry (listed in departments) or seek certification and/or licensing in teaching, medical technology and similar fields (listed at the end of this section). These pre-professional fields of study do not culminate in an EMU degree.

Graduate degrees offered by this University are master of arts (M.A.), master of science (M.S.), master of fine arts (M.F.A.), master of business administration (M.B.A.), master of public administration (M.P.A.), master of business education (M.B.E.), master of individualized studies (M.I.S.), master of social work (M.S.W.), master of nursing (M.N.), master of occupational therapy (M.O.T.) and master of liberal studies (M.L.S.). In addition, there is a specialist in arts degree (S.A.) and doctorates in educational leadership (Ed.D.), psychology (Psy.D.) and technology (Th.D.). All are listed in the graduate catalog.

Bachelor's degree programs require students to take courses in various subject areas as specified both in the general education requirements and in departmental majors and minors.
Majors/Minors

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies, please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Each student must complete a major subject of at least 30 credit hours and a minor subject of at least 20 credit hours with the following exceptions:

1. A student in the elementary teaching curriculum may present three minors of at least 20 credit hours - each of which is a subject field taught in the elementary grades.
2. A student who completes a self-contained curriculum of 50-60 hours will automatically satisfy major/minor requirements.

Hours of credit counted toward a minor may not be applied to a major or another minor or vice versa. General education courses may be applied toward a major or a minor where appropriate.

Professional education courses do not count toward majors and minors except in cases in which such courses are specifically required or indicated as permissible as part of a major or minor.

All students, including transfer students, must complete at Eastern Michigan University the following minimum requirements in advanced courses numbered 300 or above in their majors and minors unless specifically exempted by the department concerned:

1. At least nine hours in majors.
2. At least six hours in minors.
3. At least 15 additional hours in curricula that encompass both major and minor requirements.

Degree Requirements

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  o Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.

• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credits for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available on the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Alternative Methods for Earning University Credit

Alternative Credit Options

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Eastern Michigan University offers students the opportunity to earn academic credit by examination and/or by portfolio. In some instances, students may enroll immediately in advanced courses through alternative programs. Especially high test scores may warrant additional academic credit and/or higher placement.

These programs include:

Advanced Placement (AP). Students who have taken Advanced Placement high school courses, and earn at least a three on the corresponding Advanced Placement tests, will be granted at least two hours of credit in each subject area in which they have earned that score. The Advanced Placement Credit Available by Departments table lists departments and courses for which credit can be earned.

International Baccalaureate (IB). Students who submit their IB scores to Eastern Michigan University will receive at least two hours of academic credit for a score of four or higher on the higher-level IB exam. The International Baccalaureate Diploma does not equate automatically with sophomore standing, nor does it automatically waive general education requirements.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Students may receive academic credit for certain EMU courses by achieving a minimum score on a test available through the College Level Examination Program. The courses for which CLEP tests are available, and the minimum score needed to receive credit, are listed in the CLEP Credit Available by Departments table.
Academic credit earned by means of AP, IB or CLEP test scores may not be duplicated for separate tests. Also, AP, IB or CLEP credit will not be awarded when EMU credit has already been earned or transfer credit awarded for courses covering the same subject matter.

Credit by Examination. Students may also receive academic credit for certain courses where CLEP tests are not available by achieving a minimum score on a departmentally administered examination. Credit by Examination is subject to the following limitations:

- Students must have been admitted to Eastern Michigan University.
- Credit normally will not be awarded for any course for which a student has credit or in which the student is currently enrolled.
- Credit by Examination is not available for workshops, special topics courses, seminars and directed studies, or any other course excluded by an academic department.

Validation. Validation may be required to earn transfer credit for courses, taken at a two-year college, whose content is sufficiently similar to that of 300- and 400-level EMU courses. Validation will be considered only after all other transfer credit earned at accredited two-year colleges has been awarded and recorded on the student's official EMU record. Validation may be achieved in either of two ways:

- Satisfactory completion of the next more advanced course as designated by the head of the appropriate department or school.
- Passing a comprehensive examination or equivalent activity in the course for which EMU validation is requested.

The following procedures must be followed to earn Credit by Examination or to validate a course by examination:

1. The student must obtain an Application for Credit by Examination/Validation at the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall.
2. The student should submit the application to the head of the department/school in which the course is offered. The department head will evaluate the request and determine whether to grant or deny permission for Credit by Examination/Validation, or to hold the request for further investigation.
3. Once permission has been granted, the student will make arrangements with the department for a time and place for the examination or equivalent activity, and a supervising faculty evaluator.
4. Prior to the agreed-upon time, the student will validate the permission form by paying the fee to the EMU Cashier's Office. The fee will be equivalent to one credit hour of tuition for each undergraduate examination attempted.
5. The student will present the validated permission form to the faculty evaluator prior to the examination or equivalent activity.
6. After the faculty member evaluates the student's performance and indicates P/F on the permission form, a copy of the written examination or explanation of the activity as well as the instructor's total evaluation will be placed on file in the office of the department head. The department head will sign the permission form indicating receipt of the faculty member's evaluation.
7. The department head will forward the permission form to the Office of Records and Registration for posting to the student's record.

Portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment (PLA). Portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment is available through participating academic departments when CLEP, Credit by Examination and Validation are not appropriate for assessing a student's previous learning. Credit may be awarded for general education or for courses in majors, minors or concentrations. Departments or schools may choose to participate on a case-by-case basis or may designate selected courses available via PLA. Additional information is available through the Office of Prior Learning Assessment at 734.487.9801 or 800.777.3521.

*Direct equivalencies may be gained based on results of a placement test, available through the Department of World Languages.

Prior Learning Assessment

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Academic standards for portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment:

1. Credit is given only for learning and not for experience.
2. College credit is awarded only for college-level learning.
3. Credit is awarded only for learning that has a balance, appropriate to the subject, between theory and practical application.
4. The determination of competence levels and credit awards is made by academic experts in the appropriate subject matter.
5. Credit is appropriate to the academic context in which it is accepted.

_Procedures for portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment:_

1. The student contacts the PLA Office for information about the PLA process.
2. The student must be admitted to Eastern Michigan University.
3. The student must complete a free workshop and review syllabi to determine whether to attempt earning credit through the PLA process.
4. The student compiles portfolios to present for assessment within one year of completion of the workshop. Each portfolio to be presented to a faculty assessor contains all portfolio elements including appropriate documentation. The master portfolio contains each portfolio element including all learning statements and all documentation lists but no copies of documentation.
5. The student must present the master portfolio and departmental portfolios to the Office of Prior Learning Assessment for review. Upon successful review, the PLA office issues appropriate portfolio registration forms.
6. The student pays the required assessment fee to Eastern Michigan University as part of portfolio registration.
7. The Office of Prior Learning Assessment distributes portfolios to heads of departments or schools for assignment to faculty assessors.
8. Faculty assessors evaluate the portfolios; faculty assessors may request additional demonstrations of competence.
9. Faculty assessors return portfolios and assessments to the Office of Prior Learning Assessment.
10. The Office of Prior Learning Assessment notifies the student of credit award or denial and also notifies the Office of Records and Registration of awarded credit for posting to the student's record.

Alternative Methods for Earning University Credit

Alternative Credit Options

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Eastern Michigan University offers students the opportunity to earn academic credit by examination and/or by portfolio. In some instances, students may enroll immediately in advanced courses through alternative programs. Especially high test scores may warrant additional academic credit and/or higher placement.

Advanced Placement (AP). Students who have taken Advanced Placement high school courses, and earn at least a three on the corresponding Advanced Placement tests, will be granted at least two hours of credit in each subject area in which they have earned that score. The Advanced Placement Credit Available by Departments table lists departments and courses for which credit can be earned.

International Baccalaureate (IB). Students who submit their IB scores to Eastern Michigan University will receive at least two hours of academic credit for a score of four or higher on the higher-level IB exam. The International Baccalaureate Diploma does not equate automatically with sophomore standing, nor does it automatically waive general education requirements.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Students may receive academic credit for certain EMU courses by achieving a minimum score on a test available through the College Level Examination Program. The courses for which CLEP tests are available, and the minimum score needed to receive credit, are listed in the CLEP Credit Available by Departments table.

Academic credit earned by means of AP, IB or CLEP test scores may not be duplicated for separate tests. Also, AP, IB or CLEP credit will not be awarded when EMU credit has already been earned or transfer credit awarded for courses covering the same subject matter.

Credit by Examination. Students may also receive academic credit for certain courses where CLEP tests are not available by achieving a minimum score on a departmentally administered examination. Credit by Examination is subject to the following limitations:

- Students must have been admitted to Eastern Michigan University.
- Credit normally will not be awarded for any course for which a student has credit or in which the student is currently enrolled.
- Credit by Examination is not available for workshops, special topics courses, seminars and directed studies, or any other course excluded by an academic department.

Validation. Validation may be required to earn transfer credit for courses, taken at a two-year college, whose content is sufficiently similar to that of 300- and 400-level EMU courses. Validation will be considered only after all other transfer credit earned at accredited two-year colleges has been awarded and recorded on the student's official EMU record. Validation may be achieved in either of two ways:

- Satisfactory completion of the next more advanced course as designated by the head of the appropriate department or school.
- Passing a comprehensive examination or equivalent activity in the course for which EMU validation is requested.

The following procedures must be followed to earn Credit by Examination or to validate a course by examination:

1. The student must obtain an Application for Credit by Examination/Validation at the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall.
2. The student should submit the application to the head of the department/school in which the course is offered. The department head will evaluate the request and determine whether to grant or deny permission for Credit by Examination/Validation, or to hold the request for further investigation.

3. Once permission has been granted, the student will make arrangements with the department for a time and place for the examination or equivalent activity, and a supervising faculty evaluator.

4. Prior to the agreed-upon time, the student will validate the permission form by paying the fee to the EMU Cashier's Office. The fee will be equivalent to one credit hour of tuition for each undergraduate examination attempted.

5. The student will present the validated permission form to the faculty evaluator prior to the examination or equivalent activity.

6. After the faculty member evaluates the student's performance and indicates P/F on the permission form, a copy of the written examination or explanation of the activity as well as the instructor's total evaluation will be placed on file in the office of the department head. The department head will sign the permission form indicating receipt of the faculty member's evaluation.

7. The department head will forward the permission form to the Office of Records and Registration for posting to the student's record.

Portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment (PLA). Portfolio-assisted Prior Learning Assessment is available through participating academic departments when CLEP, Credit by Examination and Validation are not appropriate for assessing a student's previous learning. Credit may be awarded for general education or for courses in majors, minors or concentrations. Departments or schools may choose to participate on a case-by-case basis or may designate selected courses available via PLA. Additional information is available through the Office of Prior Learning Assessment at 734.487.9801 or 800.777.3521.

Each portfolio to be presented to a faculty assessor contains all portfolio elements including appropriate documentation. The master portfolio contains each portfolio element including all learning statements and all documentation lists but no copies of documentation.
5. The student must present the master portfolio and departmental portfolios to the Office of Prior Learning Assessment for review. Upon successful review, the PLA office issues appropriate portfolio registration forms.
6. The student pays the required assessment fee to Eastern Michigan University as part of portfolio registration.
7. The Office of Prior Learning Assessment distributes portfolios to heads of departments or schools for assignment to faculty assessors.
8. Faculty assessors evaluate the portfolios; faculty assessors may request additional demonstrations of competence.
9. Faculty assessors return portfolios and assessments to the Office of Prior Learning Assessment.
10. The Office of Prior Learning Assessment notifies the student of credit award or denial and also notifies the Office of Records and Registration of awarded credit for posting to the student's record.

Academic Year

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The academic year is divided into fall, winter, and summer semesters of 15 weeks each. The new student may be admitted to the University for any semester or session. The University calendar linked on the left-side navigation of the catalog.

Evening courses and Extended Programs and Educational Outreach courses permit scheduling options within each semester or session. Two-week workshops and weekend seminars provide additional course credit opportunities.

Academic Course Load

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.
Academic course load is the number of hours that a student carries in a semester or session. The recommended full-time course load is 12-16 hours (15 with student teaching). Students must register for a minimum of 12 credit hours to qualify as full time for University purposes, including financial aid.

Occasionally an increased academic load is found to be necessary or desirable. Before registering for more than the recommended hours, the student is asked to consult an advisor. The following two restrictions are placed on increased academic load:

1. First semester freshmen may not take more than the recommended full-time academic load without special permission from the University Advising and Career Development Center (UACDC), 200 McKenny.
2. Students on academic probation may not take more than the recommended full-time academic load without special permission from the University Advising and Career Development Center (UACDC), 200 McKenny.

Qualified continuing students taking over 19 credit hours should consult carefully with an academic advisor. The registration system will prevent registration for more than 19 credit hours. Request assistance at the Records and Registration service counter to add classes in excess of 19 credits. No person is allowed to attend class unless officially registered on a credit or audit basis with appropriate fees paid or, as full-time staff or faculty auditing under the staff benefits program. No credit will be given for work in courses not officially enrolled in by the mid-point of the term or session.

Auditing Courses

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Courses may be audited subject to the approval of the head of the department offering the course. Audit applications may be obtained at, and returned to, the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall. No credit hours or grade points are awarded for a class audit. However, registration and payment of all fees is required for the class. Tuition and fees for auditing are the same as for the course in which credit is elected. Check the University calendar for deadlines to declare or remove audits.

Under provisions of the University staff benefits program, full-time staff, faculty and faculty spouses may audit classes by completing an approval process initiated at the Benefit Programs Office, McKenny. These students do not register for class and there is no transcript of their attendance.

Credit Hours/Class Levels/Course Numbers

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Credits are determined by the units of work completed. One credit hour is the credit granted in a course that meets 50 minutes per week for 15 weeks. Credits earned on the term or quarter-hours basis at other institutions are converted to EMU credit hours by multiplying by two-thirds.

Class levels are determined by the academic hours completed as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class</th>
<th>Semester Hours</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Freshman</td>
<td>0-24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sophomore</td>
<td>25-55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior</td>
<td>56-84</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Senior 85 or over

Administrative class levels that are not affected by academic hours completed:

- Guest GS
- Non degree ND
- Second bachelor's SB
- Post-degree teaching certificate TC

Course numbers indicate the academic level of the course as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Course Number</th>
<th>Level of Difficulty*</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>100-199</td>
<td>Introductory</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200-299</td>
<td>Intermediate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>300-499</td>
<td>Advanced</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Note: *Introductory courses are appropriate for students who have had no course work at the University level in the discipline in question. Intermediate courses presuppose that the students enrolled are familiar with and able to work with the content or methods, or both, of the discipline as presented in the introductory course. Advanced courses presume that students enrolled are familiar with and able to work with content, concepts and methodology of the discipline at a level appropriate to that of undergraduate majors in the discipline.

Courses numbered 500-599 are intended primarily for graduate students but are open in some cases to seniors. To be eligible, an undergraduate student must have successfully completed 85 hours or more of undergraduate credit, have a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or better, and receive approval from the instructor and the Graduate School. Request forms are available at the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall. The maximum number of graduate hours that an advanced undergraduate can take is 15. Courses numbered in the 600s and 700s are exclusively for graduate students. Should an undergraduate student register in a 600 or higher class, they will be dropped without prior notice.

Prerequisites

Prerequisites designated in the catalog description of courses state requirements that must be completed with credit or are necessary to the understanding of the course selected. Any student not meeting prerequisites or other restrictions, unless waived by instructor's permission, may be prevented from registering for or required to drop the course. Courses at the 200-, 300- and 400-levels that carry no prerequisites are taught at the academic levels described above.

Co-requisites
Co-requisites designated in the catalog description of courses state requirements that must be completed at the same time of the course selected. Any student not meeting Co-requisites or other restrictions, unless waived by instructor's permission, may be prevented from registering for or required to drop the course.

Concurrent Prerequisites

Concurrent Prerequisites designated in the catalog description of courses state requirements that must be completed before or at the same time as the course selected. Any student not meeting concurrent prerequisites or other restrictions, unless waived by instructor's permission, may be prevented from registering for or required to drop the course.

Final Examinations

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Final examinations are given by instructors to help evaluate a student's achievement in a course. Whether or not that evaluation shall include the final examination shall be determined by the instructor in line with departmental and University policy. If a final examination is not given, the scheduled examination period shall be used for other class activity.

If a final examination is given, students shall take the examination with their own class and at the hour indicated on the examination schedule. Failure to take the examination at the scheduled time will result in a grade of F in the course, except when the requisite conditions for granting an I are present.

If a student finds that he/she has three examinations scheduled on one day, he/she may request the instructor of the class having the first examination of the day to arrange to offer the examination at another time. If he/she finds that he/she has four examinations scheduled for one day, he/she may request the instructors of the first two examinations to make arrangements so that no more than two are scheduled in one day. He/she may appeal to the head of the department in which the course is offered if a satisfactory solution is not reached.

Students who for religious reasons find that they are not able to follow the examination schedule should make special arrangements with their instructors. If arrangements are not satisfactory, a student may appeal to the head of the department in which the course is offered.

Any deviation from the student's examination schedule, other than to limit the exams to two in one day or to observe religious mandates, must be approved in advance by both the instructor and the department head, and will be granted only in cases of extreme emergency.

Failure to take an examination at the scheduled time without prior arrangement will result in a grade of F in the course.

Grades

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The grades used by the University, with their corresponding values in points, are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Significance</th>
<th>Grade points per credit hour</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>Exceptionally high order</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-H</td>
<td>A with Honors Credit</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td></td>
<td>3.7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
A- H  A- with Honors Credit  3.7
B+  3.3
B+ H  B+ with Honors Credit  3.3
B  Distinctly above the average  3.0
B H  B with Honors Credit  3.0
B-  2.7
B- H  B- with Honors Credit  2.7
C+  2.3
C  Average  2.0
C-  1.7
D+  1.3
D  Below Average  1.0
D-  0.7
F  Unsatisfactory (denoting failure)  0.0
I  Incomplete  0.0
CR  Passing grade in credit/noncredit courses  0.0
NC  Failing grade in credit/noncredit courses  0.0
S  Passing grade in pass/fail elections  0.0
SC  Credit for certification in student teaching courses  0.0
PN  Passing grade in student teaching but not at level sufficient for certification  0.0
U  Failing grade in pass/fail  0.0
UN  Failing grade in student teaching elections  0.0
IP  In Progress  0.0
W  Withdrawal  0.0
2YR  E Forgiven - out of school two years  0.0
AUD  Audit  0.0
N  No grade submitted  0.0

Credits earned by student teaching, credit/noncredit classes or pass/fail options are not accorded grade points.

An F grade will be assigned for any course when the student stops attending a class without officially withdrawing from the course. Credit for courses in which either F or U grades have been received can be earned only by repeating the course at Eastern Michigan University. See repeat policy for exceptions.
A W grade is assigned only when an official withdrawal has been completed. (See Withdrawals below.)

Pass/Fail

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The pass/fail option is available to students who wish to experiment in an unfamiliar field without jeopardizing their grade point averages or for other reasons. Limitations to the option are:

1. It may be exercised only by juniors and seniors who are in good academic standing (at least 2.0 at EMU).
2. It may be applied only to free electives, that is, to courses which are outside the student's major, minor, curriculum, general education requirements or a prerequisite to a required course.
3. A maximum of six such courses may be applied toward graduation.
4. Students shall indicate their intention to take a course by filing out an application with the University Advising and Career Development Center (UACDC), 200 McKenny, prior to the end of the program adjustment period. Approval or denial is available in two working days.
5. Students who elect to take a course on pass/fail may cancel the option and accept a letter grade up to the last day of class before the official University scheduled final examinations (the option for pass/fail may then be used for another course).
6. The instructor will not be notified of the student's election of this option. The regular letter grade reported by the instructor will be converted on grade reports and transcripts as follows:
   - Grades of A, B, C or D, including D-, will be converted to S, and shall count as credit toward graduation.
   - The grade of F will be converted to U, and shall not count toward graduation.
7. A course taken under this option shall not be used in any way in the computation of the student's grade point average. Thus, a pass/fail election shall not be approved for a course in which the student previously received a letter grade.

Students should be aware that for some scholarships offered by the University pass/fail courses are not considered part of the minimum required load for scholarship. Students also should be fully aware of the possible implications of this option for acceptance into graduate schools and competition for financial aid. It has been ascertained that most graduate schools will accept students who have elected to take some courses on a pass/fail basis, but that if courses taken on this basis are sufficient in number on the transcript, Graduate School Examinations may be utilized to determine the student's acceptability. Graduate schools, in general, do tend to favor those applicants who have good letter grades on their transcripts.

Credit/Noncredit Grading

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

A credit/noncredit option is utilized by departments in courses where the standard letter grades do not seem appropriate. Such courses will be designated as CR/NC in the class schedule book. All students taking such courses will receive either CR or NC in place of letter grades. Neither CR nor NC will have any effect on a student's grade point average. Courses for which the CR is received will count towards graduation requirements, and there is no limit to the number of such courses that may be taken by an individual student. The CR/NC courses taken by students do not count in the number of pass-fail courses that can be elected.

Incomplete

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board policies please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

An I (incomplete) grade is awarded only when a student has completed the majority of the work of a course and the student's work has been of acceptable quality (C or better), but the required amount of work has not been completed because of illness, necessary absence or other satisfactory reasons. It is never applied to poor work or to absence from class by the student. The student must inform the instructor of the reason for the requested incomplete, and the instructor may at his or her discretion agree to the request.

An I grade must be removed within one calendar year from the end of the semester or session in which that grade was given. The time for removal of an I may be extended upon written recommendation of the instructor and approval of the dean of the college. Such extension will be granted only under unusual circumstances.

The initiative for conversion of an I to a letter grade rests with the student. If not converted to a grade by the end of the one-year period, the I will remain as a permanent part of the student's academic record. Students and faculty are encouraged to establish a written agreement on the work and time needed to remove the incomplete.

Grade Changes

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

When a letter grade (excluding I for incomplete grade or IP for in progress grade) is posted to a student's permanent record, it will be considered final unless an error was made in assigning the grade. Permitting a student to submit missing work or extra credit to improve a grade after the grade has been posted is not acceptable.

If an instructor error is identified, the instructor must file a grade change form, explaining the error. This form requires the approval of the department head. The appropriate dean will review and approve grade changes to ensure consistency with academic policies. All changes in letter grades (except from an I or IP grade) will require the signature of the dean of the college. The grade change is then submitted to and processed by personnel in the Office of Records and Registration. One year after the end of the relevant semester all grade changes from I or IP will require the permission of the dean of the college.

It is the responsibility of the student to call the instructor's attention to a possible grading error in a timely manner, but not more than 12 months after the questionable grade is posted. Three years following the close of any term of enrollment, the student's transcript will be considered to be the final indisputable record of academic achievement. Specifically, at the end of three years, grades are considered final, and no changes will be made to transcripts (e.g., no term or individual withdrawals, no grade omissions, no recalculated grades based on mathematical or clerical error, no incomplete removals). The only exception to this rule will be for master's specialist and doctoral field-based research, internships and dissertation hours.

Please Note: For the latest information on how these and other polices effect your Financial Aid, click on this link to their website.

Grade Grievance

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The Grade Grievance Procedure provides each student with the opportunity to appeal formally a final grade in a course because he or she believes that the grade has been awarded capriciously or unfairly. Capricious or unfair-grading may include but is not limited to the assignment of a course grade to a student:

1. On some basis other than relevant performance in the course;
2. By resorting to standards different from those which were applied to other students in that course;
3. By an unreasonable and/or unannounced substantial departure from the instructor's previously articulated standards.

If a student wishes to appeal a final grade, they must follow the steps outlined in the EMU Student Handbook and Policy Guide (pg. 47-53 in 2014-2015 Guide)

Repeats
These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Students who meet the prerequisites and all other conditions for enrollment may repeat courses. All grades earned will be retained on the student's permanent record, with repeats indicated. Credit and grade point calculations for repeated courses are determined by the following rules:

Credit Earned:

1. Unless otherwise noted in the course description, credit for any repeated course (including all attempts at EMU and transfer credit granted) will apply only once toward all degree requirements.
2. The rules below do not apply to courses (such as Independent Studies) that can be taken for credit more than once. Multiple attempts in such courses are not considered repeats, and all grades received will be used in determining the student's grade point average.
3. A student who earned a passing grade in a course or who has previously received transfer credit for the course will lose the credit if he or she subsequently retakes the course and receives an F. If a student receives an Incomplete in the final attempt of a repeated course, the most recent earlier grade is the grade of record until the course work is completed and the I is replaced by the grade earned.

Repeated Courses and Grade Point Average (GPA):

1. Courses that are dropped or from which a student has withdrawn are not counted as attempts for purposes of this policy.
2. If a student repeats a course up to two times (for a total of three attempts), only the last grade received will be used in determining the student's grade point average. As stated above, all course attempts with repeats indicated will remain on the permanent record, even if not used to determine the grade point average.
3. There are no restrictions on the number of times that a student may repeat a course, however, the grades earned in the third and all subsequent attempts will be used in determining the student's grade point average unless explicit permission to have previous grades for the course eliminated from the calculation is granted by the head of the department or director of the school in which the course is offered. The student must contact the department head or school director prior to the end of the semester in which the course is repeated to obtain this permission. Such permission is required for every attempt beyond the third.
4. There are no restrictions on the number of different courses that a student may repeat, however, if a student repeats more than ten different courses, grades for ALL attempts (from the first on) for the eleventh and all subsequent courses will be used in determining the student's grade point average unless explicit permission to repeat the course is granted by the Academic Standards Committee in advance. The student must contact the University Advising and Career Development Center to request permission. Such permission is required for every attempt of every course beyond the tenth.
5. A student repeating a course may not elect a Pass/Fail grading option if the grade of record for the course is a letter grade.

Transfer Courses as Repeats:

1. If a student has credit for a course taken at EMU with a passing grade as the grade of record and subsequently transfers an equivalent course from another institution, the transfer credit will be treated as if it were another attempt at EMU, and the rules above will be applied. The grades received in previous attempts at EMU will not be used in determining the student's grade point average provided the total number of attempts, including the transfer, does not exceed three (3) and this repeat does not exceed the limit of ten (10) repeated courses. (Note that students receive credit, but not grades for transfer courses, so no grade for the course would be used in determining the student's grade point average in this case.)
2. If the grade of record is a passing grade, but the transfer course constitutes the fourth or later attempt, or if the student has already repeated ten or more courses, the grades received at EMU will be used in determining the student's grade point average as outlined in the previous section unless explicit permission is granted by the EMU Registrar to exclude the EMU grades once the transfer credit has been posted.
3. Advance permission from the EMU Registrar is required for student who want to transfer credit for a course equivalent to a course that the student has taken at EMU and for which the grade of record is a failing grade.
Note: Second admission programs and graduate programs may calculate grade point averages according to their own internal rules; for example, many specify that grades received in all attempts be used in the calculation. This policy does not apply to those admissions processes.

Grade Point Average (GPA)

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The scholarship index or grade point average is the total number of Eastern Michigan University grade points acquired divided by the total number of Eastern Michigan University credit hours taken that carry grade points. When a course is repeated, only the last grade is used in the computation of the cumulative grade point average.

Transfer credit from another accredited institution is allowed for all transferable courses in which a grade of C or better is received, but is not included in computation of the GPA.

Calculation of GPA for returning former students who have not attempted any college or University work for at least two calendar years does not include courses in which a grade of less than D- was assigned. F grades will be changed to 2YR to reflect academic forgiveness.

Academic Probation and Dismissal

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Please see the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regent's Manual, 6.2.1.6. Undergraduate Academic Standing for polices regarding Academic Probation and Dismissal.

Drops/Withdrawals from Individual Classes

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

Drops/Withdrawals from Individual Classes

When withdrawal from a class, or from all classes, brings students' academic loads below the minimum number of hours necessary to qualify as full-time students for University housing, scholarship aid, student loans or any other benefits they enjoy for which academic enrollment was a prerequisite, the University may, at its option, take any or all of the following steps:

1. Deny permission to withdraw.
2. Cancel the benefits as of that date.
3. Declare the student ineligible for present and/or future benefits of a similar nature.
4. Deny permission to re-enroll in subsequent semesters.

Drops/withdrawals from class are permitted according to the following schedule (fall and winter):

Drop

- First eight days: All student-initiated drops during this period may be processed through the registration system. Such drops are not recorded on the student's permanent record.
Withdrawal

- Ninth day through tenth week: all student-initiated withdrawals are accepted automatically and recorded as a W (however, first semester freshmen must check with the University Advising and Career Development Center before withdrawing from courses). A withdrawal may be processed through the registration system or by submitting a withdrawal form to the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall.

Administrative Withdrawal

- After 10th week until beginning of final exam period: students can withdraw only if they have specific extenuating circumstances, of recent occurrence, which clearly prevent them from completing the course in question. Withdrawals are not automatic and documentation is required. Make application for Administrative Withdrawal at the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall. The decision will be communicated to the student and the instructor in question. Students must not stop attending class until they have received notification that the administrative withdrawal has been approved. If a student stops attending class and does not take the final exam without being withdrawn, University policy requires that the instructor assign a grade of F for the course.

Note: These procedures and University withdrawal procedures also apply to spring and summer sessions, though the time frame is more condensed. The exact withdrawal and deadline dates are printed in the current Class Schedule Book for the session concerned.

Withdrawals from the University

These policies are governed by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents and are subject to change. For the latest Board polices please see the Board of Regents Policy Manual by clicking here.

The following University procedure is subject to change in accordance with regulatory changes initiated by the United States Department of Education.

A credit adjustment of 100 percent of tuition and fees for the fall and winter semesters, less a registration fee, will be made to those students who completely cancel their registration or withdraw from the University through the eighth business day of the semester. For the spring and summer semesters, a 100-percent credit adjustment, will be made through the first four business days of the semester. Actual dates are printed in the Class Schedule Book for each semester.

A credit adjustment for total withdrawals after the eighth day of fall and winter semesters, or the fourth day of spring and summer semesters, will be made according to the following schedule:

Withdrawal by the following day of the semester

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Adjustment</th>
<th>Fall/Winter</th>
<th>Spring/Summer</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>50-percent</td>
<td>19th</td>
<td>10th</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>25-percent</td>
<td>38th</td>
<td>19th</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0-percent</td>
<td>Last day before finals</td>
<td>Last day before finals</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Actual dates are printed in the class schedule book for each semester and session. No credit adjustments will be made after the above stipulated dates.

Retroactive Withdrawal
Retroactive withdrawal from the University may be requested by a student when unexpected circumstances arise after the completion of classes for a term. Normally, the request will be considered only for the preceding term.

The retroactive withdrawal policy is dependent on one or both of the following reasons:

1. Administrative. Through an administrative problem or error, the student received an F grade.
2. Mental or physical stress. Subsequent to awarding the term grades, the student claims that severe physical or psychological stress was present during the semester. Documentation must be presented by or on behalf of the student, and a consultation may be required. In this case, the decision will affect all the classes the student was registered for during the term in question. In cases of severe mental or physical stress, it is usually assumed that students are so incapacitated they were not able to carry on with University responsibilities.

In either situation, the student must initiate the request at the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall. Upon review of the documented evidence and possible further consultation, the director or designee will recommend action to the vice president for undergraduate studies or designee.

The approval of a retroactive withdrawal does not constitute approval of a tuition refund. Grades of W will be posted on the official academic record.

Undergraduate Policies and Information

University Governance and Individuals' Rights

Board of Regents: www.emich.edu/regents

Eastern Michigan University is an autonomous University governed by an eight-member board of regents appointed by the governor of Michigan and subject to the approval of the Michigan Senate. Financial support for the University comes from student tuition and fees, and support provided by the citizens of Michigan.

Policies on Nondiscrimination

Eastern Michigan University shall not discriminate against any person because of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, disability or sexual orientation. Further, the University shall work for the elimination of improper discrimination in the areas listed above in organizations recognized by the University and from non-University sources where students and employees of the University are involved.

Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Policies

Eastern Michigan University admits students of either sex, and any race, color or national or ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities accorded to students at this University. The University does not discriminate against students on the basis of sex, race, color or national or ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarships and loan programs and athletic and other University-administered programs. Further, it is the policy and practice of Eastern Michigan University to take affirmative action in all personnel matters.

Gender Equality

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University to comply with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and its regulations, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex. Anyone who believes that in some respect Eastern Michigan University is not in compliance with Title IX and its regulations should contact the executive director of Human Resources.

Nondiscrimination of the Disabled and/or Challenged: www.emich.edu/diversity/

In its programs, activities and employment, Eastern Michigan University does not discriminate on the basis of physical or other disabilities. Anyone who believes that in some respect Eastern Michigan University is not in compliance with the Rehabilitation Act and its regulations should contact the executive director of Human Resources. Prospective students with disabilities who are otherwise qualified for admission are invited to apply. Students encountering difficulty with access to full participation in University activities should contact the ombudsman.

Statement on Campus Violence
In accordance with the education mission of Eastern Michigan University, the University adopts this policy statement to promote a safe campus environment. The statement reflects the nonviolent spirit of the relationship between students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors at Eastern Michigan University.

The safety and security of our students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors is extremely important to Eastern Michigan University. Threats, acts of aggression and threatening or violent behavior are not tolerated by or toward students, staff administrators, faculty, contractors or visitors. All reports of incidents will be taken seriously and will be dealt with appropriately.

Threats can be direct and immediate or indirect and implied; threats can occur verbally, non-verbally or in writing. Acts of aggression include, but are not limited to, abusive behavior, stalking and tampering with property and are intended to intimidate, create fear, imply harm or destroy property. Threatening or violent behavior is behaving in such a way that poses an immediate threat to self or others by acts of physical harm.

All students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors are strongly encouraged to report threats, acts of aggression and threatening or violent behavior to the Campus Police (911 for all emergencies, 487.1222 for all other calls), Human Resources (487.0083), and/or your department head or supervisor, to help ensure the safety of our campus community.

The Office of Community College Relations works collaboratively with the faculty and staff of EMU and community colleges to promote a seamless transfer process for community college students. Our goal is to maximize the application of academic credits already earned and time already spent toward obtaining a bachelor's degree. Many EMU academic programs have signed articulation agreements with community colleges that ensure the transfer of credit from an associate degree program to a bachelor's degree program. Through an articulation agreement, students may receive credit for courses or blocks of courses that do not usually transfer. The agreement also provides a curriculum guide that, makes it easier to select courses that satisfy the program and institutional requirements at both schools. Community college students should check with their counselor or program advisor about the availability of articulation agreements, or visit the CCR web site www.emich.edu/ccr for a complete list of articulation agreements.

Community College Relations activities include:

- Facilitating the development of program articulation agreements;
- Facilitating collaborative arrangements with community colleges (such as faculty meetings and professional workshops, joint promotion of articulated programs and joint sponsorship of student activities);
- Maintaining and updating articulation agreements;
- Maintaining a web site with articulation guides and transfer information;
- Providing support to community college faculty and staff regarding transfer student issues including articulation and transfer equivalency;
- Working with EMU offices and departments to facilitate course credit equivalency;
- Providing articulation information to the EMU Advising Centers;
- Collaborating with other offices and departments to sponsor Community College transfers events and activities;
- Advocating for students with transfer issues;
- Participating in statewide transfer initiatives.

The Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA)
Eastern Michigan University is a participant in the Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA), which replaces the MACRAO agreement effective September 1, 2014. The purpose of this agreement is to ensure that students who complete a specified distribution of general education courses at a Michigan community college will have satisfied all or most of the general education requirements at Michigan four-year colleges.

Students with an MTA endorsement on their community college transcript have satisfied EMU's General Education Core Requirements and will be required to complete only the General Education Application Requirements of one Perspectives on a Diverse World course, one Learning beyond the Classroom experience, and a Writing Intensive course in the major. Students who started before Fall 2014 may continue to follow the MACRAO Agreement until the end of summer 2019. EMU will accept the MACRAO Agreement beyond this date, if already on a student's transcript. Students should consult an EMU advisor to find out how MACRAO applies to the general education requirements.

Students are responsible for satisfying all major, minor, and program requirements and should consult an advisor or a transfer guide to determine if specific courses will double count for both a Michigan Transfer Agreement and a program requirement.

Articulation Agreements

Eastern Michigan University has articulation agreements with 21 community colleges in Michigan and three other states. Articulation agreements allow students to complete an associate degree and transfer into a related bachelor's degree program with minimum duplication of coursework and loss of credit. They provide a list the courses that will transfer to Eastern Michigan University and show how they fulfill requirements toward completion of the bachelor's degree program.

To see a complete list of colleges with program articulation agreements with EMU, go to the CCR website www.emich.edu/ccr.

Financial Assistance

During the 2004-2005 school year, Eastern Michigan University provided $126,256,977 in financial aid to more than 14,500 students in the form of scholarships, grants, awards, GA tuition/stipends, athletic grants-in-aid, part-time employment and fellowships.

The federal government, State of Michigan, Eastern Michigan University and private sources provide program funding. While most awards are based on financial need, scholarships often have academic achievement requirements or other eligibility criteria.

Federal and state aid is awarded to help pay college costs based on the assumption that parents and students will contribute as much as they are financially able. To the extent that the family does not have sufficient resources to meet the costs of higher education, students may qualify for need-based financial aid.

Academic Scholarships (see chart below)

- New freshmen who are admitted by Mar. 1 and transfer students by May 15 for the following fall are considered for scholarships through the EMU Admission application.
- Continuing students apply annually, by completing the University Scholarship Application. Applications are available online in the Office of Financial Aid section in October and are due in January.

Presidential Scholarship - Four-year award that pays 30 credit hours per year of in-state tuition, housing, food allowance and mandatory fees. Awards are based on a competitive exam. Requires an additional application, available at high schools beginning each September. Sixteen awards are made per year. Minimum 3.5 GPA for renewal. Recipients must live in University residence halls their first two years. Deadline to apply is generally November 20 of each year.

Regents Gold Scholarship - Four-year award that pays 30 credit hours per year of in-state tuition and fees. Awarded only to participants in the Presidential Scholarship Competition.

Regents Scholarship - Four-year award that pays $3,000 per year. High school seniors must have a 3.7 GPA with a 25 ACT or 1150 SAT. Minimum 3.5 for renewal. Must be admitted by Mar. 1 for the fall semester (or May 15 for transfer).
Recognition of Excellence Scholarship - Four-year award that pays $2,000 per year. High school seniors must have a 3.5 GPA with a 21 ACT or 1000 SAT. Minimum 3.3 for renewal. Must be admitted by Mar. 1 for the next fall semester (or May 15 for transfer).

National Scholars Program - Four-year award that pays 30 credit hours per year (15 per semester) of out-of-state tuition differential. High school seniors must have a 3.0 GPA with a 20 ACT or 950 SAT. Minimum 3.0 for renewal. Must be admitted by Mar. 1 for the next fall semester.

Wade McCree Scholarship - Eastern Michigan University participates in this scholarship program. The program originates at the high school and determines the student eligibility. Students receiving the scholarship should contact the program administrator about activating their scholarship or transferring remaining scholarship eligibility to EMU. The value of this scholarship is the full cost of tuition less any tuition specific scholarships or grants.

Eagle Scholarship - Four-year award to freshmen that pays $1,500 per year. Requires 12 credit hours enrollment each semester and 2.75 GPA to renew.

Leader Award - One-year award of $1,000. Continuing EMU students must have a GPA of 2.0 and must show volunteer involvement at EMU or in the community for consideration.

Community College Scholarship - One-year award of $1,000. Transfer students must have completed at least 30 credit hours with a minimum cumulative 3.5 college GPA and must be admitted by May 15 for the next fall semester.

Departmental Scholarship - Award amounts vary and are made by departments. Selections can be based on academic as well as representative talent within that department or major.

Music Service Awards - Award amounts vary. Awards are made to students who perform in EMU’s music programs or provide outstanding service to the Music and Dance Department. Deadline is June 1 for the next fall semester.

Communication/Theatre Arts Service Awards - Awards are made to students who perform in forensics or theatre arts programs, or make outstanding contributions to the Communication/Theatre Arts Department.

Army and Air Force ROTC Scholarships are also available. Contact the ROTC office at 734.487.1020 for more information.

Many academic scholarships are provided by external sources, including community agencies, service organizations, charitable organizations, civic groups and foundations. Students should investigate these potential resources by checking with public and University libraries for scholarship resource books and by contacting the agencies directly.

Federal and State Financial Aid

To be considered for federal and state aid programs, students complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at www.fafsa.ed.gov beginning each January. The FAFSA must be filed every year to determine eligibility for the upcoming academic year.

Priority funding will be offered to students who receive their Student Aid Report from the FAFSA processor dated March 1 or earlier. To meet this deadline, applications should be filed by February 15.

General Eligibility Requirements for Financial Aid

By completing the FAFSA, eligible students will be considered for all federal and state aid programs. To receive aid, a student must:

- Be enrolled in an eligible program;
- Be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen;
- Demonstrate need;
- Make satisfactory academic progress toward a degree;
- Not be in default on a federal student loan;
- Not owe a refund on any Federal Title IV, state or University aid program.

The FAFSA application collects information about family income and assets, family size and the number of family members attending college at least half time. Based on an analysis of this data, the federal government determines the expected family contribution that is identified on the Student Aid Report. The expected family contribution is subtracted from the University's cost of education to determine whether there is a difference between the family's ability to pay and the college budget. Most federal and state programs are awarded based on a student's need.

The cost of education consists of an estimate of direct and indirect expenses. The direct costs are tuition, fees and room and board. The indirect costs are books and supplies, transportation and miscellaneous personal expenses. The cost of education at EMU is determined annually.

Determination of Need-based Financial Aid Awards
The award process for the upcoming academic year begins in March. Aid is awarded to students once they have been officially admitted to the University and EMU receives the institutional record of the Student Aid Report from the federal government. Once the Office of Financial Aid has determined the aid package, a Financial Aid Award Statement will be made available to the student applicant. The award statement contains information regarding the type and amount of aid, disbursement information and other instructions necessary to complete the aid process.

Financial aid awards are processed and funds disbursed in compliance with established federal, state and institutional policies.

Federal Financial Aid Programs

The maximum amounts of aid described below are subject to change by federal and state regulations or University policy.

Federal Pell Grant - Annual awards of up to $4,731 are available to undergraduate students who are enrolled and have demonstrated financial need.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant - Awards range from $100 to $2,000 per year. Priority is given to students who receive Federal Pell Grants.

Federal Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG) - $750 for first-year and $1,300 for second-year undergraduate students. To be considered, a student must have completed a rigorous secondary (high school) program of study after Jan. 1, 2006, and must be Pell Grant eligible and a U.S. citizen.

Federal SMART Grant - $4,000 per year for full time third- and fourth-year undergraduate students majoring in science, computer science, technology, math and some foreign languages. Students must have 3.0 GPA, and be Pell Grant eligible and U.S. citizens.

Federal Perkins Loan - Annual awards are available to undergraduate and graduate students who are enrolled at least half-time and have demonstrated financial need. Undergraduates may borrow up to $4,000 per year ($20,000 maximum) and graduate students may borrow $6,000 per year ($40,000 maximum including loans borrowed as an undergraduate). Priority is given to students who receive Federal Pell Grants.

Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loan Program - Loans are provided through the U.S Department of Education. Following is the maximum annual amount a dependent student may borrow, based on academic level:

Federal PLUS Loan Program

The Federal Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) is a loan from private lenders to parents of dependent students. Parents may borrow up to the cost of education less any other financial aid (including the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan amount). The PLUS loan is available to parents after a credit check to determine ability to repay. Interest rates are determined by the bond equivalent rate of the 91-day Treasury Bill plus 3.10 percent, not to exceed nine percent. A three percent origination fee is paid directly to the federal government from the loan proceeds. Repayment begins within 60 days after loan disbursement. Repayment may take up to 10 years. Minimum monthly payment is $50.

Submit a pre-application online at www.emich.edu/finaid/ for a credit check. Upon successful completion of a promissory note, the loan funds are made payable to the parent and Eastern Michigan University. The funds are sent electronically to EMU in two disbursements.
Federal PLUS Loan for Graduate Students

Graduate students may apply for the Graduate PLUS Loan in addition to the Federal Stafford Loan.

Michigan Financial Aid Programs

Michigan Competitive Scholarships - This state-funded scholarship program is based on a combination of ACT tests score and financial need, as determined by completing the FAFSA. Students initially apply by taking the ACT no later than October of their senior high school year. The second step of the application process is to submit the FAFSA. The state has a deadline of March 1 for students to receive a processed FAFSA. Students may annually renew the scholarship by maintaining a 2.0 GPA and demonstrating continued financial need.

Michigan Adult Part-Time Grant - Need-based gift aid available to undergraduates who are enrolled on a part-time basis. Students must meet independent criteria as indicated on the FAFSA. Grants of up to $600 are available for a maximum of two years.

Michigan Educational Opportunity Grant - Need-based gift aid to undergraduates enrolled at least half time. Students who meet the basic requirements for the Michigan programs are eligible. Grants of up to $1,000 per year are available.

Michigan Work-Study Program - Need-based program that provides work opportunities for undergraduates. Both nonprofit and profit-based employers may sign agreements with Michigan colleges to participate in this program. Students who meet the basic requirements for the Michigan programs are eligible. Awards range from $900 to $3,000 per year.

Verification of Financial Aid Application Information

Applicants selected for verification must provide documentation to prove the accuracy of certain items reported on the FAFSA before aid is disbursed. Major items verified may include:

- Copies of federal income tax returns with schedules
- W-2 forms
- Verification Worksheet
- Most recent year-end statements for:
  - Child support
  - Social security benefits
  - Other forms of income/benefits not included on a W-2
  - Benefits received from other federal and state agencies
- Documentation of Orphan or Ward of the Court status

The deadline by which verification documentation must be submitted is published annually by the Office of Financial Aid but no later than the student's last date of enrollment for the fiscal year. Failure to submit required documents by the due date will result in the cancellation of financial aid offers.

Payment of Financial Aid

A financial aid file must be complete and verified, if required, before aid is paid to a student's account. The following aid is paid directly to a student's account:

- Federal Pell and Supplemental Educational Opportunity grants
- State of Michigan grants and scholarships
- University grants and scholarships
- Outside scholarships
- Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford loans with electronic funds transfer
• Federal Perkins Loans
• Federal Parent (PLUS) Loans

Federal and state college work-study checks are issued directly to students for hours worked on a bi-weekly basis.

Students will be issued refunds through their EagleOne accounts for aid applied to an account that exceeds the charges on that account. Financial aid will not pay for library fines, late/installment fees, hang tags or telephone charges.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Federal regulations require that students progress satisfactorily toward graduation. Satisfactory Academic Progress is evaluated using three factors: grade point average, percentage of attempted courses completed and maximum credits of eligibility in which to complete a degree. Students who fail to maintain SAP may lose eligibility to receive funds from federal Title IV, state or University need-based aid programs.

Students must maintain the following requirements:

- Undergraduate: overall GPA of 2.0 or better;
- Graduate: overall GPA of 3.0 or better;
- Completion of 67 percent of all attempted credit hours;
- Completion of program of study within the maximum of 150 percent of the total program hours, including transfer credits.

Students who do not meet the SAP requirements will be put on probation. Failure to improve SAP while on probation will result in cancellation of future financial aid eligibility.

Students who had extenuating circumstances that resulted in failure to maintain SAP may appeal the cancellation. Students must submit a letter of appeal addressed to the Financial Aid Review Committee and attach third party documentation, as appropriate.

Repayment Policy

Some students who withdraw from all classes before the end of the semester and who have received federal or state aid may be required to repay all or a portion of aid paid.

Financial aid is used for expenses incurred while attending school. Any portion allocated to the weeks the student did not attend classes must be repaid.

Students are notified when funds are returned to their lender and/or when they are required to repay aid. Consult the Office of Financial Aid before dropping a class or withdrawing from all classes to determine whether aid and/or scholarships will be repaid, reduced or cancelled.

Loans without a FAFSA

Students may apply for the following loans without a FAFSA:

University Short Term Loans (USTL) - Available to part-time and full-time students who:

1. are currently enrolled at the University;
2. have earned previous credit at Eastern;
3. qualify academically (minimum GPA of 2.0 "C" undergraduate, GPA of 3.0 "B" graduate);
4. have no past due obligations;
5. have repaid previous loans satisfactorily.

Students may borrow up to $250 without a co-signer or up to $500 with a co-signer. Applications may be obtained at the Student Loan Accounting Office, 203 Pierce Hall. Loans are processed within 24 hours, Monday-Friday.
The Small Loan Fund - Provides 30-day, short-term, interest-free loans to $15 maximum to help students meet emergencies. Loans are available at the Cashier's Office, Pierce Hall.

Tax Information

Grants and scholarships received in excess of qualified tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment may be taxable income. Students who do not earn enough money to file income tax returns may need to determine if their financial aid makes a difference in their tax filing status. EMU will issue 1098T and 1098E forms to assist in determining taxable income and eligibility to claim the Hope or Lifetime Learning Tax Credits for Student Loan Interest deduction. Contact the IRS with any questions regarding tax issues.

Financial Information and Student Accounts

Tuition and Fees

All University fees and assessments are subject to change without notice at any time by action of the Board of Regents.

Registration

Students must be registered before attending class. The registration fee is $43 for each semester. This service fee is assessed at the time the student registers.

An additional late registration fee of $120 per semester is charged to students who do not complete registration prior to the official first day of classes each semester. The last day to register is at the mid-point of the term or session.

Financial obligations must be met by students by the posted due dates in order for students to be eligible for the next registration period (or graduation). Transcripts, diplomas or other statements of record will be withheld and students will be ineligible for further registration until obligations have been fulfilled.

Cancellation of registration by a student who decides not to return to EMU after registering in advance for classes must be initiated by the student on a signed cancellation-of-registration form either in person or by mail to the Office of Records and Registration, 303 Pierce Hall. If students have applied for University housing, they also must cancel the contract in the Housing Office. This is necessary for cancellation of room and board assessments.

Failure to withdraw may leave students with responsibilities for payment of tuition, fees and housing charges that will not be paid by financial aid.

Tuition

Tuition is assessed for all credit hours for which the student is registered. Regardless of student class level, undergraduate tuition is assessed for all courses through the 400-level; graduate tuition is assessed for all courses 500-level or above.

Off-campus tuition rates are the same as on-campus tuition rates (online courses, which are offered at in-state tuition rates, cost an additional $43 per credit hour).

Tuition for auditing classes is the same as for-credit classes.

Residence Classification for Tuition Purposes Policy

I. Regulations for determining residence classification

A person enrolling at Eastern Michigan University shall be classified as a resident or a nonresident for tuition purposes. A student's residence status shall be determined at the time of his/her initial admission to the University. In order to determine the domicile of a student, the following regulations will be utilized:

A. Establishment of Residence
No student shall be eligible for classification as a resident for tuition purposes unless the student has demonstrated that he/she has established domicile in Michigan.

B. Minors and Dependents over 18
The domicile of a student who is not yet 18 years of age follows that of the student's parents or legal guardian. If that student's parents or legal guardian would qualify in accordance with the University's regulations for determining residence classification, that student shall be considered a Michigan resident for tuition purposes.

Students 18 years of age or older who are claimed as dependents for federal income tax purposes by their parents or guardians at the time of registration and for the tax year preceding the year in which they register will be classified for tuition purposes as though they were minors.

C. Nondependent Students
An independent student 18 years of age or older is considered eligible for residence classification if the student has demonstrated that he/she has established domicile in Michigan.

D. Spouse
The domicile of a student who otherwise would be classified as a nonresident for tuition purposes will follow that of the student's spouse, if the spouse is eligible for classification as a Michigan resident for tuition purposes (applicable only to U.S. citizens or to aliens admitted to the United States in accordance with Subsection E).

E. Aliens
An alien (noncitizen) student shall be eligible for classification as a Michigan resident for tuition purposes if he/she is domiciled in the United States and also qualifies in accordance with the University's Regulations for Determining Residence Classification.

In order to demonstrate that he/she is domiciled in the United States, the student must be a permanent resident, or an alien with one of the following visa classifications, or an alien with other documentation from the Immigration and Naturalization Services that reflects such status:

Visa classifications:

- E-1 - treaty trader, spouse, and children;
- E-2 - treaty investor, spouse, and children;
- G-4 - international organization officer or employee and members of immediate family;
- H-1 - temporary worker of distinguished merit and ability;
- H-2 - temporary worker performing services unavailable in the U.S.;
- H-3 - trainee;
- H-4 - spouse or child of H-1, H-2, or H-3;
- J-1 - exchange visitor (limited to persons engaged as trainees, teachers, professors or research scholars);
- J-2 - spouse or child of J-1 as limited above;
- L-1 - intracompany transferee;
- L-2 - spouse or child of L-1.

F. Migrants

Migrant status is one factor considered when determining if a student is domiciled in Michigan for tuition purposes. Michigan migrants are defined as individuals who have made their livelihood in seasonal work in the state of Michigan, and have traveled interstate for this purpose. Migrant students shall be considered Michigan residents for tuition purposes if they, or their parents or legal guardian, were employed in Michigan for at least two months during each of three of the preceding five years. Verification of employment as migrant workers should be secured from the Michigan Farm Labor and Rural Manpower Services Office. Other appropriate evidence also may be used by migrant workers to establish their status.

G. Spouse or Dependent of a U.S. Military Service Person

The spouse or dependent of a person currently serving in a branch of the U.S. military service (excluding reserve programs) or of a person who died while serving in a branch of the U.S. military service shall be eligible for classification as a Michigan resident for tuition purposes if that military service person qualified in accordance with the University's regulations for determining residence classification immediately before entering the military service as a Michigan resident.

H. U.S. Military Service Veteran

A veteran of a branch of the U.S. military service (excluding reserve programs) shall be eligible for classification as a Michigan resident for tuition purposes if that person qualifies in accordance with the University's regulations for determining residence classification immediately before entering the military service as a Michigan resident.

II. Guidelines And Criteria For Determining Residence Classification

Since a student normally comes to Eastern Michigan University for the primary or sole purpose of attending the University rather than to establish domicile in Michigan, students who enroll in the University as nonresidents shall continue to be so classified throughout their attendance as students, unless and until they demonstrate that their previous domicile has been abandoned and a Michigan domicile is established.

The following guidelines and criteria shall be applied when reviewing a student's classification. It is recognized that no one of the following criteria shall, standing alone, necessarily be controlling. All factors indicating an intent to make Michigan the student's domicile will be considered by the University in classifying a student.

A. The following facts and circumstances, although not necessarily conclusive, have probative value in support of a claim for residence classification:

1. Domicile in Michigan of family, guardian or other relatives or persons legally responsible for the student.
2. Former domicile in Michigan and maintenance of significant connections therein while absent.
3. Self-supporting reliance upon Michigan sources for financial support (verification of Michigan income tax liability must be provided).
4. Continuous presence in Michigan during periods when not enrolled as a student.
5. Long-term military commitments in Michigan.
6. Acceptance of an offer of permanent employment in Michigan (in a position not normally filled by a student).
7. Ownership of real estate in Michigan.

B. Please note: The following circumstances, standing alone, shall not constitute sufficient evidence of domicile to effect classification of a student as a resident under these regulations:

1. Voting or registration for voting.
2. Employment in any position normally filled by a student.
3. The lease of living quarters.
4. A statement of intention to acquire a domicile in Michigan.
5. Automobile registration, driver's license.
6. Birth records or other public records.

III. Reclassification of Residence Status

A student's residence status may be reviewed at each subsequent registration. If a student's circumstances should change to the extent that he/she would no longer be considered a Michigan resident for tuition purposes, as herein described, that student shall be reclassified as a nonresident for tuition purposes 12 months thereafter.

It shall be the responsibility of all students, prior to registering, to raise questions in the Student Business Services regarding their right to be registered as a resident for tuition purposes.

The administration is authorized to establish procedures and delegate authority for determining the residence status of students for tuition purposes.

A tuition reciprocity agreement with Ohio, entered into by the Michigan State Board of Education and the Ohio Board of Regents in 1980, allows an Ohio resident to attend Eastern Michigan University at Michigan resident tuition rates. Monroe County residents can attend the University of Toledo at Ohio resident tuition rates.

Tuition and Fee Payment

1. Log into your my.emich.edu e-mail account, or your forwarded my.emich mail. (If you use a forwarded e-mail address, keep it current.) Each month, you will receive an e-mail notifying you that your bill has been posted. It is the student's responsibility to check e-mail monthly.
2. You will need your E-ID and Personal Identification Number (PIN) to access Ebill, EPay and Payment Plans. At my.emich.edu on the bottom of the first page are instructions to access your E-ID and PIN.
3. View your bill and click on "Current Account Activity" to view transactions that are posted after the bill is issued. You can also go to your profile and add an alternate e-mail address.
4. Pay your bill with your checking account routing number (ACH), MasterCard, American Express or Discover Card via PayPath. You may pay your bill in person or by mail at 201 Pierce Hall, Ypsilanti MI, 48197. Please write your E-ID on your check payment.
5. Allow access to parents or other parties by setting them up as authorized users. All you need is their e-mail address. This will allow them to access your bill, pay your bill, and set up a payment plan. An e-mail is automatically sent to the authorized user with sign-in details. The authorized user will create a new password once in the site.
6. The University offers a payment plan to help manage the cost of education. The cost of the plan is $29 and is added to your installment payments. The plan automatically adjusts as payments or charges are added to your account. To enroll, simply log into the Ebill site at ebill.emich.edu. Click on "Payment Plan," at the bottom of the Ebill site, and follow the four simple steps to enroll in the plan. We hope you enjoy this added convenience and we welcome any questions you may have.
7. If you have any questions about the system, please send your e-mail to ebill@emich.edu.

EMU's optional payment plan is offered in the fall and winter semesters only and is applicable to tuition and room and board. A minimum of 50 percent must be paid initially and the remainder by the eighth week of the semester. An installment service fee of $29 is assessed with the first installment billing and a late payment fee of $36 per month is assessed on past-due balances.

If a student's account is past due for a current semester, enrollment, University housing and other University services (such as the release of transcripts) are subject to suspension until the account is brought into current status. Payment of assessments for a current semester does not relieve the student of obligation for payment of any balance from a prior semester.

Program Adjustment Fee

Beginning with the start of classes, a program adjustment fee of $11 per drop transaction will be assessed for each student-initiated program adjustment.
For final adjustment deadlines and coordinate fee schedules, see the Class Schedule Books or on the Web at www.emich.edu/controller/sbs.

No program adjustment fees will be assessed for changes required as a result of University actions.

Credit Adjustment for Total Withdrawal

A credit adjustment of 100 percent of tuition and fees for the fall and winter semesters, less the $40 nonrefundable registration fee, will be made to those students who cancel their registration or withdraw from the University through the eighth class day. For the spring and summer sessions, a 100 percent credit adjustment, less the $40 nonrefundable registration fee, will be made during the first four days of classes. Actual dates are printed in the class schedule book for each semester and session or on the Web.

A credit adjustment of 50 percent of tuition and fees for the fall and winter semesters, less the $40 nonrefundable registration fee, will be made to those students who withdraw from the University (all classes) from the ninth through the 19th class day. For the spring and summer sessions, a 50 percent credit adjustment, less an administrative fee, will be made from the fifth through 10th class day of the session. Actual dates are printed in the class schedule for each semester and session.

A credit adjustment of 25 percent tuition and fees for the fall and winter semesters, less the $40 nonrefundable registration fee, will be made to those students who withdraw from all classes between the 20th through the 38th class day. For the spring and summer sessions, a 25 percent credit adjustment, less an administrative fee, will be made from the 11th through 19th class day of the session. Actual dates are printed in the class schedule for each semester and session.

No credit adjustment will be made after the above stipulated dates.

Decrease in Academic Load

For the fall and winter semesters, 100-percent tuition credit, less an $11 program adjustment fee, will be processed for those students who decrease their academic load through the eighth day of classes. For the spring and summer sessions, a 100 percent credit adjustment, less a $11 program adjustment fee, will be made during the first four days of classes. Actual dates are printed in the class schedule for each semester and session.

No credit adjustments will be made after the above stipulated dates.

If a student feels that individual circumstances warrant exceptions from the credit adjustment or University withdrawal adjustment policy:

1. Obtain a Tuition Appeal Application from the Student Business Services in 201 Pierce Hall. Complete and return the application along with an explanation of the extraordinary circumstances involved and supporting documentation of those circumstances. An approval or denial will be issued in writing by return mail. If the application is denied:
2. Appeal in writing to the Director of Student Business Services at the address above. Be sure to include any additional pertinent information with your written appeal.

Tuition and fee appeal applications must be submitted as early in the semester as possible. Applications received later than 15 calendar days after the close of the semester may be denied.

The General Fee

EMU has the responsibility to maintain certain services and facilities on campus for the comfort and convenience of students, and to maintain academic accreditation. Examples are improvements to academic facilities, Snow Health Center, learning technology labs, athletic facilities, performing arts facilities and Student Government. These are funded through a general fee of $21 per credit hour and assessed to all students. Not every supported service or facility is used by every student, but the overall good of the student body is served.

The Program Fee
Students in upper-level and graduate courses in certain areas of study will be charged program fees. A complete list of program fees can be found at www.emich.edu/controller/sbs.

Student Union Fee
A student union fee of $3.00 per credit hour is charged to all students to service the debt on the new student union building.

The Technology Fee
Each student will be charged a technology fee of $10 per credit hour to update the technology of the University. This fee applies to any on-campus, off-campus and online classes.

Service Fees
Room and board fees are published by the Housing Office and are set by action of the Board of Regents.

A $90 graduation fee is charged to each student who makes application for graduation. It covers the cost of mailing of diplomas and other specific graduation items. The fee is assessed once for each degree and is non-refundable.

Parking your motor vehicle in University parking lots requires the proper parking permit. To purchase your parking permit, you must first register your motor vehicle with the Public Safety Department, located on the ground floor of the parking structure. The application will indicate whether the permit will be mailed to you or whether you must pick it up in person.

All students meeting the requirements of the law are eligible to operate and maintain motor vehicles on campus. Motor vehicles are required to be operated within the provisions of the traffic, parking and pedestrian ordinances of the University and the city of Ypsilanti.

Further details are available in the parking and traffic regulations brochure available from campus police. Permit cost is subject to change.
Special Fees

Music fees are charged for private lessons according to the following schedule:

Music majors: $60 per semester (maximum) for all instruction.

Other University students: $60 per semester for one-hour lesson, $30 per semester for half-hour lesson.

For students from public schools, the community and EMU staff and families, lessons are available through the EMU Community Music School. Fees vary depending on the length of the lesson and the instructor. Call the Department of Music and Dance for details.

Lessons are arranged through the Department of Music and Dance.

The applied music fee is assessed to each student's account at the close of the program adjustment period. This fee is not refundable after the first lesson.

Student Expenses

Estimated Academic Year Costs

(Residence Hall and Commuter Students)

The following budget represents typical expenses for a freshman student, Michigan or Ohio resident, taking a total of 30 undergraduate credit hours during fall and winter semester, living in a University residence hall or off-campus apartment and attending the full academic year (fall and winter semesters).

- Tuition and fees: $7,590
- Books and academic supplies: $900
- Residence hall room and board: $7,220
- Estimated additional costs of personal, transportation and miscellaneous expenses: $1,880

Personal expenses include clothing allowance, medical/dental expenses, recreation, personal hygiene articles. Out-of-state students should allow for additional tuition and transportation costs.

Students can anticipate the following total costs: tuition and fees, books, room and board, personal and miscellaneous expenses and transportation for an eight-month academic year:

- On-campus student: $17,590
- Off-campus student: $17,590
- Commuter student: $13,070

The above budgets are based on financial aid average costs for 2008-2009.
Extended Programs

Eastern Michigan University offers the following undergraduate programs off-campus:

- Business Administration (degree completion program): EMU–Livonia
- Construction Management: EMU–Livonia
- Criminology and Criminal Justice [NEW]: EMU–Livonia
- Dietetics: EMU–Online
- Technology Management (degree completion program): EMU–Online
Undergraduate Policy on Probation/Dismissal/Readmission

If, at the end of any term of enrollment, an undergraduate's cumulative grade point average (GPA) falls below 2.0, having previously been at or above 2.0 (or if new to the University), that student will be placed on academic probation (PRB1). The student will then have three terms of enrollment (spring/summer count as one) to raise the cumulative GPA to 2.0 or higher. At any time that the student's cumulative GPA reaches 2.0, the student will be restored to good academic standing (GOOD). Unless the cumulative GPA has been raised to 2.0 by the end of the third term of probation (PRB3), the student will be subject to academic dismissal.

Exceptions to this policy are as follows:
1. Any student whose first term of probation is the result of a semester of all Es must earn better than 0.0 (all Es) in the first term of probation or face dismissal immediately.

2. Students who have been readmitted (READ is equivalent to PRB1) after a dismissal will be placed on PRB2 after their first term, if their cumulative GPA remains below 2.0. They will have two terms to raise their cumulative GPA average to 2.0 or they will face a second and final dismissal.

3. All initial dismissal actions are subject to appeal. Procedures and deadlines for such appeals will be included in notices of academic dismissal, sent to students at the conclusion of a term of enrollment. If an appeal is successful, the student will be reinstated, which means the dismissal does not count. Students who are reinstated after an appeal will be given one more term to raise the GPA to 2.0 or they will be dismissed.

Students dismissed from the University for the first time must remain away from Eastern Michigan University for one calendar year. They can then apply for readmission through the Academic Advising Center. Procedures and deadlines for readmission are available in the Academic Advising Center (301 Pierce Hall); contact the Assistant Director for Academic Actions. Students dismissed more than once (excluding reinstatement) are usually not eligible to return to the University. On occasion, when students have been away from the University for at least 10 years, a request may be submitted, through the Assistant Director for Academic Actions, to the Academic Standards Committee, who will make the final decision in such a case.

While remaining out of the University due to a dismissal, students may choose to attend another institution. Certain rules apply to course work taken elsewhere. Refer to the repeat policy in the catalog and consult with Academic Records on transfer of courses.

While on academic probation, a student may meet with the Assistant Director for Academic Actions or any adviser in the Academic Advising Center. In addition, students may seek help in developing successful strategies for academic performance through the Holman Learning Center, the Counseling Services Center and the Career Services Center.

Notification of Student Rights under FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day EMU receives a request for access.

   Students should submit to Eastern Michigan University's Office of Records and Registration written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. A University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

   Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

   If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

   One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate education interests. A school official is a person employed by EMU in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom EMU has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Regents; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.
A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

Upon request, the University discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. The University may, without the student's permission, release certain information to parents or guardians of students under the age of 21 found responsible for violating any law, rule or University policy pertaining to drugs or alcohol.

EMU has designated the following items as directory information and these items may be included in publications or disclosed upon request without consent: the student's name; address; telephone listing; electronic-mail address; date and place of birth; major field of study; participation in recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic teams; dates of attendance; degrees and awards received (including, but not limited to, the Dean's List); and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student.

EMU reserves the right to make directory information public unless a student's written objection (specifying the category of information not to be made public without prior consent) is filed at the Office of Records and Registration within 14 days after each term begins.

Students who do not want to be included in the annual EMU Student Directory should either complete a directory exclusion card or request directory exclusion through the touch tone registration system (734.487.3309) by Sept. 15. Cards can be picked up from University Publications, Campus Life, Office of Records and Registration, Academic Advising Center, Office of Admissions or a residence hall information desk. They must be turned in by September 15 to Public Information, 18 Welch Hall. Requesting directory exclusion will remove your name, address and phone number from the current and subsequent telephone directories.

5. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by EMU to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:
   Family Policy Compliance Office
   U.S. Department of Education
   400 Maryland Ave. SW
   Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

Applicable Laws for Americans with Disabilities

1973 Vocational Rehabilitation Act, Section 504

Colleges and universities nationwide have been protecting the rights of students with disabilities since the 1973 Vocational Rehabilitation Act, specifically Section 504, which states:

No otherwise qualified handicapped individual in the United States shall, solely by reason of handicap, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

Unlike Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the ADA applies to employers, public services, public accommodations, communication providers and transportation providers regardless of whether they receive or benefit from federal funding.

The ADA defines a person with a disability to mean a person who: (1) has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; (2) has a record of such an impairment; or (3) is regarded as having such an impairment.

The ADA provides coverage in five different areas:
Residence Hall Eligibility Policy

Policy Statement

All first year unmarried students shall be required to live in University residence halls, contingent on space availability. Sophomore students may be required to live on campus as well, space permitting. Exceptions may be granted to students who are:

a. commuting from the permanent home of their parents/guardian;
b. 21 years of age or older; or
c. veterans who have served on active duty.

All students living in University residence halls assume responsibility for their own hours.

University Practice

Occupancy in a University residence hall is restricted to currently enrolled students at Eastern Michigan University. Occupants other than currently enrolled Eastern students are allowed on an exception basis. However, priority will be maintained for current Eastern students. Each resident is required to make application and sign a contract for the appropriate term. As such, the resident agrees to make the designated prepayment and agrees to the payment of fees as established for the term(s) of occupancy according to the current payment schedule. Additionally, the residents are responsible for compliance with all terms and conditions set forth in the contract and the Residence Hall Handbook.

Responsibility for Implementation

Housing management staff is responsible for implementing this policy and for granting waivers in a fair and consistent manner within policy guidelines.

Scope of Policy Coverage

This policy shall apply to first year and sophomore students.

EMU Policy on Sexual Harassment

The University's Mission Statement and accompanying Institutional Values and Guiding Principles reflect our collective commitment to providing an environment that positively affects the lives of all individuals who are part of the EMU community. The University's Sexual Harassment Policy affirms our shared values and responsibility to respect all individuals, and prohibits any member of the University community from engaging in sexual harassment activities that demean or diminish an individual in any way. Such activity is prohibited by law and by this policy. The rights and responsibilities inherent in this policy apply to all employees, students, guests and outside contractors. One of the strengths of Eastern Michigan University is that we value and respect human dignity and the rights of all people. Each of us shares the responsibility for ensuring that sexual harassment will not be tolerated and that we strictly adhere to the tenets of this policy. Copies of the policy and procedures are posted on the websites of the Office of Diversity and Affirmative Action, the Office of Judicial Services, Human Resources and the Office of the Assistant Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Policy on Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University to provide an educational, employment and business environment free of unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct or communications constituting sexual harassment, as defined and otherwise prohibited by state and federal statues.

Prohibited Acts

No member of the University community shall engage in sexual harassment. Persons who engage in sexual harassment are subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal for employees and/or suspension or dismissal for students. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome advances, requests for sexual favors or other behavior of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or status in a course, program or activity.
- Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct is used as a basis for a decision affecting an individual's employment or participation in a course, program or activity.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or performance in a course, program or activity, or of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment in which one engages in employment, a course, a program or an activity.

Confidentiality

To the extent permitted by law, the confidentiality of each party involved in a sexual harassment investigation, complaint or charge will be observed, provided it does not interfere with the University's ability to investigate the allegations or take corrective action.

Examples of Sexual Harassment

- Physical assault
- Threats or insinuations which cause the victim to believe that sexual submission or rejection will affect his/her reputation, education, employment, advancement, or any conditions which concern the victim's standing at the University.
- Direct propositions of a sexual nature
- Subtle pressure for sexual activity, an element of which may be conduct such as unwelcome sexual leering
- Conduct (not legitimately related to the subject matter of the work, course, program, or activity in which one is involved) intending to or having the effect of discomforting and/or humiliating a reasonable person at whom the conduct is directed. This may include, but is not limited to, comments of a sexual nature or sexually explicit statements, questions, jokes or anecdotes, and unnecessary touching, patting, hugging or brushing against a person's body. Depending upon the circumstances, any of the above types of conduct may be sexual harassment and subject to disciplinary action, even if that conduct only occurs once.

Consensual Sexual Relationships:

Professor and student:
The ideal professor demonstrates respect for students as individuals and serves as students' mentor, intellectual guide and model of honest academic conduct. The professor acts to ensure academic evaluations of students that reflect each student's true merit. He or she respects the confidential nature of the relationship between professor and student and avoids all forms of exploitation, harassment and discriminatory treatment of students.

Sexual relations (which includes contact of a sexual nature) or requests for sexual relations between students and faculty members with whom they also have a current instructional or evaluative relationship are fraught with the potential for exploitation and must be avoided, and are prohibited. The respect and trust accorded a professor by a student, as well as the power exercised by the professor in an instructional or evaluative role, make voluntary consent by the student suspect. In their relationships with students, members of the faculty are expected to be aware of their professional responsibilities and to avoid apparent or actual conflict of interest, favoritism or bias.

Seeking Assistance for Filing a Complaint

Students, faculty and staff who believe they are the victims of sexual harassment may seek information and assistance from the Office of Student Judicial Services (204 King Hall), Jennifer Schraze, director, 734.487.2157, or the Diversity and Affirmative Action Office (11 Welch Hall), 734.487.1166. If the student, faculty member or staff member wishes to file a complaint, she/he may take the following action(s):

- If the alleged harasser is a staff or faculty member, the affected individual(s) may contact the Diversity and Affirmative Action Office (11 Welch Hall).
- If the alleged harasser is a student, the affected individual(s) may contact the Office of Student Judicial Services (204 King Hall).

Note: EMU has the obligation to investigate all complaints of sexual harassment.

Seeking Assistance Outside of the University

Persons who believe they are the victims of sexual harassment may also seek assistance from: the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or the Michigan Department of Civil Rights.

Awareness

Members of the University community are responsible for knowing and understanding the University's policy prohibiting sexual harassment. Students who do not understand the policy should contact the Office of Student Judicial Services at 487.2157. Faculty and staff who do not understand the policy should contact their department head or director. Department heads or directors who need assistance in understanding, interpreting or applying the policy should contact the Diversity and Affirmative Action Office at 487.1166. Persons who make false allegations subject themselves to the possibility of disciplinary action.

If You Are Accused of Sexual Harassment

You will have an opportunity to hear and respond to the charges brought against you. All situations are treated as confidential matters to the extent permitted by law. Judgments are not made nor action taken until the investigation is complete. Employees represented by collective bargaining agents may enlist assistance from their union as necessary.

Grade Grievance Procedure for the EMU Community

Timeline for Steps in the Grade Grievance Procedure
Step I

- The student must contact the instructor within ten (10) working days after the start of the following semester: i.e., the semester following the one in which the disputed grade was given.

Step II

- A written grievance must be filed within twenty (20) working days after the start of the next semester following the one in which the disputed grade was given.
- Within ten (10) working days after receipt of the written grievance, the department head must schedule a hearing before the Department/College Grievance Committee.
- The Committee hearing shall be open unless the student or instructor requests a closed hearing. This request should be conveyed in writing to the department head prior to the hearing . . . . (After the hearing) The committee will meet in executive session and will present its findings, in writing, to the department head within ten (10) working days.
- The department head will forward the committee's written decision to the student and the instructor within five (5) working days of this committee's decision/recommendation.

Step III

- Either the instructor or the student grievant may submit a written appeal of the prior decision at Step II by the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee within ten (10) working days of written receipt of that decision, if at least one of three conditions is met:
  1. The Office of the Provost determines that there is evidence that established procedures for Step II were violated; or
  2. There was at least one dissenting vote at the Step II level; or
  3. New evidence or new witnesses not previously considered or heard at Step II become available.

- Within twenty (20) working days of the receipt of the appeal, the University Grade Grievance Committee shall issue a written Step III decision to both the instructor and the student.

A. Introduction

The Grade Grievance Procedure provides each student with the opportunity to appeal formally a final grade in a course because he or she believes that the grade has been awarded capriciously or unfairly. Capricious or unfair-grading may include but is not limited to the assignment of a course grade to a student: (1) on some basis other than relevant performance in the course; (2) by resorting to standards different from those which were applied to other students in that course; or (3) by an unreasonable and/or unannounced substantial departure from the instructor's previously articulated standards.

This procedure is not intended to handle disputes that may arise about the grading of individual exams or assignments during the semester. When such disputes arise, the student should contact the instructor immediately, rather, than waiting until the end of the semester. Class action grievances by one student on behalf of several students or an entire class are not permitted.

B. Step I

If a student wishes to appeal a final grade, the student must contact the instructor within ten (10) working days after the start of the following semester: i.e., the semester following the one in which the disputed grade was given (see General Notes #3, p. 9, for the spring-summer policy). If the instructor is teaching on campus the next semester, but is temporally unavailable or simply cannot be reached during this ten-day period, then the student should deliver a written request for an appointment with him/her, stating the reason, to the department head no later than the ten (10) day period. With the aid of the department head in scheduling an appointment, the instructor and the student must then meet as soon as possible and discuss the disputed grade privately. In the event that the department head has difficulty in assisting the student in scheduling the appointment, a detailed written record of communication or attempts to communicate between the department head and the instructor will be maintained by the department head. Whenever possible, conflicts over grades should be resolved informally between the instructor and the student as a result of this Step I discussion.

If the instructor has left the University permanently, or is not available for a period of sixty (60) days or more (e.g., if the instructor is away on a sabbatical leave, medical leave; or in his/her "off semester" on a Plan C appointment), then the department head shall act on his/her behalf and make a decision either in support of or against the grievance. In making this decision, the department head shall review all available grade records, discuss the matter with the student, and with written consent of the student, request and evaluate within ten (10) working days a written statement by the instructor concerning the disputed grade, when possible. The department head cannot act in this manner on behalf of the instructor during the spring-summer period because the instructor is not teaching during either the spring or summer session, unless the disputed grade affects the student's plans to graduate that year.

C. Step II

If the grade dispute is not resolved in Step I to the student's satisfaction and he or she still believes that the grievance has merit based on facts of the case, the student has the right to file a formal written grievance with the department head. In the written grievance, the student must indicate whether he/she requests that the case be heard by a Departmental or College Grade Grievance Committee. The department head will forward the written grievance immediately to the chairperson of the appropriate (Department or College) Grade Grievance Committee.

Guidelines for filing a formal grievance are as follows:

1. A grievance must be based on evidence that the instructor has been capricious and/or unfair in awarding a grade. The written grievance must describe specifically the perceived capricious or unfair action of the instructor. The student also should present all other evidence or documentation in support of his or her allegations. Disagreement with an instructor's judgment in and of itself is not a basis for a grievance, nor is disagreement with an instructor's grading standards, if such standards have been described in advance for the class, and have been applied fairly to all students in the class.

2. A written grievance must be filed within twenty (20) working days after the start of the next semester following the one in which the disputed grade was given.

Within ten (10) working days after receipt of the written grievance, the department head in consultation with the chairperson of the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee will schedule a hearing before the Committee. The department head cannot simply make a personal judgment that the grievance is without merit, and thus refuse to give it to the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee. However, after scheduling the hearing; the department head may request a closed three-person meeting in his/her office with just the instructor and the student, to discuss informally the disputed grade one final time. If either the instructor or the student refuses to attend such a meeting, the department head cannot require his/her attendance, and the grievance is then held as previously scheduled. If a closed meeting is held, the department head shall act only as a facilitator or a mediator. His/her role is restricted solely to promoting further discussion, not to imposing his/her judgment and/or making a decision in the case. If the dispute is resolved in this meeting, the written grievance shall be withdrawn and the scheduled hearing canceled. The student will provide written verification of withdrawal of the grievance to the instructor and department head at the conclusion of the meeting. If the dispute is not resolved, the grievance is then held as previously scheduled. In such cases, the department head shall not communicate his/her opinions/judgments regarding the grievance and/or the discussion at the closed meeting to the members of the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee.

The Department Grade Grievance Committee shall be composed of three (3) faculty members and two (2) students. The faculty members shall be selected by appropriate department procedures. In undergraduate student grievances, the student representatives shall be selected from the list of representatives designated annually (no later than October 15 each year) by Student Government for each department in that particular college. In graduate student grievances, the student committee members much be graduate students. The graduate student representatives will be selected from the list of representatives designated annually (no later than October 15) by the Graduate School for each department in that particular college.

The College Grade Grievance Committee shall be composed of three (3) faculty members and two (2) students. One faculty person and one student must be from the department from which the grievance originated. The other faculty and student representatives must be from different departments within the college. The dean of the college in which the grievance originates will select the appropriate faculty and student representatives to serve on a particular grievance committee from the approved designated lists. The faculty approved to serve on the committee shall be designated by the College Council from a list of faculty submitted by each department by October 15 each year. In undergraduate student grievances, the student representatives shall be selected from the list of representatives designated annually (no later than October 15 each year) by Student Government for each department in that particular college. In graduate student grievances, the student committee members must be graduate students. The graduate student representatives will be selected from the list of representatives designated annually (no later than October 15) by the Graduate School for each department in that particular college.

The student grievant may, however, request in advance of the hearing in writing that the two (2) students be excused and that his or her grievance be heard only by three (3) faculty members.

This option applies regardless of whether the grievance is being heard by the Department or College Grade Grievance Committee. The committee shall conduct a hearing according to the following guidelines:

1. Prior to the hearing, any written information in support of either the student or the instructor shall be distributed to committee members by the department head. In addition, both the student grievant and the instructor shall be provided with copies of these same written materials. All available written information shall be presented at this time.
2. A detailed record shall be kept of the hearing, preferably a taped sound recording. If a written record is kept, that record shall be signed by the Grievance Committee asserting that the written record is a true record of the hearing proceedings.

Written or recorded records of any Step II grievance shall be kept on file in the college dean's office and copies shall be provided, upon request, to the student who has filed the grade grievance or the faculty member against whom the grievance was filed. Costs associated with duplicating grade grievance records shall be borne by the individual(s) requesting copies.

3. The hearing shall be open unless the student or instructor requests a closed hearing. This request should be conveyed in writing to the department head prior to the hearing.
4. Both the student and instructor shall be permitted an adviser at the hearing. Advisers must be members of the University community, i.e., students in good standing or full-time faculty or staff members.
5. The Department/College Grade Grievance chair shall begin the hearing by beginning the tape recorder (or announcing the name of the person who will be taking minutes) and reviewing the guidelines and procedures under which the hearing shall be conducted.

The committee chair will then announce, "This Step Level II Grade Grievance Hearing is being held on (date). (Name of student) is grieving the grade of (grade) received during the (semester) in (class prefix, number, and section identification number) taught by (instructor). The following committee members are in attendance today: (members give their names)."

6. In order, the student and the instructor will present their cases. Both the student and the instructor may call witnesses, and the student, instructor, adviser(s), and committee members all have the right to question any witnesses that are called. The student and the instructor should be asked for brief closing statements.
7. The chair will then close the hearing with, "This Step Level II Grade Grievance Hearing is now concluded." The committee will meet in executive session and will present its findings, in writing, to the department head within ten (10) working days. The written decision/recommendations- will be signed by the members of the committee. The department head will forward the committee's written decision to the student and the instructor within five (5) working days of this committee's decision/recommendation.

8. If determined through the grievance process that a student's grade is to be changed, the following process will be used:
   a. The Chair of the grade grievance committee will forward the committee's recommendation for the change of grade to the faculty member, Department Head and the student (grievant).
   b. The faculty member shall have ten (10) working days from the issuance of the committee's recommendation to file a grade change or respond otherwise to the committee.
   c. If the faculty member fails to change the grade or appeal the decision within the allotted time or notifies the committee of his/her intent not to comply with the recommendation to do so, the department head will file the grade change form in accordance with the committee's recommendation.
   d. The student, faculty member, Department Head, and Grievance Committee Chairperson will receive copies of the completed grade change form.
9. Either the student or the instructor may appeal the decision/recommendations of the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee to the University Grade Grievance Committee under the conditions listed below. This appeal must be filed within ten (10) working days of receipt of the decision.

D. Step III

Either the instructor or the student grievant may submit a written appeal of the decision at Step II by the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee within ten (10) working days of written receipt of that decision, if one of the following conditions is met:

1. The Office of the Provost determines that there is evidence that established procedures for Step II were violated; or
2. There was at least one dissenting vote at the Step II level; or
3. New evidence or new witnesses not previously considered or heard at Step II become available.

In the absence of 1, 2, or 3 above, simple disagreement with the decision rendered at Step II is not sufficient basis for an appeal. In other words, there is no automatic right of appeal in every case requiring that the University Grade Grievance Committee reconsider the entire grievance case. If the appeal is based on new evidence or new witnesses, the written appeal statement must explain precisely how this evidence or testimony relates directly to the alleged unfair or capricious awarding of the disputed grade. If said evidence or witnesses had been available prior to the Step II hearing, the hearing shall be remanded back to the Step-II departmental committee. Only newly discovered evidence and/or witnesses may be introduced at the Step-III hearing level (it shall be the responsibility of the petitioner to demonstrate that the evidence and/or witnesses were not available at Step II).

The appeal shall be submitted to the provost or his/her designee with a copy to the dean of the appropriate college. The University Grade Grievance Committee shall be chaired by the provost or his/her designee and shall have the following additional members: the dean of the involved college or his/her designee; two (2) faculty members, one of whom is from the involved college, but not from the department in which the grievance originated; and one (1) student appointed by Student Government (in the case of undergraduate grievance) or by the Graduate School (in the case of graduate grievances). The two faculty members shall be selected by the provost or his/her designee from an available pool of nominees representing all colleges.

The University Grade Grievance Committee shall review all written documents that were available to the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee, the written or taped recording of the Step II hearing, and the final report and decision of the Step II Committee. The University Grade Grievance Committee may reconvene the participants in the Step II hearing to answer questions, if desired.

Within twenty (20) working days of the receipt of the appeal, the University Grade Grievance Committee shall issue a written Step III decision to both the instructor and the student. This decision shall be final; no further appeal is possible.

E. Records

When the Grade Grievance Procedure results in an instructor's grade being changed without his or her agreement, then all University records containing that grade in which the name of the instructor appears shall be identified by an asterisk (*). On these records, the asterisk will be footnoted with the following statement: "This grade is a result of an appeal procedure." On those records in which the instructor's name does not appear, the grade will not be asterisked, nor will there be any other indication that the original grade was changed.

F. General Notes

1. The time limits/deadlines for submitting grievances/appeals, holding meetings, making decisions are to be followed by all parties. However, extensions of the limits may be requested in writing by any of the involved parties. Such requests must originate prior to the expiration of the stated time limit. The dean of the involved college will make the decision to approve or to deny each request for a time limit extension at Step I or Step II. Decisions regarding Step III time limit extensions will be made by the Office of the Provost.
2. For Department Grade Grievance Committees, each academic department shall select the faculty members for the Department Grade Grievance Committee annually by October 15. The committee will hear all Step II grade grievances during the next twelve months in cases where the student requests the hearing at the departmental level. Substitute members shall be selected to replace any committee member who is personally involved in a grade grievance. Also, substitute members shall be selected to replace any faculty member who is unavailable for an extended period of time (e.g., spring and/or summer). For College Grade Grievance Committees, annually by October 15, each academic department shall select faculty members to serve on the College Grade Grievance Committee (at least one person to serve as a regular member of the Committee and one as an alternate). The Committee will hear all Step II grade grievances during the next twelve months in cases where the student requests the hearing at the college level. Substitute members shall be selected to replace any committee member who is personally involved or has a conflict of interest in a grade grievance. Also, substitute members shall be selected to replace any faculty committee member who is unavailable for an extended period of time (e.g., spring and/or summer, sabbatical, etc.).

3. Each college shall select two (2) faculty members plus one (1) alternate who are available during a twelve-month period for assignment to the Step III University Grade Grievance Committee. These selections shall be made by the appropriate college-level faculty advisory council/committee at the beginning of the academic year (by October 15). Unlike the Department/College Grade Grievance Committee, this Step III University Grade Grievance Committee may, of necessity, have a different membership for each grievance. Grievances relating to grades awarded for the winter semester ending in April or for the Spring term ending in June shall normally be pursued the next fall, measuring all stated deadlines with respect to the start of the fall semester in September. However, if the instructor is teaching on campus during the spring or summer session and the student is enrolled on campus during the same session, then with their mutual agreement, the grievance can be pursued during the spring or summer. However, should either the instructor or the student prefer to wait, then action of the grievance will be postponed until the fall semester. The only exception in which the grievance shall be pursued during the spring or summer session without the consent of the instructor who is teaching on campus is for any case in which the disputed grade affects the student's plans to graduate that year. In such cases, if the instructor is unwilling to participate, the department head may act on his/her behalf.

4. Throughout this procedure, the title "department head" shall be interpreted to include program directors or program coordinators for appropriate academic units in which there is no administrator with the title of "department head."

Class Attendance Policy Works for You

Students

Regular class attendance and active participation in classes are important elements in the learning process. Students are at the University primarily for the sake of their intellectual growth and development. Attendance and participation provide appropriate opportunities for the evaluation of the student's progress.

Each student is personally responsible for the satisfactory completion of the course work prescribed by his/her instructors. This means specifically that he/she is expected to attend classes regularly, and that he/she is responsible for the work assigned in class, the material covered in class and for participation in class activities (including discussion and listening) designed by the instructor as part of the learning experience. However, physical attendance shall not be the sole criterion for determining the student's course grade.

Faculty

Faculty members should notify their department heads when they are going to be absent from regularly scheduled classes. Written notification of circumstances causing prolonged absences should be sent to the dean of the college. Faculty members are expected to arrange, through their department head, for a qualified substitute when they are absent from class.

Cancellation
Classes may be cancelled by the Office of the President through the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Off-campus classes are cancelled only by the dean of Extended Programs and Educational Outreach.

Changes

Faculty may not change the time or room of a class printed in the University class schedule unless the change is approved by the department head and the dean of the college.

At the End of the Semester

Classes are taught through the last teaching day of the semester as indicated in the University calendar.

Near Holidays

Students are expected to attend all classes, and faculty members are not permitted to cancel classes or excuse students prior to any holiday.

Student Involuntary Administrative Withdrawal

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University to establish a Student Involuntary Administrative Withdrawal Policy for the purpose of maintaining a campus environment that is conducive to learning, protects the university’s educational purposes, maintains reasonable order on campus, and protects the rights and safety of all members of the university community. The University may order the involuntary withdrawal of a student from the University or from University Housing in accordance with University policy, as described in the full text of this policy.

Standards for Withdrawal

In accordance with university policy, and applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination based on disability, a student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the University and/or University Housing, either temporarily or permanently, if it is determined that a student suffers from a mental disorder as defined by the current American Psychiatric Association Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, and as a result of the disorder:

- Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which poses a danger of causing physical harm to self or others, and/or
- Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which would cause significant property damage, which directly and substantially impedes the lawful activities of other members of the University, and/or
- Demonstrates an inability to satisfy personal needs (e.g., nourishment, shelter) such that there is a reasonable possibility that serious physical harm or death might occur within a short period of time, and/or
- Commits a violation of the University’s Student Conduct Code and lacks the capacity to comprehend and participate in the University’s disciplinary process, and/or
- Commits a violation of the University’s Student Conduct Code and did not understand the nature or wrongfulness of the conduct at the time of the offense.

The full Student Involuntary Administrative Withdrawal Policy, including procedures, is available at the Student Judicial Services website (www.emich.edu/sjs/). For more information, visit Student Judicial Services in 250 Student Center, or by phone at 734.487.2157.

Student Conduct Code and University Disciplinary Process

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University to establish a student conduct code, to be administered by the Office of Student Judicial Services, for the purpose of maintaining a campus environment that is conducive to learning, protects the university’s educational purposes, maintains reasonable order on campus, and protects the rights of all members of the University community. The Eastern Michigan University Student Conduct Code and the accompanying student disciplinary processes are intended to foster ethical development, personal accountability and civility toward others.

UNIVERSITY PRACTICE

The Student Conduct Code, below, outlines the practices to be utilized in administering the student disciplinary system at Eastern Michigan University.

Section 1: Purpose
In support of the overall goals of Eastern Michigan University, the purpose of the Student Conduct Code, administered by the Office of Student Judicial Services, is to maintain a campus environment that is conducive to learning, protects the university’s educational purposes, maintains reasonable order on campus, and protects the rights of all members of the University community. The Student Conduct Code and the accompanying student disciplinary processes are intended to foster ethical development, personal accountability and civility toward others.

The Code embraces several core philosophies: preservation of the rights of free speech and peaceable assembly; respect for freedom of inquiry and constructive criticism; a conviction that honesty and integrity are key values to the University community; and the belief that all members of the University should be part of a campus environment that respects differences of culture, gender, religion, race, age, lifestyle, or ability.

Section II: Responsibility for Implementation
The President, as Chief Executive Officer of the University, has overall responsibility for implementation of the Student Conduct Code and the student disciplinary process and has delegated its overall management to the Vice President for Student Affairs and the Director of Student Judicial Services. The Student Judicial Services office is directly responsible for the daily administration of the University’s student judicial system.

Section III: Jurisdiction
The University will have jurisdiction over misconduct that occurs on University premises and/or at University-sponsored activities but may also address off-campus behavior if the University determines that the behavior, or the continued presence of the student, impairs, obstructs, interferes with or adversely affects the mission, processes or functions of the University.

A student committing a criminal offense off-campus that is also a violation of the Student Conduct Code may be subject to University discipline.

The University may pursue disciplinary action against a student at the same time the student is facing criminal charges for the same offense, even if the criminal prosecution is pending, has been dismissed or the charges have been reduced.

Section IV: Definitions
A. For purposes of the Student Conduct Code only, the following definitions apply:

1. FACULTY MEMBER means any person hired by the University to conduct classes.
2. INSTITUTION or UNIVERSITY means Eastern Michigan University.
3. MEMBER OF THE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY includes any person who is a student, faculty member, University official or any other person employed by the University.
4. STUDENT includes all persons enrolled for courses through or at EMU, both full-time and part-time, and those who attend educational institutions other than EMU but who reside in EMU residence halls. Persons who are not officially enrolled for a particular term but whose EMU record indicates a continuing relationship with the University are considered “students.” Persons who have been accepted into EMU but have not yet enrolled for courses are considered “students.”
5. STUDENT GROUP means a number of students who are associated with each other and have not complied with University requirements for registration as an organization.
6. STUDENT IN GOOD STANDING means a student who is in good academic standing AND who is not presently under any University disciplinary sanctions.

7. STUDENT ORGANIZATION means a number of students who have complied with University requirements for registration and/or recognition.

8. UNIVERSITY PREMISES includes all land, buildings, facilities, and other property in the possession of or owned, used, or controlled by the University.

9. UNIVERSITY SPONSORED ACTIVITY means any activity on or off campus, which is initiated, aided, authorized or supervised by the University.

Section V: Violations

The following behavior is subject to disciplinary action under this Code. An individual, a group of individuals or a student organization may be charged with any of the violations. In cases where a violation is committed by an individual member of a student organization, the entire organization may be held responsible, in addition to the individual member, when those members not directly involved participate in the activity by encouraging, witnessing or condoning the act in any manner.

A. Academic Dishonesty

Engaging in academic dishonesty in any form with respect to examinations, course assignments, research projects, grades, and/or academic records, including, but not limited to the following:

1. Cheating - using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or aids in any academic assignment. Examples of cheating are: looking on someone else’s paper; using any kind of “cheat” sheet or other enhancement during a test; allowing someone else to take an exam in your place; submitting the same work more than once for credit; using someone else’s homework or lab assignments; collaborating with another student on any assignment or take-home test if told that collaboration was not allowed; assisting another student in committing an act of academic dishonesty by allowing another student to copy homework or an exam; taking an exam for someone else; or giving test information to students in other sections of the same class.

2. Falsification - intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic assignment. Examples of falsification are: making up data on an assignment; making up a source to cite in a paper; altering then resubmitting returned academic work; giving false information to a faculty or staff member to increase one’s grade; or attempting to change, actually changing, altering grades or any other unauthorized tampering with grades.

3. Plagiarism - deliberate and knowing use of someone else’s work or ideas as one’s own. Examples of plagiarism are: quoting a source verbatim, or paraphrasing text from a given source, without properly citing the source; turning in a research paper that was written by someone else; or in any other way passing off someone else’s work as one’s own; or failing to give credit for ideas or materials taken from someone else.

B. Alcohol Violations

1. Possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons under the legal drinking age as defined by Michigan law.

2. Dispensing, selling or supplying alcoholic beverages to a person under the legal drinking age as defined by Michigan law.

3. Possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in violation of federal, state and local laws.

NOTES:
1. Transportation in sealed containers to and from an authorized area or place is permissible if the person in possession is of legal age to possess alcoholic beverages as allowed by Michigan law.

2. Use of alcohol and controlled substances by Greek Organizations is covered under Student Conduct Code Section XI: Special Provisions Governing the University Recognition and Conduct of Greek Letter Social Organizations.” Those provisions should be used to address alcohol violations committed by a Greek organization.

C. Computer Misuse
1. Unauthorized access, entry or use of a computer, computer system, network, software, password, account or data.
2. Unauthorized alteration or tampering with computer equipment, software, network, or data.
3. Unauthorized copying or distribution of computer software or data.
4. Use of computing facilities or equipment to send obscene, harassing or abusive messages.
5. Use of computers to falsify records, tamper with records or commit any act of academic dishonesty.
6. Any other act in violation of law and/or University policies and guidelines regulating computer-related use.

D. Discrimination by Student Organizations

Selecting its membership upon the basis of restrictive clauses involving race, religion, color, national origin, gender, age, sexual orientation or disability unless any given student organization’s membership restriction is shown to be specifically allowed by law.

E. Disruptive Conduct

1. Actions that impair, interfere with, or obstruct the normal operations of the University and/or interfere with the rights of other members of the University community or visitors. This includes intentional occupation of or blocking the exit or entry of University facilities, including but not limited to buildings, classrooms, offices, hallways, entryways, conference rooms and campus grounds.
2. Actions that impair, interfere with, or obstruct the orderly conduct, processes and functions within any classroom or other instructional setting. This includes interfering with a faculty member’s or instructor’s role to carry out the normal academic or educational functions of his/her class.
3. Participating in, leading or inciting others to disrupt scheduled and/or normal campus activities, events and programs.
4. Intentional obstruction of the free flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic on University premises or at University sponsored or supervised functions.
5. Disturbance of any member of the University community or visitor.
6. Solicitation on campus without prior approval from appropriate University officials. This includes, but is not limited to, the disbursement of any forms of promotional/informational material on University property or on items (e.g. motor vehicles) on University property, requests for donations, or the selling or vending of any merchandise or services.

F. Drugs

1. Possession or use of narcotics, prescription drugs or other controlled substances in violation of local, state or federal drug or narcotic laws.
2. Distribution, delivery or sale of narcotics, prescription drugs or other controlled substances in violation of local, state or federal drug or narcotic laws.
3. Possession or use of drug paraphernalia.

G. Failure to Comply

1. Failure to comply with a lawful order of a University official, including a campus police officer, in the performance of his/her duty.
2. Failure to comply with the sanctions rendered during the student judicial process.
3. Failure to comply with a request to be interviewed by a University judicial officer during the investigation of a conduct code violation. (Students may choose not to appear and present testimony at a student judicial proceeding after meeting with the judicial officer.)

H. Falsification/Fraud/False Testimony
1. Furnishing false information to the University, including false reporting of emergencies, knowingly making false accusations or giving false testimony during the disciplinary process.
2. Misuse, reproduction, alteration or forgery of any University related documents, records, identification, keys, access codes or property.
3. Providing a worthless check or money order in payment to the University or to a member of the University community.

I. Fire and Safety

1. Damage to, removal of or tampering with any fire safety systems, firefighting equipment or other emergency warning equipment.
2. Intentional or reckless burning or setting fire to any building or piece of property owned or controlled by the University.

J. Gambling

Gambling or participation in games of chance on campus for money or other things of value except as provided by law.

K. Guests

Students are responsible for informing their guests about campus regulations and may be held accountable for the behavior of their guests.

L. Harassment/Stalking

1. Conduct (not of a sexual nature) that creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive campus, educational or work environment for another person or group.
2. Conduct (not of a sexual nature) that threatens, intimidates, humiliates, or otherwise harms another person or group.
3. Stalking, defined as following or otherwise contacting, via any means, another person repeatedly for no legitimate purpose, so as to put that person in fear for his/her life or personal safety, or to cause that person substantial emotional distress. Stalking includes:
   a. Repeatedly following or harassing another person.
   b. Contacting a person after being asked or ordered not to contact the person.
   c. Violating any provision of the Michigan Stalking Law.

M. Hazing

1. Any action or activity, committed by either active members, associate members or pledges of an organization, which inflicts or intends to cause physical or mental harm or anxieties, or which may demean, degrade, or disgrace any person, regardless of location, intent or consent of participants. Hazing includes, but is not limited to:
   a. Interference with a student’s academic or work performance.
   b. Forced consumption of any food, alcohol, other drugs, or any other substance.
   c. Forced physical activity.
   d. Deprivation of food or sleep.
   e. Physical acts such as branding and paddling.
   f. Requiring participation in any activity that violates University policies or any local, state or federal law.
   g. Other violations as outlined in the Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council or National Pan-Hellenic Council Constitutions.
2. Any action or situation which intentionally or unintentionally endangers a student who is attempting admission into or affiliation with any student organization.

NOTES:
1. In cases where the activity is performed by an individual member of a student organization, the total organization may be held responsible, when those members not directly involved participate in said activity by encouraging, witnessing, or condoning the act in any manner.
2. Any individual and/or organization found guilty of hazing will be subject to a minimum penalty of suspension.

N. Physical Abuse and Endangerment

1. Physical violence or attempted physical violence toward another person or group.
2. Threat of physical violence against another person or group.
3. Any action that endangers the health, safety or welfare of a person or group.
4. Attempt to harm, or actual harm to, oneself.

O. Property/Facilities/Services

1. Theft of University property or property of a member of the University or visitor.
2. Damage, destruction, or defacement of University property or property of a member of the University or visitor, including littering.
3. Wrongful appropriation of University property or property of a member of the University or visitor.
4. Public posting, selling of, or in any other way, distribution of notes of class lectures, course handouts and outlines, and/or any other University-supplied materials without the express written permission of the instructor.
5. Unauthorized possession and/or use of University property or property of a member of the University or visitor, including knowingly being in possession of stolen goods. This includes unauthorized use of vehicles, equipment, services, the University name and logo.
6. Unauthorized entry into University facilities, including but not limited to buildings, classrooms, hallways, entryways, conference rooms, and campus grounds.
7. Bringing animals and/or pets into University buildings, except where properly authorized. Use or operation of rollerblades, skates, skateboards, bicycles, and similar items inside University facilities, unless expressly permitted.
8. Violation of any policy or guidelines pertaining to specific usage of a University facility.

P. Sexual Misconduct/Sexual Harassment

1. Any sexual act that occurs without the consent of the other person or occurs when the other person is unable to give consent.
2. Conduct of a sexual nature that creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive campus, or educational or working environment, for another person. This includes unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors, inappropriate sexual or gender-based activities, comments or gestures, or other forms of verbal or physical conduct or communications constituting sexual harassment.
3. Obscene or indecent behavior, which includes, but is not limited to, indecent exposure or the display of sexual behavior that would reasonably be offensive to others.

Q. Weapons/Firearms/Explosives

1. Possession, storage or use of firearms and other weapons, including non-lethal weapons such as pellet guns and paintball guns.
2. Possession, storage or use of firecrackers, gunpowder, ammunition, explosives or incendiary devices, or other articles or substances which could endanger health or safety.

R. Other Violations
1. Violation of any other published or posted University regulations not specifically mentioned in this Section, including, but not limited to, the EMU Policy Manual(s); EMU’S Alcohol and Other Drug Policy; Residence Hall Contract and the Guide to Campus Living; Campus Life Council regulations and guidelines for organizations; Student Government monetary allocation guidelines; EMU published undergraduate and graduate catalogs; EMU’S Athletics Alcohol and Other Drug Education and Testing Policy; and ORD Research Guidelines.

2. Aiding and abetting another in any violation of laws and/or University policies.

3. Attempt or intent to commit any violation outlined in the Student Conduct Code.

4. Off-Campus Conduct as described in the Student Conduct Code, Section III: Jurisdiction.

Section VI: Sanctions for Misconduct

The purpose of University discipline is to be corrective and educational as well as punitive. The disciplinary experience is intended to make clear to students the limits of acceptable behavior and to give students who violate the rules an opportunity to more fully understand the rules and incorporate the experience into their overall development. Assigned discipline may include a combination of sanctions for a particular incident. The sanctions which may be incurred include, but are not limited to, the following:

A. Sanctions for Students and/or Student Groups

1. Verbal Warning: notice that continuation or repetition of prohibited conduct may be cause for additional disciplinary action.

2. Formal Reprimand: an official written statement of the University's disapproval of a student's actions and a warning that any future violation(s) will be dealt with more severely.

3. Disciplinary Probation: an official notice that the student's conduct is in violation of the Student Conduct Code but does not warrant suspension or permanent dismissal. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student commits another conduct code violation during the probationary period. During the Probation period, a student will be considered "not in good standing" and may be excluded from some programs and curricular or extracurricular activities, including running for and/or holding office in any student organization.

4. Suspension: an involuntary separation of the student from the University for a definite period of time and/or until certain conditions for readmission are met. The student is not guaranteed readmission at the end of such period of time, but is guaranteed a review of the case and a decision regarding eligibility for readmission. (Suspension requires administrative review and approval by the President or his/her designee.)

5. Deferred Suspension: the sanction of suspension may be placed in deferred status provided that the student completes other assigned sanctions by the specified deadline dates. Failure to complete all sanctions and provide proof of completion by the deadline date(s) will result in the automatic enactment of the suspension without charges or hearing. If a student is found responsible for another violation of the Student Conduct Code during the period of deferred suspension, the student may be permanently dismissed from the University.

6. Permanent Dismissal: an involuntary permanent separation from the University. (Permanent dismissal requires administrative review and approval by the President or his/her designee.)

7. Delay and/or Denial of Degree Award: during the period disciplinary charges are pending against a student, the University may deny and/or delay issuance of a degree. Further, the University may refuse to issue a degree to a student who is serving a suspension or has been permanently dismissed from the University.

8. Revocation of Degree: an awarded degree may be revoked for violations of the Student Conduct Code, which occur prior to the award of the degree but are discovered after the degree has been awarded, where the violation is sufficient to justify the suspension or permanent dismissal of the student. (Revocation of a degree requires administrative review and approval by the President or his/her designee.)

9. Other secondary sanctions may be imposed instead of or in addition to those specified above. Secondary sanctions include, but are not limited to:
   a. Restitution (compensation for loss, damage or injury)
   b. Fines (for alcohol or drug violations) First Offense = $100; Second Offense = $200; Third Offense = $300
   c. Community Service
   d. Educational Activities such as a reflective writing assignment or attendance at an event directly related to the violation committed. (e.g., alcohol/drug workshop; diversity awareness training)
B. Sanctions for Student Organizations

1. Verbal Warning: notice that continuation or repetition of prohibited conduct may be cause for additional disciplinary action.
2. Formal Reprimand: an official written statement of the University's disapproval of a student organization's actions and a warning that any future violation(s) will be dealt with more severely.
3. Disciplinary Probation: an official notice that the student organization's conduct is in violation of the Student Conduct Code but does not warrant suspension of or permanent termination of the organization's University status. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student organization commits another conduct code violation during the probationary period. During the Probationary period, a student organization may also be excluded from campus activities, forfeit student monetary allocations and lose Campus Life status.
4. Suspension: an involuntary withdrawal of student organization status from the University for a definite period of time and/or until certain conditions for renewal of recognition are met. During this time, the University will not in any way recognize nor support the continued operation of said student organization. The student organization must reapply to the University for renewed recognition following any period of suspension. The suspension shall be reported to said organization's national office, if applicable. (Suspension requires administrative review and approval by the President or his/her official designee.)
5. Deferred Suspension: the sanction of suspension may be placed in deferred status provided that the student organization completes other assigned sanctions by the specified deadline dates. Failure to complete all sanctions and provide proof of completion by the deadline date(s) will result in the automatic enactment of the suspension without charges or hearing. If a student organization is found responsible for another violation of the Student Conduct Code during the period of deferred suspension, the student organization may have its University status permanently terminated.
6. Permanent Termination of University Status: an involuntary permanent withdrawal of student organization status from the University. The University will not in any way recognize nor support the continued operation of said student organization. The permanent termination shall be reported to said organization's national office, if applicable. (Permanent termination requires administrative review and approval by the President or his/her official designee.)
7. Other secondary sanctions may be imposed instead of or in addition to those specified above. Secondary sanctions include, but are not limited to:
   a. Restitution (compensation for loss, damage or injury)
   b. Fines (for alcohol or drug violations) First Offense = $300; Second Offense = $400; Third Offense = $500
   c. Community Service
   d. Educational Activities such as a reflective writing assignment or attendance at an event directly related to the violation committed. (e.g., alcohol/drug workshop, diversity awareness training)
   e. Restrictions (temporary or permanent loss of privileges or the use of a University facility or service)

C. Enhanced Sanctions

Any violation of the Student Conduct Code against any individual, group or student organization which is shown to be motivated by the individual's, group's or student organization's racial identity, religion or religious beliefs, disability, national origin, gender, sexual orientation or other personal characteristic will subject a student/student organization to a more severe sanction than would ordinarily accompany that violation.

D. Counseling Assessments and Counseling

In addition to any sanctions assigned, a student may also be required to undergo a counseling assessment and/or participate in counseling. Issuance of sanctions may be postponed pending the results of the counseling assessment.

Section VII: Organization of the University Judicial System
A. University Judicial Board

1. Composition - The University Judicial Board will consist of five enrolled students and two alternates; two full-time faculty members and one alternate; and two full-time members of the University community and one alternate. A student member must be a student in good standing in order to be selected for and remain on the University Judicial Board.

2. Selection of Board Members - In consultation with the Director of Student Judicial Services, student members will be appointed by the Student Government; faculty members will be selected by Faculty Council; and the full-time members from the University community will be selected by the President or his/her designee.

3. Terms of Office - Board members will be appointed for a two-year term. They may be reappointed by the person or body who appointed them. A Chief Justice will be elected by a majority vote of all of the University Judicial Board members.

4. Removal from Office - A board member may be removed from the board for poor attendance by a simple majority vote of the total University Judicial Board.

5. Jurisdiction - The University Judicial Board will serve as the panel to hear the case of any student(s)/student organization seeking resolution of the case through the formal hearing process.

6. Procedural Considerations
   - Selection of the University Judicial Board members for any given case depends on the availability of the members at the time scheduled for the hearing.
   - A quorum for a given hearing will exist with the presence of any five members. During vacation periods or summer session, the University Judicial Board has the authority to convene a disciplinary hearing with only three justices, provided that at least one of those justices is a student.
   - The Chief Justice will exercise control over the proceedings.

B. Judicial Appeals Board

1. Composition - The Judicial Appeals Board will consist of two enrolled students; two full-time faculty members; and two full-time members of the University community. A student member must be a student in good standing in order to be selected for and remain on the Judicial Appeals Board.

2. Selection of Board Members - In consultation with the Director of Student Judicial Services, student members will be appointed by the Student Government; faculty members will be selected by Faculty Council; and the full-time members from the University community will be selected by the President or his/her designee.

3. Terms of Office - Board members will be appointed for a three-year term. They may be reappointed by the person or body who appointed them. A Chief Justice will be elected by a majority vote of all of the Judicial Appeals Board members.

4. Removal from Office - A board member who is consistently unavailable for appellate reviews may be removed from the board by a simple majority vote of the total Judicial Appeals Board.

5. Jurisdiction - The Judicial Appeals Board will serve as the panel to review decisions rendered by the University Judicial Board during the formal hearing process. Both the charged party and the University will have the right to appeal a University Judicial Board decision.

6. Procedural Considerations
   - Selection of the Judicial Appeals Board members for any given case depends on the availability of the members at the time scheduled for the appeal.
   - A quorum will exist with the presence of the Chief Justice and any two other Judicial Appeals Board members, except that any three Judicial Appeals Board members may hear the appeal if the Chief Justice cannot be available within a reasonable time, not to exceed 14 work days from the date of receipt of the written appeal.

Section VIII: Rights of Charged Student(s)/Student Organizations in Disciplinary Proceedings
The following rights apply to a student conduct proceeding that has reached the level of a formal hearing, except that Rights One through Four apply also to any investigative meeting held with Student Judicial Services and to the Informal Disposition Conference. Student(s)/student organizations will have the right to:

1. Remain silent and not have that silence used against them.
2. Have a voluntary adviser present who may participate in the proceedings. The adviser must be a member of the University community, and if the adviser is another EMU student, she/he must be a student in good standing.
3. Engage an attorney, at the student/student organization's own expense, only when criminal prosecution is pending on charges stemming from the same incident. The attorney may appear at the proceedings with the student(s) to provide advice, but may not represent the student(s)/student organization, directly question or cross-examine witnesses, or, in any other way, participate in the proceedings.
4. Be given a written statement of the charges against them, in accordance with the provisions of Section IX.B. of the Student Conduct Code.
5. Adequate notice of dates set for all hearings, and related conferences and meetings.
6. Reasonable review of the disciplinary case file maintained by Student Judicial Services prior to a formal hearing and/or appeal.
7. Question and cross-examine the complainant and all witnesses.
8. Present witnesses and submit any pertinent, supportive documentation. The hearing board, by a 2/3 vote of members present at the hearing, may limit the number of witnesses in order to avoid dilatory tactics.
9. An open or closed hearing. A hearing will be considered open if no person is excluded until the room's capacity has been reached except that a person may be removed if his/her behavior is disruptive to the hearing process. A closed hearing will include only the charged student(s)/student organization, Student Judicial Services official(s), witnesses and members of the particular judicial board hearing the case.
10. Challenge a judicial board member on the grounds of bias, conflict of interest or any other factor that could preclude the board member from rendering an impartial and fair decision. The board member may be disqualified upon majority vote of the remaining members of the board present at the hearing, conducted by secret ballot. If the board votes to exclude the challenged board member from that particular hearing, the hearing will continue with the remaining board members present, even if the number of board members remaining is less than the number required by the Student Conduct Code to reach a quorum for that hearing.
11. A written statement of the outcome of the proceeding, and a description of the appeal procedure.
12. Make a taped recording of the proceeding at their own expense.
13. Appeal the decision of the University Judicial Board, subject to the provisions of the Student Conduct Code, Section IX.E: Appeal of Formal Hearing Results.

Section IX: University Disciplinary Procedures

A. Reporting

Any member of the University community may initiate a complaint against a student or student organization for an alleged violation of the Student Conduct Code through the Student Judicial Services office. A complainant shall submit the complaint to the Student Judicial Services office within a reasonable amount of time from the date he/she becomes aware of the alleged violation. For purposes of this Code, an incident report generated by the Department of Public Safety or an incident report generated by University Housing will be considered a complaint to be reviewed by Student Judicial Services for possible Student Conduct Code violations.

B. Charges and Notice

1. Student Judicial Services will investigate each complaint, and if the circumstances surrounding the complaint indicate that a violation of the Student Conduct Code may have occurred, disciplinary charges may be issued. The student(s)/student organization will be notified of the charges in writing. Notice of the charges will be considered adequate if it is sent to the student(s)/student organization's last known address registered with the University or to the address given by a student on either an EMU Department of Public Safety's Incident Report or on a Housing Incident Report.

2. Proper written notice to a student/student organization will include the following:
   a. Recitation of facts surrounding the incident, in as sufficient detail as possible as to date, time, and location;
   b. Statement of the specific Conduct Code provision(s) violated;
   c. Any penalty assigned or other action taken;
   d. Amount of time the student(s)/student organization has to respond to the notice;
   e. Ramifications of not responding to the notice within the time limit; and
   f. Copy of "Rights of Charged Students/Student Organizations in Disciplinary Proceedings."

3. Student Judicial Services may place a judicial hold on a student's academic record, and/or may go forward with disciplinary action against a student/student organization in either of the following situations:
   a. The student or student organization fails to respond to a charge letter sent by Student Judicial Services within the applicable time limit.
   b. The student withdraws from the University after allegedly committing a violation, whether or not Student Judicial Services has yet had the opportunity to charge the student with a Conduct Code violation.
   c. The student/student organization fails to appear at the scheduled formal hearing or appeal hearing.

C. Disposition of Cases

1. A disciplinary case may be handled in one of the following two formats:
   a. Informal Disposition Conference - The student(s)/student organization representative and a Student Judicial Services judicial officer will meet informally to discuss the alleged violation(s). If the substantive facts and sanction(s) can be agreed upon by the judicial officer and the charged student(s), a disciplinary action agreement will be prepared and signed by both sides. A signed disciplinary action agreement will constitute a waiver of the right to a formal hearing and any appeal, and an acceptance of the findings(s) and sanction(s). The President or his/her designee must approve any suspension, permanent dismissal or permanent termination of a student/student organization's University status.
   b. Formal Hearing - If, during the informal disposition conference, the student(s)/student organization disputes the findings by Student Judicial Services that a violation has occurred or if an appropriate sanction(s) cannot be agreed upon, the case will be referred to the University Judicial Board for a formal hearing.

D. Procedures for Formal Hearings

1. Notice of Hearing - After the formal hearing is scheduled, Student Judicial Services will notify the student(s)/student organization involved of the date, time and place of the hearing and of the pre-conference.

   2. Pre-conference - At least two days prior to the formal hearing, a pre-hearing conference will be scheduled by Student Judicial Services for any charged student(s)/student organization. The two day requirement may be modified by mutual consent of the charged student(s)/student organization and Student Judicial Services. The conference will include the presiding officer of the University Judicial Board or a designee, the Director of Student Judicial Services or a designee, any individual designated to represent the University, and the charged student(s)/student organization and their adviser.

   The purpose of the prehearing conference will be to identify those issues and facts which will be presented at the hearing, to exchange information as to witnesses likely to be called, to answer procedural questions, and to settle those matters which may be agreeably concluded. The conference will not be used to settle the issue of whether or not the violation was committed or to challenge any recommended sanctions. Failure of the charged student(s)/student organization or the adviser to appear will in no way affect any of their procedural rights and will not prohibit a hearing from being set and being held.

   3. Formal Hearing Premises - The following premises will govern any formal hearing:
      a. The focus of inquiry in a University hearing will be the determination of whether a violation of University rules occurred, and such decision will be totally unrelated to any criminal or civil decisions against the student(s)/student organization arising from the same incident.
b. Formal rules of evidence will not apply to University proceedings, nor will deviations from these prescribed procedures necessarily invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to the charged student(s)/student organization or the University may result.

c. The charged student(s)/student organization will be presumed to have not violated the Student Conduct Code until it is proven otherwise.

d. The burden of proof during a formal hearing will rest with the University. The University must prove its case by a preponderance of the evidence, meaning that the evidence, considered in its entirety, indicates that, more likely than not, the charged student(s)/student organization committed the violation(s).

e. The Student Judicial Services officer may recommend a sanction to the University Judicial Board during the formal hearing, but the University Judicial Board will have the authority to reject the recommendation and issue any sanction(s) deemed appropriate.

f. All formal hearings will be tape-recorded. Tapes will remain the property of the University and will serve as the official record of the proceedings.

4. Disposition of the Case

a. University Judicial Board decisions as to culpability of the charged student(s)/student organization and sanctions to be issued will be made by a simple majority of the University Judicial Board members present at the hearing. After hearing the case, board members will go into closed session to reach a decision.

b. Decisions of the University Judicial Board will be in writing. The decision will state what rule was violated, the behavior constituting the violation, and any sanctions issued. Within two working days, the written decision will be submitted to the Director of Student Judicial Services. If the recommended sanction is not a suspension, permanent dismissal of the student or permanent termination of University status, the Director of Student Judicial Services will mail the decision to the student(s)/student organization within two working days after being submitted to that office by the University Judicial Board.

c. If the recommended sanction is either a suspension, permanent dismissal or permanent termination of University Status, the Director of Student Judicial Services will submit the decision to the President or his/her designee for review. The President or his/her designee will either accept or reject the University Judicial Board's decision to suspend, permanently dismiss the student, or permanently terminate the University status of a student organization. If the decision is rejected, the President or his/her designee will provide to Student Judicial Services a written rationale for the rejection of the University Judicial Board's sanction. A rejection of the University Judicial Board's sanction will constitute an automatic appeal to the Judicial Appeals Board.

d. The President or his/her designee will have five working days after submission of the University Judicial Board's decision to take action. If no action is taken during that time, the University Judicial Board's decision will be considered approved.

e. Student Judicial Services will mail the written decision to the student(s)/student organization within one working day following any presidential action. If the five working days lapse without the President or his/her designee taking action, Student Judicial Services will mail the University Judicial Board's written decision to the student(s)/student organization on the sixth working day following the submission of the decision to the President or his/her designee for review.

E. Appeal of Formal Hearing Results

1. Right to Appeal - Student(s)/student organizations or the University (represented by Student Judicial Services) may request that the University's Judicial Appeals Board review the decision rendered at the conclusion of the formal hearing process. Student(s)/student organization(s) may challenge the finding of the University Judicial Board that a violation occurred and/or the sanction(s) assigned. Conversely, the University may challenge the finding of the Board that no violation occurred or that the sanction(s) issued were not severe enough for the violation committed.

2. Appeal Process for Student(s)/Student Organizations - The following steps should be followed by student(s)/student organizations in order to file an appeal:

a. A written request for an appeal must be submitted to Student Judicial Services within seven working days from the date of the written decision from the formal hearing. The appeal will be immediately forwarded to the Judicial Appeals Board for consideration. Unless extenuating circumstances can be shown, failure to appeal within the allotted time will render the University Judicial Board's decision final.
b. The written request for an appeal must state the grounds for appeal (citing the appropriate grounds from the "Grounds for Appeal" list below); a discussion of the evidence and facts in support of the appeal; and a recommended solution.

c. The request for an appeal must be typed and should include any supporting documentation that should be considered by the Judicial Appeals Board.

d. Grounds for Appeal - The following will be considered the only grounds for an appeal:
   1. There were procedural errors in the case or in the interpretation of University rules and regulations serious enough to deny the student(s)/student organization a fair hearing.
   2. There is new evidence of a substantive nature not previously available at the time of the hearing, which would have materially affected the decision.
   3. The severity of the sanction is disproportionate to the violation(s) committed.
   4. The decision of the Board was not supported by the evidence presented at the hearing.

3. Appeal Process for the University - The following steps should be followed by the University in order to file an appeal:
   a. A written request for an appeal must be submitted by Student Judicial Services to the Judicial Appeals Board within seven working days from the date of the written decision from the formal hearing. A copy of the appeal will also be made available to the student(s)/student organization. Unless extenuating circumstances can be shown, failure to appeal within the allotted time will render the University Judicial Board's decision final and conclusive.
   b. The written request for an appeal must state the grounds for appeal (citing the appropriate grounds from the "Grounds for Appeal" list below); a discussion of the evidence and facts in support of the appeal; and a recommended solution.
   c. The request for an appeal must be typed and should include any supporting documentation that should be considered by the Judicial Appeals Board.
   d. Grounds for Appeal - The following will be considered the only grounds for an appeal:
      1. There were procedural errors in the case or in the interpretation of University rules and regulations serious enough to affect the University's chance of proving its case.
      2. The sanction is too lenient given the violation(s) committed.
      3. There is new evidence of a substantive nature not previously available at the time of the hearing, which would have materially affected the decision.
      4. The decision of the Board was not supported by the evidence presented at the hearing.

4. Scheduling an Appeal
   a. The Judicial Appeals Board will convene an appeal hearing as soon as possible after receiving the written appeal. A quorum will exist with the presence of the Chief Justice and any two other board members, except that any three board members may handle the appeal if the Chief Justice cannot be available within a reasonable time, not to exceed 14 calendar days from the receipt of the written appeal.
   b. After the appeal is scheduled, Student Judicial Services will notify the student(s)/student organization involved of the date, time and place of the hearing.

5. Appeal Hearing Premises - The following premises will govern any appeal hearing:
   a. Deviations from these prescribed procedures will not necessarily invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to the charged student(s)/student organization or the University may result.
   b. On appeal, the burden of proof rests with the appellant to clearly exhibit that one of the four grounds for an appeal has been met; this is not a rehearing of the entire case.
   c. All appeal hearings will be tape-recorded. Tapes will remain the property of the University and will serve as the official record of the proceedings.
   d. Any sanction(s) issued by the University Judicial Board will not take effect until the appeal process is completed.

6. Disposition of the Appeal
   a. Prior to the appeal hearing, the Judicial Appeals Board will meet in closed session to review the written decision of the University Judicial Board, the written appeal, any supporting documentation provided by the Appellant, and the tape recording of the formal hearing.
   b. After reviewing the case materials, the Judicial Appeals Board will convene the Appeal Hearing and call in both parties to the appeal. The student(s)/student organization may bring an adviser to the Hearing who may speak on their behalf. The adviser must be a member of the University community, and if the adviser is a student, he/she must a student in good standing.
c. The party who filed the appeal will be allowed 15 minutes to present his/her case to the Judicial Appeals Board. The Board members may then ask questions of the appellant. The opposing side will then be given 15 minutes to present its counter-arguments, after which the Board members can ask questions of that party.

d. The Judicial Appeals Board will again go into closed session to reach a decision in the case, then reconvene the Hearing and read its decision. The decision will be made by a simple majority of the Judicial Appeals Board members present at the hearing.

e. The Judicial Appeals Board may take one of the following actions:
   1. Uphold the decision of the University Judicial Board in its entirety.
   2. Alter the sanctions imposed by the University Judicial Board except that the Board cannot increase the severity of the sanctions if the appeal was filed by the student(s)/student organizations.
   3. Send the case back to the University Judicial Board for a new hearing only if there were errors in procedures or interpretation of University rules and regulations or there is new evidence in the case. A decision issued by the University Judicial Board in a case sent back to it by the University Appeals Board may not be appealed again and will be the final decision, pending approval by the President or his designee in accordance with sub-section F below.
   4. Dismiss the case against the student(s)/student organization.

f. In cases where the Judicial Appeals Board, or the University Judicial Board upon a rehearing of the case, issues a suspension, permanent dismissal of the student or permanent termination of University status of a student organization, the decision will be sent to the President or his/her designee for review. The President or his/her designee will have five working days after submission of the decision to either affirm or alter the decision. This decision will be final. If no action is taken during that time, the appellate decision, or the decision from a re-hearing, will be considered approved.

g. Student Judicial Services will mail the written decision to the student(s)/student organization within one working day following any presidential action. If the five working days lapse without the President or his/her designee taking action, Student Judicial Services will mail the written decision to the student(s)/student organization on the sixth working day following the submission of the decision to the President or his/her designee for review.

Section X: Special Disciplinary Provisions Governing Acts of Academic Dishonesty

A. Academic dishonesty is both an academic matter between a student and his/her faculty member and a violation under the Student Conduct Code subject to University disciplinary action. An act of academic dishonesty may and should be handled by the faculty member, the student, and, if appropriate, the faculty member's department head and/or the dean over that particular academic department. Sanctions that can be assigned by a faculty member range from giving a reduced grade on the particular work in question to failing the student for the entire course. In addition, some academic departments and programs have their own policies for dealing with academic dishonesty and/or violations of Professional Codes of Ethics which allow the department or program to impose sanctions ranging from probation to program dismissal. A sanction assigned by a faculty member and/or an academic department or program is an academic, not a disciplinary, sanction.

B. If the matter is resolved satisfactorily between the student and the faculty member, and the faculty member decides not to refer the student for University disciplinary action, the faculty member may still report the incident to Student Judicial Services. Student Judicial Services will maintain a record of the reported incident and may elect to pursue University disciplinary action against a student who is reported to that office for a subsequent act of academic dishonesty.

C. If the faculty member decides that a stronger sanction is needed instead of or in addition to any academic sanctions assigned by that faculty member, the incident may be referred to Student Judicial Services for review and possible University disciplinary action. Once the referral is made to Student Judicial Services, the incident will be handled in the same manner as would any other allegation under the Student Conduct Code.

D. In cases where the student denies the allegation of academic dishonesty, the faculty member may elect to postpone assigning any academic sanctions until after the student has gone through the University disciplinary process. If, at the end of that process, the charge of academic dishonesty is upheld, the faculty member may then assign an academic sanction. The academic sanction is independent of any disciplinary actions taken against the student by the University.
E. Academic sanctions assigned by the faculty member in agreement with the student or assigned by the faculty member after the charge of academic dishonesty has been validated through the University disciplinary system cannot be grieved under the University's Grade Grievance Procedure.

Section XI: Special Provisions Governing the University Recognition and Conduct of Greek Letter Social Organizations

A. Because of the importance of the Greek social system and because of the unique circumstances under which it operates, the following conditions have been established between the University and the Greek social organizations. These provisions set out the requirements for maintaining University recognition and good standing and delineate specific violations that may be handled through the Greek system's own judicial process rather than under the University's Student Conduct Code.

B. The University reserves the right to retain jurisdiction over cases in which the conduct violates both these provisions and the University's Student Conduct Code and the University determines that the misconduct is of such severe nature as to impair, obstruct, interfere with or adversely affect the mission, processes or functions of the University.

C. The University may take action against an individual member of a student organization for misconduct that is a violation both of this provision and of the Student Conduct Code, regardless of any separate disciplinary action taken against the student organization.

D. This section of the Student Conduct Code applies only to the relationship between the University and the Greek social organizations and has no bearing on relations between chapters and national and/or alumni agreements.

E. Good standing must be maintained in order for Greek social organizations to participate in Greek-sponsored activities. Failure to do any of the following will constitute a violation of these provisions of the Student Conduct Code and will subject the Greek social organization to disciplinary action, including possible loss of good standing, as described within these provisions under subsections F and G:

1. Registering annually as a recognized student organization with the Office of Campus Life;
2. Participating in the appropriate Greek governing bodies (Greek Council and either Black Greek Council, Interfraternity Council or Panhellenic Council);
3. Submitting roster and grade release forms for active members and pledges/associates during the first month of the semester;
4. Following all rules and guidelines for Greek Rush; and
5. Abiding by all terms and conditions of the alcohol and controlled substance guidelines below:
   a. The possession, use and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages while on chapter premises during an official event or in any situation sponsored or endorsed by the chapter or organization must be in compliance with any and all applicable laws and University rules and policies.
   b. No chapter or organization members, collectively or individually, shall purchase for, serve to, or sell alcoholic beverages to anyone under the legal drinking age.
   c. The possession, sale, and/or use of any illegal or controlled substance at any chapter, organization or University-sponsored event are strictly prohibited.
   d. Alcohol or controlled substances will be prohibited at any and all rush activities.
   e. Open parties where alcohol is provided by the host chapter, meaning those with unrestricted access by nonmembers of the organization without specific invitation, will be prohibited.
   f. All organizations must provide, at no charge, an alternative nonalcoholic beverage and food at any event where alcohol is provided.
   g. There will be no solicitation or encouragement of alcohol consumption by contest or promotion at any chapter event where alcoholic beverages are present.

F. Greek organizations whose members are in violation of this policy, regardless of whether the individuals are identified, will be subject to one or more of the sanctions listed in the Student Conduct Code, Section VI.B: Sanctions for Student Organizations.

G. The following process will be utilized in any incident alleging a violation of these policy provisions by a Greek social organization:

1. The incident will be referred to the respective Greek Judicial Board for hearing and original adjudication (i.e., sorority cases will be handled by the Panhellenic Council, fraternity cases will be heard by IFC, and black Greek cases will be heard by the Black Greek Council). Each Greek Council will establish its own judicial board and its own set of hearing procedures for handling the incident. The chair of the respective Greek Judicial Board will immediately inform Student Judicial Services about any incident referred to it.

2. A decision rendered by the respective Greek Judicial Board may be appealed either by the party alleging the violation or by the Greek social organization being accused of a violation. The appeal will be made to the Greek Council Judicial Board, which may accept, modify or reject any sanction issued by the Greek Judicial Board.

3. Student Judicial Services will receive written transcripts of all final judicial decisions, whether from the respective Greek Judicial Board (if there was no appeal of its decision) or from the Greek Council Judicial Board (for decisions that were appealed). Student Judicial Services will review the decision and may accept or reject the proposed sanctions.

4. In the event Student Judicial Services rejects the final decision, the Director will provide a written explanation of the rejection and a recommended alternative.

5. In the event that Student Judicial Services and the Greek board rendering the final decision cannot reach an agreement, the case will be referred to the Eastern Michigan University Judicial Appeals Board as outlined in the Eastern Michigan University Student Conduct Code. In this instance Student Judicial Services will notify the national or international headquarters of the organization involved. In the case of local organizations, the Alumni Association will be notified.

Section XII: Interim Suspensions and Other Interim Sanctions

A. For alleged violations of this Code, interim sanctions, including but not limited to interim suspension, reassignment to alternate housing, limitation of access to designated University housing facilities and/or campus facilities by time and location, and limitation of privilege to engage in specified University activities, may be imposed by the President or his/her designee. Such interim sanctions are to be utilized only when there is reason to believe that the student(s)/student organization's conduct poses a substantial threat of harm to oneself or others, threatens or endangers University property, or disrupts the stability and continuance of normal University operations and functions.

B. For interim suspensions only, a student will be denied access to the residence halls, and/or to the campus (including classes), and to all other University activities or events which the student might otherwise be eligible to participate in or attend. A student organization will lose its University student organization status and will be denied access to any University activities or events which the student organization might otherwise be eligible to participate in or attend.

C. A student/student organization will be notified of an interim sanction or interim suspension, orally, by written notice served on the student/student organization or by written notice sent to the last address on record. The interim sanctions or interim suspension take effect the day issued by the President or his/her designee.

D. A student/student organization issued an interim suspension or interim sanctions will be given an opportunity to appear before the Vice President of Student Affairs or a designee within three working days in order to discuss the following issues only:

1. the reliability of the information concerning the student/student organization's alleged misconduct.
2. whether the conduct and surrounding circumstances reasonably indicate that the continued presence of the student on University premises poses a substantial and immediate threat to himself/herself, to others, or to property.

E. The Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee may affirm or alter the interim sanctions or interim suspension based on the discussion with the student/student organization. If the decision is affirmed, the Vice President or his/her designee will inform the student/student organization of that decision at the conclusion of the discussion. Regardless of whether the interim sanctions or interim suspension is affirmed or altered, the Vice President or his/her designee will direct that a formal hearing before the University Judicial Board take place within 10 days. If the University fails to schedule the formal hearing within the 10 day period, the interim sanctions or interim suspension will cease although the original charges will not be dropped and will still be handled through the University's disciplinary process.

Section XIII: Emergency Powers of the President

A. The President, as Chief Executive Officer of the University, is charged with the maintenance of that degree of order and safety necessary to the successful continuation of the University's lawful mission, and he/she is further charged with the authority to protect the members of the University community and University property.
B. When faced with mass disruptions, activity of a violent and destructive nature, or other dangerous violations of University rules of a serious enough nature to threaten the University, the President, after consultation with and approval of the Board of Regents, may declare a "state of emergency" and do any of the following:
   1. Impose and have enforced a curfew on all or portions of the University campus.
   2. Curtail or suspend services.
   3. Close the University or portions of the University entirely for the period of emergency.
   4. Issue an emergency suspension and forbid the presence on campus of any student(s)/student organization(s) if they have been sufficiently identified to him/her as participants in activities which violated University policy and led to the conditions described above. Suspensions issued under this section of the code are effective immediately upon notice to the student(s)/student organization(s).
   5. Appoint a Special Hearing Board on an ad hoc or extraordinary basis to make a recommendation as to whether any emergency suspensions issued should be continued. The Special Hearing Board will convene and make its recommendations to the President within seven calendar days from the effective date of the emergency suspension. Regardless of the recommendation to the President as to the continuation of the emergency suspension, the President will direct Student Judicial Services to convene a formal hearing before the University Judicial Board within 10 days of the date of the Special Hearing Board's recommendation to the President in order to rule on the original charges brought against the student(s)/student organization(s).
   6. Take other actions that may be explicitly stated in or implied by any laws governing the authority of the University and/or the President in emergency situations.

C. Note: Due to the unique circumstances and severe conditions that would lead the President to exercise any of his/her emergency powers, an emergency suspension issued under this section of the Code is to be considered different from an interim suspension issued under the conditions stated in Section XIII. The issuance and review of an emergency suspension will be handled in accordance with the procedures outlined above in subsections 4 and 5.

D. The Board of Regents, regardless of granting any emergency powers to the President, in no way restricts its own powers and prerogative to carry out its obligations and duties as imposed by the Constitution and laws of the state of Michigan.

Section XIV: Student Disciplinary Files and Records

A. Student Judicial Services will establish a student disciplinary file whenever a case is referred for investigation of a possible Conduct Code violation. A student or student organization's file will be destroyed if the investigation indicates that no violation occurred. The file of a student/student organization found to have violated the Conduct Code will be retained for four years from the date of the sanction or until the student's graduation from the University, whichever comes first. Student conduct records may be retained longer or permanently if the student was suspended or permanently dismissed or if there is reason to believe the case could result in future litigation.

B. A notation will be made on the student's official University transcript if the student was suspended, permanently dismissed or given an "E" grade in a course as a result of academic dishonesty.

C. The release of student disciplinary records will be governed by applicable federal and state laws governing the privacy of educational records.

Section XV: Review of the Student Judicial System

A. Student Judicial Services will convene a Student Judicial System Review Committee at least every four years that will be responsible for carrying out the following tasks:
   1. Reviewing the goals and effectiveness of the University's disciplinary system;
   2. Reviewing the effectiveness of the types of sanctions issued;
   3. Recommending changes to the Student Conduct Code;
   4. Recommending changes in the judicial processes and procedures established and followed by Student Judicial Services; and
   5. Recommending training sessions and publications on topics related to the mission of Student Judicial Services to educate the campus community about student conduct and the campus judicial processes.

B. The Committee will be appointed and chaired by the Director of Student Judicial Services and will include one representative from the following areas: Ombudsman; Legal Affairs; Housing; Health Services; Counseling Services; Student Government; Faculty Council; Department of Public Safety; Chief Justice of the University Judicial Board; and Chief Justice of the Judicial Appeals Board.

Amendments to the Student Conduct Code that receive the support of the Review Committee will be forwarded, in accordance with University procedures, to the Board of Regents for approval.

University Alcohol and Other Drug Policy

The University is committed to promoting and maintaining a work and academic environment that is free from illegal alcohol and drug use and abuse, in accordance with all federal, state, and local laws. Students and employees are prohibited from reporting to work or working under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Employees may not consume, possess, distribute, or be under the influence of alcoholic beverages on University property or while on University business (except at University functions at which use of alcohol is approved). Employees, students, and campus visitors aged twenty-one (21) years or older, consuming alcohol at University functions or while on University business, where such use is approved, are expected to use alcohol responsibly and not engage in illegal, unprofessional, or disruptive behavior.

Students and campus visitors who have attained the legal drinking age of twenty-one (21) years of age may possess and consume alcoholic beverages only at approved University functions or in residence hall rooms of students who have attained the legal drinking age. Those under twenty-one (21) years of age are not permitted to consume or possess alcoholic beverages at any time.

Students, employees and visitors are prohibited from dispensing, selling or supplying alcoholic beverages to a person under the legal drinking age as defined by Michigan law.

Students, employees, and visitors are prohibited from possessing, consuming, manufacturing, dispensing, or being under the influence of illegal drugs or engaging in improper self-medication while on University property or University business.

Any member of the University community who violates this policy is subject to both prosecution and punishment under federal, state and local laws and to disciplinary proceedings by the University.

This policy is not designed to punish people for seeking rehabilitation. All information about those individuals who voluntarily avail themselves of drug or alcohol counseling or rehabilitation services will remain confidential. Seeking counseling or rehabilitation will not be used as a basis for disciplinary action or be used against an individual in any way.

University employees and students who violate this policy shall be informed about and referred to services to assist them in determining whether they are abusing drugs and alcohol or are chemically dependent. If a problem is found to exist, the individual will be referred to resources to assist him/her in overcoming the drug or alcohol abuse pattern. This referral or assessment shall not limit the University's ability to pursue appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination or expulsion, when an employee or student has violated this policy or any other University policy.

This policy shall not add to or supersede union contracts or established employee work rules.

Health Risks of Alcohol and Other Drugs

- ALCOHOL Loss of concentration and judgment, slowed reflexes; disorientation leading to higher risk of accidents and problem behavior; risk of liver and heart damage, malnutrition, cancer and other illnesses; can be highly addictive to some persons.
- AMPHETAMINES Can cause rushed, careless behavior - pushing beyond your physical capacity, leading to exhaustion; tolerance increases rapidly; causes physical and psychological dependence; withdrawal can result in depression and suicide; continued high doses can cause heart problems, infections, malnutrition, and death.
- CANNABIS Causes permanent damage to lungs, reproductive organs and brain function; slows reflexes; increases forgetfulness; alters judgment of space and distance.
- COCAINE Causes damage to respiratory and immune systems; induces malnutrition, seizures and loss of brain function. Some forms (such as "crack") are highly addictive.
- HALLUCINOGENS (PCP, LSD, Ecstasy) Causes extreme distortions of what's seen and heard; induces sudden changes in behavior, loss of concentration and memory; increases risk of birth defects in user's children; overdose can cause psychosis, convulsions, coma, and death. Frequent use can cause permanent loss of mental function.

- NARCOTICS (Heroin, morphine, opium, codeine) Tolerance increases rapidly; causes physical and psychological dependence; overdose can cause coma, convulsions, respiratory arrest, and death; leads to malnutrition, infection and hepatitis; sharing needles is a leading cause of the spread of HIV and Hepatitis; highly addictive.

- SEDATIVES Tolerance increases rapidly; produces physical and psychological dependence; causes reduced reaction time, and confusion; overdoses can cause coma, respiratory arrest, convulsions, and death; withdrawal can be dangerous; in combination with other controlled substances can quickly cause coma and death.

Sanctions for Violations of Laws & Policies:

The laws of the State of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University’s policies and rules prohibit the consumption or possession for personal consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons less than 21 years of age. Further, Michigan laws and University policies prohibit the sale, service or giving of alcoholic beverages to persons under the age of 21. Eastern Michigan University’s policies and rules, local ordinances and laws, state laws and federal laws also prohibit the unlawful possession, use and/or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

Community Sanctions:
Violations of laws and ordinances may result in misdemeanor or felony convictions accompanied by the imposition of legal sanctions which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Fines as determined under local, state or federal laws.
- Imprisonment, including up to life imprisonment, for possession of more than 650 grams or trafficking in drugs such as Heroin and Cocaine.
- Forfeiture of personal and real property.
- Denial of federal benefits such as grants, contracts, and student loans.
- Loss of driving privileges.
- Required attendance at substance abuse education or treatment programs.
- Federal laws prohibit possession, use, distribution, manufacture or dispensing.

A full description of federal sanctions for drug felonies can be found at: www.usdoj.gov/dea/agency/penalties.html

University Sanctions:
Violation of University policies and rules will be subject to campus disciplinary review and action, as follows:

Faculty and Staff:
Disciplinary action will be taken as per applicable collective bargaining agreements and University policy up to and including termination of employment.

Information about violations related to tobacco use can be found under EMU Tobacco Use policy.

Students:
Disciplinary action will be taken by Student Judicial Services under the Student Conduct Code and may include sanctions ranging from formal reprimand to permanent dismissal, in addition to counseling and/or referral to a substance abuse educational/intervention program. In certain circumstances, parents of a student under 21 years old will be notified about the drug or alcohol violation, as per Eastern Michigan University’s policy on Parental Notification. The FERPA policy can be found at www.emich.edu/registrar/ferpa.htm.

Information about violations related to tobacco use can be found under EMU Tobacco Use policy.

In addition to University-level action taken under the Student Conduct Code, other University departments maintain internal policies and rules regarding alcohol and other drugs and may impose sanctions against students and/or student groups which violate these policies. For example, University Housing, Athletics, Greeks, Study Abroad and several academic departments have policies addressing alcohol and other drugs. Any action taken under one policy does not prevent action being taken under any other policy.

Employee Reporting Requirement:

Under the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, a faculty or staff member employed under a federal grant or contract must notify the University (Human Resources, Employee Relations, 734.487.0083; or Academic Human Resources, 734.487.0076, in writing, of his or her arrest or conviction for violation of any criminal drug statute occurring in the workplace or while on University business no later than five days after such arrest or conviction.

Review of EMU’s Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Prevention Program:

The University will review its Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Prevention Program every 2 years to determine its effectiveness and implement changes to the program as needed and to ensure that the disciplinary sanctions applied by the University are consistently enforced.

EMU Policy on Notification to Parents of Drug and Alcohol Violations

1. When the University has determined that a student has committed a second disciplinary violation with respect to campus rules regarding the use or possession of drugs or alcohol, the University will disclose to parents or legal guardians such information if the student is less than 21 years of age.

2. Parents will be notified of a first disciplinary violation with respect to campus rules regarding the use or possession of drugs or alcohol if (a) the incident also involves another serious offense; or (b) if there is reason to believe that a student’s health and well-being are in jeopardy; or (c) the violation results in a sanction of either housing probation or higher or University-level probation or higher. In cases where the drug or alcohol violation also involves another serious offense, the University will only release details of the drug or alcohol violation to the parents or legal guardians.

3. At the point at which it is determined that parental notification is permitted under the provisions of this policy, the student will be given twenty-four (24) hours to make the initial contact with the parents or legal guardians prior to the University notifying the parents or legal guardians.

4. Within the twenty-four (24) hour time period that a student has to notify his/her parents or legal guardians, the student may submit documentation or a written statement indicating that there are special circumstances that make parental notification inappropriate. The University’s designee will consider the request and make a determination as to notification on a case-by-case basis.

5. Parental notification is in addition to any other sanctions issued by the University.

Tobacco Use Policy

University Policy Statement
The University is committed to promoting and maintaining a healthy work and academic environment that is as close to tobacco free as practicably possible and in accordance with all federal, state and local laws. Students, employees and visitors are prohibited from using tobacco throughout all University buildings (exception University Apartments), University vehicles and outside of buildings within 25 feet of any entrance, air intake duct and/or window.

- The use of tobacco products is prohibited in all University buildings and leased spaces. This prohibition applies to any area enclosed by the perimeter (outermost) walls of the building, including restrooms, warehouses, storage spaces, atriums, balconies, stairwells and other similar building features considered “within a building.”
- The use of tobacco products is prohibited within 25 feet of any building entrance, air intake duct and window.
- Specific outside areas for tobacco use will not be established or identified.
- The University will install ashtrays and other appropriate tobacco litter appliances beyond 25 feet from buildings.
- Individuals who use tobacco products will be responsible for their proper disposal.
- The use of tobacco products is prohibited in University vehicles. This prohibition includes passenger vehicles and all other state-owned mobile equipment, including light and heavy duty trucks, cargo and passenger vans, buses, golf carts and any other mobile equipment.
- The use of tobacco products is prohibited in outdoor areas where seating is provided.
- The use of tobacco products is prohibited on the grounds of the Children’s Institute.
- University Health Services will provide educational information and programs on tobacco use cessation.
- Vice presidents, deans, directors and department heads are responsible for informing the campus community of the tobacco use policy and overseeing day-to-day compliance. The appropriate administrative division will address violations and habitual offenders of this policy.

Sanctions for Violations of Laws & Policies

The laws of the State of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University’s policies and rules prohibit the use of tobacco in public buildings.

Community Sanctions:

- Violations of the Michigan Clean Indoor Air Act are subject to civil fines of not more than $100 for the first violation and not more than $500 for second or subsequent violations.
- Violations of the smoking prohibition at child care centers and child care institutions are subject to a stricter penalty of a fine not less than $100 and not more than $1,000.

University Sanctions:

Violation of University policies and rules will be subject to campus disciplinary review and action as follows:

Faculty and Staff:

Disciplinary action will be taken as per applicable collective bargaining agreements and University policy up to and including termination of employment for habitual repeat offenders.

Students:

Students who violate this policy are subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the provisions of the Student Conduct Code. Sanctions for violations may include verbal warning, formal reprimand, probation, suspension or dismissal.
Visitors:

Violation of University rules and regulations by visitors could result in permanent removal from EMU properties.

Health Effects of Tobacco Use

Smoking

- Cigarette smoking increases the risk for many types of cancer, including cancers of the lip, oral cavity, and pharynx; esophagus; pancreas; larynx; lung; uterine cervix; urinary bladder; and kidney.
- Cigarette smokers are 2 – 4 times more likely to develop coronary heart disease than nonsmokers.
- Cigarette smoking approximately doubles a person’s risk for stroke.
- Cigarette smoking has many adverse reproductive and early childhood effects, including an increased risk for infertility, preterm delivery, stillbirth, low birth weight, and sudden infant death syndrome.

Second-Hand Smoke

- Second-hand smoke is associated with an increased risk for lung cancer and coronary heart disease in nonsmoking adults. Second-hand smoke is a known human carcinogen (cancer-causing agent).
- Because their lungs are not fully developed, young children are particularly susceptible to second-hand smoke. Exposure is associated with an increased risk for sudden infant death syndrome, asthma, bronchitis, and pneumonia in young children.

Smokeless Tobacco

- Smokeless tobacco contains 28 cancer-causing agents (carcinogens). It increases the risk of developing cancer of the oral cavity.
- Smokeless tobacco use can lead to nicotine addiction and dependence.

Acceptable Use of Information Technology Resources

Statement of Policy

Information technology resources are provided by Eastern Michigan University (EMU) to its students, faculty and administration in support of the University's mission. These resources include, but are not limited to, technologies and information resources required for information processing, storage, and communication, whether individually controlled or shared, stand-alone or networked. This includes in-lab and classroom technologies, electronic resources, and computing and electronic communication devices and services, both wired and wireless such as, but not limited to, computers, printers, hand held devices, e-mail, instant messages, blogs, Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP), fax transmissions, voice, data, and video communication networks, multimedia, instructional materials, and academic and administrative systems. Personal equipment connected to the University network is also subject to this policy. These guidelines apply to any user of any information technology resource provided by the University and attached to the University or Merit network.

This policy outlines your responsibility in the use of these resources and is based upon the following principles:

- Electronic resources are provided for the purpose of carrying out the mission of the University.
- Your use of information resources must comply with University policies and the law.
- Your use of these resources does not cause harm to others or the electronic resources themselves.
- You are expected to use these resources ethically and responsibly.

Access

A. Ownership
Information technology resources, systems, and services are the property of EMU. These include all components of the electronic communications, physical infrastructure, and any electronic communications address, number, account, or other identifiers associated with the University.

B. ACCESS
EMU provides and maintains an EMU Access ID for each registered student, faculty, staff and affiliates (upon special approval). EMU reserves the right to withdraw the service from anyone who misuses the system.
Access to specific resources may be provided by appropriate academic departments. Third Party individuals may be provided access to EMU information technology resources through sponsorship by an appropriate University administrator.

C. USE
Those who use EMU electronic communications services are expected to do so responsibly. They must comply with state and federal laws, with this and any other University policies and procedures, and with normal standards of personal courtesy and conduct.

Expectations

As a user of information technology resources at EMU, you can expect:

A. PROTECTION OF INBOUND AND OUTBOUND E-MAIL AND ATTACHMENTS
Information Technology (IT) makes reasonable efforts to scan inbound and outbound e-mail and attachments for spam. IT also routinely scans all e-mail for anything that could be a threat to the system such as viruses and Trojans. The scanning for threats may lead to a modification of e-mail headers, non-delivery of messages containing viruses or Trojan Horses (Trojans), deleting of attachments, and blocking of messages. IT reserves the right to block e-mail that exhibits characteristics of spam, viruses, Trojans or anything else that could threaten the University’s network infrastructure or services.

B. ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS AND FILES
EMU follows generally accepted security measures, but cannot guarantee electronic communications are completely protected from unauthorized access by individuals who possess the skill and desire to breach security measures. Therefore, e-mail and other types of electronic communications should not be used to communicate confidential or sensitive matters.

The University reserves the right to inspect, monitor and/or disclose electronic communications in transit or storage without consent of the holder:

- When required by and consistent with law (i.e., search warrants, subpoenas, freedom of information requests).
- When there is a reason to believe a violation of law, University policy, rules, regulations or procedures has taken place.
- To maintain the security or performance of the infrastructure.

Employees must be aware that electronic communications.
• May be accessed and monitored in the normal course of business by system administrators.
• May be released to the public (as may be requested through the Freedom of Information Act).
• May require special measures for privacy protection.
• Are subject to discovery proceedings in legal actions.

Responsibilities

Protecting EMU’s systems, data, and networks is the responsibility of everyone in the university community.

A. PROTECTING IT RESOURCES FROM PHYSICAL ACCESS
You are responsible for the physical security of information technology devices you use and the data they contain. Keep doors locked to protect equipment. Portable equipment such as notebook computers, Personal Digital Assistants (PDAs), and mobile phones must be secured whether on campus, traveling, or at home. Confidential or sensitive documents and data should be encrypted.
Keep your account secure by preventing others from getting access to your computer, or to the access port assigned to you.

B. PROTECTING IT RESOURCES FROM ELECTRONIC ACCESS
It is your responsibility to use effective passwords and to safeguard those passwords. Persons attempting to gain unauthorized access to a system often do so through user accounts, and your password is a safeguard against such access.

C. USE E-MAIL AND OTHER ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS RESPONSIBLY
All University electronic communications are to be used in an ethical and responsible manner.

Messages such as e-mail should meet the same standards for distribution or display as if they were hard copy documents. Identify yourself clearly and accurately in all electronic communications.

Electronic communication files are owned by someone. They are assumed to be private and confidential unless the owner has explicitly made them available. If by accident you receive a confidential file, you should not share it with anyone else.

D. USING RESOURCES RESPONSIBLY, EFFICIENTLY, AND FAIRLY
Each user should make efficient use of network resources. Use high resource activities such as streaming media at high bit rates, at non-peak times. Do not use your computer as a server.

EMU faculty and staff may use the university information technology resources for incidental personal purposes provided such use does not:

• Directly or indirectly interfere with the University operations and services.
• Burden the University with noticeable incremental cost.
• Interfere with the user’s employment or other obligations to the University.
• Violate the law, University policies or procedures, or reasonable standards of decency and civility.

Electronic records arising from such personal use may, however, be subject to the presumption of being a University Electronic Record.

E. COMPLYING WITH UNIVERSITY POLICIES, RULES, AND STATE AND FEDERAL LAWS
Users of EMU information technology resources agree to comply with applicable federal and state laws and the policies, standards, and procedures of the University and of Merit Network, Inc., the Internet service provider for the University.

Users shall abide by the EDUCOM code regarding ethical and legal use of software.

Respect for intellectual labor and creativity is vital to academic discourse and enterprise. This principle applies to works of all authors and publishers in all media. It encompasses respect for the right to acknowledgment, right to privacy, and right to determine the form, manner, and terms of publication and distribution.
All EMU employees and students shall use software only in accordance with the license agreement. To transfer the possession without permission, of any copy, modification or merged portion of any licensed program, whether gratuitously or for gain, violates this policy and is prohibited. Anyone who makes, acquires, or uses unauthorized copies of computer software or otherwise violates this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with University policy. They may also be subject to personal liability under copyright law. Anyone using personal software on University devices must demonstrate evidence of ownership. See University policy 4.4 Copyright for more detail. To learn more about copyright and fair use visit Halle Library's Copyright at Eastern Michigan University web page.

Rules for Acceptable Use

Use only your account and password. Do not share them with anyone else. If you suspect someone may have discovered your password, change it immediately. Never use another user’s account and password.

You are responsible for all activity on your account. This includes destructive or illegal activity by someone using your account identity.

Use EMU electronic communication systems legally. Do not use university-provided computing resources to do something illegal, threatening, or deliberately destructive or harmful. All complaints will be investigated. Student Judicial Services investigates complaints regarding students; the Chief Information Officer in conjunction with Human Resources’ or other appropriate offices will investigate complaints regarding EMU faculty and staff. The police and the FBI and other federal law enforcement agencies investigate violations of state or federal law. Violations can result in disciplinary action, civil penalties, and criminal charges.

Obey copyright laws. Copyright protected materials include but are not limited to, software, music, written works, audio and videos, photographs, and electronic books (e-books). Do not use the intellectual property rights of another without written permission. Do not install, duplicate, download, store, transmit, or use software without a valid license. Do not distribute music, video, or other files illegally. Do not use your computer or other electronic device to copy, display, store, transmit, or distribute copyrighted or illegal materials.

Protect data that is protected, confidential or restricted.

- Confidential or restricted information must not be distributed or made available to persons who are not authorized to access the information. This applies to originals, copies, and new materials, which contain all or part of the information, and to oral communication of information. When restricted information is distributed, restrictions on its future distribution must be clearly stated, and followed.
- Provide physical security for information technology devices. Doors shall be locked to protect equipment when areas housing them are unattended. Portable equipment such as laptop computers, PDAs, and mobile phones must be secured. Particular care is needed when traveling and at home to protect these devices.
- Confidential or restricted information stored in a place, which is accessible by any unauthorized person, or on or in any media or device out of your office or off-campus must be protected by encryption using University standards.
- Report violations of University policies regarding use and/or disclosure of confidential or restricted information to the Information Security Office (487-0101).

Do not send or publish threatening or harassing communications or anything which may be reasonably classified as “hate” messages. If someone asks you to stop sending mail, stop sending it. If you fail to do so, the person can file a complaint, and you may be disciplined. If you believe you are being harassed, contact Student Judicial Services at 487-2157, or contact the Information Security Office. If you are concerned for your safety, call the EMU police at 911 or 734.487.1222.

Examples of inappropriate use of communication resources are listed below (this is not intended to be an exhaustive list). These actions may result in disciplinary action.

DO NOT:

- Send unsolicited e-mail messages, including the sending of "junk mail" or other advertising material to individuals who did not specifically request such material (e-mail spam).
• Solicit e-mail for any other e-mail address, other than that of the poster's account, with the intent to harass or to collect replies.
• Create or forward spam or e-mail bombing attacks (intentional e-mail transmissions that disrupt normal e-mail service).
• Send "chain mail" or send e-mail repeatedly that misuses or disrupts resources.
• Create or intentionally send viruses or other harmful programs or files.

Do not falsify or forge authentication, e-mail headers or other postings. Sending or posting electronic mail or other communications while misrepresenting or concealing the true identity of the sender or author is prohibited by this policy and may also be a violation of the law if done with intent to cause harm, commit fraud, conceal the sender of unsolicited commercial email, or otherwise violate the law.

Do not install or attempt to install malicious computer code on the device of another or on any University owned electronic resources.

Do not try to access a computer, the EMU system, or other devices without appropriate permission and without following proper login procedures. Do not try tapping a network or running a "sniffer" program. Do not use software tools that attack Information Technology resources. Do not cause or allow access, modification or destruction of any files, programs, settings, or data transmitted or stored by any device without permission.

You may not receive or cause any personal financial or other gains from the use of any university-provided computing resources or from any output produced resulting from such use. You may not promote any commercial or non-university activity using university resources.

ALL activities listed above can result in severe penalties, including disciplinary action by Student Judicial Services, Human Resources, or the Offices of the President and Provost.

Consequences

Any employee found to violate federal or state of Michigan laws, EMU policies, procedures or standards of conduct, will be subject to disciplinary action under University policy. Any suspected violation of State or Federal laws will be reported to the appropriate legal authority for investigation.

Consequences for violations (in no particular order) include, but are not limited to:

• Verbal warnings.
• Revocation of access privileges.
• Disciplinary actions up to and including discharge.
• Criminal prosecution.

Any student found to violate federal or state of Michigan laws, EMU policies, procedures or standards of conduct, will be subject to disciplinary action under EMU’s Student Code of Conduct. Any suspected violation of State or Federal laws will be reported to the appropriate legal authority for investigation.

Consequences for violations (in no particular order) include, but are not limited to:

• Verbal warnings.
• Revocation of access privileges.
• Disciplinary actions up to and including suspension or expulsion from school.
• Criminal prosecution.

If you break the law, you can be prosecuted. Even if you are not charged criminally, you can be held personally liable, and you can be suspended or dismissed from the University, or fired if you are an employee.
The University reserves the right to protect its electronic resources from threats of immediate harm. This may include activities such as disconnecting an offending computer system from the campus network, terminating a running job on a computer system, or taking other action.

Reporting an Incident

If an incident is a threat to personal safety, contact Campus Police at the Department of Public Safety, emergency 911 or non-emergency 734.487.1222.

To report an incident involving the misuse of Information Technology resources contact (by e-mail, letter or telephone) the Chief Information Officer (CIO) or the IT Security Office, the incident will be handled by staff at the appropriate University office.

Departmental administrators responsible for managing University information technology resources may temporarily disable user accounts or workstations connected to the network if violations of this policy are suspected and they must notify the CIO of all such actions.

When an incident is reported, the CIO, IT Security Office and/or the Campus Police may as needed and appropriate consult with the Office of the President, the Office of Legal Affairs, Staff and Academic Human Resources Offices, and other University Offices/Departments.

Authoritative Source

The authority for this policy is Eastern Michigan University policy 15.2 “Information Technology Security and Confidentiality” and the responsibility for its implementation rests with the Chief Information Officer.

December 2008

EDUCOM Code

Respect for intellectual labor and creativity is vital to academic discourse and enterprise. This principle applies to works of all authors and publishers in all media. It encompasses respect for the right to acknowledgment, right to privacy and right to determine the form, manner and terms of publication and distribution. Because electronic information is volatile and easily reproduced, respect for the work and personal expression of others is especially critical in computer environments. Violations of authorial integrity, including plagiarism, invasion of privacy, unauthorized access and trade secret and copyright violations, may be grounds for sanctions against members of the academic community.

Using Software: A Guide to the Ethical and Legal Use of Software for Members of the Academic Community issued by EDUCOM and ADAPSO

Software enables us to accomplish many different tasks with computers. Unfortunately, in order to get their work done quickly and conveniently, some people justify making and using unauthorized copies of software. They may not understand the implications of their actions or the restrictions of the U.S. copyright law.

Here are some relevant facts:

1. Unauthorized copying of software is illegal. Copyright law protects software authors and publishers, just as patent law protects inventors.
2. Unauthorized copying of software by individuals can harm the entire academic community. If unauthorized copying proliferates on a campus, the institution may incur a legal liability. Also, the institution may find it more difficult to negotiate agreements that would make software more widely and less expensively available to members of the academic community.

3. Unauthorized copying of software can deprive developers of a fair return for their work, increase prices, reduce the level of future support and enhancement and inhibit the development of new software products.

Respect for the intellectual work and property of others has traditionally been essential to the mission of colleges and universities. As members of the academic community, we value the free exchange of ideas. Just as we do not tolerate plagiarism, we do not condone the unauthorized copying of software, including programs, applications, data bases and code.

Therefore, we offer the following statement of principle about intellectual property and the legal and ethical use of software. This "code"--intended for adaptation and use by individual colleges and universities- was developed by the EDUCOM Software Initiative.

Software and Intellectual Rights

Respect for intellectual labor and creativity is vital to academic discourse and enterprise. This principle applies to works of all authors and publishers in all media. It encompasses respect for the right to acknowledgment, right to privacy, and right to determine the form, manner, and terms of publication and distribution.

Because electronic information is volatile and easily reproduced, respect for the work and personal expression of others is especially critical in computer environments. Violations of authorial integrity, including plagiarism, invasion of privacy, unauthorized access, and trade secret and copyright violations, may be grounds for sanctions against members of the academic community.

Questions You May Have about Using Software

A. What do I need to know about software and the U.S. Copyright Act?
   Unless it has been placed in the public domain, software is protected by copyright law. The owner of a copyright holds exclusive right to the reproduction and distribution of his or her work. Therefore, it is illegal to duplicate or distribute software or its documentation without the permission of the copyright owner. If you have purchased your copy, however, you may make a back-up for your own use in case the original is destroyed or fails to work.

B. Can I loan software I have purchased myself?
   If your software came with a clearly visible license agreement, or if you signed a registration card, read the license carefully before you use the software. Some licenses may restrict use to a specific computer. Copyright law does not permit you to run your software on two or more computers simultaneously unless the license agreement specifically allows it. It may, however, be legal to loan your software to a friend temporarily as long as you do not keep a copy.

C. If software is not copy-protected, do I have the right to copy it?
   Lack of copy-protection does not constitute permission to copy software in order to share or sell it. "Non-copy-protected" software enables you to protect your investment by making a back-up copy. In offering non-copy-protected software to you, the developer or publisher has demonstrated significant trust in your integrity.

D. May I copy software that is available through facilities on my campus, so that I can use it more conveniently in my own room?
   Software acquired by colleges and universities is usually licensed. The licenses restrict how and where the software may be legally used by members of the community. This applies to software installed on hard disks in microcomputer clusters, software distributed on disks by a campus lending library and software available on a campus mainframe or network. Some institutional licenses permit copying for certain purposes. Consult your campus authorities if you are unsure about the use of a particular software product.

E. Isn't it legally "fair use" to copy software if the purpose in sharing it is purely educational?
No. It is illegal for a faculty member or student to copy software for distribution among the members of a class, without permission of the author or publisher.

Alternatives to Explore

Software can be expensive. You may think that you cannot afford to purchase certain programs that you need. But there are legal alternatives to unauthorized copying.

Site Licensed and Bulk-Purchased Software

Your institution may have negotiated agreements that make software available either to use or to purchase at special prices. Consult your campus computing office for information. Software available through institutional site licenses or bulk purchases is subject to copyright and license restrictions, and you may not make or distribute copies without authorization.

Shareware

Shareware, or "user-supported" software, is copyrighted software that the developer encourages you to copy and distribute to others. This permission is explicitly stated in the documentation or displayed on the computer screen. The developer of shareware generally asks for a small donation or registration fee if you like the software and plan to use it. By registering, you may receive further documentation, updates and enhancements. You are also supporting future software development.

Public Domain Software

Sometimes authors dedicate their software to the public domain, which means that the software is not subject to any copyright restrictions. It can be copied and shared freely.

Software without copyright notice is often, but not necessarily, in the public domain. Before you copy or distribute software that is not explicitly in the public domain, check with your campus computing office.

A Final Note

Restrictions on the use of software are far from uniform. You should check carefully each piece of software and the accompanying documentation yourself. In general, you do not have the right to:

1. Receive and use unauthorized copies of software, or
2. Make unauthorized copies of software for others.

If you have questions not answered by this brochure about the proper use and distribution of a software product, seek help from your computing office, from the software developer or publisher.

MichNet Policies

MichNet Acceptable Use Policy

30 May 2006

Purpose
This Policy is a guide to the acceptable use of Merit Network facilities and services (Services). Any Member or Affiliate organization or individual connected to Merit's network in order to use it directly, or to connect to any other network(s), must comply with this policy and the stated purposes and Acceptable Use policies of any other network(s) or host(s) used.

Each Member and Affiliate organization is responsible for the activity of its users (including guests and other temporary users) and for ensuring that its users are familiar with this policy or an equivalent policy. In addition, each Member and Affiliate is encouraged to maintain and enforce its own Acceptable Use policies. The provisions of this policy govern all use of the Services, including any unsupervised anonymous network access offered by Members or Affiliates.

The following guidelines will be applied to determine whether or not a particular use of the Services is appropriate:

1. Users must respect the privacy of others. Users shall not intentionally seek information on, or represent themselves as, another user unless explicitly authorized to do so by that user. Nor shall Users obtain copies of, or modify files, other data, or passwords belonging to others.
2. Users must respect the legal protection applied to programs, data, photographs, music, written documents and other material as provided by copyright, trademark, patent, licensure and other proprietary rights mechanisms.
3. Users must respect the integrity of other public or private computing and network systems. Users shall not intentionally develop or use programs that harass other users or infiltrate any other computer, computing system or network and/or damage or alter the software components or file systems of a computer, computing system or network.
4. Use should be consistent with guiding ethical statements and accepted community standards. Use of the Services for malicious, fraudulent, or misrepresentative purposes is not acceptable.
5. The Services may not be used in ways that violate applicable laws or regulations.
6. The Services may not be used in a manner that precludes or significantly hampers network access by others. Nor may the Services be used in a manner that significantly impairs access to other networks connected to Merit.
7. Connections which create routing patterns that are inconsistent with the effective and shared use of the Services may not be established.
8. Unsolicited advertising is not acceptable. Advertising is permitted on some Web pages, mailing lists, news groups and similar environments if advertising is explicitly allowed in that environment.
9. Repeated, unsolicited and/or unwanted communication of an intrusive nature is strictly prohibited. Continuing to send e-mail messages or other communications to an individual or organization after being asked to stop is not acceptable.

The intent of this policy is to identify certain types of uses that are not appropriate, but this policy does not necessarily enumerate all possible inappropriate uses. Using the guidelines given above, Merit may at any time make a determination that a particular use is not appropriate.

Merit will not monitor or judge the content of information transmitted via the Services, but will investigate complaints of possible inappropriate use. In the course of investigating complaints, Merit staff will safeguard the privacy of all parties and will themselves follow the guidelines given in this policy and in Merit's Privacy Policy. Merit will only release sensitive, confidential or personally identifiable information to third parties when required by law, or when in Merit's judgment, release is required to prevent serious injury or harm that could result from violation of this policy.

Remedial Action

When Merit learns of possible inappropriate use, Merit staff will notify the Member or Affiliate responsible, who must take immediate remedial action and inform Merit of its action. Merit will assist the Member or Affiliate in identifying the nature and source of the inappropriate use and in implementing remedial action if requested. Provided the Member or Affiliate implements remedial action promptly, Merit will take no further action. If Merit is unable to contact the Member or Affiliate, or if the Member or Affiliate is unable to implement remedial action, Merit reserves the right to pursue remedial action independently. Wherever possible, Merit will pursue remedial action with the least impact to the overall service for the Member or Affiliate.

Should the situation be considered an emergency, and Merit deems it necessary to prevent further inappropriate activity, Merit may temporarily disconnect a Member or Affiliate from the network. An emergency is defined as: "Serious security incidents that require immediate attention to prevent harm to an individual, to protect information from loss or damage that would be difficult or impossible to correct or to deal with serious on-going denial of service attacks."

If temporary disconnection is deemed necessary by Merit staff, every effort will be made to inform the Member or Affiliate prior to disconnection, and every effort will be made to re-establish the connection as soon as it is mutually deemed safe.

Any determination of inappropriate use serious enough to require disconnection shall be promptly communicated to every member of the Merit Board of Directors through an established means of publication.
The Career Services Center (CSC) helps students plan their careers, develop job search skills, obtain career-related work experience during their academic career and secure jobs upon graduation. Programs and services include student employment, cooperative education, job fairs, résumé referral, and on-campus recruiting. In the area of career planning, CSC provides personality, interest and values inventories, computerized career guidance services and personal career counseling. In addition, CSC offers an assortment of reference materials on career opportunities, self-assessment, employer literature and many other career-related items. These services are available at CSC’s main office in McKenny Hall with a more limited range of services at the COB satellite location.

CSC focuses on helping students select majors and occupational fields early in their academic careers. Assistance is provided through self-assessment, information about occupations and opportunities to secure employment and volunteer experience in career-related fields. Through its nationally recognized Professional Experience Programs (PEP), CSC assists students in obtaining such career-related work experiences as internships and cooperative education placements. These experiences help students gain exposure to their chosen career fields and gain the hands-on work experience that most employers now expect from college graduates. Academic credit can be earned for many of the PEP jobs. Students should begin participation in PEP as early as their freshman year.

Additional job opportunities are offered through CSC’s student employment area. This is the central clearinghouse for all on-campus job openings for students as well as for job openings near campus and in surrounding communities. CSC also maintains an extensive listing of summer employment jobs available with camps, parks, resorts, businesses and government agencies throughout the country. As with other student employment positions, these jobs give students practical work experience and a chance to earn money toward college expenses. The Career Services Center also assists seniors, graduate students and alumni in seeking employment after graduation and obtaining professional advancement throughout their careers.

Available services include:

- Resumé, interviewing and job search strategy workshops
- Job Choices manual available to all seniors
- EagleCareers.erecruiting.com online posting service
- On-campus recruiting interview program
- Resumé referral program
- Three large annual job fairs that attract hundreds of employers plus several other smaller fairs
- Free drop-off résumé critiquing service

Finally, each year CSC posts more than 30,000 job listings and has more than 250 employers who participate in the on-campus interview program.

Students with Disabilities Office

Address: EMU Student Center, Room 220
Phone: 734.487.2470
TTY: 734.487.2470
Web site: www.emich.edu/disabilities

Students with physical, learning or psychological disabilities, sensory impairments or chronic health conditions must register with the Students with Disabilities Office (SWDO) in order to receive accommodations. Typical accommodations include extended time for examinations, the ability to take examinations in a distraction-free environment, access to adaptive technology, sign language interpreters, books on tape and note takers. However, all accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis according to each student's documented limitations. The SWDO also works closely with faculty members and other University departments, such as Housing and Campus Life, to ensure that students with disabilities receive the accommodations they need to participate in all University programs, services, and activities. All disability information is strictly confidential and students are encouraged to contact the SWDO to discuss their individual needs.

Children's Institute

Address: 103 Rackham Hall
Phone: 734.487.2348
Fax: 734.487.0286
Web site: www.emich.edu/uhs/children.html

Hours: Monday–Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The EMU Children's Institute, accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children, offers high-quality early childhood education programming to families of Eastern Michigan University and surrounding communities. We offer varied programs designed to meet the needs of students and working families.
The Institute provides high-quality care and education for children ages 18 months through six years. Full and half-day programs are available for toddlers, preschoolers, and kindergartners. A special arrangement with the Ypsilanti Public School System provides transportation to and from Perry Child Development Center for the morning kindergarten program. We also offer a full-day kindergarten program at the Children's Institute.

The EMU Children's Institute serves as the practicum placement site for students preparing to be early childhood education teachers. Practicum students are closely supervised by professional classroom teachers and University faculty members.

Flights of Imagination, the summer day camp program at the Children's Institute, offers exciting and varied programs for children entering kindergarten and first grade, supervised by professional teaching staff, with EMU students as camp counselors. Camp is offered as eight weekly sessions.

Activities at the Children's Institute are play-based and developmentally appropriate, and designed to meet the needs of each child in the group. Teaching staff have completed coursework and hold degrees/advanced professional degrees in early childhood education. Staff training and in-service days are conducted throughout the year.

Cooperative Education
The Program

Cooperative education (co-op) is a unique educational plan designed to enhance academic studies and assist students in attaining career goals. The Career Services Center and academic departments cooperate with business and industry as well as private and public agencies in developing work assignments that parallel the student's academic program. Co-op provides direct, hands-on experience while adding practical dimensions to the student's academic background. Students typically earn wages and academic credit for each co-op job assignment. (For Career Services Center locations click here.)

Benefits to the Student

- Increases employment opportunities upon graduation. Approximately 70 percent of co-op participants are offered permanent jobs by their employers upon graduation.
- Awards college credit while the student is being paid to work. Co-op students also earn wages significantly higher than most student employment opportunities offer.
- Increases earning and promotional potential. Co-op students start between five and 10 percent above normal entry-level salaries after graduation.
- Offers on-the-job training related to course of study. Co-op students typically perform professional level assignments.
- Links classroom and work place. Co-op placements provide the opportunity to apply academic studies while bringing career goals into focus.

Eligibility/Application

Most students must be at least of junior standing with 12-15 credit hours or prerequisites completed in the major. The College of Business (COB) and the College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) will consider second-semester sophomores in selected majors. Note that eligibility and prerequisites vary based on major/minor and that departmental approval is required in most cases. A first step in pursuing a co-op is to speak with an advisor in your program of study to determine application procedures.

Grade Point Average

A 2.5 cumulative GPA is required unless waived by faculty sponsor. Students on academic probation are not eligible to participate.

Academic Credit

Generally three credits are awarded for each placement, but this may vary by major and department. Work experiences are graded on a credit/non-credit basis.

Internships
Students interested in an internship are encouraged to seek information from their departmental office regarding placement assistance and application materials. Requirements may vary by department and academic discipline. The Career Services Center provides listings for internships at EagleCareers.eRecruiting.com and also has print materials about internship opportunities at their main office in 200 McKenny Hall. Students are encouraged to identify opportunities, seek departmental approval and apply directly.

Pre-Professional Internships

The Career Services Center facilitates the Pre-Professional Internship (PPI) program which is available for freshmen and sophomores in all academic majors at any class level. This program offers up to six elective credits for work experience that has allowed students to explore career options. For additional information go to http://career.emich.edu.

Counseling Services

Address: 313 Snow Health Center

Fax: 734.481.0050
Web site: www.emich.edu/uhs/counseling.html

Hours: Monday – Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Counseling Services provides:

- Free, confidential, personal counseling for EMU students
- Informative, interactive workshops and presentations in classrooms and other locations on topics including managing depression, resolving communication and relationship problems, building self esteem, addressing anger and test anxiety, among others
- Crisis response and support
- Screening for depression and other concerns
- Consultation with faculty and staff about student and classroom issues
- Self-help lending library

Professional, licensed psychologists and counselors provide services. Graduate students completing internships also provide services under professional staff supervision.

All registered EMU students are eligible for services. Appointments can be made by phone or in person. Counseling is confidential and at no cost to students.

Holman Learning Center (TLC) provides students with a campus-wide network of learning assistance programs designed to develop independent learning skills necessary for academic success.

Tutor Programs
TLC provides the following tutoring assistance programs: 1) Individual tutors available to undergraduate students who wish to work one-on-one with a peer tutor to improve their understanding of a particular course. Individual tutoring is nonremedial and free. 2) Supplemental Instruction (SI) to assist students who are enrolled in a first-year large lecture course to develop effective study strategies. A SI leader will lead small discussions on note-taking, study strategies and test-taking and relate the skills to the specific large lecture course.

Student Academic Success
TLC focuses on the academic success of each student during their career at Eastern Michigan University. The office continues to create new and innovative programs focusing on new students to the University and students referred to the office by other departments or faculty. These programs include the following: 1) First-Year Academic Support Program links students, faculty and parents to facilitate the student's transition into higher education and to maximize academic success. 2) Skill-building workshops expose students to information on test-taking strategies, time management, how to efficiently take notes in class and preparing for final exams. Workshops are presented in freshman residence halls, the Student Center and Halle Library. 3) Peer support sessions offer students an opportunity to talk to graduate students to get help navigating the University environment and charting a positive, goal-oriented plan for academic success.

Pre-College Programs
Pre-college programs also provide an avenue for promoting academic achievement and success. TLC coordinates the following pre-college programs: 1) Martin Luther King, Jr./César Chávez/Rosa Parks (KCP) College Days programs brings eighth- through 12th-grade students to campus and exposes them to college life. The program builds self-esteem and motivation and introduces participants to a variety of career options. 2) The Wade McCree Scholarship program awards 20 general fund scholarships each fall to underrepresented students entering the ninth grade. 3) The Summer Incentive Program (SIP) offers high school seniors showing potential for academic success an opportunity to take three college courses, live on campus and work in the campus office during the summer. Participants who successfully complete the summer program are admitted to EMU in the fall.

Retention Tracking
Retention research provides the University with the information required for strategic planning and creation of new and effective University-wide programs aimed at retention and student success. The programs and student populations TLC currently tracks are all first time in any college (FTIAC), first-year interest groups (FIGs), and the Promote Academic Survival and Success (PASS) populations. Programming for these student populations is a collaborative effort involving both Enrollment Management and Academic Affairs.

The EMU Student Center

The EMU Student Center is the interactive heart of student life at Eastern. The building’s concave east side architecturally declares the Student Center’s intent to “embrace” the campus and act as a unifying force in the daily life of Eastern. This unifying mission is further reinforced in the Student Center’s mix of facilities, services, and programs designed to create an environment to attract and serve students, faculty, staff, and the local community. The Student Center helps build a powerful and positive, diverse and collegiate, academic community at EMU. The Student Center is immediately adjacent to the Halle Library on the south and the Recreation/Intramural building on the southeast, and is near the academic core of the campus. The east side of the Student Center is a three-story glass wall that overlooks University Park.

The EMU Student Center’s first floor consists of the EMU Bookstore operated by Follett, fireplace lounge, state of the art 250-seat auditorium, food court with comfortable seating for 450, Wendy’s, Subway, Taco Bell/KFC, Sbarro’s, Green Market Bistro, convenience store, TCF Bank, Eagle Card Office, Apple store, ticket office, and a gaming center. The second floor consists of the grand ballroom with banquet-style seating for 650, pre-function fireplace lounge, University Art Gallery, Student Center Art Gallery, Admissions Welcome Center, University Information Center, Service EMU, Office of International Students, New Student Programs, Student Judicial Services, Students with Disabilities Office, 24/7 computer lab, Commuter Central and lounge, and Starbucks Coffee. The third floor consists of meeting rooms including the Native American inspired Kiva Room, Event Planning Office, Student Center Administration, and the Center for Student Involvement that includes Student Government, Greek organizations, student organizations, Campus Life, Diversity and Community Involvement Programs, and VISION. For additional information about the EMU Student Center visit www.emich.edu/studentcenter. The Campus Information Center on the second floor of the Student Center can provide more information on the Center’s programs and services. Call the friendly staff at 734.487.1157.

Campus Life
Address: 345 EMU Student Center
Phone: 734.487.3045
FAX: 734.480.1927
Web site: www.emich.edu/campuslife

Campus Life offers student-centered learning, development and involvement activities that challenge and support the unique gifts, needs, experiences and interests of our students, our professional staff members and members of the broader campus community.

- Arts, Intellectual, Cultural and Entertainment Programs
  Offering social engagement and aesthetic literacy experiences through a variety of activities including late night/evening/weekend programs, intellectual/cultural experiences, guest speakers and artists, student performances, films and more.

- Commuter Life
  Providing access to an array of services designed to support commuter students including Service EMU, temporary and one-night campus housing for commuters, commuter scholarships and Student Legal Services. Also serving the transition, student involvement and engagement needs of commuters through commuter orientation, the Commuter Student Association, and campus activities.
• Leadership and Student Involvement
  Providing students with opportunities to enhance their personal and professional skills through student volunteer boards, student employment experiences, and an array of leadership development programs.

• Orientation and Transition Programs
  Offering programs, services and resources assisting students to transition successfully into and through their college career including Fusion: New Student Orientation for freshmen, transfer and adult students, the MyFY Website, First Year Mentor Program, and Real Beginnings.

• Student Organizations and Greek Life
  Providing programs, services, resources and advocacy for student organizations, including fraternities and sororities, to function safely and effectively, contributing positively to the EMU community.

Department of Diversity and Community Involvement

Diversity Programs
Address: EMU Student Center, 3rd Floor
Phone: 734.487.3118
Fax: 734.487.6910
Web site: www.emich.edu/dci

Volunteerism and Community Service
EMU Student Center, 3rd Floor
Phone: 734.487.3045
Fax: 734.480.1927
Web site: www.emich.edu/vision

The Department of Diversity and Community Involvement (DCI) offers numerous opportunities for engagement and learning beyond the classroom. DCI provides opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to get involved in social justice education, programming, and activism.

Diversity and Community Involvement comprises four centers: the Center for Multicultural Affairs, the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender Resource Center (LGBTRC), VISION (Volunteers Incorporating Service into our Neighborhoods), and the Women’s Center. The Center for Multicultural Affairs, LGBTRC and the Women’s Center offer a variety of programming and services promoting diversity and inclusion. The Centers recognize, support, and celebrate diverse student populations; promote academic, personal, social and professional development of diverse student populations; provide information, resources, and referral services; and help faculty and staff teach effectively in a diverse University setting. Examples of our programming include Cultural Heritage Celebration Months, Out Month, Lavender Role Models and Mentors, Take Back the Night, and The Vagina Monologues.

VISION Volunteer Center – the fourth of DCI’s Centers – offers opportunities for students to get involved in service. VISION helps students learn about social issues, address community needs and strengthen community partnerships. Our student-led programs include Alternative Breaks, America Reads, Best Buddies, GREEN, Habitat for Humanity, Jumpstart, Kid Konnection, Students Against Hunger and Homelessness, and One-Day Events.

Office of International Students
Address: 244 EMU Student Center
Phone: 734.487.3116
Web site: www.emich.edu/ois

The Office of International Students extends a welcome to all international students pursuing educational goals at Eastern Michigan University. Concerned, responsible and professional staff is available to assist students in any matter, including orientation, advice on immigration issues, academic, financial, employment and personal concerns. The staff also provides the preparation of documents needed to maintain favorable status in this country.
This office serves as a consultant to faculty and staff on international student affairs, acts as a catalyst for the development of various international connections in the University and/or community to promote international education and understanding, and initiates enhancement programs such as cross-cultural activities on and off-campus.

International students are encouraged to make regular contact with the office.

Ombudsman

Address: 112 Welch Hall
Phone: 734.487.0074
Fax: 734.487.7170
Web site: www.emich.edu/ombuds

The ombudsman facilitates the resolution of individual complaints which do not have a formal avenue of redress through official University channels. The ombudsman advises students on University policy and procedures, identifies and recommends changes to current practices, and communicates student concerns/issues to appropriate University officials. In addition, the ombudsman presents workshops, conducts needs assessments and mediates disputes.

In the event of an emergency, the ombudsman is the main contact between the student, the student's family and the University. When a student emergency exists, the ombudsman has the responsibility for notifying the student's instructors, and for contacting family members and other appropriate personnel.

University Health Services

Address: Snow Health Center Main Floor
Phone: 734.487.1122
Fax: 734.487.2342
Web site: www.emich.edu/uhs

Hours: Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The center is closed during official university closings. Appointments are preferred, but walk-ins can usually be accommodated.

All currently enrolled students, faculty, staff and their spouses at Eastern Michigan University are eligible for services.

Medical Services provides treatment as well as preventive services for a wide range of acute, episodic and ambulatory medical conditions, some of which include:

- Evaluation and treatment for minor illness and injury
- Physical examinations
- Allergy shots, immunizations, meningitis shots, TB testing and flu shots
- Women’s health care including annual exams, diagnosis and treatment for infections, birth control and pregnancy tests
- X-ray and laboratory tests

Snow Health Center is a fully staffed medical facility. The professional team includes physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses and technologists who have specialized in the health and lifestyle concerns of young adults. In addition, faculty and residents from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital work with the staff in a collaborative program to provide services.

The EMU Student Health Insurance policy, sponsored by Student Government, is accepted in full for covered services after co-pays are met. The EMU policy can be reviewed and purchased online at www.uhsr.com

Pharmacy

Address: Snow Health Center, Main Floor
Phone: 734.487.1125
Fax: 734.487.0273
The pharmacy is licensed by the State of Michigan and provides quality pharmaceutical services with an emphasis on patient counseling regarding your medication(s), issues involving possible drug interactions, proper use and storage of your medication(s), dosage and side effects. The pharmacy can fill prescriptions written by licensed physicians in Michigan as well as most prescriptions written by out-of-state licensed providers. We participate with many prescription insurance plans. The pharmacy also maintains a variety of over-the-counter products, including no-prescription medications.

Student Government
Governed by the President (elected each spring)
Address: 342 EMU Student Center
Phone: 734.487.1470
Web site: www.emich.edu/studentorgs/studentgov

Student Government at EMU is committed to improving the quality of student life on campus. The student body each spring elects a president, vice president and 24 senators who, along with representatives appointed from various organizations, compose the Student Senate. The executive officers and members provide input to the administration of the University to help solve problems and improve programs and services. Student Government also sponsors campus-wide events and trips to Lansing to meet with state legislators.

Not only do student representatives get valuable experience in the process of government, but they also represent the University on local, state and national levels. Any EMU student may run for a Student Government position. Interested students are also welcome to serve on Student Government committees and University advisory groups.

University Student Identification Card
EagleOne Card Office
Address: EMU Student Center, First Floor
Phone: 734.487.3176
Web site: http://it.emich.edu/eagleonecard/

A valid Eastern Michigan University identification card is required for many services on campus including the use of special facilities. To obtain a University identification card, students must be registered for at least one class for the current or upcoming semester. You will need one piece of valid picture identification and a copy of your class schedule. Visit the EagleOne Card Office web site for office hours and updated information.

Veteran Services Office

Shaftone Dunklin, Director
Address: 246 McKenny Hall
Phone: 734.487.3119
Fax: 734.487.5060 Web site: www.emich.edu/veterans

The Veteran Services Office (VSO) coordinates all campus services for veterans who are pursuing their education at EMU. It is the resource center for veterans' benefits; veterans must report successful academic progress, class drops and adds, and/or relevant changes in personal status to the VSO in order to maintain benefits.

The office assists veterans in housing and financial aid, and works closely with disabled veterans to provide full educational benefits. Veterans should direct all questions to a representative of this office.

Residence Halls
Eastern Michigan University's residence system provides housing for over 3,000 students, staff and faculty. Housing options include both traditional residence halls and apartments. Our 12 residence halls offer six room layouts to choose from. You can live in a double room, co-ed hall or upperclass single hall. Features include laundry and kitchen facilities, TV and study lounges, cable television, local telephone service and recreational amenities. All halls feature reception desk services and in-room network connections for Internet and e-mail service. Residence hall staff provide educational and recreational programs and promote the safety and welfare of residents.

According to Eastern Michigan University policy, all first-year unmarried students shall be required to live in University residence halls, contingent on space availability. Sophomore students may be required to live on campus as well, space permitting. Please see "Policies Affecting You" in the Indices for the complete policy.

Academic and Personal Success

Studies show that students are more likely to succeed academically and personally if they live in a residence hall. Part of the reason is the variety of academic and student support programs offered. Our Residence Education Program promotes staff organized study skills workshops and provides a nightly study center that creates a quiet, spacious atmosphere for studying.

Residence hall staff also conduct a number of informative programs on such topics as financial aid, health, fitness and personal relationships as well as recreational programming designed to promote community development and enhance your residence life experience.

Make Your Room Special

You'll be amazed at what you can do with your residence hall room. We'll supply the basic furnishings: desk, chairs, bed, dressers and window treatments. Part of the fun of living in a hall is making it feel like home. Check www.emich.edu/housing/whattobring for specific details.

Get Involved in Your Hall

What's a great way to make new friends and have fun? Get involved in residence hall programs. There are so many things to do throughout the academic year. Residence hall staff and Leadership and Advisory Boards traditionally sponsor events such as Lil' Sibs Weekend and a number of activities during Homecoming. Often individual floors and halls will organize bowling parties, volleyball games, sport outings, movie nights and live entertainment.

Residents take an active role in planning and organizing events. You can learn great leadership and organizational skills by participating on a planning committee or by getting involved in Leadership and Advisory Boards. The Residence Hall Association, the residence hall student governing board, gives you an opportunity to represent your hall or floor. So get involved! After all, it's your home away from home!
At Your Service

You can stop by your hall front desk to pick up your mail, make change or check out vacuums and recreational equipment.

Our custodial and maintenance staff will repair any permanent fixtures in your room, such as the heat, plumbing or light fixtures, as well as clean hall corridors, lounge areas and community bathrooms.

Residence hall students also enjoy the convenience of having shuttle bus stops right in front of many halls. You can catch a ride around campus, head to the College of Business in downtown Ypsilanti or go shopping in nearby Ann Arbor.

To reserve a room, students must:

1. Apply online from our web site at www.emich.edu/housing/main.php;
2. Read the contract carefully and thoroughly. The contract contains important information you need to know before reserving a room;
3. Select a meal plan;
4. Select your residence hall program:
   o First-Year Experience Halls: Phelps/Sellers, Walton/Putnam, Best (new incoming freshmen only)
   o Honors Hall (members of Honors College)
   o Upperclass hall (sophomores and above only)
   o Single Room halls (reserved for returning students, new upperclass, transfer and graduate students)
5. Make a $200 prepayment online or print the contract and mail to:

   Cashier's Office
   Address: 201 Pierce Hall
   Eastern Michigan University
   Ypsilanti, MI 48197

Apartments on Campus

Eastern Michigan University offers traditional residence halls as well as apartment living options for students. Three apartment complexes are available to serve your housing needs. These include Brown/Munson, Cornell Courts and Westview apartments.

Eligibility

Applicants must be:

- enrolled in 12 undergraduate credit hours or
- enrolled in six graduate credit hours, or
- actively engaged in an internship, or writing a master's, specialist's or doctoral thesis, or
- upperclass or nontraditional first-year students

Amenities

University Apartments include:

- locations convenient to classes, the library and athletic events;
• utilities included in rent (gas, electric, water and trash collection);
• basic cable service;
• laundry rooms in each building;
• storage facilities at some locations;
• community rooms for complex activities;
• leasing options;
• Internet in Brown/Munson

Students must submit an application to be considered for an apartment. Applications are available from the apartment office and require a $20 nonrefundable processing fee.

Assignments are made by the leasing coordinator according to the date the application is received. Applicants are notified when their application has been approved and a unit is available for occupancy. Apartments are leased as they become available.

According to Eastern Michigan University policy, the maximum number of individuals allowed to live in a two-bedroom apartment is four. The maximum number of individuals in a one-bedroom unit is two.

University Governance and Individuals' Rights

Board of Regents
Eastern Michigan University is an autonomous University governed by an eight-member board of regents appointed by the governor of Michigan and subject to the approval of the Michigan Senate. Financial support for the University comes from student tuition and fees, and support provided by the citizens of Michigan.

Current members of the board of regents are Thomas W. Sidlik, Ann Arbor, chair; Roy E. Wilbanks, Ypsilanti, vice chair; Floyd Clack, Flint; Gary D. Hawks, Okemos; Philip A. Incarnati, Clarkston; Mohamed Okdie, Detroit; Francine Parker, St. Clair Shores; and James F. Stapleton, Ann Arbor.

Policies on Nondiscrimination
Eastern Michigan University shall not discriminate against any person because of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, disability or sexual orientation. Further, the University shall work for the elimination of improper discrimination in the areas listed above in organizations recognized by the University and from non-University sources where students and employees of the University are involved.

Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Policies

Eastern Michigan University admits students of either sex, and any race, color or national or ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities accorded to students at this University. The University does not discriminate against students on the basis of sex, race, color or national or ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarships and loan programs and athletic and other University-administered programs. Further, it is the policy and practice of Eastern Michigan University to take affirmative action in all personnel matters.

Gender Equality

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University to comply with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and its regulations, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex. Anyone who believes that in some respect Eastern Michigan University is not in compliance with Title IX and its regulations should contact the executive director of Human Resources.

Nondiscrimination of the Disabled and/or Challenged

Sharon Abraham, director
Diversity and Affirmative Action
Address: 11 Welch Hall
Phone: 734.487.1166

In its programs, activities and employment, Eastern Michigan University does not discriminate on the basis of physical or other disabilities. Anyone who believes that in some respect Eastern Michigan University is not in compliance with the Rehabilitation Act and its regulations should contact the executive director of Human Resources. Prospective students with disabilities who are otherwise qualified for admission are invited to apply. Students encountering difficulty with access to full participation in University activities should contact the ombudsman.

Statement on Campus Violence

In accordance with the education mission of Eastern Michigan University, the University adopts this policy statement to promote a safe campus environment. The statement reflects the nonviolent spirit of the relationship between students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors at Eastern Michigan University.

The safety and security of our students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors is extremely important to Eastern Michigan University. Threats, acts of aggression and threatening or violent behavior are not tolerated by or toward students, staff administrators, faculty, contractors or visitors. All reports of incidents will be taken seriously and will be dealt with appropriately.

Threats can be direct and immediate or indirect and implied; threats can occur verbally, nonverbally or in writing. Acts of aggression include, but are not limited to, abusive behavior, stalking and tampering with property and are intended to intimidate, create fear, imply harm or destroy property. Threatening or violent behavior is behaving in such a way that poses an immediate threat to self or others by acts of physical harm.

All students, staff, administrators, faculty, contractors and visitors are strongly encouraged to report threats, acts of aggression and threatening or violent behavior to the Campus Police (911 for all emergencies, 487.1222 for all other calls), Human Resources (487.0083), and/or your department head or supervisor, to help ensure the safety of our campus community.

Family Education Rights and Privacy Act
In compliance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), Eastern Michigan University assures that any person who is or has been in attendance as a student at EMU has access to his/her educational records. Furthermore, such individual's rights to privacy are assured by limiting the transferability of records without the student's consent.

The following are matters of public record and may be included in directory publications or disclosed upon request without consent: the student's name, address, telephone listing, e-mail address, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in recognized activities and sports, weight and height (if a member of an athletic team), dates of attendance, degree and awards received (including but not limited to the Dean's List) and most recent previous educational agency or institution. Registration documents of student organizations that contain the names and addresses of the officers and the statement of purpose of the organization also are considered public information. These documents are available in the Office of Campus Life Programs.

EMU reserves the right to make directory information public unless a student files a written request to withhold information with the University Communications Office within 14 days after the semester begins. Once such a request is filed, the information will remain private until the student requests the University Communications Office to release it.

Individuals who believe the University is not in compliance with FERPA and its regulations should contact the executive director of Human Resources.

Notification of Student Rights under FERPA

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day EMU receives a request for access.

   Student should submit written requests to the EMU Office of Records and Registration, identifying the record(s) they wish to inspect. A University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

   Students may ask the University to amend records that they believe are inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify what is inaccurate or misleading.

   If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education record, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

   One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by EMU in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research or support position (including law enforcement personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom EMU has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Regents; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

   A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

   Upon request, the University discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.
The University may also disclose, without the student's permission, to parents and legal guardians when the student is under 21, any violation of existing alcohol or drug laws or University policy.

EMU has designated the following items as directory information and these items may be included in publications or disclosed upon request without consent: the student's name; address; telephone listing; e-mail address; date and place of birth; major fields of study; participation in recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic teams; dates of attendance; degrees and awards received (including, but not limited to, Dean's List); and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student.

EMU reserves the right to make directory information public unless a student's written objection (specifying the category of information not to be made public without prior consent) is filed with the University Communications Office within 14 days after each term begins.

Students who do not want to be included in the annual EMU Student Telephone Directory should complete a Directory Exclusion form. Forms can be picked up from University Publications, Housing and Dining Services, Records and Registration and the Library Copy Center. They must be turned in by Sept. 15 to the Library Copy Center or to University Publications. Completing the exclusion form will remove the student's name, address and phone number from the current and subsequent telephone directories.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by EMU to comply with requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:
   Family Policy Compliance Office
   U.S. Department of Education
   600 Independence Avenue, SW
   Washington, DC 20202-4605

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Note:
Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

Any change to this program must be approved and proper paper work submitted before that change can be considered for graduation.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Certificate

Undergraduate Certificate in African Studies

Add a specialty to your degree with an undergraduate certification in African Studies. Gain a special insight into ancient and contemporary Africa from a scholarly perspective. The certificate program encompasses such areas of African affairs as history, political economics, geography, politics, and arts. It serves as a means by which the student can enhance his/her awareness of the diversity that characterizes human existence.

In sum, this program is designed to prepare and equip students with:
1. Inter-cultural sensitivity
2. The ability to develop social policies and cultural competencies applicable to their careers
3. Knowledge of key epistemological issues in African Studies
4. Research, critical thinking and critical writing skills

Admission Requirements
In order to be admitted to this undergraduate certificate in African Studies, you have to meet any of the following conditions. One, you must be either pursuing an undergraduate degree at EMU in any field of study or you can apply as a post-baccalaureate degree holder. You can also be admitted if you are a graduate student or a graduate degree holder, and you wish to obtain the undergraduate certificate in African Studies. Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.
The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Africology
AFC 101 - Introduction to African American Studies (GEUS)

An introductory examination of the African American experience. Acquaints students with the trends, issues and forces that have shaped that experience; considers the concepts of cultural adaptation, institutional development and group self-definition; and surveys the contemporary status and condition of African Americans.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Previously Listed As: AAS 101

Perspectives on a Diverse World:

AFC 101 meets the requirements for a course on U.S. diversity because it surveys the origins, development, and current status of African Americans from the perspective of a discipline that places this group at the center of its inquiry. A historically underrepresented and oppressed group, African Americans constitute one of the largest minorities in the U.S. This group has been essential to the formation and character of U.S. society from its inception to the present. The struggle by African Americans for equality and human dignity and their contributions to U.S. and world cultures reveal much about the role and significance of diversity in American society. The course examines the interactions of African Americans with U.S. immigrant groups and with Native peoples. Cultural, economic, gender, religious, racial, and class factors in oppression are of particular concern.

Last Updated: Prefix change 02/2013, effective SUMMER 2013

AFC 102 - Introduction to African Civilization (GEGA)

This course is designed to provide the student with an introductory knowledge of centers of African civilization from antiquity to the 1960s. Those centers include ancient Egypt, Songhai, Kilwa and Monomotapa.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Previously Listed As: AAS 102

Perspectives on a Diverse World:

AFC 102 African Civilization is designed to provide the students with an introductory knowledge of centers of African Civilization from antiquity to the 1960s. Among those centers are Ancient Egypt, Nubia, Axum, Ghana, Mali, Songhai, Kilwa, Sofola, Malinda, Mutapa (Monomotapa), etc. Apart from becoming familiar with such key centers of African Civilization, the students will explore the influence that African Civilization exerted on other cultures, as well as the impact of cross-cultural contacts on African Civilization itself. Preliminary subjects of discussion include historical and paleontological data examining the thesis of the African origin of humanity.

AFC 232 - Politics in the African American Experience (GEUS)

This course is designed to provide the student with a knowledge of Black political behavior in the United States in its evolution from protest to contemporary institutional politics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: AAS 232
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
AFC 232 Politics in the African American Experience is a study of black political behavior in the United States and its evolution from protest to institutional, electoral politics. In examining the functioning and dynamics of the American political system from historical and contemporary perspectives, the course also compares and contrasts the black political experience with other minority group politics in the United States. This course uses the African American political experience and the transformative contributions that African American historic political struggles and minority group politics have made to the expansion and public appreciation of democratic principles, values and practices in the United States as a means of not only providing students with a multicultural perspective on the evolution and functioning of the American political system, but also exposing them to the diversity that characterizes "issues and perspectives" in the American political experience.

AFC 313 - Contemporary Africa: The Struggle and Prospects for Development (GEGA)

This course serves as a survey of Africa's contemporary political economy. In examining postcolonial developments, the course focuses on regional and national strategies for social transformation.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: AAS 313
Perspectives on a Diverse World:

AFC 313 Contemporary Africa: the Struggle & Prospects for Development is designed as a survey of Africa's contemporary political economy. In examining post-colonial efforts at development, the course focuses on a cross-section of regional and national strategies for social transformation. Among subjects emphasized are economic cooperation and coordination initiatives on the continent, side by side with domestic and/or external contraints on national socioeconomic developmental efforts. The course also compares and contrasts Africa's major socioeconomic trends and performances with those of Latin America & the Caribbean and Asia and Pacific regions. This course meets the Global Awareness category of the General Education Program because its survey of the contemporary political-economic conditions of Africa will help to provide EMU students with a global perspective on forms of development in the contemporary world. Such a global perspective on development is all the more necessary, given the leadership role that the United States and Western Europe play within the international community.

AFC 351 - The Social Context of African American Health (GEKS)
Examines the health status of African Americans. Explores the interplay between environment, biology and culture; folk and popular health practices; and the organization and delivery of health care.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: AAS 351

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
AFC 351 applies an analysis of the social and cultural basis of health to the African American experience. To this end the course provides a broad introduction to social science suppositions and techniques. AAS 351 moves well beyond the idea that medical care- its presence, absence or quality- is the singular or most critical factor determining the health of a people, community or society. It reveals the importance of social phenomena in disease resistance and health promotion. Historical shifts from the prominence of infectious to chronic diseases; the implications to health of chattel slavery, sharecropping, segregation, poverty and structured inequality; the relationship between psychosocial factors and disease, i.e., destabilized social settings that compromise resistance to disease; environmental racism; and the health status of African Americans as it relates to the organization of work, family structure and function, religious beliefs, the organization of medical care, lifestyle, consumer manipulation and post-industrial society are major issues addressed by the course.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:
EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Art Major

The Bachelor of Science in Art is designed to allow students to explore Studio Art and Art History within a diverse liberal arts context. Foundation courses give students a basic skill set in both Art History and Studio practices, and a 9-credit area of concentration allows for a more in depth exploration in a medium of the student's choosing.

Bachelor of Fine Arts

Catalog Correction | This major was modified on August 8, 2016, to correct an error. The "All courses must be passed with a grade of "C" or above" requirement" only applies to the Graphic Design Concentration.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts is designed to encourage students to develop a personal focus and direction as well as learn to function professionally as artists.

An extensive range of foundation courses, culminating in ARTS 290 - Studio Concepts and the accompanying Foundations Review provides students with the basic skills they need to be successful in upper-level courses. The required area of concentration allows students to gain a level of expertise in a specific medium and use that expertise to refine their own artistic vision. Art elective requirements allow students to gain practical knowledge in a range of media as well as to engage in experiences that support their area of concentration. A Capstone course provides direction for their future professional careers and gives students an immersive experience by requiring them to exhibit and disseminate their work.

K-12 Arts Education

The K-12 Bachelor of Arts in Arts Education program is designed to prepare students to develop proficient skills in studio work, art inquiry, and teaching the visual arts. The program meets the Michigan Standards for Visual Arts Education programs and the National Art Education Standards for Teacher Preparation Programs.

Successful completion of this course of studies, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for certification for the Michigan Department of Education Elementary-Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in art, certification code LQ. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #095, "Visual Art Education."

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission
In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Notes:

* Students in Graphic Design must also take ARTH 474
 Course must be taken concurrently with the final course in chosen Area of Concentration. Capstone is a Writing Intensive class and meets the requirements of the General Education Program.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.
In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Art History

ARTH 100 - Art Appreciation (GEKA)
The aim is to acquaint students with art philosophies, their elements, principles and values.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: ART100

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Visual culture is an important means of expression and communication in the contemporary world. From advertisements to traffic signs, from television shows to food packaging, visual communication is used today to inform, manipulate and record social, political and economic values of our society. The visual culture of today is an extension and evolution of the visual culture of the past. Art is a primary means by which people throughout the world have been recording and relating their cultural values, philosophies, social identities and historical development. Art appreciation is the skill by which one can read, understand and enjoy these works of art. Through an understanding of important works of art, and the great artists who produced them, this course will be of value in the critical and intellectual understanding of the evolution of our history.

A student who successfully completes this course will learn how aesthetics, history, the visual vocabulary of art, the relationship between content and form and the dynamics of the visual language are the necessary means by which we increase our knowledge and awareness of ourselves, our culture and the world in which we live. Through the examination of important works of art, students will learn the essential descriptive vocabularies of the visual arts, how formal properties (style) shape and inform the content of a given work of art. Students will develop an ability to decode iconographic symbols and stylistic conventions that are culturally and historically specific, as well as symbols and intentions specific to particular artists and their work.

Last Updated: 07/2010 Effective 2010

ARTH 151 - Reason and Revolution (GEKH)

An examination of the transition in political history, philosophy, art, literature and music from Puritan England and Louis XIV's France to Napoleon. Team taught by members of the Art and History departments.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: ART151

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This inter-disciplinary course in history and art history is intended to introduce students to the works of art, philosophy and literature associated with a major turning point in European and world history- the Enlightenment and the French Revolution. It will offer students the opportunity to study the ideas that found their first political expression in the American Constitution, from their beginnings in the 17th century France and England through through the turmoil of revolution and war. The course will encourage students to analyze and write about a variety of artistic, philosophical and literary works in a specific historical context, and to understand how political events influenced humanistic thought and how the humanities shaped political and social change.

Last Updated: *

ARTH 161 - Survey of Non-Western Art (GEGA)

An introductory historical survey of the visual arts and architecture of cultures not directly linked to the artistic and cultural traditions of Western Civilization. Art works by the native inhabitants of Africa, Oceania, Asia and the Americas are examined for their historical and cultural significance.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: ART109

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Since the dawn of humanity human societies have been driven to create and embellish material objects giving visual expression to cultural values, social identities, religious beliefs, and individual concerns. Since art is a cultural phenomenon integral to the lives of people throughout the globe the study of it is a great way to gain timely and substantive insight into diverse cultures and the issues that concern them. Art from other places and times can also reveal ways of looking and thinking about the world and the place of humans in it that are different than one's own. For these reasons this course, which is concerned with the study of artworks created by artists whose primary cultural affiliations and ethnic heritages lie outside the greater European cultural context, meets the Global Awareness category of the General Education program. Through the study of artworks, the contexts in which they were created, and the people who made them, one will gain a foundational knowledge of diverse cultures throughout the globe and help one develop an awareness and sensitivity to different viewpoints on local and global issues and concerns that are voiced by artists from cultural backgrounds beyond the Western world.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:

The visual arts of non-western cultures are an important part of our world heritage. Art is an expression of cultural values, social identities and a means by which people throughout the globe have used to make meaning and sense of their world. A knowledge of non-western art should be no less important as part of a student's general education program than an understanding of great artworks and famous artists of western civilization. In the increasing interconnectedness and globalizing world of the present it is important that recognition be given to artistic achievements of other cultures as well as how those achievements relate to the art of ones own culture and that of others make meaning through art. Through the examination of non-western artworks students will learn the essential descriptive vocabularies of the visual arts, how formal properties (style) shape and inform the content of a given work of art; they will develop an ability to decode iconographic symbols and stylistic conventions that are culturally and historically specific. Students will also become more aware of the interrelationships among different cultures and the historic dynamics that have shaped the world and how an understanding of art can reveal cultural biases and help to better appreciate global diversity.

Last Updated: 12/2010

ARTH 162 - Survey of Western Art I (GEKA)

A survey of the development of the visual arts of the western world, from Paleolithic times art through the late Gothic period.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: ART107

Knowledge of the Disciplines:

ARTH 162 allows students to learn the content and methodologies by which one can understand the meaning presented in the visual arts. Through lectures and discussion, students will learn the essential descriptive vocabulary of the visual arts, and how formal properties (style) shape and inform the content of a given piece of art or architecture. In addition, they will develop an ability to decode iconographic symbols and stylistic conventions that are culturally and historically specific and significant. For example, a comparison between the art of Akenaton's kingdom and both earlier and later periods of ancient Egypt, students will see the important changes wrought in the culture and religion of the Late Kingdom. Students will also become more aware of the interrelationships among different cultures and the historical dynamics that have shaped the world and its visual expression.

ARTH 165 - Postmodern and Contemporary Art

This course, an introduction to the major trends and movements in recent art, is designed to help students learn and think critically about prevalent attitudes and theories about contemporary visual culture as well as to recognize the increasingly vital role played by the mass media and technology in the creation and dissemination of art. New media, such as video and digital art, and innovative forms of visual expression, such as conceptual and environmental art, will be investigated. Art will be examined as a response to current social, cultural, political and gender issues as will the reasons why artists make the shift from modernist to post-modernist strategies for making their work.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
In this course art is treated as an expression of cultural values, social identities and as means through which the people of Asia have made meaning and sense of their world. Across the continent of Asia many rich and long lasting artistic traditions have emerged and still play an important role in the lives of the people who live there. Through the examination of Representative artworks and architectural monuments of Asia students will learn the essential descriptive vocabularies of the visual arts, how formal properties (style) shape and inform the content of a given work of art; they will develop an ability to decode iconographic symbols and stylistic conventions that are culturally and historically specific. Although this course focuses on the art of Asia the concepts and methods for understanding art learned in this class are also applicable to understanding art in other contexts. Students will also become more aware the interrelationships among different cultures and the historical dynamics that have shaped the cultural and political landscape of Asia and how an understanding of art can reveal cultural biases and help one better appreciate global diversity.

ARTS 101 - Introduction to Art (GEKA)

An introductory course designed to develop understanding of the formal and conceptual aspects of the visual arts. Students will become familiar with art and artists from historical, contemporary, stylistic, and aesthetic perspectives. Emphasis will be on basic studio practices as a means of understanding visual language. No previous experience in art expected.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Major Restrictions: Bachelor of Fine Arts majors are to be excluded from enrolling in this course.
Previously Listed As: ART101
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
The visual arts communicate, express, record, capture, affect and reflect the world around us. The knowledge of how and why art has been created, how art relates to history and contemporary culture and understanding creative processes are an important part of any student's general education program. In this course, students will learn how a variety of visual art is produced. They will become familiar with the visual creative process as a means of understanding and appreciating the visual arts. Investigation of contemporary art practices will lead to an understanding of form and content. This will be achieved through hands-on projects, research and writing elements. Lectures, demonstrations, discussions and studio activities will be the primary means of investigation. No previous experience in the arts is expected.

Last Updated: Change in Major Restrictions 1/2013, effective Summer 2013

ARTS 104 - Graphic Design for Non-Majors (GEKA)

Problems will explore fundamental design and basic production considerations and the development of a professional design thought process.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: ART165
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Graphic design is a crucial component of visual communication. yet it is often "invisible" to those who encounter it, we are used to reading text without thinking about the impact of the typography- the visual vehicle by which information is transmitted. Visual communication rivals verbal communication in its ability to communicate. The correspondence between content and form is intrinsic to graphic design- design is structured around the communication of information from client and designer to a target audience. The formal material of graphic design, typography and image, must work together effectively in order to communicate the specific content of a project. Through the creation of design artifacts, students will learn the essential descriptive vocabularies of graphic design, and how a designer's choices about type and image in a piece shape the content of design. Through examination and analysis of professional graphic design, students will become familiar with the relationship between creative process and critical thinking. Graphic design offers audiences visual communicative data- in the form of type and image- that reflect, and also orchestrate, an array of cultural concerns. Understanding and experiencing how effective visual communication is produced offers students, insight into the role visual media play in molding the character of a culture.

ARTS 106L - Watercolor for Non-Majors (GEKA & GELB)

This course will introduce students to traditional and experimental watercolor techniques and processes. This course will provide students with studio experiences and art-making and will explore both contemporary and historical watercolor painting through slides and lectures.

_Credit Hours:_ 3 hrs
_Previously Listed As:_ ART169L

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Visual art is an important tool for communication both in public and personal contexts. Making art as well as learning to interpret both historical and contemporary art teaches students to be more visually aware, and gives them a richer understanding of visual media in both fine arts and contemporary culture. Watercolor painting is a visual art medium that has an historical presence in world art, while continuing to play a role in contemporary painting and drawing and in popular culture. This course provides students with a hands-on experience in studio art, beyond the classroom activities in the form of arts, lectures and gallery experiences, and exposure to knowledge and skills important for both creating visual pieces and for understanding how visual art, specifically painting communicates. In this course, students learn both traditional and experimental watercolor technique and processes and explore ways to combine the formal visual elements of their work with the content. Importantly, these experiences will help to increase awareness and understanding of visual art in contemporary culture, while empowering students to investigate different and creative means of expression.

ARTS 216 - Watermedia-Mixedmedia

The focus of this course is on connecting content with process. Students develop ideas for work and use water-based pigments with other materials to create mixed-media pieces. The class will focus on contemporary artists and ideas. Group and individual critiques are incorporated in all assignments for this course.
ARTS 221 - Beginning Photography

Beginning Photography is an introduction to photography as an art form. Basic camera and digital photographic processes and techniques are covered with an emphasis on using these tools to a creative end. Students must furnish their own 35mm manual SLR camera, as well as some additional supplies.

ARTS 225 - Beginning Ceramics

Beginning ceramics emphasizes hand-building techniques using earthenware and stoneware clays. The focus includes sculptural and utilitarian form; portrait busts, storage jars, platters, and cups are some of the assignments. Students learn to build forms using slabs, molds, modeling, and extruding techniques; alter surfaces, apply slips and glazes; and fire in electric and gas kilns.

ARTS 230 - Metalsmithing I

The course uses the media of metal and related materials to communicate ideas. Students work on pieces of adornment (jewelry), small sculpture and/or utilitarian items. This course applies the vocabulary of art to the understanding of metalsmithing in critiques and professional work. Students will learn to work with a myriad of tools, test their time management skills, focus on details and learn to work through a strict technical process for success in this media.

ARTS 235 - Beginning Sculpture

Beginning Sculpture further emphasizes the formal and technical processes and unique qualities of three dimensions. We look closely at sculpture's connection to the human scale and architectural relationships. We cover the very basic use of materials and their plastic qualities.
ARTS 240 - Introduction to Fibers

An introduction to fibers focusing on a broad range of fiber processes and techniques including surface design, weaving and three-dimensional fibers. This course will introduce a contemporary approach to the fibers field, which will emphasize fundamental fiber processes and the creative development of ideas.

ARTS 290 - Studio Concepts

Studio Concepts is a foundation course that emphasizes ideas and conceptual thinking as the nexus of contemporary studio practice. The course is not discipline or media specific. Contemporary themes and "large ideas" will be presented to students, who will create artworks in response to those themes using a wide variety of media and strategies. Written work, both in preparation for and in response to the completed studio projects, will assist students in building a vocabulary for communicating about visual and material language and art-related concepts. As the final studio experience within the foundation group of courses, Studio Concepts is designed to prepare students for the more rigorous conceptual thinking and self-directed work required by upper-level studio classes.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Previously Listed As: ART 480
Last Updated: 5/2/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 305 - Intermediate Life Drawing

Further study of the human figure as a subject in various media with an emphasis on the expressive use of the figurative motif.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 205
Previously Listed As: ART 316
Last Updated: 5/2/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 306 - Intermediate Drawing

Further studies in drawing with an emphasis on history, theory, and practice. Drawing techniques from previous courses will be integrated in expanded studies which focus on various concepts such as: the visual environment, narrative, and sequential art in order to establish a broad based understanding of the relationship between form and content.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 126
Last Updated: 5/2/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 307 - Drawing: Contemporary Methods and Materials

Intensive study and investigation of the relationship between space, form, and content. Emphasis is placed on media and methods as a means of exploring non-traditional approaches to drawing and as a tool for problem solving ideas through drawing as a process. Students will be exposed to contemporary issues and ideas through the use of research assignments, reading, and large scale projects to expand their understanding of an artists process of conceptualization.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 205, ARTS 290 and successful completion of Foundations Portfolio Review
Last Updated: 7/7/2011

ARTS 310 - Screen Printing II

A supplementary course on paper screen printing processes. Processes to be covered are photographic processes, CMYK, and monoprinting. Students are expected to develop concepts, work independently and pursue a greater understanding of contemporary art.

ARTS 311 - Etching and Intaglio

An introductory course that covers intaglio printmaking processes. Processes to be covered are drypoint, aquatint, monotyping, and etching. Students are expected to develop concepts and pursue a greater understanding of contemporary art.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 210, instructor approval, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 405
Last Updated: 2/23/2011

ARTS 312 - Lithographic Printing

An introductory printmaking course dealing with image, design, and concepts as they relate to Lithography. Processes to be covered are stone lithography, reduction printing methods, color printing, and methods of monoprinting. Students are expected to develop concepts, and pursue a greater understanding of the contemporary art.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 121, ARTS 122, ARTS 123, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ARTS 311 - Relief and Intaglio, ART 306
Last Updated: Title and Description Change 10/2012, effective Winter 2013

ARTS 313 - Relief Printmaking

An introductory course that covers relief printmaking processes. Processes to be covered are linoleum relief prints, color reduction, woodcut and multiple block printing. Students are expected to develop concepts and pursue a greater understanding of contemporary art.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: ARTS 121, ARTS 122, ARTS 123 and foundations review
Class Restrictions: Sophomore standing and above
Major Restrictions: BFA in Studio Art, BS in Studio Art and BA in Visual Arts Education students only
Last Updated: New Course 10/2012, effective Winter 2013

ARTS 315 - Watercolor II

Further exploration of concepts and techniques introduced in Watercolor I. Projects and assignments are designed to help students refine and expand watercolor technique and processes as well as foster individual research and the development of personal direction. Individual and group critiques are frequent.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 215, ARTS 290 and completion of foundations portfolio review
Previously Listed As: ART 414
Last Updated: 5/2/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 316 - Watercolor III
This course builds on concepts and techniques from Watercolor I and II. Focus is on pursuing an individual direction and establishing practices and processes for developing related series of paintings. Individual and group critiques are frequent.

ARTS 321 - Intermediate Photography I

An investigation of intermediate and advanced black and white techniques. Students continue to explore a conceptual approach to the medium while beginning to develop their own personal vision. The work of other photographers is considered to give students a better understanding of the photographic language.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 221, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 325
Last Updated: 2/23/2011

ARTS 322 - Intermediate Photography II

A continued investigation of techniques used in fine art photography with a particular focus on computer imaging. Students continue working to develop a personal style in preparation for the portfolio classes.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 221, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 326
Last Updated: 2/23/2011

ARTS 323 - Intermediate Photography III

This is a second/third/fourth semester course in photography. It is designed to give students a better understanding of the technical aspects of photography while challenging them to refine their own artistic vision and critical abilities. Instruction will include technical lectures and demonstrations, open lab sessions for addressing problems on an individual level, critiques of class work, slide and reading discussions.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 221, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Concurrent Prerequisite: ARTS 322
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 325 - Intermediate Ceramics I

Further experiences in handbuilding with clay, in addition to beginning throwing on the wheel. A continuation of both sculptural and utilitarian ceramic assignments with an emphasis on craftsmanship; more work done at stoneware temperatures.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 225, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 308
Last Updated: 2/24/2011
ARTS 326 - Intermediate Ceramics II

Continuing exploration of the clay medium with more emphasis on larger scale and increasingly complex sculptural and utilitarian forms. Alternative firing techniques are available -- salt, wood, and soda firings. Throwing is included. Introduction to glaze and clay testing methods.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 325 and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 407
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 330 - Metalsmithing II

The course introduces complex fitting and soldering, cold forging, and small-tool making for chasing and repoussé. Box construction is emphasized. The students improve their skills learned in Metalsmithing I and will begin to design with a personal style and meaning in their work.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 230, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 321
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 331 - Metalsmithing III

This course will focus on skills such as the use of the correct hammers for forming, raising, planishing, forging and texturing. Students learn to control a form in metal by making a template and raising according to the template. The students will also learn to increase the speed at designing and will experiment with a new technique to complete a three piece set of objects. The course will continue to develop style and meaning in student work while building a portfolio of exhibition work. Additional skills to be developed will be patina application, stick soldering, alternative finishes and hinges and photographing work.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 330 and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 442
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 335 - Intermediate Sculpture

This course expands mainly on the vast number of materials, techniques and processes necessary to execute finished sculptures. Major aspects of wood and metal fabrication and mold-making are covered in depth. All of the assignments also deal with the conceptual aspects of sculpture.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 235, ARTS 290 and completion of foundations portfolio review
Previously Listed As: ART 311
Last Updated: 5/3/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 340 - Weaving

An intermediate fibers class focusing on concepts using woven structures to explore historical and contemporary weaving. Fabrics will be investigated and created on the floor loom, which will be used as a tool for personal expression.
ARTS 341 - Intermediate Surface Design: Screen Printing

Intermediate fibers class focused on developing concepts through technical and creative solutions utilizing a broad range of materials and techniques. The techniques will range from low-tech to complex applications incorporating transparent and opaque textile pigments, thickened dye and discharge pastes.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 240, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 355
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 345 - Intermediate Furniture Design

Intermediate Furniture Design will focus on advanced woodworking processes along with their structural and aesthetic implications. These processes will include turning, laminate bending, vacuum bending, veneering, and relevant joinery methods. Students will design and build multiple furniture projects using these techniques.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 245, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 350 - Introduction to Graphic Design II

Projects examine type methodology; complex typographic systems; rhetorical devices; word-image structures; typographic history and theory. Introduces appropriate tools.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in ARTS 250, ARTS 290 and completion of foundations portfolio review
Previously Listed As: ART 205
Last Updated: 5/3/2011 - Prerequisites

ARTS 351 - Image Making I

Image making as it applies to the materials and processes of communicating specific visual concepts. Introduces a wide variety of materials and imaging methods.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in ARTS 250, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 301
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 352 - Intermediate Graphic Design I

Deals intensively with conceptual and technical issues; explores topics relevant to audience demographic; presents theories, philosophies, aesthetics and techniques related to mass-audience communication. Introduces appropriate methodologies.
ARTS 353 - Intermediate Graphic Design II

Course analyzes symbol codes as learned and interpreted messages. Projects explore audience; context; sequence; and theories, philosophies, aesthetics, techniques and cultural references in symbol language message building. Introduces appropriate methodologies.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in ARTS 350, ARTS 351, and department permission
Major Restrictions: Art Majors Only
Previously Listed As: ART 302
Last Updated: Prereq change 1/2013, effective Summer 2013; 2/24/2011

ARTS 355 - Introduction to Web and Interactive Media

This course introduces students to the fundamentals of web-based and interactive works of art. The course introduces students to appropriate scripting languages used to create web-based and interactive work. Conceptual and methodological approaches to web and interactive media are discussed. No previous programming experience is necessary.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 127
Last Updated: 7/7/2011

ARTS 356 - Installation and Performance

This course examines methods and materials for the creation and documentation of site-specific and performative works of art. Students create work that explores the integration of video, interactivity, and performance within a physical environment. Concepts of corporeality, duration/endurance, material methodologies and space are discussed as they pertain to visual art.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 255, ARTS 355, or instructor approval.
Last Updated: 7/7/2011

ARTS 357 - Intermediate Time-based Media

This course introduces students to advanced concepts and methods used in the production of time-based media as it is employed in an art context. Narrative, non-narrative, and performance structures are further explored. Additional methods of production, such as experimental animation, are introduced. The exhibition of screen-based work, both within the gallery and alternative venues, is further investigated.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 255
Last Updated: 7/7/2011

ARTS 358 - Intermediate Web and Interactive Media
This course further explores web-based and interactive works of art. Conceptual and methodological approaches to web and interactive media are further discussed. The course explores web memes and their role in visual art. Interactive environments and physical computing are introduced. The exhibition of interactive and net-based work, both within the gallery and alternative venues, is further investigated.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 355
Last Updated: Spelling Error 7/2014, 7/7/2011

ARTS 377 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART377

ARTS 378 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART378

ARTS 379 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART379

ARTS 387 - Cooperative Education in Art

Employment in a graphic design firm, studio, or agency with an opportunity for practical design experience. Placement approval required by graphic design area.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART387

ARTS 390W - Studio Concepts (GEWI)

Studio Concepts addresses conceptual/methodological approaches/practices for the making of art. The course is designed to expose students to conceptualization, visual production and meaning within the art world. It will examine contemporary artist' works and writings as well as larger critical theories.
Writing Intensive

ARTS 390W Studio Concepts
The Writing Intensive components in the Studio Concepts course are designed to give students experience writing within the field of visual art. Specific assignments include written artist statements, short narratives for the purpose of planning and describing upcoming projects, and written critiques and evaluations of peer work. For these writing assignments, students will be required to effectively bring together and utilize concepts and vocabulary introduced in prerequisite and co-requisite courses. Studio Concepts will provide students with practical writing skills in critical activities such as how to create an effective artist's statement, an ability studio artists need as they prepare for exhibitions and other professional events. The capacity to use writing to plan specific projects is also a critical skill; professional artists frequently apply for exhibitions, projects, and grants for which clearly written documents are essential to success. Finally, being able to write thoughtful and effective critiques of visual work is key to an artist's ability to analyze his or her own work and is important if an individual is to grow and develop effectively as an artist.

Last Updated: Gen Ed Approval 12/2011, effective Winter 2012; New Course 04/2011, effective Spring 2011

ARTS 401 - Advanced Painting I
Emphasizes the individual student's development of a personal direction in his/her work, which is supported by a sound conceptual foundation and is executed through appropriate technical means. There is a greater expectation of intellectual growth and focused skill development at this level.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 403 - Advanced Painting II
The culmination of the five-course painting sequence. By the end of this course, students are expected to present a cogent body of work that is conceptually and technically sound and at a level that demonstrates they are reasonably situated to proceed to master's level work, or to enter society as a working artist. A greater emphasis on research and writing may be included in the curriculum at this level.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011
ARTS 405 - Advanced Life Drawing

Investigation of contemporary approaches to the human figure as a subject. Emphasis is placed on interpretive skills and the development of a personal direction, which is supported by sound technical and conceptual foundation. Group discussions and critiques are frequent.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 290, ARTS 305 and completion of foundations portfolio review
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 419
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 406 - Advanced Drawing

Intensive studio work in selected perceptual or conceptual problems. Emphasis is on independent research and the development of a personal direction, which is supported by a sound technical and conceptual foundation. Group discussions and critiques are frequent.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 205 and ARTS 306
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 432
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 407 - Advanced Life Drawing II

Intensive studio work involving the human figure as subject in selected projects and drawing media. Emphasis is on independent research and the development of a cogent body of work that is technically and conceptually sound. Group discussions and critiques are frequent.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 300, ARTS 307 and ARTS 405
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 439
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 408 - Advanced Drawing II

Further intensive studio work in selected perceptual or conceptual problems. Emphasis is on independent research and the development of a cogent body of work that is technically and conceptually sound. Group discussions and critiques are frequent. Students will explore personal and aesthetic issues through independently driven assignments, class critiques, and visual and written materials, in the pursuit of creating an individual portfolio representative of a body of work.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 300, ARTS 307 and ARTS 406
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011
ARTS 410 - Intermediate Printmaking

Intermediate level course that focuses on combining previous processes and taking a non-traditional approach. The course places an emphasis on working independently and conceptual development. This course will also include more in-depth critiques, research and presentations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 290; Three of the following courses: ARTS 210, ARTS 310, ARTS 311, or ARTS 312; and have passed foundation review
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 406
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 411 - Advanced Printmaking

An advanced printmaking course that pushes the understanding of earlier processes. Students develop thematic work and are expected to push the dialogue to a more advanced level. Students are also expected to work independently on projects agreed upon by the instructor.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 410 and department permission
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 416 - Watercolor IV

Continuing development of an individual direction through research, planning, and process. Students focus on depth of content and self-evaluation. Preparation for the Senior Exhibition is emphasized. Individual and group critiques are frequent.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 300, ARTS 306 and ARTS 316
Concurrent Prerequisite: ARTS 216
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 424
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 421 - Photography Portfolio I

Development of a unified body of work representing the undergraduate photographic experience.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 321, ARTS 322, ARTS 323, and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 449
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 422 - Photography Portfolio II

This is a sixth semester course in photography. As a continuation of Portfolio Photography I, it is designed to give students the tools necessary to continue the pursuit of fine art photography on their own. Instruction will be based primarily around in-class critiques and discussion of student work, but will also include reading and slide discussions as well as technical demos and "workshops".

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 421 and department permission
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 425 - Advanced Ceramics I

Emphasis is placed on the development of personal style. The student will concentrate on sculptural or utilitarian work, handbuilt or thrown. Further training in glaze and clay development. Emphasis is on individual style, production techniques, studio management and exhibition programs.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 326 and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 408
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 426 - Advanced Ceramics II

Further emphasis is placed on the development of personal style with choices made: will the student concentrate on sculptural or utilitarian work, handbuilt or thrown? Further training in glaze and clay development. The summation of the undergraduate ceramics program; emphasis on individual style, production techniques, studio management and exhibition programs.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 421
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 430 - Metalsmith IV

The students will be responsible for developing a proposal for three exhibition pieces. This proposal will contain a theme, a list of experimental techniques to be tested and a procedural plan. At this point students are able to multitask in the studio. This way they can work on several pieces at once. All work will be photographed in a professional manner.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 331
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 443
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 431 - Metalsmithing V

This course is designed to allow students design complex metals pieces and encourage individual exploration of advanced techniques. Techniques include but are not limited to: blacksmithing, enameling, stone setting, die making, lathe work, electroforming, casting, patina exploration, hydraulic press work, photo etching, mold-making and commercial exploration or limited production work. Students will select a particular technique, research and experiment the technique, and complete three exhibition quality works.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 430 and department permission
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 435 - Advanced Sculpture I

The students in advanced sculpture are allowed to pursue a concept or technique from ARTS 335 as the beginning of their self-directed studio experience. Many types of mold making are explored. Leads to bronze and other metal casting processes. Extensive experimentation in chosen technique(s) is expected.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 335 and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 410
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 436 - Advanced Sculpture II

The students in advanced sculpture are directed to continue working on a concept or technique from their sculpture experiences and begin to explore and create a body of work. Students are encouraged and challenged to create a strong studio work ethic and an ability to begin to make self-directed choices.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 435 and department permission
Previously Listed As: ART 411
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 437 - Advanced Sculpture III

The students in advanced sculpture are directed to continue working on a concept or technique from their sculpture experiences and begin to explore and create a body of work. The students are required to write an artist statement, photograph their work, and build a digital portfolio.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 436 and department permission
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 412
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 440 - Three-Dimensional Fibers

This course will focus on the investigation of traditional and nontraditional three-dimensional fiber processes using a broad range of materials and processes. Sculptural approaches to fiber structures will be enhanced through an investigation of material and concept exploration.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 240 and department permission
Concurrent Prerequisite: ARTS 340
Previously Listed As: ART 458
Last Updated: 2/24/2011
ARTS 441 - Digital Printing for Fibers

Advanced fibers class focusing on digital printing onto a variety of fabrics using digital photography and computer programs as a tool for further manipulation. The investigation of concepts and use of pattern, imagery and meaning onto fabrics will further transform and manipulate the fabric surface.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 340, ARTS 341, and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 450
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015; Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 442 - Embellished Surfaces

This class introduces many different forms of embellishing that enhance a wide variety of surfaces. Processes will include: applique, reverse applique, beading, hand and machine sewing all on a variety of constructed surfaces. The course challenges students to develop concepts and ideas that expand the traditional boundaries of embellishment.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 240, ARTS 290, passed foundation review, and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015; Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 443 - Advanced Fibers

The primary focus is on developing a strong body of work created by using fiber or fiber related techniques culminating in portfolio development.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 340; ARTS 341; and one of the following: ARTS 440, ARTS 441, or ARTS 442; and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 455
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015; Graduate Credit 07/2011; 2/24/2011

ARTS 445 - Advanced Furniture Design I

Advanced Furniture Design I will focus on non-wood fabrication processes, along with their structural and aesthetic implications. Materials used will include aluminum, steel, fiberglass, and plastics. Students will learn welding, casting, and fiberglass lay-up processes, and will design and build multiple furniture projects using these techniques.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 345 and department permission
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 446 - Advanced Furniture Design II
Advanced Furniture Design II will focus on chair design, ergonomics, and upholstery methods along with their structural and aesthetic implications. Students will design and build multiple chair projects combining previous methods/materials with these concepts.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 445 and department permission
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 447 - Furniture Design Portfolio

Furniture Design Portfolio will focus on the design and execution of each student's degree project and the preparation of a professional portfolio. Students will conduct research and/or data collection relative to the nature of each project. Projects will demonstrate a personal style of mode of expression.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 446 and department permission
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Last Updated: 2/24/2011

ARTS 451 - Image Making II

Image making as applied to advanced communication concepts. Students are exposed to theories, philosophies, aesthetics, techniques and experiences used in visual message building.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in ARTS 352 and completion of foundations portfolio review
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 462
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Prerequisites 05/2011

ARTS 452 - Advanced Graphic Design

Advanced work in visual communications; students are exposed to theories, philosophies, aesthetics, techniques and experiences used in complex visual communication environments.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in ARTS 353, ARTS 451 and ARTH 474
Corequisites: ARTS 490W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 460
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, this course is no longer approved for Graduate credit.

Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Prereq change 1/2013, effective Summer 2013; Graduate Credit 07/2011; 05/2011

ARTS 454 - Graphic Design Practicum

This course gives students direct experience in the field of graphic design by working on client-based projects. Projects vary each term and include both on and off campus clients.
ARTS 455 - Advanced Time-based Media I

Intensive studio that students begin to explore personal and aesthetic issues through independently driven assignments, class critiques, and visual and written materials, in the pursuit of creating a body of work or larger work. Students must demonstrate a conceptual, technical, and methodological understanding of time-based media. Work produced can explore any genre of time-based media including but not limited to: web media, digital video, experimental animation, interactive installation, and performance art.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 352, department permission, and instructor approval
Previously Listed As: ART 348

ARTS 456 - Advanced Time-based Media II

Intensive studio furthering the exploration of personal and aesthetic issues that students begin in ARTS 455 Advanced Time-based Media I. Students must demonstrate a conceptual, technical, and methodological understanding of time-based media. Work produced can explore any genre of time-based media including but not limited to: web media, digital video, experimental animation, interactive installation, and performance art. Course to be taken concurrently with ARTS 490 Capstone.

Credit Hours: 3
Prerequisite: ARTS 357, ARTS 358
Last Updated: 7/7/2011

ARTS 477 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART477

ARTS 478 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART478

ARTS 479 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.
ARTS 479 - Cooperative Education in Art

Employment in a graphic design firm, studio or agency with an opportunity for practical design experience. Placement approval required by graphic design area.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART479

ARTS 487 - Cooperative Education in Art

Employment in a graphic design firm, studio or agency with an opportunity for practical design experience. Placement approval required by graphic design area.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ARTS 387; approval by graphic design area; department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ART 487
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 02/2011

ARTS 490W - Capstone (GEWI)

This course is taken in conjunction with the last course in each student's area of concentration. It is designed as the culminating learning experience for students in the BFA curriculum and will help provide direction for their future professional careers. The course will focus on preparation for a required senior exhibition, the development of a professional portfolio, and the creation of necessary written documents to support one's professional career.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Concurrent Prerequisite: Students must be enrolled in the last course of their area of concentration: ARTS 403 or ARTS 407 or ARTS 408 or ARTS 411 or ARTS 416 or ARTS 422 or ARTS 426 or ARTS 431 or ARTS 437 or ARTS 443 or ARTS 447 or ARTS 452 or ARTS 456
Class Restrictions: Senior standing only
Previously Listed As: ARTS 490

ARTS 497 - Independent Study

Advanced study on an individual basis in areas in which the department does not have regular course work.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART497

ARTS 498 - Independent Study

Advanced study on an individual basis in areas in which the department does not have regular course work.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: ART498

ARTS 499 - Independent Study
Advanced study on an individual basis in areas in which the department does not have regular course work.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

Biology Programs and Courses

Biology

Major

Biology Major

Revised Program, effective Fall 2014

Majors should start with BIO 110 followed by BIO 120 in their freshman year. Chemistry courses should also be started in the freshman year in order to fulfill the requirements for the 300- and 400- level biology courses. The core biology lectures and laboratories should be completed no later than the end of the junior year. Since BIO 301 is a pre- or co-requisite for both BIO 305 and BIO 315, it should be completed as soon as possible to avoid any delay in graduation. The 15 semester hours of electives allow a student to specialize or to take a variety of biology courses. Although some electives can be taken as early as the sophomore year, most will be taken in the junior and senior years. Students are strongly advised to elect the remaining core course as one of the electives.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.
Major Requirements: 63-65

Biology: 36 hours

Required Foundation Courses: 13 hours

Please Note: Effective Winter 2015, BIO 110 was split into separate lecture (BIO 110) and lab (BIO 111) courses and BIO 120 was split into separate lecture (BIO 120) and lab (BIO 121) courses

- BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) 5 hrs
- BIO 120 - Introductory Biology II 5 hrs
- BIO 301 - Genetics 3 hrs

Biology Core Courses: 6 hours

Two courses from the following:

- BIO 305 - Cell and Molecular Biology 3 hrs
- BIO 310 - Ecology 3 hrs
- BIO 315 - Evolution 3 hrs

Biology Core Labs: 3 hours

One course from the following:

- BIO 306W - Cell and Molecular Biology and Genetics Laboratory (GEWI) 3 hrs
- BIO 311W - Laboratory in Ecology (GEWI) 3 hrs

Restricted Electives: 14 hours

Choose an additional 14 semester hours from the list below. At least one course must be at the 400 level.

- BIO 305 - Cell and Molecular Biology 3 hrs
- BIO 306W - Cell and Molecular Biology and Genetics Laboratory (GEWI) 3 hrs
- BIO 310 - Ecology 3 hrs
- BIO 311W - Laboratory in Ecology (GEWI) 3 hrs
- BIO 315 - Evolution 3 hrs
- BIO 326 - Human Physiology 3 hrs
- BIO 328 - Microbiology for Health Professions 4 hrs
  or BIO 425 - General Microbiology 5 hrs (may not use both as restricted electives)
- BIO 330 - Neuroanatomy 4 hrs
- BIO 387 - Cooperative Education in Biology 3 hrs
- BIO 406 - The Nature of Science 1 hr
- BIO 410 - Limnology 3 hrs
- BIO 411 - Animal Physiological Ecology 3 hrs
- BIO 412 - Biogeography 3 hrs
- BIO 413 - Wetland Ecosystems 3 hrs
- BIO 414 - Terrestrial Ecosystems 3 hrs
• BIO 415 - Microbial Ecology 3 hrs
• BIO 416 - Behavioral Ecology 3 hrs
• BIO 417 - Conservation Biology 4 hrs
• BIO 425 - General Microbiology 5 hrs or BIO 328 - Microbiology for Health Professions 4 hrs (may not use both as restricted electives)
• BIO 426 - Immunobiology 3 hrs
• BIO 429 - Bacterial Pathogenesis 3 hrs
• BIO 443 - Developmental Biology 3 hrs
• BIO 446 - Genome Analysis 4 hrs
• BIO 447 - Scanning Electron Microscopy 3 hrs
• BIO 455 - Plant Evolution and Classification 3 hrs
• BIO 456 - Freshwater Algae 3 hrs
• BIO 457 - Aquatic Plants 3 hrs
• BIO 458 - Trees and Shrubs 3 hrs
• BIO 459 - Mycology 3 hrs
• BIO 460 - Plant Anatomy 3 hrs
• BIO 461 - Plant Physiology 3 hrs
• BIO 462 - Plant Biotechnology 3 hrs
• BIO 472 - Parasitology 3 hrs
• BIO 473 - Concepts in Animal Physiology 3 hrs
• BIO 474 - Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates 4 hrs
• BIO 476 - Mammalian Histology 3 hrs
• BIO 480 - Natural History of Invertebrates 3 hrs
• BIO 481 - Natural History of Vertebrates 3 hrs
• BIO 482 - Ichthyology 3 hrs
• BIO 483 - Mammalogy 3 hrs
• BIO 484 - Herpetology 3 hrs
• BIO 485 - Ornithology 3 hrs
• BIO 486 - Entomology 3 hrs
• BIO 487 - Cooperative Education in Biology 3 hrs
• BIO 488 - Biology of Arachnids 3 hrs
• BIO 490 - Special Topics 1 hr
• BIO 491 - Special Topics 2 hrs
• BIO 492 - Special Topics 3 hrs
• BIO 497 - Undergraduate Research in Biology 1 hr
• BIO 498 - Undergraduate Research in Biology 2 hrs
• BIO 499 - Undergraduate Research in Biology 3 hrs

Chemistry: 16-17 hours

• CHEM 121 - General Chemistry I (GEKN) 3 hrs
• CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr
• CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
• CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr

Select either option I or option II:
Option I:

- CHEM 371 - Organic Chemistry I 3 hrs
- CHEM 372 - Organic Chemistry II 3 hrs
- CHEM 373 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory 2 hrs

Option II:

- CHEM 270 - Survey of Organic Chemistry 4 hrs
- CHEM 271 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory 1 hr

One course from the following:

- CHEM 351 - Foundations of Biochemistry 4 hrs
- CHEM 451 - Biochemistry I 3 hrs

Physics: 8 hours

- PHY 221 - Mechanics, Sound and Heat (GEKN) 4 hrs
- PHY 222 - Electricity and Light 4 hrs

Math: 3-4 hours

One course from the following:

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 170 - Elementary Statistics (GEQR) 3 hrs

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Note:

- Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Options are BIO 306W and BIO 311W.
- Students who plan to pursue graduate work in biology or who are in a pre-professional program should select Option I: CHEM 371/372/373 Organic Chemistry I-II with lab.
- No more than 6 credit hours total of BIO 387 - Cooperative Education in Biology and BIO 497/ BIO 498/ BIO 499 can be counted toward the major.
- Any Biology Core Course or Biology Core Lab can be counted either toward the Core Course/Core Lab requirements or toward the Restricted Elective requirement but not both.
Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:
EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Secondary Education Biology Major

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in biology, certification code DA and, depending on the minor selected, an additional endorsement. This program of study meets all requirements of the National Science Teachers Association. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #017, "Biology."

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.
Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

Professional Secondary Education Sequence

Secondary Education Pre-Admission Phase: The Learner and the Community: 7 hours

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or higher.

- EDPS 322 - Human Development and Learning 4 hrs
- SPGN 251 - Introduction to Inclusion and Disabilities Studies in a Diverse Society (GEUS) 3 hrs

The following phases require formal admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program:

Secondary Education Phase I: Curriculum, Assessment and the Social Context: 15 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Pre-Admission Phase is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.
 These courses must be taken with or after CURR 305.

- * CURR 305 - Curriculum and Methods: Secondary 3 hrs
-  EDMT 330 - Instructional Applications of Media and Technology 3 hrs
-  EDPS 340 - Introduction to Assessment and Evaluation 3 hrs
- * PRCT 305 - Practicum I: Secondary 3 hrs
- SOFD 328W - Schools for a Diverse and Democratic Society (GEWI) 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase II: Content and Methods and Teaching: 9 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase I is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.
Methods Course by Major:

Biology Majors take:

- BIOT 403 - Methods for Teaching Secondary Biology 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase III: Capstone Experience: 9 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase II and 100 pre-student teaching hours is required.

- EDUC 492 - Student Teaching (GELB) 9 hrs
  This course requires a formal application to be submitted 7-8 months prior to the Student Teaching semester.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Notes:

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Options are BIO 306W and BIO 311W.

* PHY 406, CHEM 406 or ESSC 406 may be substituted for BIO 406

Critical Graduation Information:

Minor
Biology Minor

Minors should start with BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) followed by BIO 120 - Introductory Biology II in their freshman or sophomore year. Minors without high school biology should take BIO 105 - Introductory Biology for Non-majors (GEKN) before taking BIO 110. (Although BIO 105 will not count toward the biology minor, credit earned in this course will count toward the 124 hours required for graduation.)

Students need to take CHEM 121/CHEM 122 and CHEM 123/CHEM 124 to satisfy the prerequisites for BIO 305.

- BIO 310 - Ecology 3 hrs
- BIO 315 - Evolution 3 hrs
Elective Courses: 6 hours

Six hours at the 300- or 400-level in biology selected in consultation with a biology advisor. All elective courses must have a minimum prerequisite of BIO 120. BIOT courses may NOT be counted toward a biology minor. Students are strongly advised to select other restricted electives to fulfill this requirement. No more than six hours of BIO 387 - Cooperative Education in Biology and BIO 497-499 - Undergraduate Research in Biology can be counted toward the minor.

Minor Total: 22 hours

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S.
institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Conservation and Resource Use Minor

Revised Minor, effective Fall 2014

This program is administered jointly by the heads of the Department of Biology, the Department of Economics, The Department of Geography and Geology and the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminology.

Students electing this minor must confer with the advising coordinator for conservation and resource use to obtain an approved schedule of electives. Substitutions on the approved program will count only if approved by the advisor.

Students are strongly urged to take PLSC 202 - State and Local Government (GEKS)

Required Courses: 13-14 hours

- BIO 107 - Introduction to Environmental Science (GEGA) 3 hrs
  or
- ESSC 107 - Introduction to Environmental Science (GEGA) 3 hrs

- * BIO 226 - Global Ecology and the Environment 4 hrs
-  ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs

One course from the following:

-  ESSC 108 - Earth Science for Nonscience Majors (GEKN) 3 hrs
-  ESSC 110 - The Dynamic Earth System (GEKN) 4 hrs

Elective Courses: 9 hours

_Nine hours from the following selected in consultation with the advising coordinator (at least six credit hours must be at the 300-level or above):_

- BIO 130 - Biology of Plants 4 hrs
- BIO 140 - Biology of Animals 4 hrs
- BIO 215 - Plants and People (GEGA) 3 hrs
- BIO 310 - Ecology 3 hrs
- BIO 311W - Laboratory in Ecology (GEWI) 3 hrs
- BIO 410 - Limnology 3 hrs
- BIO 412 - Biogeography 3 hrs
- BIO 413 - Wetland Ecosystems 3 hrs
- BIO 414 - Terrestrial Ecosystems 3 hrs
- BIO 455 - Plant Evolution and Classification 3 hrs
- BIO 456 - Freshwater Algae 3 hrs
- BIO 457 - Aquatic Plants 3 hrs
- BIO 458 - Trees and Shrubs 3 hrs
- BIO 460 - Plant Anatomy 3 hrs
- BIO 480 - Natural History of Invertebrates 3 hrs
- BIO 481 - Natural History of Vertebrates 3 hrs
- BIO 482 - Ichthyology 3 hrs
- BIO 483 - Mammalogy 3 hrs
- BIO 484 - Herpetology 3 hrs

• URP 495 - Environmental Assessment and Planning 3 hrs
• SOCL 306 - The Urban Community 3 hrs
• SOCL 334 - Population 3 hrs

Minor Total: 22-23 hours

Notes:

All minors must have at least six hours of course work at the 300-level or above.

* Biology majors minoring in conservation will take BIO 310 and BIO 311W in the major and substitute 4 credits of additional approved electives in the minor. Biology majors cannot apply BIO 310 and BIO 311W to this minor.

 Students who elect ECON 201-202 for other purposes in their curricula, as in Business Administration, may not count ECON 202 as an elective in this minor and must substitute 3 credits of additional approved electives in the minor.

 Students required to take ESSC 108 - Earth Science for Nonscience Majors (GEKN)(Gen Ed Area IV) in a major or minor in the Geography and Geology Department must substitute 3 credits of additional approved electives in the minor.

Required Courses: 4-5 hours

Please Note: Effective Winter 2015, BIO 110 was split into separate lecture (BIO 110) and lab (BIO 111) courses.

One course from the following:

- BIO 105 - Introductory Biology for Non-majors (GEKN) 4 hrs
- BIO 106 - Biology from a Human Perspective (GEKN) 4 hrs
- BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) 5 hrs

Elective Courses: 15-16 hours

15 to 16 hours of the following:

- BIO 251 - Human Anatomy and Physiology I 4 hrs
- BIO 255 - Human Genetics 3 hrs
- BIO 256 - The Biology of Cancer 2 hrs
- BIO 257 - Human Embryonic Development 3 hrs
• BIO 258 - Germs, Plagues and Human Infections 3 hrs
• BIO 259 - Biology of Aging 2 hrs
• BIO 269 - Biology of Sex and Gender 3 hrs
• BIO 328 - Microbiology for Health Professions 4 hrs
• BIO 330 - Neuroanatomy 4 hrs

No more than one course from the following:

• * BIO 252 - Human Anatomy and Physiology II 4 hrs
• * BIO 326 - Human Physiology 3 hrs

Minor Total: 20 hours

Due to the unique numbering system in place in the Department of Biology, it has been determined by the University that completion of the Human Biology minor as written in the catalog meets the requirements for graduation.

Note:

Minors should start with either BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110.

* For students choosing to take an additional course in human physiology after completing BIO 251, they may choose either BIO 252 or BIO 326, but not both.

The Human Biology Minor is open to the biology major, however these students will not be able to apply BIO 110 toward the Human Biology Minor because it must be applied to the biology major. Instead, these students are required to make up 4 credit hours from the above electives or consult with an advisor for details.

Minor Total for Science Majors: 25 hours

Students minoring in Biology with secondary certification, but not majoring in a science teaching program must take the following courses:

• BIOT 403 - Methods for Teaching Secondary Biology 3 hrs
• * BIO 406 - The Nature of Science 1 hr

Minor Total for Non-Science Majors: 29 hours

Notes:

All minors must have at least six hours of course work at the 300-level or above.

* CHEM 406, ESSC 406, or PHY 406 may be substituted for BIO 406.

 Students need to take CHEM 121/122 and CHEM 123/124 to satisfy the prerequisites for BIO 305.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Department Website

Advisor Information:

Students are strongly encouraged to make annual appointments with a departmental advisor by contacting:

Biology Department Office - (734) 487-4242

A faculty advisor will help you determine which courses to take and in what sequence, to make sure that you satisfy your degree requirements as efficiently as possible. If you have not already seen a Biology faculty advisor, you should make an appointment as soon as possible, and schedule yearly appointments thereafter.

For a list faculty advisors for specific interest areas, please follow this link.

Minor Total: 20 hours

Open only to students majoring in biology. Students electing this minor must file an approved program of required/elective courses with a faculty advisor and with the Department of Biology undergraduate coordinator. Any program changes require prior written approval of the faculty advisor and the Department of Biology undergraduate coordinator.

This minor is not to be considered as a teaching minor for prospective elementary or secondary teachers. Prospective teachers who wish to elect this minor must complete a second minor outside of the Biology Department to satisfy the current requirements for teacher certification.

Note:

All minors must have at least six hours of course work at the 300 level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.
The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

Biology
BIO 105 - Introductory Biology for Non-majors (GEKN)

A study of the basic concepts of modern biology common to all organisms with an emphasis on human systems and issues. Designed for students who are not majoring or minoring in biology.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: The course consists of two 75-minute lectures and three hours of laboratory each week
Previously Listed As: BIOL 105

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
BIO 105 is designed to enable students who are not biology majors to understand the fundamental concepts, principles and processes upon which all life is based, the relationship between biology and their day-to-day world; how scientists acquire scientific knowledge; and how this methodology is used to address questions important to health and environmental issues around the world. This information provides students with the tools to enable them to become responsible, scientifically literate global citizens and voters. Students who successfully complete BIO 105 have the ability to critically evaluate popular press articles and other media reporting on technological, health-related and environmental issues. This ability empowers students to make better, scientifically-informed life decisions.

BIO 106 - Biology from a Human Perspective (GEKN)

This course is an introductory course that emphasizes human biology for the non-major in lecture and a laboratory that includes dissections. We cover the fundamental concepts, principles, and processes upon which life is based and the use of the scientific method through the application of these principles, concepts and processes.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No
Equivalent Courses: BIO 105

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
BIO 106 is designed to enable students who are not biology majors to understand the following: the fundamental concepts, principles, and processes upon which life is based; the relationship between biology and their day-to-day world; how scientists acquire scientific knowledge; and how this methodology is used to address questions important to health and environmental issues around the world. This information provides students with the tools to enable them to become responsible, scientifically literate global citizens and voters. Students who successfully complete BIO 106 have the ability to critically evaluate popular press articles and other media reporting on technological, health-related and environmental issues. This ability empowers students to make better, scientifically-informed life decisions. As such, BIO 106 meets the requirements of a Natural Science Course in the Knowledge of the Disciplines portion of the new General Education program.

BIO 107 - Introduction to Environmental Science (GEGA)

An introduction to the basic biological, physical and chemical processes that control today's environmental conditions. The global ecosystem is presented as a structure that includes human society. The understanding of local and global environmental problems and discussion of potential solutions are emphasized.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Cross-Listed with: ESSC 107
Previously Listed As: BIOL 107

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
This course gives students an understanding of important challenges to the integrity of the global ecosystem and begins to explain many of the scientific and social issues that surround them. Globally, human health and economic well-being can only be sustained under amenable environmental conditions, which depend on climate, atmosphere, water, forests, agricultural soils, human population density and biodiversity. Every bit of the surface of Earth is influenced by human activities; the global connectedness of our economic activities means that many of our everyday decisions impact far-flung corners of the planet. The goal of this class is for students to gain a better understandings of the workings of the global ecosystem and how the expanding human population interacts with it and depends on it. Learning the basics of environmental science will allow students to make informed decisions about individual and collective actions that impact the present and future state of the environment, both locally and globally.

BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN)

The basic concepts of biology upon which students can begin to develop a conceptual framework of the discipline will be developed in this course and reinforced in upper-level courses. Cell structure and function, molecular biology, Mendelian and population genetics, evolutionary theory and ecology will be covered in this first semester of a two-semester sequence. Inquiry-oriented laboratory exercises and inquiry-oriented methods will be emphasized in lecture and discussion sections.

Credit Hours: 5 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Course meets for two 75-minute lectures, one hour of discussion and three hours of laboratory each week
Prerequisite: MATH 098 or above or Math level 2 with concurrent registration in MATH 098
Notes: BIO 110 is required for students taking a major or minor in biology.
Previously Listed As: BIOL 110
Course Revisions: The following course revisions are effective Winter 2015, 1) The course description will read "This lecture course, taken concurrently with BIO 111, begins the two-semester introductory core sequence for Biology majors and minors. Students are introduced to cell structures and function, molecular biology, Mendelian and population genetics, evolutionary theory and ecology. These fundamental biological concepts, principles and processes will be reinforced in upper-level courses." 2) Credit Hours will reduce to 3 hrs 3) BIO 111 will be added as a co- 4) Prerequisite requirement will change to "MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 112, MATH 119, MATH 120, or (level 4 placement or level 3 placement) with concurrent registration in MATH 104"

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
BIO 110 is designed to enable students to understand the fundamental concepts, principles and processes upon which all life is based; the relationship of the course material to their day-to-day world; and how to apply the scientific method. Students are provided with the tools to enable them to become responsible, scientifically literate global citizens and voters. Students who successfully complete BIO 110 have the ability to read critically a biologically relevant popular press article and to evaluate the reporting of technological, health-related and environmental issues. The ability empowers students to make better, scientifically-informed life decisions.

Last Updated: Change to prerequisites 5/2014, effective Winter 2015; Change to course description, credit hours, and co-reqs 4/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 111 - Introductory Biology I Laboratory

This is a companion laboratory course to BIO 110, the first lecture course in the core sequence for Biology majors and minors. Students will be introduced to the fundamental concepts, principles, processes and techniques upon which all of biology is based and they will learn to competently use the scientific method through the application of these principles, concepts and processes.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Class Restrictions: All Undergraduates
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015; students will be required to take this course at the same time as BIO 110.

Last Updated: New Course 4/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 120 - Introductory Biology II
The basic concepts of biology upon which students can begin to develop a conceptual framework of the discipline will be developed in this course and reinforced in upper-level courses. Plant physiology, development and diversity; and animal physiology, development, diversity and behavior, will be covered in this second semester of a two-semester sequence. A continued emphasis on inquiry-oriented laboratory exercises and inquiry-oriented methods will be applied to lecture and discussion sections.

Credit Hours: 5 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Course meets for two 75-minute lectures, one hour of discussion and three hours of laboratory each week
Prerequisite: C or better in BIO 110
Notes: BIO 120 is required for students taking a major or minor in biology.
Previously Listed As: BIOL 120

Course Revisions: The following course revisions are effective Winter 2015,
1) The course description will read "The basic concepts upon which students can begin to develop a conceptual framework of the discipline will be developed in this course and reinforced in upper-level courses. Evolutionary theory, ecology, plant physiology, development and diversity; animal physiology, development, diversity and behavior will be covered in this second semester of a two-semester lecture sequence;"
2) The total credit hours will decrease to 3 hrs
3) A 'C' grade or better in both BIO 110 and BIO 111 will be added as a prerequisite
4) BIO 121 will be added as co-requisite.

Last Updated: Change to course description, credit hours, prerequisite and co-requisite 4/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 121 - Introductory Biology II Laboratory

This course is expected to complement the lecture content in BIO 120, which covers plant and animal systems. This is an inquiry-oriented laboratory that uses lab exercises to introduce students to appropriate methods of data collection and analysis. There will be an emphasis on scientific communication. Students will be expected to present results and conclusions in the form of written scientific reports and oral presentations. These will also require the reading, interpretation and incorporation of primary scientific literature.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: A 'C' grade or better in BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) and BIO 111 - Introductory Biology I Laboratory
Corequisites: BIO 120 - Introductory Biology II
Class Restrictions: All Undergraduates
Last Updated: New Course 4/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 130 - Biology of Plants

An introduction to the plant kingdom for non-biology majors. The biology of plants is explored from the cellular through whole-organism levels of organization, focusing on the roles of diverse plant groups in our environment.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Two 75-minute lectures plus three hours of laboratory experience.
Notes: Required in Plant Biology Minor if a student is not a Biology Major
Previously Listed As: BOTN 130
Last Updated: 2/16/2011

BIO 140 - Biology of Animals

With three hours of lecture and three hours of combined recitation/demonstration and laboratory this course will focus on the biology and impact of the diverse animal groups in their interaction with humans. Diseases caused, new medical contributions, economic costs and benefits and ecological roles of repressive animals will be studied.
Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Notes: Does not count toward the Biology major or minor.
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 140

BIO 177 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 177

BIO 178 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 178

BIO 179 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 179

BIO 205 - Field Biology

A lecture, laboratory and field course in the behavior, ecology and broad classification of plants and animals, giving training in recognition of common plants and animals of Michigan. Gives background material to the nonspecialist interested in outdoor life, and to the elementary school teacher.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Previously Listed As: BIOL 205

BIO 215 - Plants and People (GEGA)

A study of the characteristics, cultural history, and current uses of plants that yield food, fiber, pharmaceuticals, and industrial products. Emphasis is placed on the roles of plants in the development of civilization. Topics such as genetically engineered food and sustainable agriculture are also discussed.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Cross-Listed with: BIOT 504
Previously Listed As: BOTN 215
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
We frequently encounter the plant kingdom in our daily lives - in food, shelter, textiles, medicines, drugs, pesticides and perfumes. In this course we will learn about the fascinating interactions between plants and humans. We will investigate how plants are named and classified in various cultures, how plants played an important role in the origins of civilization, and how plants may likely be the solution to serious global issues like hunger, malnutrition, and our current energy crisis. Topics will include: crop domestication (how did we get the rice and wheat all humans now depend on?); the evolution and conservation of genetic and biological diversity (why is it important to conserve the Amazon forest before it disappears?); biotechnology (is it ethically acceptable to export a crop that we manipulated in the lab that we, Americans, are reluctant to consume?); drugs and alcohol (should Michigan residents be allowed to use Marijuana for medicinal purposes?); natural dyes (how do we make blue jeans blue?); the movement of plants among cultures around the world (coffee and tea are not native to North America and yet we depend on them to start our day) and biofuel alternatives (will we all be driving cars fueled by algae soon?). These topics are selected for both their local and global impacts in order to help students become critical thinkers on important issues that have direct influence on their daily lives. With the successful completion of this course students will see plants, the campus, their world and their decisions in a new light. As such, BIO 215 meets the requirements of a Global Awareness Course in the General Education program.

Last Updated: General Education Approval 02/2012, effective Fall 2012

BIO 226 - Global Ecology and the Environment

This course is an introduction to basic ecological principles and their application to current global environmental issues and conservation practices. The effect of the human population explosion on the conservation and use of resources and biodiversity is emphasized.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 107/ESSC 107, BIO 105, or BIO 110 or BIO 106
Previously Listed As: BIOL 226
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 251 - Human Anatomy and Physiology I

An intensive lecture and laboratory course investigating human anatomy and physiology with emphasis on both normal and pathological conditions, in a two-semester sequence. First semester will cover the basic structure and functions of the integumentary, muscular, skeletal, nervous and endocrine systems.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: High school Biology
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 201

BIO 252 - Human Anatomy and Physiology II

An intensive lecture and laboratory course investigating human anatomy and physiology with emphasis on both normal and pathological conditions, in a two-semester sequence. The second semester will cover circulation, metabolism, the cardiovascular, digestive, excretory and reproductive systems, and the integration of the systems of the body.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 251 and either BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110 or CHEM 120
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 202
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015.
BIO 255 - Human Genetics

A lecture course emphasizing fundamental concepts of human genetics specifically designed to provide the non-biology major a framework to understand and assess recent advances and ethical issues concerning medical genetics, molecular diagnostics and genetic engineering.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110
Previously Listed As: BIOL 201
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Prereq option added 6/2014, effective Fall 2014; Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015; Course added as a prerequisite option 4/2013, effective Winter 2014; 03/2011,

BIO 256 - The Biology of Cancer

Introduces the types, characteristics, putative causes and current treatments of cancer.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110
Previously Listed As: BIOL 204
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Prereq Option added 6/2014, effective Fall 2014; Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 257 - Human Embryonic Development

A study of the embryonic development of humans from fertilization to birth, with emphasis on the development of the major organ systems and the birth defects that occur when development occurs abnormally.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110 or BIO 251
Previously Listed As: BIOL 223
Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, and 2) BIO 257 will be changed to BIO 357

Last Updated: Prerequisite option added 6/2014, effective Fall 2014; course revision note 6/2014, effective Winter 2015;

BIO 258 - Germs, Plagues and Human Infections

This course provides the nonscientist with a basic understanding of the biology of human infectious diseases. The course uses lecture, discussion and small group activities to examine the biology of microbes and of human defenses, the evolution of infectious disease, the history of epidemics and current issues in infectious diseases.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110 or BIO 251
Previously Listed As: BIOL 228
Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, and 2) BIO 258 will be changed to BIO 358
BIO 259 - Biology of Aging

The study of the aging process at the molecular, cellular, tissue and systems level of organization. Theories of aging will be considered.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110
Previously Listed As: BIOL 239

Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses

Last Updated: Prerequisite option added 6/2014, effective Fall 2014; Course Revision note 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 269 - Biology of Sex and Gender

Lectures will address the biology of sex and gender from early stages of development throughout life. Anatomy and physiology of gender and behaviors in humans and other animals will be discussed. Topics include: sexual differentiation, puberty, reproductive patterns and the effects of aging on the sexual response.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110 or BIO 251
Cross-Listed with: WGST 269
Previously Listed As: BIOL 269

Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, and 2) BIO 269 will be changed to BIO 369

Last Updated: Prerequisite option added 6/2014, effective Fall 2014; Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 277 - Special Topics

An examination of topics in biology not covered in other department offerings. Students may elect this course more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 277

BIO 278 - Special Topics

An examination of topics in biology not covered in other department offerings. Students may elect this course more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 278

BIO 279 - Special Topics
An examination of topics in biology not covered in other department offerings. Students may elect this course more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 279

BIO 301 - Genetics

A lecture course emphasizing the basic principles of inheritance with their application to plants and animals.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: C or better in BIO 120
Previously Listed As: BIOL 301
Last Updated: 03/2011

BIO 305 - Cell and Molecular Biology

A lecture course that examines the basic unit of structure and function in life, the cell. The course uses concepts of molecular biology to survey aspects of cellular function, such as metabolism, intercellular communication and cell division.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CHEM 123 and CHEM 124 and C or better in BIO 301
Previously Listed As: BIOL 305
Last Updated: 03/2011

BIO 306W - Cell and Molecular Biology and Genetics Laboratory (GEWI)

This laboratory course provides students with an opportunity to use molecular and cellular techniques to probe aspects of gene inheritance and expression. Students will develop critical reasoning and laboratory skills in preparation for advanced laboratory studies, independent research projects at the sub-organismal level, as well as for cooperative learning internships.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Concurrent Prerequisite: BIO 305
Previously Listed As: BIOL 306
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015
Writing Intensive:

Last Updated: Prerequisite change 12/2012, Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 310 - Ecology

A lecture course introducing the concepts involved in the study of terrestrial and aquatic communities, their physical environment, and their integration into ecosystems. Emphasis will be on properties at the ecosystems, community and population levels.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: C or better in BIO 120
Previously Listed As: BIOL 310
Last Updated: 03/2011
BIO 311W - Laboratory in Ecology (GEWI)

A laboratory and field course with two main objectives: (1) to introduce students to the methods and concepts involved in the study of the distribution and abundance of organisms, and (2) to familiarize students with the structure and function of aquatic and terrestrial communities.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Concurrent Prerequisite: C or better in BIO 310
Previously Listed As: BIOL 311
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Writing Intensive:

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, 03/2011

BIO 315 - Evolution

This lecture and discussion class examines basic concepts of evolutionary biology emphasizing evolutionary theory, evolutionary processes and contemporary topics in evolutionary biology. An integrative approach at the cell and molecular, organismal, population and higher taxonomic levels will be incorporated to understand the role of evolution as the organizing principle of all levels of biology and life.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: C or better in BIO 301
Previously Listed As: BIOL 315

Last Updated: 03/2011

BIO 326 - Human Physiology

A study of the functioning of the human body. Lecture, laboratory and demonstration.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 120 or BIO 140
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 326
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015.

Last Updated: Course added as a prerequisite option 4/2013, effective Winter 2014; 03/2011, Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 328 - Microbiology for Health Professions

This course examines the biology of bacteria, viruses and other microbes including their structure, metabolism and methods of control. Causative agents/mechanisms of common diseases as well as principles of immune control are also presented. This is a lecture/laboratory course with an Allied Health focus.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: ((BIO 105 or BIO 106 or BIO 110 or BIO 252) or SPMD 202) and (CHEM 120 or CHEM 122) and (Level 2 or higher math). All prerequisites require a C or better grade.
Notes: This course does not apply on the curriculum in clinical laboratory sciences, but will count as an elective towards the biology major or minor
Previously Listed As: BIO 328 - Introductory Microbiology; MICR 328
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015
BIO 330 - Neuroanatomy

A lecture/laboratory course concerned with the study of the human nervous system, lesions and resulting disabilities.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 252 or BIO 326
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 316
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Credit Hour 03/2012; 03/2011, Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 377 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 377

BIO 378 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 378

BIO 379 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 379

BIO 387 - Cooperative Education in Biology

Four or six months of full-time employment at an industrial firm or laboratory specially chosen for imparting a practical educational experience in biology of technology. The program consists of two work experiences (BIO395/495) alternating with full-time attendance at the University.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Class Restrictions: Junior Standing
Notes: Admittance to program by application only. Graded on a credit/no-credit basis.
Previously Listed As: BIOL 387

BIO 406 - The Nature of Science

This course examines the nature of scientific evidence, inquiry, hypothesis, models and laws. The development of science is put in the context of the structure and history of the scientific community. Interactions among scientists and between scientists and the rest of society are studied from an ethical perspective.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: C- or better in BIO 301
Major Restrictions: Department permission required for science majors or minors from other programs.
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Cross-Listed with: CHEM 406 and ESSC 406
Previously Listed As: BIOL 406
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Cross-Listed 09/2011; Graduate Credit 07/2011; 03/2011.

BIO 410 - Limnology

A lecture, laboratory and field course dealing with physicochemical and biological interrelationships in standing waters.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 310 and BIO 311W
Cross-Listed with: BIO 510
Previously Listed As: BIOL 410
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 411 - Animal Physiological Ecology

A lecture, laboratory and discussion course covering thermoregulation, metabolic rate, torpor, water flux, and specific adaptations for life in the cold, deserts, high altitude and great depths. Laboratory work emphasizes computerized data acquisition.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305 or BIO 310
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Cross-Listed with: BIO 511
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 439
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011. Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015

BIO 412 - Biogeography

A lecture course involving the descriptive and historical aspects of plant and animal distribution and the basic principles governing their natural distribution in both space and time.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 and (ESSC 108, ESSC 202, ESSC 110 or ESSC 111)
BIO 413 - Wetland Ecosystems

Advanced field ecology course in the theory and methods of study of wetland ecosystems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 310 and BIO 311W
Cross-Listed with: BIO 513
Previously Listed As: BIOL 435
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 414 - Terrestrial Ecosystems

Advanced field ecology course in the theory and methods of study of the structure and dynamics of terrestrial ecosystems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 310 and BIO 311W
Cross-Listed with: BIO 514
Previously Listed As: BIOL 436
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 415 - Microbial Ecology

Interactions among microbes (fungi, bacteria, some phages), other living organisms and the environment, with emphases on parasitism, mutualism, commensalism and biogeochemical recycling of matter. Includes both laboratory and field exercises.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 425
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: MICR 442
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 416 - Behavioral Ecology

How animals use behavior to meet the demands of their lives in nature. We will examine behavioral aspects of survival, foraging, dispersal, habitat selection, mating, and parenting within the life histories of organisms. Students will be expected to discuss primary scientific literature and conduct original research in groups.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 310
Class Restrictions: Junior, Senior, Second Bac, Post Bac. Tchr. Cert.

Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 417 - Conservation Biology

This course uses lectures, discussion, and off-campus field work to introduce foundational concepts in Conservation Biology. Topics include key threats to biodiversity loss (e.g., habitat fragmentation, over-harvesting, invasive species), methods to assess and ameliorate loss, and practical or ethical impediments to conservation efforts.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 310
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 425 - General Microbiology

A lecture and laboratory course on the nature and biology of bacteria and other microbes, their physiological relationships in natural and controlled environments, and the interactions of pathogenic microorganisms with their hosts. Laboratory includes an introduction to the techniques of isolating, cultivating, and identifying bacteria and other microbes, and their physiological, serological and pathological properties.

Credit Hours: 5 hrs
Prerequisite: C- or better in BIO 301; and CHEM 270 or CHEM 372
Notes: CHEM 451 is highly recommended.
Previously Listed As: MICR 329
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 426 - Immunobiology

Cellular and molecular responses to immunogens; primary and peripheral immune organs; T-cells and B-cells in cell-mediated and humoral immunity, immune regulation and mechanisms; hypersensitivity; immunity against microbial infectious agents; antigen/antibody reactions in vitro used in research and diagnostics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 425
Class Restrictions: Junior standing
Cross-Listed with: BIO 526
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 429 - Bacterial Pathogenesis

A lecture course that examines the mechanisms of bacterial pathogenesis. Emphasis will be placed on host-bacterial interactions that lead toward bacterial infection.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
BIO 443 - Developmental Biology

A course on the molecular aspects of early development, cytodifferentiation, cell communication, morphogenesis, pattern formation and developmental genetics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305
Class Restrictions: Junior standing
Cross-Listed with: BIO 543
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 446 - Genome Analysis

An introductory course to the field of genomics. This involves the study of genome data and exploration of the organization, dynamics and evolution of genes and genomes. The laboratory component involves analyses of genes, genomic variation/DNA fingerprinting, DNA sequences and molecular evolution.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305, BIO 306W or BIO 548
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Cross-Listed with: BIO 546
Previously Listed As: BIOL 401
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 447 - Scanning Electron Microscopy

A lecture-laboratory course that provides the basic theory and practice of scanning electron microscopy. Lectures are coordinated with individualized instruction on laboratory equipment. Students design and conduct an original research project that is presented in both written and oral forms at the end of the semester.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: BIOL 418
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011

BIO 455 - Plant Evolution and Classification

Classification and identification of plants, including methods of collection and preservation of vascular plants. Lectures will introduce processes of evolution that have influenced the diversity and relationships among plant groups.
BIO 456 - Freshwater Algae

A survey of the freshwater algal divisions; their morphology, taxonomy, ecology and economic importance. Lectures emphasize an evolutionary approach. Laboratory work stresses the identification of representative algal taxa. Class field collections are made.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 130
Cross-Listed with: BIO 555
Previously Listed As: BOTN 455
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 457 - Aquatic Plants

Analysis of vascular aquatic and wetland plants and habitats. Lectures stress physical and biological habitat features and plant adaptations. Laboratories stress identification of aquatic and wetland species.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 130
Cross-Listed with: BIO 557
Previously Listed As: BOTN 450
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 458 - Trees and Shrubs

A taxonomic field course on the biology, classification and identification of native trees and shrubs in winter and summer conditions.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 205 or BIO 120 or BIO 130
Cross-Listed with: BIO 558
Previously Listed As: BOTN 354
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 459 - Mycology

A lecture-laboratory course on the study of molds, rusts, mildews, edible and poisonous mushrooms, and other fungi. Their life history, economic importance, method of identification and preservation are considered.
BIO 460 - Plant Anatomy

A basic lecture-laboratory course in plant histology emphasizing recognition of primary and secondary tissues as variously combined in root, stem, leaf and flower of a wide variety of representative seed plants.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 130
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: BOTN 404
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 461 - Plant Physiology

A detailed study of major plant functions with emphasis on growth and development presented by lecture, demonstration and experimentation in laboratory and greenhouse.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305 and BIO 306W; and (CHEM 270 or CHEM 372)
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: BOTN 442
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Prereq 08/2014; Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 462 - Plant Biotechnology

A hands-on exploration of the techniques used in plant biotechnology and their application to agricultural biotechnology and basic science. State-of-the-art molecular biology techniques are applied to genetic engineering of plants and plant products. Lecture and discussion provide the theoretical basis for the techniques used.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305 and BIO 306W
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: BOTN 445
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 472 - Parasitology
A survey of animal parasites that affect other animals including the human.

BIO 473 - Concepts in Animal Physiology

Central themes in physiology (circulation, metabolism, water balance, temperature regulation, communication, movement, reproduction) will be studied. Class activities will examine strategies used by vertebrates and invertebrates with regard to these physiological concepts. Current literature, experiments and case studies will be used to demonstrate the diverse physiological responses of animals.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 305
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 462
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 474 - Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates

The anatomy of the vertebrate organ systems is studied on a comparative basis, which emphasizes the evolutionary development of the groups. Laboratory work includes detailed dissection of a shark and cat.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three one-hour lectures and two two-hour laboratory periods per week.
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 431
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 03/2011.

BIO 476 - Mammalian Histology

A lecture/laboratory course dealing with the structure and properties of mammalian organs and their component tissues.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 576
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 404
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Last Updated: Links 03/2011. Course Revision 6/2014, effective Winter 2015
BIO 480 - Natural History of Invertebrates

A field course in the recognition, collection, identification and preservation of common invertebrates of Michigan, exclusive of the insects, with emphasis on their natural history, ecology and economic importance.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 580
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 300
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 481 - Natural History of Vertebrates

A survey of vertebrates, emphasizing their adaptations and their natural history. Laboratory work will stress the taxonomic classification, identification and distribution of local and other forms. Fieldwork will emphasize accurate observation and permanent recording of original data on local species.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 581
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 310
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 482 - Ichthyology

A study of the biology, classification, distribution and evolution of fishes. Attention is given to the morphology, physiology, behavior, natural history and ecology of fishes through work in lecture, laboratory and in the field. Specific experience in the identification of the freshwater fishes of the Great Lakes region is provided in addition to a general survey of some marine fish families.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 582
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 422
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 483 - Mammalogy

Some aspects of the biology of mammals: origins and evolution, anatomy, classification, adaptations and zoogeography. Natural history and aspects of their ecology are studied in the field. A collection of study specimens of different species is required of each student.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 583
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 485
BIO 484 - Herpetology

Taxonomy, distribution, life histories, behavior and ecology of amphibians and reptiles with an emphasis on local species.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 584
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 474
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 485 - Ornithology

A course in bird biology for the secondary teacher and students with advanced interest in biology. Field identification and census methods will be used to introduce the study of bird populations, behavior and ecology.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 585
Notes: A student field project will be required. A survey of major North American bird families will be made in the laboratory.
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 425
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 486 - Entomology

A survey of the world of insects, their structure, function, behavior and ecology. The identification and classification of local insects will be stressed. A student field project will be required.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Cross-Listed with: BIO 586
Previously Listed As: ZOOL 421
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 487 - Cooperative Education in Biology

Four or six months of full-time employment at an industrial firm or laboratory specially chosen for imparting a practical educational experience in biology or technology. The program consists of two work experiences (BIO395/495) alternating with full-time attendance at the University.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 395
Notes: Admittance to program by application only. Graded on a credit/no-credit basis
Previously Listed As: BIOL 487
Last Updated: Links 03/2011

BIO 488 - Biology of Arachnids

Lecture, lab and field course addressing principles of arachnid biology. Course covers morphology, physiology, behavior, natural history and ecology. Identification and classification of major arachnid families supported by collections and observations of organisms from southern Michigan.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120 or BIO 140
Class Restrictions: Sophomore standing
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

BIO 490 - Special Topics

An examination of advanced topics in biology not covered in other department offerings.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 490

BIO 491 - Special Topics

An examination of advanced topics in biology not covered in other department offerings.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 491

BIO 492 - Special Topics

An examination of advanced topics in biology not covered in other department offerings.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 492

BIO 493 - Special Topics

An examination of advanced topics in biology not covered in other department offerings.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: Yes
Last Updated: New Course 2/2014, effective Summer 2014

BIO 497 - Undergraduate Research in Biology
Independent, original research in biology involving extensive library, computation, field, and/or laboratory study, under the guidance of a biology faculty member. May be elected more than once upon approval.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 497

BIO 498 - Undergraduate Research in Biology

Independent, original research in biology involving extensive library, computation, field, and/or laboratory study, under the guidance of a biology faculty member. May be elected more than once upon approval.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 498

BIO 499 - Undergraduate Research in Biology

Independent, original research in biology involving extensive library, computation, field, and/or laboratory study, under the guidance of a biology faculty member. May be elected more than once upon approval.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Previously Listed As: BIOL 499

Biology Teaching

BIOT 303 - Life Science for Elementary Teachers

Major biological concepts and best practices for teaching science, including inquiry and the "discovery" approach, will be covered. Class configuration — methods or fieldwork and web-based instruction involving inquiry, resource evaluation and recitation. Concluding course in the elementary science sequence.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CURR 304 and ESSC 202
Major Restrictions: Admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Previously Listed As: BIOL 303
Last Updated: Links 03/2011

BIOT 403 - Methods for Teaching Secondary Biology

A lecture-laboratory course providing knowledge, training and practice in the presentation of biological principles, analysis of texts, selection of course content, effective classroom methods and preparation of classroom materials used in the teaching of biology.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: BIO 120, CURR 305 and EDPS 340
Major Restrictions: Admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Previously Listed As: BIOL 403
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015
BIOT 407 - Nature of Science for Elementary Teachers

This course examines the nature of scientific evidence, inquiry, hypotheses, models and laws. The development of science is put in the context of the structure of the discipline, its history, and interactions with society. Discussions of modern theories and laws will integrate scientific concepts with the processes of how science works. The class will also provide students with activities to demonstrate these concepts.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: ASTR 105, BIO 105, PHY 311, CHEM 312 and ESSC 311
Class Restrictions: Junior standing
Major Restrictions: Elementary Integrated Science Majors only
Course Revisions: "C or better" now required in all prerequisite courses, effective Winter 2015

Chemistry Programs

Chemistry

Major

General Biochemistry Major

This curriculum is designed for students with an interest in biochemistry but who require a less extensive background than that presented in the professional biochemistry curriculum. It is often selected by students in premedical and predental programs.

The program includes a group minor composed of the required courses in biology, mathematics and physics. No other minor is needed to meet graduation requirements.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 55-57

Required Courses: 50-52 hours

- BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) 5 hrs
- * BIO 301 - Genetics 3 hrs
• CHEM 121 - General Chemistry I (GEKN) 3 hrs
• CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr
• CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
• CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr
•  CHEM 270 - Survey of Organic Chemistry 4 hrs
•  CHEM 271 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory 1 hr
• CHEM 281 - Introduction to Analytical Chemistry 4 hrs
• CHEM 361 - Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry 3 hrs
• CHEM 381W - Instrumentation for Chemical Technology (GEWI) 2 hrs
• CHEM 451 - Biochemistry I 3 hrs
• CHEM 452 - Biochemistry II 3 hrs
• CHEM 453W - Biochemistry Laboratory (GEWI) 2 hrs
• MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs

One course from the following:

• PHY 221 - Mechanics, Sound and Heat (GEKN) 4 hrs
• PHY 223 - Mechanics and Sound (GEKN) 5 hrs

One course from the following:

• PHY 222 - Electricity and Light 4 hrs
• PHY 224 - Electricity and Light 5 hrs

Elective Courses: 5 hours

* Five credits from any 300-level or above biology courses.

Minor Requirements:

This major does not require a minor.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Notes:

* Completion of BIO 110, or equivalent coursework, is required for Biochemistry students to obtain Biology departmental permission for 300- and 400-level biology courses.

 Premedicine and predentistry students should substitute CHEM 371, CHEM 372, and CHEM 373 to satisfy the requirements for organic chemistry of most medical and dental schools.

Critical Graduation Information:
Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Not more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix) may be applied towards the minimum of 124 credit hours required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is coordinated by the Office of Admissions, and additional documentation may be required.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be earned in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

General Chemistry Major

The general chemistry major is for students who seek work in the chemical or pharmaceutical industry, who are preparing for careers in health fields such as medicine or dentistry, or who are interested in a career combining chemistry with fields such as business, patent law, technical writing or industrial health and safety. Students who are interested in graduate training in chemistry should elect the professional chemistry curriculum.

• CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr
• CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
• CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr
• CHEM 281 - Introduction to Analytical Chemistry 4 hrs
• CHEM 361 - Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry 3 hrs
• CHEM 371 - Organic Chemistry I 3 hrs
• CHEM 372 - Organic Chemistry II 3 hrs
• CHEM 373 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory 2 hrs
• CHEM 381W - Instrumentation for Chemical Technology (GEWI) 2 hrs

Elective Courses: 5 hours

Five hours from 300- and 400-level courses in chemistry.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program adviser for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

• Not more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix) may be applied towards the minimum of 124 credit hours required for a bachelor's degree.

• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor

• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is coordinated by the Office of Admissions, and additional documentation may be required.

• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be earned in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Professional Biochemistry Major

The professional biochemistry curriculum prepares students for graduate study or a research career in biochemistry. With the appropriate elective (CHEM 332 or CHEM 432), it meets the requirements established for certification by the American Chemical Society. The program includes a group minor composed of the required courses in biology, mathematics and physics. No other minor is needed to meet graduation requirements.

Professional Chemistry Major

This curriculum provides the necessary background for those planning to become professional chemists. The professional chemistry curriculum meets the requirements established for certification by the American Chemical Society. Students successfully completing the curriculum are prepared to undertake graduate study in chemistry or enter technical positions in industrial and governmental research. The program includes a group minor composed of the required courses in mathematics and physics. No other minor is needed to meet graduation requirements.

For students planning graduate study in chemistry (especially organic chemistry), 10 hours or an equivalent reading knowledge of a foreign language, preferably German, is recommended.

Secondary Education Chemistry Major

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in chemistry, certification code DC, and, depending on the minor selected, an additional endorsement. This program of study meets all requirements of the National Science Teachers Association. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #018, “Chemistry.”
Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria

1. Completion of 56 credit hours

2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher. At least 12 of the 56 credit hours taken at EMU with an EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major (each of your majors if declaring a double major). You must complete at least one course in your major(s) in order to be eligible.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
   3. A grade of “C” or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
1. Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, quantitative reasoning, one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.

2. Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, CHEM 101, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state “for elementary teachers,” and, if special education, PSY 101.

4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:

1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.

2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.

3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.

ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:

1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.

2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.

6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Additional Requirements: 12-14 hours

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs

One course from the following:

- PHY 221 - Mechanics, Sound and Heat (GEKN) 4 hrs
- PHY 223 - Mechanics and Sound (GEKN) 5 hrs

One course from the following:

- PHY 222 - Electricity and Light 4 hrs
- PHY 224 - Electricity and Light 5 hrs

Major Requirements: 32 hours
Required Courses: 29-30 hours

- CHEM 121 - General Chemistry I (GEKN) 3 hrs
- CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr
- CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
- CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr
- CHEM 281 - Introduction to Analytical Chemistry 4 hrs

- CHEM 372 - Organic Chemistry II 3 hrs
- CHEM 373 - Organic Chemistry Laboratory 2 hrs
- CHEM 381W - Instrumentation for Chemical Technology (GEWI) 2 hrs
- CHEM 406 - The Nature of Science 1 hr or equivalent (see course description)

One course from the following:

- CHEM 351 - Foundations of Biochemistry 4 hrs
- CHEM 451 - Biochemistry I 3 hrs

Elective Courses: 2-3 hours

Two to three hours from 300- and 400-level courses in chemistry.

Professional Secondary Education Sequence

Secondary Education Pre-Admission Phase: The Learner and the Community: 7 hours

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or higher.

- EDPS 322 - Human Development and Learning 4 hrs
- SPGN 251 - Introduction to Inclusion and Disabilities Studies in a Diverse Society (GEUS) 3 hrs

The following phases require formal admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program:

Secondary Education Phase I: Curriculum, Assessment and the Social Context: 15 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Pre-Admission Phase is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.
 These courses must be taken with or after CURR 305.
• * CURR 305 - Curriculum and Methods: Secondary 3 hrs
•  EDMT 330 - Instructional Applications of Media and Technology 3 hrs
•  EDPS 340 - Introduction to Assessment and Evaluation 3 hrs
• * PRCT 305 - Practicum I: Secondary 3 hrs
• SOFD 328W - Schools for a Diverse and Democratic Society (GEWI) 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase II: Content and Methods and Teaching: 9 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase I is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.

• * PRCT 311 - Practicum II: Secondary 3 hrs
• * RDNG 311 - Teaching Reading in the Secondary School 3 hrs

Methods Course by Major:

Chemistry Majors take one of:

• CHEM 325 - Methodology for Secondary Chemistry Teachers 3 hrs
• PHY 325 - Methods of Teaching the Physical Sciences 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase III: Capstone Experience: 9 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase II and 100 pre-student teaching hours is required.

• EDUC 492 - Student Teaching 9 hrs
  This course requires a formal application to be submitted 7-8 months prior to the Student Teaching semester.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program adviser for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:
Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Not more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix) may be applied towards the minimum of 124 credit hours required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is coordinated by the Office of Admissions, and additional documentation may be required.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be earned in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Communication, Media and Theatre Arts Programs and Courses

Communication, Media and Theatre Arts

Major

Arts and Entertainment Management Major

The Arts and Entertainment management curriculum provides career training and practical experience for those with a passion for the arts and whose talents are in the field of administration, marketing and/or entrepreneurship. The arts manager not only must develop a variety of management skills but also must maintain a high degree of sensitivity to aesthetics.

Students are provided a broad background in all of the arts with an opportunity to study a specific art in more depth. Additionally, each student gains vital practical experience working in the arts during internships on the University campus and with an approved off-campus professional arts organization, creative business or artist.

Training in the arts is combined with the development of skills in accounting, advertising, personnel management, labor relations and various other areas of business through a program of study that includes management, marketing and entrepreneurship. Graduates are equipped to enter the arts management field or to pursue further study in arts administration.

Because the arts management field is rapidly evolving, it is advantageous for students to maintain regular contact with an advisor during their entire program to avoid unnecessary difficulties before and after completion of the program. Arts institutions vary in their personnel needs.

EMU's arts management curriculum is divided into four sections: general education requirements, arts management major, a management or marketing minor (see College of Business) and two internships.

Minor Requirements:
Arts Management students are required to take a minor in the College of Business either: Management Minor - (For nonbusiness majors) or Entrepreneurship Minor (For nonbusiness majors) or Marketing Minor - (For nonbusiness majors)

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program adviser for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.

- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

Communication, Media and Theatre Arts Comprehensive Major Revised Program, effective Fall 2014

The comprehensive major allows each student to develop a variety of communication skills with one or two areas of concentration (12 to 18 credit hours each). Within the 42 credit hours, at least nine must be in 300- and 400-level courses. Majors should plan their course selections carefully with a departmental advisor and present a copy of this plan to Academic Records and Certification when requesting a graduation audit.

(Or other minors as approved by the CMTA adviser)

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Note:

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your adviser for course options.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Secondary Education Communication and Theatre Arts Teaching Major

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in speech, certification code BD, and, depending on the minor selected, an additional endorsement. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #004, "Speech." At least nine credit hours must be taken at the 300-400 level.

Department Information:

Communication, Media & Theatre Arts Department - College of Arts and Sciences

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
○ Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.

- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S.
institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

Drama/Theatre for the Young Minor
The undergraduate minor in drama/theatre for the young is designed to serve students wishing to prepare for a variety of careers — some already existing, others emerging — involving work with and for the young through drama and communication. The minor is useful in conjunction with many other minors and majors including early childhood, elementary and secondary education, special education, language and literature, history and social studies, art, music, dance, social work, sociology, psychology, recreation, business management, counseling, library science, communication, gerontology, theatre and applied theatre.

It provides a strong base and, at the same time, flexibility is ensured through freedom in choosing from a wide range of electives.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.
The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.

Interdisciplinary Film Studies Minor

Film is the most interdisciplinary of all the arts in that it represents a synthesis of literature, theatre, painting, photography, music, and video. It borrows from all of them to create the most powerful, persuasive, and popular art form of the past 120 years. As a narrative art, it closely resembles painting and photography. As a time art, it is structured much like music.

In their borrowing from other arts, motion pictures naturally embrace a diversity of themes and address a multitude of complex issues. They take students to other times and places and encourage them to consider viewpoints beyond their immediate circumstances. Through the study of films, students develop a greater appreciation for cultural diversity and a better knowledge of human history.

The purpose of this program is to encourage students to understand the relationship between film and other arts and to gain an appreciation for those motion pictures that address diverse themes and reflect the values of other cultures.

Minor Total: 25 hours

Note:

All minors must have at least six hours of course work at the 300-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.

- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Communication

CTAC 124 - Foundations of Speech Communication (GEEC)
This course develops students' public speaking skills and introduces students to foundational concepts in communication studies.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: CTAC 124 - Fundamentals of Speech

Effective Communication:
The ability to communicate is fundamental to human life. We spend more time communicating than doing anything else. The ability to communicate effectively has a profound impact on an individual's personal, social, academic, professional and civic life. Developing the skills of speaking and listening effectively is critical not only to the individual, but also to the successful functioning of a growing and increasingly diverse democratic society.

Successful accomplishment of the Fundamentals of Speech course will enable students to prepare, present and evaluate speeches; thus enhancing and developing their ability to communicate effectively. Students will receive the appropriate instruction and have multiple opportunities to demonstrate the ability to conceptualize, analyze and research a topic; organize information; adapt to the audience; craft the message with an introduction; body, and a conclusion; create speaking notes; utilize a variety of audiovisual material; make appropriate choices in both verbal and nonverbal communication during the presentation; manage speech anxiety; and listen both critically and emphatically. This course will assist the university in meeting the charge of the Boyer Commission when it stressed in 1998 that "Undergraduate education must enable students to acquire strong communication skills and thereby create graduates who are proficient in both written and oral communication."

Last Updated: Links 04/2011

CTAC 225 - Listening Behavior (GEKS)
The study of the behavior, processes and theory of human listening; practice in improving listening skills.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
While people often think of communication as primarily what is spoken, what is heard is equally important. Social scientists have estimated that approximately 85% of what people know has been learned through listening. In our field, we study and investigate individual communication behaviors such as listening, which in turn influence and change organizational, societal and cultural behavior. As a result, communication researchers have investigated, measured and analyzed listening behaviors in various contexts. Students will investigate the complexity of listening through assignments designed to provide experience with social science methods utilized to conduct qualitative and quantitative research, and read the existing social scientific research in listening behavior; and be able to evaluate their proficiency levels in various listening situations using instruments commonly used in the communication discipline. Students will also formulate research questions and investigate human listening behavior through discussion, reading assignments and interactive exercises.

CTAC 226 - Nonverbal Communication (GEKS)

An examination of nonverbal and situational behaviors, relationships, objects and events surrounding speech communication acts.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Social scientists have estimated that 60-70% of what we communicate to one another is through the nonverbal channel. Nonverbal communication is the primary mode of expressing emotion, creating and managing impressions and communicating messages of attraction, liking, distance and dominance. This course is designed to introduce students to the social scientific study and analysis of nonverbal communication. For this reason the emphasis of CTAC 226 is on scientific knowledge rather than anecdotal experience. the course will cover both classic and current theories and research related to nonverbal communication. From Darwin's seminal work on the study of emotional expression in humans to current methods of conversational analysis, the field of nonverbal communication has a long history of research from a social scientific perspectives.

Last Updated: *

CTAC 227 - Interpersonal Communication (GEKS)

Study and practice of the basic elements of interpersonal communication with emphasis on perception, meanings, attention, listening, feedback and communication barriers. Particular attention is given to improving interpersonal communication skills. This course may not substitute as the fundamentals of speech requirement in general education.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Interpersonal communication is the exchange of symbols used to achieve self-presentation, relational and instrumental goals. In other words, how we present ourselves and manage our image to others, how we develop, maintain and terminate relationships and how we use communication to develop and obtain resources. Interpersonal communication is the foundation upon which all relationships, organizations and societies are built. Interpersonal communication is often taken for granted. We assume since we engage in interpersonal interactions on a daily basis we understand what it is. Students will move from their personal understanding of interpersonal communication to the social scientific perspective existing within the discipline. This course is designed to introduce students to the social scientific study and analysis of interpersonal communication. Theories such as attribution, expectancy violation, uncertainty reduction, social exchange, coordinated management of meaning and cognitive dissonance and research methods such as experimental design, conversational analysis, content analysis and ethnography will be explored.

CTAC 260 - Gender Communication (GEUS)
Exploration of the multifaceted ways communication, culture, and gender are interconnected and the influences of each. Critical analysis of gender communications "differences" as they are influenced by culture and our everyday communication.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Cross-Listed with: WGST 260
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Gender Communication is communication about and between men and women. It is communication about men and women because gender communication is reflected in everything around us. From the time we are born important people in our life communicate our society's gender expectations to us. While individuals vary in the extent to which they accept or reject those messages, we all "do gender" by expressing our views about what we believe is normal or natural for a member of our sex. Since gender is a social construction that changes over time, it is important that we systematically study it to determine how it affects us, the people with whom we interact, and the world in which we live. Gender communication is also communication between men and women. In the United States interactions between women and men occur every hour of every day. The sheer number of contacts we have with the opposite sex heightens the need to study the effects of gender on the communication process.

CTAC 260 meets the U.S. diversity requirement of general education because it allows students to examine their gender identity and relate it to the gender identity of others. This ultimately leads to an understanding of the many different ways people view gender and communication in the United States. Attention is also focused on the communication-related causes and consequences of social intolerance toward individuals who deviate from normative sex and gender roles, and how that intolerance relates to racism, ethnocentrism, and exclusion in the United States. Last but not least, students explore the association between gender and income distribution, economic opportunities, political participation and the U.S. democratic process, and how those variables impact communication between and within the sexes.

CTAC 265 - Communicating and LGBT Community (GEUS)

Communication and LGBT Community examines communication about and within diverse Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender identity communities. Patterns in social movement, issue advocacy, group identity expression, and media representation are reviewed and evaluated. The course explores questions of intolerance, stereotyping, and intersectionality, applying perspectives drawn from communication and queer theories.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No

Perspectives on a Diverse World:

Last Updated: New Course 12/2011, effective Winter 2012

CTAC 274 - Intercultural Communication (GEGA)

Analysis of processes and problems of communication as affected by national cultures; effects of differences in verbal and nonverbal communication, values, meaning, perception and thought.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
The modern world is characterized by a dramatic increase in communication between people of different cultural backgrounds. Students are now graduating into a world where intercultural communication is increasingly common. Business, science, education, mass media, entertainment, tourism, politics, war and the internet all provide opportunities and challenges associated with intercultural encounters. CTAC 274 is designed to help students better understand their own cultural communication style and those of other people, groups and nations. Upon completion of this course students will have a better understanding of cultures that differ from their own, develop a universalistic, realistic, worldview and learn how culture impacts communication at both the interpersonal and societal levels.

CTAC 275 - Interracial/Interethnic Communication (GEUS)

The analysis of how ethnocentric attitudes toward perceived racial/ethnic minority group speakers/listeners influence interpersonal communication transactions.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
CTAC 275 Interracial/Interethnic Communication on meets the U.S. diversity requirement of general education because it prompts students to consider and evaluate the foundations of race/ethnicity based identities and assumptions in the context of interpersonal interacting. Attitudes about racially and ethnically different "others" are both developed and expressed through conversation (Debra J. Dickerson, The End of Blackness: Returning the Souls of Black Folk to their Rightful Owners). The persistent issue of racial and ethnic inequality in the United States becomes visible in the language and non-verbal expression of people between and within diverse identity groups. When viewed through the lens of communicative interaction, we understand how interpersonal interaction offers socially and persuasively constructed identities, social roles and status. The increasingly racially and ethnically diverse fabric of American Culture suggests that our interaction with "others" is near constant. The need to understand how race and ethnicity inform our communication choices, shape our understanding of messages and clarify our individual and group relationship to a changing world is vital.

CTAC 495L - Communication Capstone (GELB)

This course requires students to integrate knowledge obtained throughout the degree program and demonstrate communication competency through the development of a significant academic service-learning project. Students will also assess their own knowledge and skills and begin preparing for life after graduation.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CTAC 124 and one of the following: CTAC 440W, CTAC 460, CTAC 475W or CTAC 485W
Class Restrictions: Senior standing
Major Restrictions: Communication Majors only
Notes: Academic Service Learning Course (Winter 2015, CRN: 24014, 24910, 26769)

Learning Beyond the Classroom:

Rationale: This course allows students to integrate knowledge obtained throughout the degree program and demonstrate communication competency. Students will also reflect on their learning and begin framing and applying their degree program for life after graduation. The course will be focused around a significant Academic Service-Learning project. Through identifying a community need, designing and implementing a project based on that need, and then presenting that project to the larger campus community, CTAC 495 requires students to draw on their broad communication knowledge, find and evaluate specific and relevant research, and demonstrate appropriate and effective leadership, interpersonal, small group, organizational and public communication skills.

CTAR 106 - Introduction to the Performing Arts (GEKA)

A survey of the arts of dance, theatre and music, developing an understanding and appreciation of representative works in the three fields. The place of these arts in contemporary society and their contribution to a richer life receive special emphasis. Attendance required at specific on-campus performances. Not open to those with credit in MUSC 106/DANC 106.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Introduction to the Performing Arts meets the general education requirement for Arts in the knowledge of the disciplines. The performing arts provide knowledge about the world and ways of experience it that contribute to an understanding that is both unique and different from those gained through other disciplines. The arts present insights about personal experiences common to us all- experiences such as birth, love, conflict and death. They also convey cultural meanings and values, such as patriotism and war. In the arts, personal and cultural meanings go far beyond the enjoyment of beauty. The arts convey knowledge and meaning not learned through the study of other subjects. In this course, students will learn how the performing arts convey personal and cultural meaning in lived space and time through qualities such as movement and sound that are unique to dance, music and theatre, they will discover the rich and unique ways that meaning in the performing arts takes shape in specific mediums, genres and styles.

CTAR 150L - Introduction to Theatre (GEKA & GELB)

A lecture-demonstration course with the purpose of fostering appreciation of theatre through an understanding of its production components, its forms and styles, and its historical development. Attendance required at select EMU theatre productions. Required of theatre arts majors and minors.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Theatre is an integral component of human experience. The study of theatre promotes reflection, collaboration and individual expression. As a reflector of cultural traditions, theatre illuminates customs, mores and behaviors. As a collaborative endeavor it encourages both critical and creative thinking. As a method of individual expression it facilitates the articulation of intellectual and emotional experience. Since theatrical production involves literature, music, movement and design it is an ideal vehicle for the study of the arts.

Learning Beyond the Classroom:

CTAR 151 - African American Theatre: An Introduction (GEUS)

An introductory survey of the roots, purposes and contemporary manifestations of theatre and drama reflecting the African American experience. Emphasis will be placed on the reading, analysis and discussion of representative African American plays.
Perspectives on a Diverse World:

CTAR 151 - African American Theatre is a study of African American drama and theatre arts in the United States and its evolution from the nineteenth century to contemporary expressions. In examining African American drama and theatre arts from historical and contemporary viewpoints, through reading, viewing, discussion and writing about plays, the course also compares and contrasts the African American experience with other cultural groups in the United States. This Afrocentric approach to drama and theatre arts develops an appreciate for "ideas, concepts, events, personalities and political and economic process from a standpoint of black people as subjects, and not as objects, basing all knowledge on the authentic interrogation of location." In this course, students will further read, view, discuss and write about plays applying the concepts of Afrocentric perspective, dispelling stereotypes, theatre production, script analysis and specific examples. CTAR151 meets the U.S. diversity requirement of general education because it uses the African Americans' experiences in the plays read, and the participants' contributions to drama and theatre arts, as a means to explore the diversity of the American experience. This course provides students with a multicultural perspective on the development of American drama and theatre arts, and also exposes them to the diversity of the American condition, which is often ignored. Students are encouraged by this course to continue their pursuit of critical-thinking discussion and writing skills, as well as developing an increased appreciation for African American drama and theatre arts. When Afrocentric productions are presented on campus, students will be required to see a live theatrical production.

For nontheatre majors only.

CTAR 158 - Fundamentals of Acting (GEKA)
A study of the fundamental theories and techniques of acting. Major emphasis on theatre acting, but consideration given to radio and television acting. Laboratory hours by arrangement.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Theatre is central to reflecting and critiquing the human condition. Acting is a vital and core component of this discipline. This course enhances an appreciation of acting as an art form, and develops fundamental knowledge and abilities necessary both to the craft of acting and other professions where proficiency in self-expression and clear communication are deemed valuable. Students learn to analyze the physical, cultural, and emotional lives of characters in order to create honest portrayals for both peers and audience. This examination and reflection of the human condition engenders enthusiasm for continued pursuit of knowledge and learning as well as an increased appreciation of the arts.

CTAR 222 - Drama and Play in the Human Experience (GEKA)

A study of dramatic experience as intrinsic in human development. An introduction to spontaneous dramatic games and exercises as a way of sharpening imagination, deepening interpersonal relations, and strengthening individual identity. Integration of such experience in learning and growth is emphasized.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Theatre reflects, challenges, and celebrates the human experience. The first stepping-stones to understanding the human experience and the art of theatre reside universally in childhood. Here we learn and practice our ability to imitate others, transform reality, and create meaning from our lives. Theatre artists use the same fundamental skills learned in childhood to create theatre productions. CTAR222 demystifies the theatre experience by directly teaching this relationship between play in childhood and theatre through participation in games and dramatic activities, lectures, readings, papers, journals, theatre attendance, and participatory projects. This demystification process will reawaken skills in students that have often been buried or discarded in adulthood and provide students with a vocabulary to talk about their own and others' dramatic experience. A critical viewpoint for analysis and a historical context of both play and theatre are founded on Aristotle's six elements of drama: (1) plot, (2) character, (3) thought (or theme), (4) dialogue, (5) rhythm, and (6) spectacle. As students develop skills in identifying and using these elements, their ability to generate and understand creative theatre products will increase.

CTAR 227 - Grant Writing for the Arts

This course provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to be successful in the development and submission of proposals to public and private funding agencies in support of arts and cultural programs. In this class students develop contemporary grant writing skills by participating in all phases of the grant process from research to program assessment.

Telecommunications and Film

CTAT 130 - Introduction to Electronic Media

An introduction to electronic media systems in the United States. Emphasis on development of electronic media industries including radio, television, cable and the Internet. Programming, technologies, government regulation, financial support and social effects are covered.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

CTAT 131 - Introduction to Audio Production and Direction

For majors and minors only. This course emphasizes basic skills, concepts and strategies for audio production projects including radio ads, sound pictures, air checks and actualities. This is a required course for all majors and minors and a prerequisite to other production courses.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
CTAT 132 - Introduction to Video Production and Direction

For majors and minors only. Class meets three times a week and emphasizes studio television production. Students learn the process of writing, producing and directing of commercials, news and talk shows in a multiple camera studio setting.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: CTAT 131
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

CTAT 141 - Audio and Video Production for Nonmajors

For non-majors and nonminors. A study and application of the technical elements of audio and video production with an emphasis on the operation of studio equipment. In addition to the hands-on participation, emphasis will be placed on theory, writing, and pre-production.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

CTAT 145 - Introduction to Film Appreciation (GEKA)

An introduction to understanding the moving image as a medium of artistic expression and persuasion. The course will consider the principal components of film/video language including photography, writing, performances, editing, mise-en-scène and major classification systems such as genres and auteurism. It will include an historical overview of the development of film/video industries, major theoretical approaches, and an analysis of the moving image's effects on audiences.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Motion pictures are one of the most dominant, dynamic and influential art from of the past 100 years, and a knowledge of how they are made, their modes of style and methods of shaping content, and their interaction with the culture that produces them are an important part of any student's general education program. In studying motion pictures, students learn about key issues that are found in all the arts. These include the relationship between style and content, the influence of technology on form and substance, the effect of cultural norms, the definition of time and space, the creation of order and coherence, and stylistic change over time. In this course, students will learn how motion pictures are made and will become familiar with the creative processes used to shape content to the unique requirements of film art. They will develop the critical skills necessary to evaluate films from an historical perspective and compare them to related art forms. They will learn to judge a motion picture's success in using visual design, narrative structure, language, music and performance to create an effective and meaningful cinematic experience.

CTAT 232 - Lighting for TV and Film

Lighting for TV and Film is a course in lighting design, distribution and implementation. It addresses the needs of studio-based television production and remote operations as well as the requirements of electronically-based cinematography.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CTAT 132 or CTAT 141
Class Restrictions: Sophomore standing or higher
Last Updated: New Course 10/2012, effective Winter 2013

CTAT 233 - Digital Video Editing

This course is designed to teach the basic aesthetics and mechanics of digital video editing. The course covers editing theories as well as practice in using industry-standard software. The student will complete several editing projects using digital video files.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: CTAT 130 and CTAT 131
Concurrent Prerequisite: CTAT 132
Last Updated: New Course 10/2012, effective Winter 2013

CTAT 235 - International Cinema (GEGA)

An exploration of cinema produced in other countries, including essential films, directors, and production systems; an introduction to the study of international films by analyzing their influence on film history, investigating important cultural issues and the depiction of those issues, and comparing films of other nations to US cinema.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Film is one of the most dominant, influential, and message intensive art forms of the past 100 years. Knowledge of international cinema allows for students to use moving pictures as a catalyst to critique social and cultural issues in different cultures and investigate how history has changed nations and shaped the world.
In this course, students will learn the major motion pictures made in a variety of countries and will become familiar with the important cinematic movements from each country, including the most influential directors. They will develop the critical skills necessary to evaluate international films from an historical perspective and compare them to the dominant American cinematic style. Finally, they will learn to evaluate the messages within a motion picture and its success in using visual design, narrative structure, language, music and performance to create an effective and meaningful cinematic experience that speaks to cultural and social issues of that nation's cinema both in history and contemporarily. Students will learn how international films can be used to investigate global perspectives on world history, political systems, and national issues within specific countries. As the number of international film productions increases, these skills are an important part of any student's global perspectives knowledge. As such, CTAT 235 International Cinema satisfies the Global Awareness area of the General Education Program.

Computer Science

Major

Computer Science - Applied Major

Revised Program, effective Winter 2014

Successful completion of this major satisfies one of the requirements for graduation with a bachelor of science or bachelor of arts degree with a major in computer science. Graduates will be able to pursue advanced graduate degrees. The applied computer science major offers a mix of practice and theory that prepares students for career employment in computer science fields such as systems programming and analysis, software development and maintenance, as well as applications programming.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:
Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education
Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

General Studies: 65-69 Hours

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Mathematics Requirements: 17-18 hours

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 205 - Mathematical Structures for Computer Science 4 hrs
- MATH 360 - Statistical Methods 3 hrs
One course from the following:

- Any 200- or higher level course offered by the Mathematics Department not oriented specifically toward a teaching specialization (3 hrs)
- MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs

Science Requirements: 15-18 hours

Four science classes are required.

1. Three of these (with prefix BIOL, CHEM, PHY, or ESSC) must be intended for majors in their respective disciplines, with two classes having the same prefix (e.g., CHEM) and being in sequence.

   The various sequences are:

   - BIO 110 followed by BIO 120
   - CHEM 121/CHEM 122 followed by either CHEM 123/CHEM 124 or CHEM 125/CHEM 126
   - ESSC 110 followed by ESSC 111
   - PHY 223 followed by PHY 224

2. The third class intended for majors must have a different prefix (e.g., if the sequence of two were in CHEM, the third would be in BIOL, ESSC, or PHY).

3. Additionally, a fourth science class is required. This class need not be intended for majors in that discipline. This fourth course should have a prefix of BIOL, CHEM, PHY, or PSY (not ESSC).

Option I: Biology

- An additional course from the Biology, Chemistry, Physics or Psychology department. This course need not be intended for majors in that discipline (3-5 hrs)
- BIO 110 - Introductory Biology I (GEKN) 5 hrs
- BIO 120 - Introductory Biology II 5 hrs

Option II: Chemistry

- An additional course from the Biology, Chemistry, Physics or Psychology department. This course need not be intended for majors in that discipline (3-5 hrs)
- CHEM 121 - General Chemistry I (GEKN) 3 hrs
- CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr

Select one of the following options:

- CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
  and
- CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr

or
• CHEM 125 - Honors General Chemistry II (Lecture) 3 hrs and
• CHEM 126 - Honors General Chemistry II (lab) 1 hr

Option III: Geology

• ESSC 110 - The Dynamic Earth System (GEKN) 4 hrs
• ESSC 111 - The Earth System through Time 4 hrs

Option IV: Physics

• PHY 223 - Mechanics and Sound (GEKN) 5 hrs
• PHY 224 - Electricity and Light 5 hrs

Comprehensive Computer Science Curriculum Major: 47 hours

Required Courses: 41 hours

• COSC 111 - Introduction to Programming 3 hrs
• COSC 112 - Introduction to Programming Online Lab 1 hr
• COSC 211 - Programming Data Structures 3 hrs
• COSC 212 - Programming Data Structures Online Lab 1 hr

Minor Requirements:

This major does not require a minor.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
• Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  • Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  • Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  • Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Minor

Computer Science Minor

Revised Program, effective Winter 2014

Successful completion of this minor satisfies one of the requirements for graduation with a bachelor of science or a bachelor of arts degree. Students pursuing majors in other fields such as mathematics, the physical and social sciences, the arts or business will learn the practical tools for applying current computer technology to their major areas of study.

Revised Program, effective Winter 2014

Successful completion of this program, in conjunction with other teacher education requirements, qualifies students for recommendation for endorsement in computer science, certification code NR and an additional endorsement dependent on the major selected. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #050, "Computer Science."

Students must be accepted into the Initial Teacher Preparation Program before enrolling in COSC 342 - Programming Languages for Educators, COSC 303 - Applications in Computer Science and COSC 306 - Methods of Teaching Computer Science in the Secondary Schools.

Computer Science

COSC 101 - Computer Science Concepts and Practical Applications

The course emphasizes the uses and capabilities of computers in our society. Students will be exposed to several popular applications through hands-on lab activities. No previous experience with computers is assumed.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Notes: Counts toward the computer science minor if taken prior to or concurrently with COSC111 Introduction to Programming.

COSC 104 - Web Science

Empirical study of the global, emergent systems facilitated by the World Wide Web. Computing infrastructure that enables entities to interact and share information via dynamic, virtual systems. Theoretical foundations such as chaotic and complex systems, computational thinking, and virtual interaction spaces. Empirical methods. Forming hypotheses from general principles and testing them through data collection and analysis.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No

Last Updated: New Course 10/2012, effective Winter 2013

COSC 105 - Everyday Computing and Social Responsibility (GEGA)
Two hours lecture/discussion, two hours lab. This course combines extensive exploration of ethical issues faced by everyday computer users with hands-on practice using a broad variety of online and computer productivity tools to support socially responsible computer use.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
The Internet has literally brought the world to your backdoor; this has caused a multitude of unintended and unplanned consequences. For example, Twitter, YouTube, Facebook have become the major tools of political dissension and news dissemination. Expanded use of the Internet forces us all to evaluate our own personal/national/cultural views on issues like privacy, copyright law, and freedom of speech, and to better understand how others in the international community views these issues. This is the goal of this course. Understanding the diverse views on these matters will allow students to make informed decisions about individual and collective actions whenever employing technology. As such, COSC 105 meets the requirements of the Perspectives on a Diverse World, Global Awareness section of the General Education program.

Last Updated: General Education Approval 10/2013, effective Winter 2014

COSC 106 - Explorations in Robotics (GEQR)

Introduction to the theory of robotics and autonomous agents. Students will be exposed to technical and social aspects of robots in society. Students will complete selected readings, write several short papers and design and program simple robots. Rudiments of computer science topics as applied to robotics will be covered.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Gen Ed Approval 11/2009, effective Winter 2010

COSC 107 - Introduction to Software Engineering

For students in any discipline who will make decisions about the acquisition or design of software, this course imparts basic knowledge of and skills in software engineering, including software life cycles, requirements engineering, risk assessment, interaction methods, software structures, delivery methods, system integration, verification, and validation. No programming is required.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Last Updated: Spelling Error 7/2014, New Course 5/2013, effective Winter 2014

COSC 111 - Introduction to Programming

An introduction to computers, programming, algorithm development and a high-level language such as Java. In particular, strategies for problem solving, problem analysis, algorithm representation and algorithm verification are balanced with actual program development using good design and documentation techniques. The first course in the computer science major and minor, but open to all students.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 104 or equivalent
Concurrent Prerequisite: COSC 112
Last Updated: concurrent prerequisite added 11/2013, effective Winter 2014; Links 04/2011

COSC 112 - Introduction to Programming Online Lab
This course provides students with the opportunity to learn, practice and enhance their computer programming skills in an eLearning environment. Students get to practice a variety of problems related to computer programming and receive instant feedback. Topics covered include data types, arrays, if-else statements, and loop constructs. This course should be taken concurrently with Introduction to Programming (COSC 111) or by department permission.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: MATH 104 or equivalent
Concurrent Prerequisite: COSC 111
Last Updated: New Course 11/2013, effective Winter 2014

COSC 120 - Computational Principles for Mathematics and the Sciences

A hands-on introduction to programming and computational principles; use of programming and mathematical modeling to solve computational problems. Variables, types, data imprecision, arrays, conditionals, iteration, functions, recursion, file I/O, scripting, and documentation. Data analysis simulation and visualization. MATLAB or similar environment.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (MATH 105 and MATH 107) or (MATH 112) or (MATH 107 and MATH 210) or placement*
Notes: *Math placement exam level 5 (ACT math >=26, SAT math >=640, MPT3 >= 73)
Last Updated: Placement scores 01/2012; Links 04/2011

COSC 145 - Introduction to FORTRAN Programming

An introductory course for persons wishing to learn programming and applications of computers. Using the FORTRAN language, students develop and run programs to solve a variety of problems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: minimum ACT score of 19, minimum SAT score of 520 or math placement test in elementary algebra greater than or equal to 53
Major Restrictions: Does not count toward Computer Science Major or Minor
Notes: Credit will not be given for more than one of COSC145 and COSC245.

COSC 146 - Applied Programming

Introduction to computer programming for the non-major. Introduces students to integrated development environments such as Visual Basic and other application tools. Students work in a combination of lectures and supervised computer labs.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Major Restrictions: Does not count towards the Computer Science Minor, Major or Curriculum

COSC 177 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hrs

COSC 178 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.
COSC 179 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

COSC 205 - Computer Hardware and Software Systems

An applied introduction to computers including: computer hardware, operating systems, Web design, networking, trouble shooting and maintenance of computers. Lab projects include: Taking apart computers, installing operating systems, building a network and creating a web page.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CADM 105 or COSC 101
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 206 - Applied Programming II

A continuation of COSC 146 for the non-major. Advanced programming topics including file I/O, elementary data structures, and process management. Students work in a combination of lectures and supervised computer labs. Does not count towards the computer science minor, major or curriculum.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: COSC 146 and (MATH 104 or MATH 170)
Last Updated: New Course, 4/2013, effective Winter 2014

COSC 211 - Programming Data Structures

The second course in an introductory sequence for the computer science major, minor and others. Continues software engineering methodology through specification, design, coding and program correctness. Nested procedures and functions, scope and recursion. Introduction to data structures such as stacks, queues, linear lists, trees, sets and files. Analysis of sorting and searching algorithms.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 111
Concurrent Prerequisite: COSC 212
Last Updated: added concurrent prerequisite 11/2013, effective Winter 2014; Links 04/2011

COSC 212 - Programming Data Structures Online Lab

This course provides students with the opportunity to learn, practice and enhance their computer programming skills in an eLearning environment. Students get to practice a variety of problems related to computer programming and receive instant feedback. Topics covered include data types, arrays, if-else statements, and loop constructs. This course should be taken concurrently with Programming Data Structures (COSC 211) or by department permission.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: COSC 111 and COSC 112
COSC 215 - Scientific Simulation

An introductory, non-calculus based, interdisciplinary course in simulation for the sciences, gaming, and engineering. Modeling dynamically changing systems. Approximations and errors. Single scale and multi-scale models. Grid and particle systems. May be team taught by faculty in computer science, physics, chemistry, earth science, biology and others.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (PHY 221 or CHEM 117 or ESSC 110 or BIO 105) and (COSC 111 or COSC 246)
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 221 - Computer Organization I

Following an introductory course in computer programming, this course covers basic concepts of computer hardware and organization including; computer structure, machine language, instruction execution, traps and interrupts, digital representation of data, computer systems organization, elementary digital circuits, including memory and arithmetical. Students will write several programs in an assembly language.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 111 or COSC 146 or COSC 246
Last Updated: Change in description and prerequisites 06/2012, effective Winter 2013; Links 04/2011

COSC 231 - Internet-based Computing

Programming for the Internet, including GUI design and development, event-driven programming, web page design and construction, programming for current Internet and Web technologies. Ethical issues on the Internet.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 111
Concurrent Prerequisite: COSC 211
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 245 - Computer Programming and Numeric Methods

An introductory programming course focusing on numerical algorithms fundamental to scientific computer work. Discussion of polynomial interpolation, numerical integration, solutions of systems of equations and error analysis. Using the FORTRAN language, students develop and run programs to solve a variety of problems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Concurrent Prerequisite: MATH 121
Major Restrictions: Does not count toward Computer Science Major or Minor
Notes: Credit will not be given for more than one of COSC 145 and COSC 245
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 246 - Programming in C++

Introduction to computers, programming techniques and integrated development environments using C and C++. Students work in a combination of lectures and supervised computer labs. Emphasis is on problem solving using good design principles and documentation techniques. Does not count towards the computer science minor, major or curriculum.
COSC 255 - Computer Hardware and Software Systems

An applied introduction to computers including: computer hardware, operating systems, web design, networking, trouble shooting and maintenance of computers. Lab projects include: Taking apart computers, installing operating systems, building a network, and creating a web page.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CADM 105 and COSC 101
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 277 - Special Topics

A 200-level course in a specific area of computer science, to be determined by the field of specialization of the instructor and the interest of the students.

Credit Hours: 1 hr

COSC 278 - Special Topics

A 200-level course in a specific area of computer science, to be determined by the field of specialization of the instructor and the interest of the students.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

COSC 279 - Special Topics

A 200-level course in a specific area of computer science, to be determined by the field of specialization of the instructor and the interest of the students.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

COSC 303 - Applications in Computer Science

Information systems, simulation, graphics, audio communication, artificial intelligence, instruction and training, and communications. The student will write or use previously written programs in each of the above areas using microcomputers. These programs will use many languages and programs including LOGO, PASCAL, BASIC, electronic spreadsheet and a database program.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 101 and COSC 211
Class Restrictions: Junior standing
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 306 - Methods of Teaching Computer Science in the Secondary Schools
Computer science programs in the high school, information and materials needed to prepare students for the teaching of computer science in these schools. Organization and content, methods of teaching and learning, security and maintenance of equipment, professional journals and magazines available for future growth, copying software and the legality of software duplication, dealing with diversity of abilities, problem-solving skills and strategies for debugging programs. This methods class does not count toward the major or minor.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 342, CURR 305 and admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 311 - Algorithms and Data Structures

Linear lists, strings, arrays and orthogonal lists. Representation of trees and graphs. Storage systems, structures, storage allocation and collection. Symbol tables, searching and sorting techniques. Formal specification of data structures and data management systems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Concurrent Prerequisite: COSC 221
Last Updated: Course Revision 5/2014, effective Fall 2014; Change to Prerequisites and co-requisites 12/2013, effective Summer 2014; Links 04/2011;

COSC 314 - Computational Discrete Structures

Relations and algebraic structures, counting techniques, graphs, automata and languages and number theoretical algorithms. This course emphasizes discrete mathematical algorithms, their applications to problems in computer science and their implementations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211 and MATH 205
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 315 - Symbolic Computing

Symbolic computations and graphic representations in a computer algebra system such as mathematical; design of interactive notebooks; extensive use of electronic communications; applications from various areas of computer science, mathematics and the natural sciences; oral presentation of a project in an electronic classroom is required; lectures (two hours) and supervised lab (two hours).

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 111 and MATH 122
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 321 - Computer Organization II

Basic digital circuits, data representation and transfer, digital arithmetic. Digital storage and accessing, control functions, input-output facilities, systems organization, reliability, simulation techniques. Multiprogramming, multiprocessing and real-time systems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211 and COSC 221
Last Updated: Links 04/2011
COSC 341 - Programming Languages

Formal definition of programming languages; structure of statements; global properties of algorithmic languages; data description; run time representation of programs; procedural languages such as C or C++ and nonprocedural languages such as lisp or prolog.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211 and COSC 221
Notes: Credit will not be given for both COSC 341 and COSC 342
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 342 - Programming Languages for Educators

Formal definition of programming languages; structure of simple statements; global properties of algorithmic languages; structure of list processing, string manipulation, data description and simulation languages; run-time representation of program and data structures. Special emphasis will be placed on education-oriented languages.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211 and COSC 221
Notes: Credit will not be given for both COSC 341 and COSC 342
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 374 - Applied Cryptography

An introduction to cryptography and its relationship to secure systems. Making and breaking codes and ciphers. Encryption, authentication, public-key encryption, digital signatures, cipher text and plain text, block ciphers, hash functions, RSA, key management. Cryptographic protocols as a part of securing digital systems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (MATH 170 or MATH 205) and COSC 211
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 377 - Special Topics

Covers topics not considered in other courses when the immediate needs of the field, interests of the students and expertise of the faculty coincide.

Credit Hours: 1 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211, COSC 221 and department permission
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 378 - Special Topics

Covers topics not considered in other courses when the immediate needs of the field, interests of the students and expertise of the faculty coincide.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211, COSC 221 and department permission
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 379 - Special Topics
Covers topics not considered in other courses when the immediate needs of the field, interests of the students and expertise of the faculty coincide.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211, COSC 221 and department permission
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 388 - Cooperative Education in Computer Science

Four to six months of full-time employment at an industrial firm specially chosen to provide practical experience in computer science. The program consists of two work experiences (COSC388/COSC 488) alternating with full-time attendance at the University.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Any 300-level course in computer science; admittance to program by application; department permission
Class Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing
Major Restrictions: Computer Science Majors only
Notes: Graded on a credit/no-credit basis
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

COSC 403 - Seminar and Project Design for Educators

Major project design and more formalized, structured programming. Each student will work on two original major programs, one of which will be a group project. The student will report on both projects (written and oral) and give a formal presentation of the individual project to the University community in the form of a public lecture.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and COSC 342
Class Restrictions: Senior standing
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 405 - Switching Theory

Switching algebra, gate network and sequential circuit analysis and synthesis. Boolean algebra, sequential circuit state and combinational circuit minimization, hazards and races, elementary number systems and codes.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 211 and COSC 221
Class Restrictions: Juniors and Seniors only
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 421 - Systems Programming

Batch-process systems programs, components and operating characteristics. Implementation techniques for parallel processing and interrupt handling. Overall structure of multiprogramming systems. Addressing techniques, file system design and management. Interprocess communication, design of system modules and interfaces.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 221, COSC 311 and COSC 341
COSC 422 - Introduction to Microprocessors

The fundamentals of small-system software development as it applies to microprocessors and minicomputers. Introduction to microprocessors and peripheral hardware; software and software development; applications. Students will have access to both microcomputers and a minicomputer to gain first-hand knowledge of this field.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 221 or department permission

COSC 423 - Computer Operating Systems

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 221 and COSC 311

COSC 436 - Web Programming

Students will learn how to set up and configure a web server and associated services. Topics covered will include: CGI, JavaScript, Web security tools, server-side programming multiforms applets, data description languages, database connectivity, scripting languages and distributed applications. Exposure to security and efficiency issues.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 231, COSC 311 and COSC 341

COSC 439 - Computing Network Principles

The basic concepts of computer communication systems with particular emphasis on communication hardware and microcomputer networks. Students will be involved in the development and writing of software components of communications such as terminal emulators and file transfer packages. Basic communication theory and terminology, communication hardware devices, communication protocols and microcomputer networks.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 221 and COSC 311; COSC 314 recommended

COSC 444 - Foundations of Automata and Languages

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and COSC 314
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 445 - Compiler Construction

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and COSC 314 and COSC 341
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 456 - Computer Graphics

An in-depth exploration of fundamental concepts of 2D and 3D computer graphics. Topics include: geometric transformations, lighting and shading models, texture mapping, animation, solid modeling, ray-tracing, hidden-surface removal and the use of graphics in visualization and computer gaming. Course is project oriented, including interactive 3D animations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and either the completion of MATH 122 or MATH 205
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 457 - Computer Game Programming

Introduces the central components of 3D computer game programming: game design, using a 3D graphics engine (lighting, shading, textures, etc.), terrain modeling, solid modeling, kinematics, collision detection, real-time animation, simple AI agency, sound integration.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311
Class Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

COSC 461 - Heuristic Programming

Programming techniques for problems with large-state spaces or uncertain knowledge: searches, heuristic evaluation, rule-based inference, approximate reasoning and adaptation using neural nets, genetic algorithms and reinforcement learning.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and COSC 314
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: No longer available for Graduate credit 10/14, effective Winter 2015, Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011
COSC 471 - Database Principles

A technical review of the theory and principles of database design and organization. The concepts and structures necessary to design and implement a database management system. Network, hierarchical and relational database models. Data normalization, data description languages, query languages, data integrity and security.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and COSC 314
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.

Major Restrictions: Computer Science Majors only

COSC 481W - Software Engineering and Senior Project (GEWI)

This capstone course surveys the fundamentals of software engineering, including requirements analysis, design, disciplined implementation and evaluation. Students will work on a semester-long software project that employs principles learned in other computer science classes.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: COSC 311 and department permission
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Writing Intensive:
COSC 485 - Senior Projects in SAG

The application of simulation, animation and gaming techniques for the completion of a team based final project. Also covered will be a discussion of necessary skills for career success. Guest speakers and site visitations will be part of the class.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: SAG 470
Class Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing
Cross-Listed with: SAG 485

Economics Programs and Courses

Economics

Major

Actuarial Science and Economics Major - Economics

Actuarial science and economics is a joint program of the Mathematics and Economics departments. In addition to following a prescribed series of courses, students are expected to pass the first two actuarial examinations. The examinations are sponsored by leading actuarial societies and administered in numerous U.S. locations. MATH 372 and MATH 472 are designed to prepare students for these examinations.

All majors must meet with the undergraduate advising coordinator in the Department of Mathematics to fill out a program sheet before graduation. At least 15 credit hours in the program, at the 300 level or above, must be taken at Eastern Michigan University.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 61 hours

Required Courses: 12 hours
- ACC 240 - Principles of Financial Accounting 3 hrs
- ACC 241 - Principles of Managerial Accounting 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- COSC 111 - Introduction to Programming 3 hrs
- COSC 120 - Computational Principles for Mathematics and the Sciences 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- ECON 361 - Financial Economics 3 hrs
- FIN 350 - Principles of Finance 3 hrs

Required Mathematics Courses: 25 hours

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs
- MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 223 - Multivariable Calculus 4 hrs
- MATH 370 - Probability and Statistics I 3 hrs
- MATH 372 - Problems in Actuarial Studies I 2 hrs
- MATH 471 - Probability and Statistics II 3 hrs
- MATH 472 - Problems in Actuarial Studies II 2 hrs

Required Economics Courses: 18 hours

- ECON 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 411 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 412 - Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 405 - Economic Analysis for Business 3 hrs
- ECON 415 - Introduction to Econometrics 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Courses: 6 hours

Any combination of electives from:

- Courses at the 300-level or above in mathematics
- ECON 340 - Money and Banking 3 hrs
- ECON 445W - Economic Fluctuations and Forecasting (GEWI) 3 hrs
- ECON 455W - Cost-Benefit Analysis (GEWI) 3 hrs

Minor Requirements:

This major does not require a minor.
Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Writing Intensive Course

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S.
institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Bachelor of Business Administration in Economics

The Bachelor of Business Administration in Economics degree, offered by the College of Business (COB), is crafted to provide professional training in economics and in business for students contemplating administrative or research careers in business or government.

The program is unique in three respects:

- It allows students to pursue a major in economics while taking the same foundations courses required of all business students. Hence the name BBA in Economics.
- Pursuing both Business and Economics curricula is a natural and synergistic combination - each reinforces the other - making this program better than either economics or business alone, thereby, providing students with an advantage in a competitive job market.
- It provides students who wish to pursue graduate studies with the option of seeking an MBA, M.A. or Ph.D. in such fields as economics, finance or management.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Admission Criteria: 56 Hours
Students seeking admission to any program in the College of Business must complete 56 credit hours of course work to include the courses listed below.

The foundation courses for admission to the College of Business must be completed with a minimum earned grade of C- (C required for transfer courses) in each. Students must also have an EMU GPA of at least 2.50.

College of Business Foundation Courses: 21 Hours

The following seven COB courses are to be completed prior to COB admission, and count toward the total credit hours required for this major.

- ACC 240 - Principles of Financial Accounting 3 hrs
- ACC 241 - Principles of Managerial Accounting 3 hrs
- COB 200L - Introduction to Business (GELB) 3 hrs
- DS 265 - Business Statistics I 3 hrs
- IS 215 - Information Systems for Business 3 hrs
- LAW 293 - Legal Environment of Business 3 hrs
- MGMT 202 - Business Communication 3 hrs

Non-College of Business Foundation Courses: 15 Hours

- CTAC 124 - Foundations of Speech Communication (GEEC) 3 hrs
- ECON 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ENGL 121 - Composition II: Researching the Public Experience (GEEC) 3 hrs or WRTG 121 - Composition II: Researching the Public Experience (GEEC) 3 hrs
- Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR) requirement 3 hrs

Additional Coursework: 20 Hours

In addition to the courses listed above, students must complete an additional 20 credit hours of course work prior to admission to the College of Business.

Note:

Students pursuing a BBA in Economics may choose to substitute ECON 310 - Economic Statistics for DS 265 as part of the College of Business Foundation Course requirement. ECON 310 is recommended for students who plan to take ECON 415 - Introduction to Econometrics as an elective.

BBA Economics Major Requirements: 69 hours

Mathematics Course: 3-4 hours

Please select one Mathematics course from the following:

- MATH 105 - College Algebra (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 118 - Linear Models and Probability (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 119 - Applied Calculus (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs

Required Economics Courses: 9 hours

Students must successfully complete ECON 201 and ECON 202 (required for COB admission) prior to enrolling in the following courses.

- ECON 411 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 412 - Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis 3 hrs

Select one course from the following:
- ECON 406W - History of Economic Thought (GEWI) 3 hrs
- ECON 445W - Economic Fluctuations and Forecasting (GEWI) 3 hrs
- ECON 455W - Cost-Benefit Analysis (GEWI) 3 hrs
- ECON 480W - International Economics (GEWI) 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Economics Courses: 20-21 hours

Students are to choose any ECON courses (300 level or above) to fulfill the remaining 20-21 credit hours. However, students are advised to select courses that are most closely related to business applications.

Although, not required, students may choose from among the three of the remaining writing intensive courses above, plus other courses closely related to business applications such as:

- ECON 320 - Labor Economics 3 hrs
- ECON 340 - Money and Banking 3 hrs
- ECON 350 - Government Finance 3 hrs
- ECON 361 - Financial Economics 3 hrs
- ECON 405 - Economic Analysis for Business 3 hrs
- ECON 415 - Introduction to Econometrics 3 hrs

Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Economics Major

The Economics major in the College of Arts and Sciences is designed to prepare students for administrative or research careers in business, finance, government and social service agencies. The Economics major is also an excellent preparation for students planning to attend Law School. Students in this major are encouraged to consider a minor or second major in Finance, General Business (or other business field), Mathematics, Political Science, or Philosophy to match their specific career goal. Students planning to pursue graduate studies in Economics are strongly encouraged to complete a minor in Mathematics.

Students may choose to pursue a Bachelor of Business Administration in Economics in the College of Business

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Additional Requirements: 3-4 hours

One course from the following:

- MATH 118 - Linear Models and Probability (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 119 - Applied Calculus (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs

Major Requirements: 30 hours

Required Courses: 15 hours

- ECON 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 411 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 412 - Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- ECON 310 - Economic Statistics 3 hrs
- ECON 415 - Introduction to Econometrics 3 hrs

Elective Courses: 15 hours
Although any 15 credit hours of 300-level or above electives in economics will complete the requirements for the major, students should choose courses related to the career path they wish to pursue. Inquire at the Department of Economics regarding suggested concentrations, suggested career paths and course selection.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Writing Intensive Course

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  o Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Economics

ECON 100 - Introduction to Economic Problems and Policies (GEKS)

A nontechnical introduction to basic problems facing the U.S. economy and different opinions over economic policy choices. Analysis of the controversial role of government in a private market economy.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Notes: Not recommended for business students. Not open to students with ECON201/202.
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Students in the course acquire a basic understanding of both the subject of economics and the approach used by economists in their study of economic questions. Thus students learn about both the content and the methodology of economics. The contemporary international economic environment is characterized by globalization and competition. This reality confronts the USA and its people with a number of economic challenges and opportunities. Economics 100 presents students with an opportunity to read about, think about and discuss these issues. in a series of written assignments, students are asked to apply their developing knowledge of the content and methodology of economics to an analysis of a variety of economic problems, as well as to an evaluation of government policy measures designed to respond to these problems. In summary, Economics 100 students learn the following: (1) The basic concepts and principles of economics, such as efficiency and productivity, markets and prices; (2) The "economic way of thinking", that is, identifying measuring, quantifying and comparing costs and benefits as a basis for informed decision-making; (3) How to apply both of the above to real-world economic problems, such as the outsourcing of jobs to low-wage countries and the escalating costs of prescription drugs.

ECON 103L - Economics for Living (GELB)

This course develops the tools and skills needed to survive and thrive in daily life. Focus is on understanding the economy and on how to evaluate costs and benefits related to everyday choices like student loans, the use of banks and credit, healthcare insurance options, and retirement plan participation.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Notes: This course will count as credit for Learning Beyond the Classroom.

ECON 108 - Introduction to the Global Economy (GEGA)

An introductory-level course accessible to student who have had no prior exposure to economics. It explains the basic concepts and principles of global economics in a non-technical, non-mathematical manner. Students learn about the challenges and the opportunities that are presented by the globalization of the world economy.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Perspectives on a Diverse World:

Students in the course acquire a basic understanding of, and appreciation for, the variety of economic systems, economic models and economic policies that have been adopted by different nations to guide their respective paths of economic growth and development. Students also receive an introduction to the web of economic relations that tie nations ever more tightly in the globalizing world economy.

The globalization of the world economy implies increasing interaction among the economies of different nations. Economic interrelationships are complex and dynamic. Our competitors in the globalized world economy, such as China, India and Japan, are at the same time our partners. This reality poses both challenges and opportunities. The possibility of achieving positive, peaceful outcomes is enhanced by a thorough understanding of the differences among the economies of the world.

ECON 177 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr

ECON 178 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

ECON 179 - Special Topics

ECON 200 - The American Economy

Survey of the principles of economics; the basic knowledge of the functioning of the present-day American economy.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Notes: Not open to students with ECON201/202.

ECON 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics (GEKS)

The first half of basic principles of economics. Emphasizes macroeconomic concepts of national income, fiscal and monetary policy, and problems of unemployment, inflation and economic growth.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Prerequisite: Level 3 Math Placement or above, or MATH 098 or above.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Economics is one of the fundamental social sciences because it systematically investigates the economic relationships and interactions among people living in society. In the course acquire a basic understanding of both the subject of economics and the tools used by economists in their study of economic questions. (1) macroeconomics looks at how people and societies make choices, while weighing the costs and benefits of those choices. The basic assumption is that normal economic behavior is guided by a process of always seeking to get the maximum benefit at minimum cost; (2) introduces students to concepts such as supply and demand, business cycles, inflation and unemployment, money and banking, and taxing and government spending. Here students learn how economics research develops and uses numbers and models (simplifications) to explain changes in these concepts; (3) introduces students to some of the different interpretations of the desirability of changes and their outcomes. One school of thought explored focuses on "what is," with no value judgments implied. Another school of thought focuses on "what ought to be," based on value judgments about the social desirability of outcomes.

Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS)

Second half of an introduction to basic principles of economics. Emphasizes microeconomic concepts of demand, supply and problems relating to prices and resource allocation.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Prerequisite: Level 3 math placement or above, or MATH 098 or above.

English Language and Literature

Major

Creative Writing Major

The Creative Writing Major (30 hours) and Minor (21 hours) emphasize interdisciplinarity and experimentation through the exploration of poetry, fiction, hybrid genres, and multimedia literature. The curriculum incorporates a comprehensive approach to creative writing and critical reading, as well as experience with new media. Students learn to draw from a range of contemporary artistic practices to explore the relationship between language and aesthetic structures. We offer a sequence of workshops introducing students to a wide variety of writing styles, methods, and forms while enabling students to focus on selected areas of interest. The major in Creative Writing concludes with a Capstone Project and student performance of original work.

The Creative Writing Program promotes community engagement while guiding students’ exploration of the personal and social roles of language and literature. By reading and critiquing their peers’ works, students engage in a culture of collaboration and review. In addition, through classroom visits, specialized workshops, and our BathHouse Events series, students enter into dialogue with authors, publishers, translators, editors, performers, and new media artists.

Elective courses broaden students’ interaction in a larger arena of the arts while providing the expertise required for interdisciplinary approaches to writing. The Program encourages students to consider Art, Philosophy, Communication, Media, Literary Studies, and Theatre Arts as possible minors.

The Creative Writing Program prepares students for a range of writing possibilities and language-centered endeavors.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state “for elementary teachers,” and, if special education, PSY 101.

4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.

5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.

6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Creative Writing Minor

The Creative Writing Major (30 hours) and Minor (21 hours) emphasize interdisciplinarity and experimentation through the exploration of poetry, fiction, hybrid genres, and multimedia literature. The curriculum incorporates a comprehensive approach to creative writing and critical reading, as well as experience with new media. Students learn to draw from a range of contemporary artistic practices to explore the relationship between language and aesthetic structures. We offer a sequence of workshops introducing students to a wide variety of writing styles, methods, and forms while enabling students to focus on selected areas of interest. The major in Creative Writing concludes with a Capstone Project and student performance of original work.

The Creative Writing Program promotes community engagement while guiding students’ exploration of the personal and social roles of language and literature. By reading and critiquing their peers’ works, students engage in a culture of collaboration and review. In addition, through classroom visits, specialized workshops, and our BathHouse Events series, students enter into dialogue with authors, publishers, translators, editors, performers, and new media artists.

Elective courses broaden students’ interaction in a larger arena of the arts while providing the expertise required for interdisciplinary approaches to writing. The Program encourages students to consider Art, Philosophy, Communication, Media, Literary Studies, and Theatre Arts as possible minors.

The Creative Writing Program prepares students for a range of writing possibilities and language-centered endeavors.

Critical Graduation Information:
Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education
Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Jewish Studies (JSTS) Minor

Mission Statement
Eastern Michigan University's Interdisciplinary Jewish Studies program offers courses concerned with the history of the Jewish people, a story of survival under extraordinary circumstances. It considers the cultural and intellectual gifts Jews have given the world. It also focuses on the Jewish faith, its richness, its intricacy, its demands, as well as its complex and fascinating relationships with other religions. This program draws on faculty expertise from throughout the College of Arts and Sciences - ultimately it will draw on such expertise from throughout the university. It engages students in a wide realm of co-curricular activities including lectures and study abroad opportunities. EMU's program in Jewish Studies provides a gathering place for EMU's numerous ethnic communities to learn more about Jews and Judaism, a space to build bridges, to open and engage in discourse, to create new understandings between Jews and the many other groups that comprise the diverse culture of southeast Michigan.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.

Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)

Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.

Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.

Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.

Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.

- Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
- Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
- Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor

Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.

- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Children's Literature

CHL 137 - Harry Potter: Literary Allusion, Children's Literature and Popular Culture (GEKH)

Students will read novels in J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter series; myths, legends and folktales on which they are based; and criticism written about the novels. They will focus on literary terminology, literary allusion, literary merit and the public debates about the role of the humanities in contemporary culture.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Since the books in the Harry Potter series are children's texts and a cultural phenomenon, they also have become symbols in larger cultural battles over religious values, literacy and the role of the children's literature in shaping the next generation's beliefs about gender, social class, race, imperialism, capitalism and spirituality. This makes these books an ideal model to use in a classroom to illustrate the relevance of literature and literary studies to society. A close study of these novels as complex literary works that have roots in classic literature, as cultural phenomena and as the objects of public debates can highlight for students all that is at stake in literary interpretation and cultural producing. Therefore, students in this course will explore questions such as: Do the books have literary value, or are they just commercial products? Are the books dangerous for children to read, or do they benefit children? Where is the line between literature, media and mass-produced products and should there/can there be a line? Why are these books so popular, and what does their popularity tell us about how we are and what we, as a culture, believe ourselves to be?

This engages students in current public debates about the Harry Potter novels, which can lead to an emphatic understanding of other points of view; because it will introduce students to basic literary terms and concepts and to current debates in the field; because students will be required to analyze and think critically about literary works in class discussion and in various writing assignments; and because students will be asked to develop their own interpretations of texts.

CHL 207 - Introduction to Children's Literature (GEKH)

A concentrated reading course designed to impart the knowledge necessary for an appreciation and understanding of children's literature and its use in the schools. In addition to reading the classics and the critically acclaimed works of both fiction and nonfiction by modern writers, students will study poetry, folklore and mythology, and examine the relationship between illustration and text. Does not count toward a major or minor in curricula for teachers in junior and senior high school.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Students will learn about the ways that children's literature cultivates aesthetic appreciation for both adults and children; they will learn literary terms and concepts and use these to discuss and to carefully read, research, interpret and write about works of children's literature; they will apply discursive practices of the field by completing a variety of written assignments; they will study works within social and historical contexts considering such factors as the publishing industry, printing technology, literacy development and the cultural construction of the child; and students will gain an understanding of the importance of diverse children's literatures to our culture. Students in the course will study a rich body of texts that can help to develop students' cultural literacy and knowledge of the humanities. A course introducing students to children's literature should cover not only contemporary works, but also the mythology, legends and folktales upon which many contemporary texts are based. Students also will read and study class texts from the Golden Age of children's literature such as Alice's Adventure in Wonderland or The Wizard of Oz. A necessary focus of the course is also the role of literature in a society and the ways that literature both affects and reflects cultural values: the books a culture writes for its children often reflect deeply-held beliefs about children, childhood and the role of literature their construction. Conversely, a culture's values and beliefs also are reflected in the books it chooses to keep away from its children. Therefore, the history of censorship of children's books also must be discussed and analyzed.

_Last Updated:_ Prerequisite and Class Restriction Change 05/2012, effective Winter 2013

CHL 208 - Multicultural Children's Literature (GEUS)

Introduction to literature for children and young adults by and about African Americans, Asian Americans, Latinos and Native Americans, including history of multicultural writing for the young; major issues of multiculturalism; historical and cultural background of each group; and critical apparatus for the selection, interpretation, and evaluation of such literature.

_Credit Hours:_ 3 hrs

_Perspectives on a Diverse World:_

A study of children's literature is also a study of the values, beliefs and attitudes of a society, since what adults offer to children reflects contemporary adult views. This course exposes students to multicultural literature for young readers, as well as the history, beliefs, values and attitudes of underrepresented groups in the United States. Course design assures adequate representation of the literature by and about a wide selection of minorities in our country, with emphasis on four major cultures-African, Asian, Latino and Native Americans- as well as the diversity within each culture. Supplementary materials in history, cultural anthropology and philosophy provide a sound basis for the discussion of the literary works, but the primary focus is on the literature itself. The history of the development of multicultural literature for young readers, criteria for evaluation, literary criticism, as well as cultural authenticity are explored. Since this is an introductory course, it will also include a discussion of basic literary terms and literary criticism, as well as fundamental issues such as why we study literature, what culture means, how literature for young readers can inform us about culture, etc.

_Last Updated:_ -

CHL 209 - Global Children's Literature (GEGA)

Students will learn to examine critically a variety of literature for young readers from around the world, and thereby to comprehend and appreciate it. History and culture of representative nations and important political and social issues- such as human rights, war, genocide, social structure, intolerance, poverty, education and religion - will be explored. The course is designed for students who intend to work with children and young adults as teachers, librarians, parents, caregivers etc.

Creative Writing

CRTW 201 - Introduction to Creative Writing (GEKA)

A writing workshop introducing the basic forms and methods of poetry and fiction, through student writing projects, workshop discussions and the reading of contemporary creative work in these genres.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course is a workshop in creative writing. Students acquire basic knowledge in the practice and evaluation of poetry and fiction, as well as in the use of literary vocabularies and techniques. Literary models will inspire and direct students' own creative writing and inquiry into the relationship between form and content and between critical and creative thinking. The discipline of creative writing as a field of art, one continuous with other arts, will be stressed in the course by focusing on the process of creativity and procedures for generating new writing. We expect students to experiment in forms and to explore the genres of fiction and poetry, including the ground between them. We also encourage students to find forums and audiences for their creative work by editing and printing small collections of writing and by reading, exhibiting and performing their creative work.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Equivalent Courses: WRTG 121

Effective Communication:
In English 121, EMU students develop the foundation for writing, research and critical thinking strategies that they will use throughout their college careers and in the workplace. Writings is both a means of communication, and a tool for developing new ideas. Good writers are flexible. They know how to assess the expectations of a variety of audiences with whom they want to communicate and how to draw on or develop different strategies to meet those expectations. Good writers also understand that different kinds of writing have different conventions and they can move fluidly between those conventions. English 121 students develop these strategies that are key to effective communication throughout the course. Students write between 50-70 pages of draft work and between 20-30 pages of polished, final-draft work during the course of the semester, and that work is supported and directed by frequent feedback from the instructor.

LITR 100 - Worlds on the Page: An Intro to LIT (GEKH)

An introduction to the techniques of critical reading with equal emphasis on prose fiction, poetry and drama. Development of a fundamental understanding and enjoyment of reading.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Literature captures the hopes, politics, emotions and ideals not just of individuals, but of generations. Reading literature provides a window into cultures past. It also reveals how creative expressions can shape individual and community understandings of the world in which we live. Literature 100 is designed to cultivate students appreciation of literary texts by providing a context to learn about the formal and historical features of different kinds of poems, plays and works of fiction. This class introduces terms important for the critical understanding of poetry, drama and fiction as imaginative literary forms. It also helps students analyze poems, plays and stories as products of the cultures that produced them and as texts that have impacted and influenced societies. Because the course focuses on different types of literature in historical contexts, students will gain a nuanced understanding of the cultural meaning of poetry, drama and fiction and learn to interpret literary texts as complex social practices that are also meaningful as human art.

LITR 101 - Imaginary Worlds: An Intro to Fiction (GEKH)

Reading and critical analysis of prose fiction intended to deepen the student's understanding and enjoyment of prose fiction.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Fiction draws readers in by presenting compelling characters, engaging situations or familiar human problems. Whether the worlds in fiction feel comfortably realistic or expand a reader's horizons with their newness, fiction remains popular for its ability to explore the boundaries of human possibility. Literature 1010 is designed to cultivate students' appreciation of prose fiction by providing a context to learn about the formal and historical features of different kinds of short stories and novels. This class introduces terms important for the critical understanding of fiction as an imaginative literary form. It also helps students analyze the plots, character and setting of fiction not only as windows into the themes of the texts but as literary works that have impacted and influenced the on-going traditions of Western literature. Because the course focuses on different types of fiction in historical contexts, students gain a nuanced understanding of the cultural meaning of fiction and learn to interpret these texts as a complex social practice meaningful as human art.

LITR 103 - All the World's a Stage: An Intro to Drama (GEKH)

Reading and critical analysis of drama intended to deepen the student's understanding and enjoyment of drama.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Drama, perhaps more than any other literary form, brings the written word to life. On stage, actors offer an audience an interpretation of a play. In writing, drama offers readers a chance to imagine themselves as other people and to examine the consequences of making choices in situations that might otherwise feel foreign. The result of reading drama thus can often be greater understanding of both oneself and others. Literature 103 is designed to cultivate students' appreciation of dramatic literature by giving them a context to learn about the formal and historical features of different kinds of plays and theatrical texts.
This class gives students terms important for the critical understanding of drama as an imaginative literary form. It also helps students analyze the plots, character and setting of drama not only as windows into the themes of the plays but as literary works that have impacted and influenced the ongoing traditions of literature. Because the course focuses on different types of drama in historical contexts, students gain a nuanced understanding of the cultural meaning of drama and learn to interpret drama as a complex social practice meaningful as human art.

LITR 106 - Rome and America (GEKH)

A comparison of the people and culture of ancient Rome and modern America, considering individual hopes and ideals, religious beliefs and ideas about death, government, morality, love and sex. Team taught by a member of the English Department and a classicist.

Credit Hours: 6 hrs
Cross-Listed with: CLAS 106
Knowledge of the Disciplines:

This course introduces students to the humanities disciplines of the study of American literature and of ancient Roman literature. By its strong emphasis on comparative analysis, the course facilitates a clear understanding of the literary concept of genre (e.g., satire, epic, lyric, novel, etc.). Besides issues of literary theory, the course also encourages the appreciation of continuity in major themes, such as the definition of “heroism” or of the “successful” life, the gender system of the relevant cultures, and social class distinctions, as well as the techniques (e.g., parody, irony, allegory, symbolism, etc.) common to the literatures of classical Roman antiquity and present-day American. By examining literary works from two cultures remote in time and place from each other, students learn to grasp and evaluate what is traditional and what is innovative in each.

LITR 161 - Native American Literature (GEUS & GEKH)

A course in the oral and written literature of Native American cultures — emphasizing memoirs, essays, fiction, poetry, drama and film of the 20th and 21st centuries — examined within their cultural and historical contexts. This course will promote and understanding of traditional Native world views, as well as examine the impact of Native peoples' contact with other cultures.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
LITR 161 will study the oral and written literature's of Native American cultures, with emphasis upon the authored memoirs, essays, fiction, poetry and film of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Students will read and become familiar with a range of oral traditional and 19th, 20th and 21st century texts by Native American writers from a variety of Native North American cultures, and they should be able to identify continuities between oral traditional and contemporary Native texts. Texts studied will be examined within their cultural and historical contexts. This course will promote an understanding of traditional Native world views, in conjunction with an awareness of the ways in which the ongoing legacy of colonialism and contact with other cultures have impacted Native peoples, and it will explore current debates and issues in the field of Native American studies. Through their exposure to Native literatures, students should become more sensitive to and understanding of other cultures. They should also be aware of their own cultural views and the impact that those views have on other cultures. Students should more readily recognize stereotypes about Native Americans and other groups of peoples. In general, they should become better world citizens through their development of critical thinking skills about cross-cultural issues. Students will be encouraged to make connections to the local Native American community by attending PowWows and other available events. Through their studies, students will gain an appreciation of the rich diversity, strength and beauty in Native cultures and literary traditions.

LITR 163 - Jewish-American Literature and Culture (GEUS)

This course examines the complex position of Jews in America — considering minority status, assimilation and cultural history of Jewish population — by focusing on poetry, prose and drama that reflects awareness of both an oppressive European past and a desire to more forward in the vibrant intellectual life of the 20th and 21st centuries.
Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Introduction to Jewish American Literature asks students to consider what kinds of contributions Jews have made to American life, and what kinds of struggles they have had to endure in order to make those contributions. In particular, the course asks students to consider how American Jews have represented themselves and their cultural situations in the literary genres of poetry, prose and drama. Introduction to Jewish-American Literature meets the U.S. Diversity requirement of the new general education curriculum because it demonstrates how Jewish Americans have constructed themselves within a nation that has often been far from accepting of difference. It also asks students to appreciate how literature written by Jews has helped to reconstruct American attitudes about the accommodation of marginalized groups.

LITR 164 - Introduction to Asian American Literature (GEUS)

This course is designed to help students examine the experiences of Asian Americans in the U.S. as shown through prose and poetry. Course work is framed through historical cultural backgrounds, the immigrant experience and current ideological perspectives of persons who self-identify as both Asian and American. Film screenings provide further context for study.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Asian peoples account for a significant portion of immigrants to the U.S. Asian American literature will provide a means for students to understand Asian American experiences in the U.S. through fiction and poetry, supplemented by occasional films. By discussing the relationship between literature and culture, students will identify issues related to ethnicity, class and gender in the U.S. from multiple Asian perspectives. Understanding these issues can promote their success in the global U.S. community. For these reasons Literature 164 meets the requirements for a U.S. Diversity course in the General Education program.

LITR 180 - Rebels and Outsiders in Literature (GEKH)

In-depth, multi-genre study of literature that goes against the grain of societal and/or literary conventions; the focus is on themes or literary movements that represent the position of outsiders or rebels. Texts will be examined in their historical, cultural, and critical contexts. Specific topics vary by instructor (see subtitles in the schedule).

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Repeatable for Credit: No
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course has been developed in response to student interest in examining literature that goes against the grain of societal and/or literary conventions. Course topics will vary by instructor, according to themes or literary movements that reflect the course emphasis and may include topics like students in Beat Literature, Anti-War literature, and literature of Social Protests, among others. The course will include texts from a range of literary genres. Texts chosen will be examined in their historical, cultural, philosophical, and critical contexts, for the ways in which they promote greater understanding of the literature of protests and its adversarial or outsider relationship to the broader literary canon, which such works both react against and re=define. Students will acquire literary terms and apply them in analysis of literary texts; they will investigate issues in and approaches to literary analysis, and they will develop the skills of close reading and writing about literature. While investigating social, cultural, and aesthetic controversies, they will practice interpretive and writing skills. Through their studies, students will gain an appreciation for the ways in which literature is both affected by and promotes social and ideological change.

LITR 200 - Literary Studies for Literature Lovers (GEKH)

An intensive introduction to poetry, fiction and drama designed to appeal to the enthusiast who loves reading literature. Especially useful for those considering majoring in literary studies or English education. Course content is thematically focused (themes vary by instructor) and covers multiple literary periods as well as writing in different styles.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
LITR 200 is designed to provide students who love literature with a framework for thinking critically about the texts that they read. In this intensive introduction to literary studies, course readings focus on exposing students to multiple genres of writing (fiction, poetry and drama), locating particular texts within the cultural context in which they were produced, and tracing the evolution of one or more literary themes through multiple historical periods. Students will be challenged to consider literature from a range of perspectives and literary periods, through a sustained look at different types of writing within each major genre. In considering thematic or structural similarities between individual texts, students will come to see how literature both reflects and inspires changes in imaginative, political, social and/or cultural practices.

LITR 201 - Introduction to Science Fiction (GEKH)

This course is designed to expose students to the genre of science fiction through a survey of some of the greatest short stories and novels of this genre. LITR 210 - Introduction to Shakespeare (GEKH)

An introduction to at least five of Shakespeare's plays with emphasis upon the tragedies.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:

LITR 210 allows students to explore the creative imagination of one of the most influential geniuses of western culture, William Shakespeare, as well as the cultural environment- Elizabethan and Jacobean London- that stimulated and shaped it. LITR 210 is designed to provide students who love literature- and have an interest in learning more about Shakespeare - with a framework for thinking critically about Shakespeare's writing. Students will conduct formal analysis of plays, as well as more critical analysis of the surrounding history and language associated with his work. Students will not only develop a sense of Shakespeare's plays as theatrical productions, they also interact with the plays as literary texts, developing interpretations of character motivation, exchanging ideas on possible themes and dramatic conflicts and comparing and contrasting one play with another. In this intensive introduction to Shakespeare's dramatic and lyric writing, course readings focus on exposing students to Shakespeare's different genres of writing, locating his drama in the cultural contexts in which they were produced. Because Shakespeare has been such an influence on many writers throughout the centuries, the study of his work provides the opportunity to study how different literary and dramatic tastes evolve through time.

Writing

WRTG 120 - Composition I: Writing the College Experience

Introduces use of writing and reading for inquiry. Students write extended essays about subjects relevant to the college experience using conventions of standard written English; assignments may also incorporate other genres and styles. Emphasis is placed on using writing and reading as a process for discovery, and on communicating ideas to audiences.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Equivalent Courses: ENGL 120
Last Updated: New Course 10/2013, effective Summer 2014

WRTG 121 - Composition II: Researching the Public Experience (GEEC)

Focuses on academic writing and inquiry. Students use multiple modes of research to develop literacy used in academic and other public contexts. Through extended reading and writing, students engage in the process of writing researched essays that reflect conventions of standard written English and standard documentation styles.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Equivalent Courses: ENGL 121
Effective Communication:
In WRTG 121, EMU students develop the foundation for writing, research and critical thinking strategies that they will use throughout their college careers and in the workplace. Writings is both a means of communication, and a tool for developing new ideas. Good writers are flexible. They know how to assess the expectations of a variety of audiences with whom they want to communicate and how to draw on or develop different strategies to meet those expectations. Good writers also understand that different kinds of writing have different conventions and they can move fluidly between those conventions. Writing 121 students develop these strategies that are key to effective communication throughout the course. Students write between 50-70 pages of draft work and between 20-30 pages of polished, final-draft work during the course of the semester, and that work is supported and directed by frequent feedback from the instructor.

Geography and Geology Programs and Courses

Geography and Geology

Major

Earth Science Major

The earth science major is designed for those interested in pursuing a career as an earth science technician or interested in combining a background in earth science with other fields, including surveying and spatial analysis or even journalism and law. Students pursuing careers as professional earth scientists or considering graduate studies in this area should follow the Geology Major Professional Concentration and carefully select elective courses within that program, in consultation with an advisor, to provide complementary training in either the atmosphere, hydrosphere, or biosphere, or some combination thereof, depending on the student's specific area of interest. Numerous minors complement the earth science major. These include, but are not limited to, the following: coastal environments, environmental analysis, chemistry, biology, physics and math.

Minor Requirements:

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Geography Major

The geography major includes the study of physical landscapes, their origins and the processes that alter them; the imprint of human activity on the earth's surface; the complex relationships among places; and the application of technology to human resource identification, conservation and management.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 33-34 hours

Required Courses: 18 hours

- ESSC 110 - The Dynamic Earth System (GEKN) 4 hrs
- ESSC 227 - Topographic Maps 2 hrs
- GEOG 107 - Introduction to Geography (GEKS) 3 hrs
- GEOG 110 - World Regions (GEGA) 3 hrs
- GEOG 276 - Principles of Geographic Information Systems 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- GEOG 100 - Introduction to Geospatial Sciences and Technology 3 hrs
- GEOG 235 - Economic Geography 3 hrs
- GEOG 360 - Cultural Geography 3 hrs

Specialization Courses: 9-10 hours

Three courses from one of the following areas of specialization:

Geographic Techniques
• ESSC 303 - Field Geography 3 hrs
• ESSC 485 - Introduction to Remote Sensing 3 hrs
• GEOG 376 - Spatial Analysis 3 hrs
• GEOG 476 - Geodatabases and GIS Client Applications 3 hrs
• GEOG 480 - Geographic Information Systems Projects 3 hrs

Physical Geography

• ESSC 250 - Introduction to Coastal Processes 3 hrs
• ESSC 300 - Introduction to Hydrology 3 hrs
• ESSC 320 - Oceanography 3 hrs
• ESSC 324 - Weather 3 hrs
• ESSC 325 - Geomorphology 4 hrs
• ESSC 327 - Soil Science 4 hrs
• ESSC 350 - Biogeography 3 hrs
• ESSC 424 - The Global Climate System 3 hrs
• ESSC 425W - Severe and Unusual Weather (GEWI) 3 hrs
• ESSC 450 - Lake and Coastal Processes 3 hrs

Human Geography

• GEOG 212 - Geography of Travel and Tourism 3 hrs
• GEOG 332 - Urban Geography 3 hrs
• GEOG 333 - Unsettled Geographies 3 hrs
• GEOG 361 - Geography of Population 3 hrs
• GEOG 405 - Aerial Photo Interpretation 3 hrs
• GEOG 441 - Transportation Geography and Planning 3 hrs
• GHPR 335 - Historic Preservation 3 hrs
• URP 215 - Introduction to Urban and Regional Planning 3 hrs

Regional Geography

• GEOG 314W - Geography of Russia and Neighboring States (GEWI) 3 hrs
• GEOG 318 - Geography of Asia 3 hrs
• GEOG 319 - Geography of Europe 3 hrs
• GEOG 320 - Geography of the United States and Canada 3 hrs
• GEOG 321 - Geography of Latin America 3 hrs
• GEOG 322 - Geography of Africa 3 hrs

Writing Intensive Course

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. Geography Major - Geo-Tourism Concentration

A geographic approach to tourism represents a distinctly different emphasis from the traditional business approach to the travel industry. The traditional business approach to travel necessarily sees an industry that must be efficiently managed for maximum sustainability of profit. The tourism geography approach, by contrast, focuses upon the physical and human geographic setting of the tourism experience. In addition, it focuses upon the intimate connection of the "internal" tourist experience with the "external" geography of the destination.

The geo-tourism specialist asks, "Specifically, what geographic images and expectations might the tourist carry internally, images and expectations that will color their transactions with the physical setting and culture of that destination? Further, what planning and presentational means will most successfully allow the tourist to fully experience and remember the destination's unique geography?"

This geo-tourism approach represents an excellent example of applied human geography. Upon completion of the concentration, students will be well prepared as geo-tourism specialists.

Geology Major - Hydrogeology Concentration

The hydrogeology concentration prepares students for graduate study or employment in the hydrogeology industry. It focuses on those aspects of geology and related sciences that pertain to the occurrence, movement, supply and quality of water. The program is designed to provide a strong technical base. Students will be educated in skills that are required to gather and process data with particular attention to water-related problems. The program includes a group minor composed of the required courses in mathematics, chemistry and physics. No other minor is needed to meet graduation requirements.

Department Information:
Major Requirements: 68-70 hours

- Field Hydrogeology (2 hrs)
  * see note
- CHEM 121 - General Chemistry I (GEKN) 3 hrs
- CHEM 122 - General Chemistry I Laboratory (GEKN) 1 hr
- CHEM 123 - General Chemistry II 3 hrs
- CHEM 124 - General Chemistry II Laboratory 1 hr
- ESSC 110 - The Dynamic Earth System (GEKN) 4 hrs

- ESSC 356 - Field Geology II 3 hrs
- ESSC 448 - Hydrogeology 3 hrs
- ESSC 466W - Global Tectonics (GEWI) 3 hrs
- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
• MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs

One course from the following:

• PHY 221 - Mechanics, Sound and Heat (GEKN) 4 hrs
• PHY 223 - Mechanics and Sound (GEKN) 5 hrs

One course from the following:

• PHY 222 - Electricity and Light 4 hrs
• PHY 224 - Electricity and Light 5 hrs

Minor Requirements:

This program does not require a minor.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Notes:

* The hydrogeology field course may be selected from a number of universities with approval from a geology adviser.

Critical Graduation Information:

• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
• Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  o Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Geology Major - Professional Concentration

This concentration provides the necessary background for students planning to become professional geologists. Students who successfully complete the curriculum are prepared to enter positions in industry or to undertake graduate study in geology. The program includes a group minor composed of the required courses in mathematics, chemistry and physics. No other minor is needed to meet graduation requirements. Required courses and elective courses in science and mathematics are listed below. Additional general education and elective courses totaling 124 hours are required to complete a degree.

Minor Requirements:
This program does not require a minor.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Secondary Education Earth Science Major

Correction - This program was revised on May 2, 2019, to correct an error. Under "Major Requirements," "BIOT 403" was replaced with "BIO 406."

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in earth/space science, certification code DH. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #020, "Earth/Space Science." Consult a department advisor before you declare this major.

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission
In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

Urban and Regional Planning Major

This interdisciplinary major studies the current situation in urban and regional planning, including land use, zoning, problems of urban growth and local decision-making. The program is designed to prepare students for positions in public planning agencies, private planning firms or other positions where planning skills are needed and relevant. Courses provide necessary skills to develop zoning ordinances, analyze site plans, critique general development plans, administer local planning regulations as well as prepare and review grant applications, environmental impact statements and policy planning programs.

Minor Requirements: 20 hours

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Note:

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation. In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.
• Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
• Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.

  ○ Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor.
  ○ Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  ○ Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Minor

Cartography and Remote Sensing Minor
Cartography (map-making) is an ancient science designed to depict the earth’s features and human activities. Today maps are made with several significant functions in mind to understand spatial phenomena, to store information and to analyze areal relationships.

Remote sensing uses space-age technology to sense, record and transmit information about the biosphere and atmosphere. Satellite imagery is an important element in collecting remote sensing data. Remote sensing information is often used in constructing modern maps, whether by hand or through the use of computer mapping and geographic information systems software.

The goal of the minor is to provide an employment track for undergraduates to entry-level positions as cartographers and remote sensing technicians. The minor provides balanced training between traditional cartographic work and computer maps. Emphasis is on map properties, spatial concepts, mapping techniques, drafting skills, graphic storage and display of data. A strongly recommended aspect of this training is the internship or cooperative education experience at nearby private and public agencies.

Coastal Environments Minor
Revised program, effective Fall 2014

The Coastal Environments Minor is designed to provide students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary to identify and assess coastal environmental problems. The required core courses integrated principles and methodologies from geology and oceanography, and provide a comprehensive education in process and features that characterize coastal areas. Elective courses allow students to gain an interdisciplinary view of issues that confront coastal settings and communities. This is an ideal complimentary minor for students majoring in other disciplines and interested in geoscience, marine science, environmental science, environmental planning, GIS and remote sensing, and related fields. Students majoring in Earth Science should consult with an advisor before electing this minor.

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:
EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

All minors must have at least six hours of course work at the 300-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)

Certificate

Undergraduate Certificate in Transportation Planning and Modeling

The goal of the Certificate in Transportation Planning and Modeling is to offer courses in a topic that is very relevant to today's mobile society and prepare students for a career with many possibilities of employment.

Admissions

Admission will be available for EMU undergraduate students from any discipline and practitioners with an acceptable undergraduate degree who wish to enhance their credentials in this field.

Critical Information regarding Certificates
Undergraduate certificates may only be offered in conjunction with or subsequent to a baccalaureate degree. They cannot be ‘stand alone’ certificates, offered to students who are not pursuing or do not have a bachelor’s degree. For students pursuing an undergraduate certificate concurrent with a bachelor’s degree, the certificate will be awarded upon graduation.

Earth Systems Science

ESSC 101 - Introduction to Weather and Forecasting (GEKN)

Students learn the scientific basis for using weather observations to make predictions of the future weather, the technology used to obtain weather observations and how these observations are presented for public information. Weather forecasting will focus on real-time local and significant weather impacts.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: 3 hours per week, Lab: 1 2-hour period per week.
Repeatable for Credit: No
Knowledge of the Disciplines: Students will be divided into several different groups throughout the semester to tackles a small part of each unit independently, These groups will be defined in the online discussion groups and will also determine groups within lab. Each student group will be required to discuss, through online threaded discussions, their topic with guided questions provided by the instructor. For example, in the first unit one group will discuss temperature, another group will discuss wind, etc. Once each group develops an expertise in their topic they will split up into different groups with student from other groups to teach each other about their topic and to analyze a set of problems assigned by the instructor. This activity is commonly called a jigsaw puzzle activity because each student will bring to each group a piece of the puzzle and will be required to analyze or solve problems that require multiple students' knowledge (multiple parts of the puzzle). Often these discussions will be extensions of the laboratory exercises.

During lecture students will get an introduction to topics and discussion from the instructor on more difficult topics. The instructor will also discuss the student-led on-line discussions. Lecture time will also be used to assign groups and allow groups some time to get together in class, though most work of the groups is expected to be completed in laboratories and within on-line discussions.

Last Updated: New Course 02/2012, effective Fall 2012, Gen Ed Approval, effective Winter 2013

ESSC 105 - Climate Change in Human Times (GEGA)

An introduction to the study of climate and its' variability through time. We will discuss how the climate system works, examine past climate changes and possible causes, investigate the current global warming and its effect on the environment and human population, and analyze the predicted changes for the future and possible solutions.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Perspectives on a Diverse World: Scientific research indicates that the Earth's climate is warming, and that it will continue to do so for generations to come. It is therefore important to produce a generation of students who are well informed about climate and climate change, and hence able to be spokespeople for changes in policy. For this purpose, students need to gain an understanding of the essential components of the climate system that are involved in global change processes, the feedbacks that link these components, and the nature of climate variability before the beginning of the industrial revolution. This will enable them to critically evaluate the logic and evidence that underlie various hypotheses about the nature of global warming. The knowledge obtained in this course will help students to make informed, scientifically based decisions about their personal role and responsibilities as a human beings who influence - and are influenced by - a globally changing world. As such, ESSC 105 fulfills the Global Awareness requirement of ESSC 107 - Introduction to Environmental Science (GEGA)

An introduction to the basic biological, physical and chemical processes that control today's environmental conditions. The global ecosystem is presented as a structure that includes human society. The understanding of local and global environmental problems and discussion of potential solutions are emphasized.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Cross-Listed with: BIO 107
Notes: Does not count toward the Biology major or minor

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
This course gives students an understanding of important challenges to the integrity of the global ecosystem and begins to explain many of the scientific and social issues that surround them. Globally, human health and economic well-being can only be sustained under amenable environmental conditions, which depend on climate, atmosphere, water, forests, agricultural soils, human population density and biodiversity. Every bit of the surface of Earth is influenced by human activities; the global connectedness of our economic activities means that many of our everyday decisions impact far-flung corners of the planet. The goal of this class is for students to gain a better understanding of the workings of the global ecosystem and how the expanding human population interacts with it and depends on it. Learning the basics of environmental science will allow students to make informed decisions about individual and collective actions that impact the present and future state of the environment, both locally and globally.

ESSC 108 - Earth Science for Nonscience Majors (GEKN)

This class provides a basic understanding of the nature of the lithosphere, hydrosphere and atmosphere for nonscience majors. Emphasis is on understanding the dynamic processes that affect the earth and how to apply this knowledge to everyday life.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Corequisites: ESSC 109
Notes: Does not count towards major or minor.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Earth scientists view the entire Earth as a complex system in which a number of components dynamically interact on different timescales. Because the human race is entirely dependent on the resources of the Earth System, because the dynamic nature of the Earth System has a profound impact on individual and societal well-being, and because human activities in turn influence the delicate equilibrium of this system, it is essential to produce a citizenry that has a meaningful understanding of Earth System Science. Students will learn the procedures, practices, methodologies and assumptions that are fundamental to a scientific understanding of the Earth System. The overarching goal of the course is to create scientifically literate citizens that are both willing and able to participate responsibly in a global community by: (1) carefully applying the scientific method as a tool for problem solving, in general; (2) critically evaluating the scientific merit of anything that is presented as science (is it really science?), especially in the area of Earth System Science; and (3) thoroughly incorporating Earth System Science in important decisions and issues at the personal, local, national and global levels.

ESSC 109 - Earth Science Laboratory for Non-Science Majors (GEKN)

The laboratory class to accompany ESSC 108. Applications of the scientific method of inquiry as applied to earth sciences to reinforce basic concepts as taught in ESSC 108.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Corequisites: ESSC 108
Notes: Does not count towards major or minor

ESSC 110 - The Dynamic Earth System (GEKN)

An introduction to the Earth System and its components. Utilizes the scientific method to address composition of the earth system, fundamental processes within the earth system and linkages between all components of the system. Includes consideration of how humans impact and are impacted by, the Earth System.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
In this course, the Earth is viewed as a single, dynamic system, composed of four principal components: Geosphere (the solid Earth), Atmosphere (the gaseous outer envelope of the Earth), Hydrosphere (the liquid water component of the Earth), and Biosphere (the living component of the Earth). This course provides a detailed overview of how the scientific method is applied, in the context of the fundamental laws of physics and chemistry, to understand the Earth System, with particular emphasis being paced on the Geosphere component. The overarching goal of the course is to create scientifically literate citizens that are both willing and able to participate responsibly in a global community by: (1) carefully applying the scientific method as a tool for problem solving, in general; (2) critically evaluating the scientific merit of anything that is presented as science (is it really science?), especially in the area of Earth System Science; and (3) thoroughly incorporating Earth System Science in important decisions and issues at the personal, local, national and global levels.

ESSC 111 - The Earth System through Time

The origin, development and succession of earth materials, surface and life forms, culminating in one present scene and organic population. Field trips and reports may be required. Required for Geology and Earth Science majors and minors.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 114 - Geology of the National Parks (GEKN)

An introduction to the geology of U.S. National Parks and Monuments. Application of the scientific method of inquiry to the basic geologic processes responsible for their formation.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week. Laboratory: one two-hour period per week
Notes: Does not count towards major or minor
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
ESSC 120 - Dinosaurs, Mammoths and Trilobites: An Introduction to Paleontology (GEKN)

An introduction to Paleontology designed for students who are not majoring or minoring in science. Includes exploration of the scientific method in the context of Paleontology, with hands-on lab-based activities, plus overviews of major groups of life, key ecosystems, and mass extinction events during the history of the biosphere.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week; Laboratory: one two-hour period per week.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course provides a detailed overview, including inquiry based modules, of how the scientific method is applied to understand: (1) the organic origin of fossils, (2) the key components of the process of fossilizations, (3) the Biosphere, and (5) mass extinction events in the history of the Biosphere, including their consequences and possible causes. Through these efforts the overarching goal of the course is to create scientifically literate citizens that are both willing and able to participate responsibly in a global community by: (1) carefully applying the scientific method as a tool for problem solving, in general; (2) critically evaluating the scientific merit of anything that is presented as science (is it really science?), especially in the area of Paleontology; and (3) thoroughly examining key issues pertaining to interactions between humans and their environment by employing the unique perspective that only a full and complete understanding of the history of the Biosphere, including our place in that history, can provide.

ESSC 202 - Earth Science for Elementary Teachers (GEKN)

Lectures and laboratory deal with earth science concepts and teaching methodology. Nationally used elementary science curricula acquaint the student with techniques of teaching basic earth science concepts. Emphasis on student-centered, process-oriented approaches widely used in elementary classrooms.
Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: one two-hour period per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 101
Notes: Equivalent to ESSC 108.

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course is an introduction to the study of the geosphere, hydrosphere, atmosphere and exosphere or space, providing students with earth science content knowledge and a hands-on minds-on experience to understand that knowledge. The content knowledge will help the student to be able to teach the elementary Earth Science Michigan Curriculum Framework standards and benchmarks. These benchmarks are required for teaching by in-service teachers. The earth science knowledge will also help the student pass the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC). The course supplies students with the necessary skills required to understand the scientific method of inquiry. It provides students with experience doing laboratories that they may be able to modify for their own elementary classrooms. The students work on a DLESE: Digital Library for Earth System Education project which helps the students build a portfolio of earth science activities for use later as an elementary in-service teacher.

ESSC 208 - Natural Environmental Hazards
Analysis of devastating earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, floods, violent storms, freezes and other environmental catastrophes, emphasizing their causes and human adjustments to these events.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 105 or BIO 107/ESSC 107 or ESSC 108 or ESSC 110 or ESSC 114 or ESSC 202
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 212 - Weather, Climate and the Earth System
An examination of earth-sun relationships, the nature of atmospheric processes, weather, and climate.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: two hours per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 215 - Aviation Weather
This course provides the student with an introduction to the properties and processes that create weather and addresses aviation specific weather topics to prepare the student for Federal Aviation Administration examinations. Topics include types of weather that adversely affect flight operation and aviation weather services.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Major Restrictions: Aviation Flight Technology and Aviation Management Majors and Minors only
Cross-Listed with: AVT 215
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 227 - Topographic Maps
Interpretation of distances, slopes and terrain features as shown on topographic contour maps. Preparation of contour maps from numerical data and of topographic profiles from contour maps; the correlation of landforms and landform patterns with the geologic materials and processes responsible for them.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
ESSC 228 - Mineralogy

A study of the crystallography, crystal chemistry and identification of the most important rock forming and economic minerals of the crust of the earth.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week. Laboratory: one two-hour period per week
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Concurrent Prerequisite: CHEM 121 and CHEM 122 and ESSC 111

ESSC 229 - Rocks and Minerals

The identification and classification of rocks and minerals with special emphasis on characteristics used in the field.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: one two-hour period per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 110

ESSC 250 - Introduction to Coastal Processes

Description and analysis of the physical and biogeographical processes of ocean and lake coasts. Distribution and origins of coastal environments. Natural and human modification of beach, river valley, estuary, marsh, delta and coral reef environments by waves, currents and tides. Classroom demonstrations and field trips.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110 or ESSC 202

ESSC 277 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr

ESSC 278 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hr

ESSC 279 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.
Credit Hours: 3 hrs

ESSC 300 - Introduction to Hydrology

Study of physical, chemical and biological elements of rivers, lakes, wetlands and groundwater, and the economic, social, political and legal issues currently associated with these systems. Required for the hydrogeology major.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 303 - Field Geography

Techniques in the observation and analysis of geographic features in the field. Emphasizes individual and group problem formulation, problem solving of geographic questions by using the scientific method and combining traditional field exploration with the use of library aids.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 307 - Essentials of Oceanography for Elementary Teachers

A course designed to prepare Elementary Education majors to conduct classes using marine-based materials. Ocean processes including marine geology, sediments, seawater properties, currents, waves, tides, coastal environments and marine organisms will be discussed. Students will receive hands-on activities created to directly engage K-6 pupils in the scientific method of investigation.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 202
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 311 - Weather and Climate for Elementary Teachers

Elementary investigation of weather and climate in their geographical distributions and relationships with other components of the earth system. Earth science principles and methods applicable to an elementary classroom using simple materials are stressed. Class activity includes simple hands-on demonstrations, application of the scientific method, field trips and analyses of weather and climate maps.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 202 or department permission
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 312 - Essentials of the Geosphere for Elementary Teachers

Investigation of plate tectonics; the dynamic processes that causes earthquakes, volcanoes, and mountain building; including earth materials and their relationships with other components of the earth system. Earth science principles and methods applicable to an elementary classroom using simple materials are stressed. Class activity includes simple hands-on demonstrations, and the application of the scientific method.
ESSC 315 - Water and the Environment for Elementary Teachers

This course, designed for elementary education majors, is an introductory through intermediate-level examination of earth science, emphasizing fresh water environments, supply and demand and their relationship to the depletion of natural resources. Students will receive hands-on training designed to directly engage K-6 pupils in the scientific method of investigation.

ESSC 320 - Oceanography

A study of the world's oceans, including coasts, waves, currents, tides, sediments, marine geology, properties of seawater, the energy balance, oceanographic research techniques and marine resources, stressing physical oceanography.

ESSC 324 - Weather

Introduction to the properties and processes that create weather, including an analysis of conditions aloft, the formation of storms, and methods and problems of weather forecasting.

ESSC 325 - Geomorphology

The study of landforms and the processes that create them. Erosional and constructional landforms are discussed in the context of prevailing surficial processes, tectonic activity, climate, and environment. Three hours lectures and two hours laboratory per week. Weekend Field trip and report required.

ESSC 326 - Structural Geology

Introduction to the terminology, geometry, kinematics and mechanics of rock deformation. Laboratory emphasizes geometric techniques of structural analysis.
ESSC 327 - Soil Science

This course will introduce methods of soil description and classification, and discuss processes and products of weathering, processes of soil formation, and factors influencing soil formation from a geologic and geographic perspective. Through classroom and laboratory/field experiences students will learn practical applications of soils in geologic and environmental studies. Lecture:3 hours per week. Lab: one 2 hour period per week.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Repeatable for Credit: Yes
Prerequisite: ESSC 110, and any of the following ESSC 111 or BIO 310 or ANTH 150
Last Updated: 6/29/2011

ESSC 329 - Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology

A study of the texture, chemistry, classification, origin and evolution of igneous and metamorphic rocks.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week. Laboratory: one two-hour period per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 111 and ESSC 228
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 330 - Sedimentology and Stratigraphy

The properties, description and classification of sedimentary rocks; processes and environments of sediment deposition; principles and techniques of stratigraphy. Field trips and reports required.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: four hours per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 111 and ESSC 228
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 331 - Paleontology

Origin and development of life on earth and the environments in which animal assemblages lived. Study of the principles involved in the interpretation of fossils. Systematic study of the features of the organisms most important in the fossil record.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week; laboratory: one two-hour period per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 120, ESSC 111 or BIO 120
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 347 - Methods for Teaching Secondary Earth Science

This class will introduce the student to the techniques of teaching laboratory-centered earth science, science content standards, hands-on activities, demos, laboratory organization and safety in the classroom, projects, assessments, writing in science, technology, and presentation skills. As a requirement for teacher certification, the preservice teacher should leave the class prepared to student teach in earth science, geology and physical geography.
Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CURR 305 and ESSC 212; Admission to the College of Education and the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Major Restrictions: Earth Science Secondary Teaching Major or Minor or Secondary Integrated Science Major students only
Notes: Not open to students on academic probation. Students majoring in Earth Science must take ESSC347; students only have the choice of a methods class if they are an Integrated Science Major.
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 350 - Biogeography

Analysis of the distribution, geologic setting and ecological function of inland freshwater lakes and Great Lakes coasts. Emphasis on sediment, vegetation, wildlife, waterfowl and fisheries resources.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 355 - Field Geology I

Theory and practice of precision mapping using tape, alidade, plane table and stadia rod in local area. With ESSC 356, satisfies the field requirement for major in geology. May include field study in a quarry.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 326, ESSC 329 and ESSC 330
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 356 - Field Geology II

Instruction and practice in pace-traverse mapping, measurement of stratigraphic sections and a mapping of areal geology and geologic structure. With ESSC 355, satisfies field requirement for geology major.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 326, ESSC 329 and ESSC 330
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 370 - Glacial and Quaternary Geology

The study of Quaternary glacial and non-glacial environments and deposits. Topics include glacial flow, melt-water production, glacial erosion and deposition, formation of landforms, causes of the ice ages, and environmental reconstructions. Three hours lecture and two hours laboratory per week. Weekend field trip and report required.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week. Laboratory: two-hour period per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 111
Previously Listed As: ESSC 370 - Glacial Geology

ESSC 377 - Special Topics
An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr

ESSC 378 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

ESSC 379 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

ESSC 387 - Cooperative Education in Geoscience

Four to six months of full-time employment at a firm or agency, chosen for imparting a practical educational experience in geoscience. A written report is required at the end of the employment period.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Prerequisite: department permission

Notes: Graded on a credit/no-credit basis

ESSC 406 - The Nature of Science

This course examines the nature of scientific evidence, inquiry, hypothesis, models and laws. The development of science is put in the context of the structure and history of the scientific community. Interactions among scientists and between scientists and the rest of society are studied from an ethical perspective.

Credit Hours: 1 hr

Prerequisite: ESSC 110 and ESSC 111

Major Restrictions: Department permission required for Non-Earth Science Majors or Minors

Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit in the Earth Science Education program only.

Cross-Listed with: BIO 406 and CHEM 406

Last Updated: Cross-Listed 09/2011; Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 407 - Nature of Science for Elementary Teachers

This course examines the nature of scientific evidence, inquiry, hypotheses, models and laws. The development of science is put in the context of the structure of the discipline, its history, and interactions with society. Discussions of modern theories and laws will integrate scientific concepts with the processes of how science works. The class will also provide students with activities to demonstrate these concepts.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

Prerequisite: ASTR 105, PHY 100, CHEM 101, ESSC 202, BIO 105, PHY 311, CHEM 312 and ESSC 311
ESSC 414 - Teaching Science with Dinosaurs

This course provides pre- and in-service teachers with the content and skills necessary to use dinosaurs as a focus group to teach the scientific method (i.e., science) at the K-12 level. Students will receive hands-on training in numerous dinosaur-based activities designed to directly engage K-12 pupils in all aspects of the scientific method, including data collection, hypothesis formulation and hypothesis testing.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 108, ESSC 110 or ESSC 202
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 422 - Environmental Geochemistry

An introduction to the principles of geochemistry designed for upper-level science majors. Focus will be on interactions between the natural environment and anthropogenic activities as well as discussion of current research in various aspects of geochemistry.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110 and CHEM 123/CHEM 124 and (MATH 105 or MATH 107 or MATH 112 or MATH 119 or MATH 120 or MATH 122)
Class Restrictions: Junior standing or above
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; 03/2011 effective Spring 2011

ESSC 424 - The Global Climate System

An analysis of global, regional and applied climatology. Areas of emphasis are climatic controls, classification, world climate types, relationship of climate to other physical phenomena, and importance of climate in selected aspects of human activities. Three hours of lecture per week.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 212
Previously Listed As: Climatology
Last Updated: Change to Title, Description, and Prerequisite 1/2014, effective Summer 2014; Links 04/2011

ESSC 425W - Severe and Unusual Weather (GEWI)

Analysis of cyclones, blizzards, thunderstorms, tornadoes, hurricanes and other catastrophic weather phenomena. Their environmental impact and prediction.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 324
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Writing Intensive:

Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011
ESSC 428 - Optical Mineralogy

A study of the optical properties of minerals and the use of the petrographic microscope to identify common minerals in thin section.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: two hours per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 228
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 430 - Petroleum Geology

A study of the origin, migration and accumulation of petroleum; reservoir analysis, exploration and development techniques.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: two hours per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 111 and any ESSC 300-level class or above
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Course Revisions: Effective Winter 2015, ESSC 326 will be added as a prerequisite and "ESSC 111 and any ESSC 300-level class or above" will be removed.

Last Updated: Change to prerequisites 4/2014, effective Winter 2015

ESSC 439 - Economic Geology

A study of the geochemical behavior of metallic elements; the origin, processes, controls and classification of ore deposits.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: two hours per week. Laboratory: two hours per week.
Prerequisite: ESSC 329
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 448 - Hydrogeology

Subsurface water occurrence, distribution, relationships to surface water and precipitation; subsurface flow, especially as related to well water production; tests of aquifers; well drilling and installation; ground water exploration and recharge; legal problems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 300 and either MATH 105 or MATH 107 or MATH 112 or MATH 120 or MATH 122
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 450 - Lake and Coastal Processes

Analysis of the geological and physical processes of North American coasts including the Great Lakes. We will discuss the origin and distribution of coastal environments; past, current, future natural and anthropogenic modifications and related environmental issues; potential energy resources like waves, tides and currents.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
ESSC 453 - Marine and Lacustrine Geology

The geologic history and evolution of modern continental margins, ocean basins, and large lakes (e.g. Caspian Sea and Black Sea, Great Lakes, Lake Victoria, Lake Baikal), including past and recent effects of climate change.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Lecture/Lab Hours: Lecture: three hours per week Laboratory: one hour per week.
Repeatable for Credit: No
Prerequisite: ESSC 320
Last Updated: Course Type Change 7/2014, New Course 01/2014, Summer 2014

ESSC 459 - Aquifer Analysis

Study of the analysis of aquifer parameters and groundwater flow using analytical, numerical and statistical computer methods.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 448
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 460 - Contaminant Hydrology

Study of hydrochemistry, pollution pathways and transport of contaminants.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: CHEM 121 and CHEM 122 and ESSC 448
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

ESSC 466W - Global Tectonics (GEWI)

A study of the tenets of plate tectonic theory, building on material from previous classes. Included is an investigation into the plate tectonic make-up and evolution of key aspects of the North American plate. This class is designed as a capstone course for upper-level Geology and Earth Science majors and graduate students. This class meets the requirements for a Writing Intensive course in the General Education Program.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 111 and (ESSC 228 or ESSC 229) and (ESSC 300 or ESSC 320 or ESSC 324 or ESSC 325 or ESSC 326 or ESSC 329 or ESSC 330 or ESSC 370)
Class Restrictions: Junior standing

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

ESSC 485 - Introduction to Remote Sensing

Introduction to remote sensing techniques and types of imagery, including multispectral, thermal and radar images. Emphasis on image enhancement and interpretation in regard to land-use planning and resource management.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011

ESSC 487 - Cooperative Education in Geoscience

Four to six months of full-time employment at a firm or agency chosen for imparting a practical educational experience in geoscience. A written report is required at the end of the employment period. Graded on a credit/no-credit basis.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

ESSC 488 - Internship

Supervised internship in some aspect of geology, earth science or land use that is of mutual interest to the qualified student and the place the student will work. This experience is designed to integrate academic training with practical application.
ESSC 489 - Internship

Supervised internship in some aspect of geology, earth science or land use that is of mutual interest to the qualified student and the place the student will work. This experience is designed to integrate academic training with practical application.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Notes: May be taken only once for credit.

ESSC 490 - Internship

Supervised internship in some aspect of geology, earth science or land use that is of mutual interest to the qualified student and the place the student will work. This experience is designed to integrate academic training with practical application.

Credit Hours: 5 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission
Notes: May be taken only once for credit.

ESSC 495 - Environmental Assessment and Planning

An examination of the program elements of environmental impact statements. Geobased data sources are explored and analyzed. Impact statements are prepared by the class and existing impact statements are evaluated.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: ESSC 110 or URP 215
Cross-Listed with: URP 495
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

ESSC 497 - Independent Study

Advanced study on individual basis in areas in which the department does not offer a formal course. Normally restricted to proficient students in the senior year under the general conditions prescribed for honors courses.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission

ESSC 498 - Independent Study

Advanced study on individual basis in areas in which the department does not offer a formal course. Normally restricted to proficient students in the senior year under the general conditions prescribed for honors courses.

Geography

GEOG 100 - Introduction to Geospatial Sciences and Technology

This course is an introduction to the geospatial sciences and popular geospatial technologies that are widely used for mapping and analyzing geographic patterns of human activities and natural phenomena. Students will be exposed to basic concepts, techniques and practical skills in Cartography, Global Positioning Systems (GPS), Geographic Information Systems, and Remote Sensing. No previous exposure to GIS or mapping is necessary for enrollment in this course.

Previously Listed As: GEOG 100 - Human Geosciences
Last Updated: Title and Course Description Change 04/2012, effective Fall 2012

GEOG 107 - Introduction to Geography (GEKS)

A survey of the major concepts and subfields in modern geography. Physical, cultural, economic, political and social geography are among the major areas explored.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
GEOG 107 Introduction to Geography addresses the five fundamental themes of geography: location, place, relationship within places, movement and regions. The course is intended as the first step in the development of lifelong geographic literacy and as an introduction to the social sciences.
Last Updated: *

GEOG 110 - World Regions (GEGA)

Geographic evaluation of the human imprint on the world, focusing on how peoples of various societies have approached the problems of living in their natural environments and with each other. A requirement for both the major and minor in geography.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Perspectives on a Diverse World:
GEOG 110 World Regions is designed to increase global awareness by systematically examining major world geographic regions and key places therein -- including absolute and relative locations, physical and human characteristics and interrelationships within the global community. The course explores how culture and experience influence people's perceptions and regions; encourages awareness and tolerance of other regional cultural realities; explores global patterns and networks of economic, political, and cultural interdependence; and illustrates how cooperation and conflict among people influence the division and control of Earth's surface; and illustrates balanced regional and global decision-making toward overall human development. The course emphasizes that virtually all geographic areas of the globe are increasingly interrelated in their effects upon one another. It emphasizes that to be a tolerant global citizen, one must be aware of the weak as well as the strong points of one's own cultural, political and economic realities in the context of global diversity. This course is intended as the first step in the development of lifelong geographic literacy as a requisite for global awareness.
Last Updated: Edited 02/2012

GEOG 111 - Regions and Resources
A comparative analysis of the economic resources of major regions of the world. The relationships among countries, corporations and multiple levels of technology are examined.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 112 - Introduction to Travel and Tourism

An introduction to the travel and tourism industry, including traditional and emerging careers; the ethical, behavioral and logistical aspects of the travel experience; traveler needs and motivations; futuristic travel directions; and travel-related organizations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

GEOG 113 - Foundations of Guest Service

Analysis of guest-host service concepts and interactions in the travel and tourism industry, emphasizing the requisite attitudes and role of the professional host. The course will improve student motivation and skills toward providing positive guest experiences.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

GEOG 115 - Observing the Human Landscape

A geography course for students of any curriculum designed to enlighten travel experiences by developing observational awareness and perceptual appreciation of human landscapes and by enhancing sensitivity to the personality of places.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs

GEOG 150 - Thinking Sustainably (GEGA)

This course will provide students with a comprehensive and broad-based introduction to the world of sustainability by exploring its origins, philosophy, proponents and detractors, and its wide-reaching applications according to the valuation system of the "triple bottom line", which takes into account environmental, economic, and social equity factors when providing a measure of success.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: GEOG 150 Sustainable Development

Perspectives on a Diverse World:

We live in a world today that shows us with ever-growing frequency that it is no longer an option for conscientious people to remain ignorant of the fact that all life on this planet is interconnected. From the heights of advanced technology to the ecosystems of underwater plant life, the actions of one entity affect many others and nowhere are these connections more evident than in the area of sustainability.

GEOG 150 - Thinking Sustainably satisfies the Global Awareness category of the General Education program. This course will provide students with an accessible and informative introduction to the world of sustainability as described through its philosophy and origins, its practitioners and naysayers, and through its many varied applications as both a field of study and an area for entrepreneurship. Students will be exposed to topics and themes that will form a complete introductory outline of sustainability; the study of the causes, effects, and remedies for the issues we face today as a global culture in relation to our environmental footprint and dwindling natural resources, our societal well-being and ability (and also willingness) to take care of the least among us, and our ability to prosper in the future and our failure to do so in the past as measured by the "triple bottom line" evaluation method. The "triple bottom line" benchmark for assessing the relative success of any of the decisions we make is one that takes into account not only the potential economic benefits or pitfalls, but also measures the environmental and social equity aspects of the equation. Students will also be encouraged to link sustainable principles and practices to their personal areas of interest, as sustainability can be practiced in some way in almost all disciplines.

GEOG 276 - Principles of Geographic Information Systems

Introduction to the concept of computer mapping. Accessing online sources of spatial data; creating digital maps and charts using online data sources; vector and raster data models, spatial data entry and editing; coordinate systems and methods of geo-referencing digital maps; elementary database management and spatial analysis. (Required for GIS minors and Urban and Regional Planning majors. Also suggested for teachers who would like to incorporate digital mapping into their teaching. Appropriate for all other disciplines using spatial mapping.)

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (GEOG 107 or GEOG 110) and (ESSC 108 or ESSC 110)
Cross-Listed with: URP 276
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 277 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 278 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 279 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 318 - Geography of Asia

A regional treatment of natural setting, distribution of the people, important occupations and problems of future development in each of several regions.
GEOG 319 - Geography of Europe

Systematic treatment of the natural setting, cultural patterns, economic activities and developmental problems of the continent; selected significant regions analyzed in detail.

GEOG 320 - Geography of the United States and Canada

A regional treatment of natural setting, distribution of the people, important occupations and problems of future development in each of several regions.

GEOG 321 - Geography of Latin America

A regional treatment of natural setting, distribution of the people, important occupations and problems of future development in each of several regions.

GEOG 322 - Geography of Africa

A human ecological treatment of the African continent, involving resource identification and use as well as the varied nature of evolving human landscapes.

GEOG 332 - Urban Geography

A study of geographic principles related to distribution, function, structure and regional setting of urban centers.

GEOG 333 - Unsettled Geographies
This course explores human settlement patterns such as the field, streetscapes, and key house types that are associated with the rural and urban settlements of various ethnic groups and cultural hearths. Such regional patterns are examined in the context of humanistic, radical, and post-structuralist geographies, and recent geographies of place, migration, and mobility.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 110 or GEOG 115
Class Restrictions: Junior & Senior
Previously Listed As: Settlement Geography
Last Updated: Change to Course Title and Description 2/2014, effective Summer 2014; Links 04/2011

GEOG 336 - Tourism and Socioeconomic Development

Socioeconomic impacts of tourism; national and international development strategies.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 112 or GEOG 212
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 345 - Geography of Resorts

Historical and systematic study of resorting and the resort as a functionally specialized settlement type; major resort areas of the world.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 110 and GEOG 212
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 348 - Teaching Social Studies in Elementary Schools

Survey of the social studies and evaluation of methods commonly used in the teaching of social studies in the elementary grades, with special emphasis on inquiry. Types of activities most effective in the presentation of materials and the use of visual aids are featured. A study of maps and globes, controversial issues, social values, environmental education, consumer education, global education and ethnic groups is included.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: one course in geography
Notes: Not open to students on academic probation.

GEOG 360 - Cultural Geography

Human landscape patterns; emphasis upon the processes concerned with their origins, locations and persistence.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 361 - Geography of Population

An analytical study of population characteristics and growth, world patterns of fertility, mortality and migration. Major attention is given to human population problems, including ecology, resources depletion and impacts of urbanization.
GEOG 376 - Spatial Analysis

Intermediate concepts and techniques in vector and raster GIS. Topics include thematic mapping, exploratory spatial data analysis, use of inferential statistics in GIS, point pattern analysis, regression modeling in GIS, modeling environmental and human geographic processes, surface interpolation and terrain analysis, map algebra, and network analysis.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 110
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 377 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 378 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 379 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

GEOG 387 - Cooperative Education in Geography

Four to six months of full-time employment at a firm or agency, chosen for imparting a practical educational experience in geography. The program consists of two work experiences (GEOG387/487) alternating with full-time University attendance. A written report is required at the end of each employment period.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Admittance by application only
Class Restrictions: Completion of Sophomore year
Major Restrictions: Geography Majors only
Notes: Graded on a credit/no-credit basis.
GEOG 405 - Aerial Photo Interpretation

Analysis of black and white and color infrared photographs for land use planning, environmental assessment, geology and resource management. Weekly lab exercises. Optional field trip.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 276 or URP 276
Notes: Not open to students with credit in ESSC 575.
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

GEOG 441 - Transportation Geography and Planning

Explores the evolution of transportation in American society, with special attention paid to the impact of railroads, the automobile and the airline industry. Topics include an introduction to techniques for modeling transportation system demand.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 235, GEOG 212 or URP 215
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Last Updated: Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011

GEOG 445 - Cultural Tourism Resources

Survey of the relationships between cultural heritage resources and tourism. The tourism potentials of cultural centers and museums, archeological sites, folk crafts and foodways, regional cultural mannerisms, ethnic landscapes, architecturally significant buildings, historic cities and towns, and other types of historic landscapes will be covered.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: GEOG 212 or GEOG 336
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) Change prerequisites to (GEOG 110 or GEOG 107) or (GEOG 212 or GEOG 360)

Urban and Regional Planning

URP 115 - The American City (GEKS)

This course includes a systematic study of cities as incubators of change, how cities are planned and grow, and their social and political structures. Students will gain an understanding of how cities impact their lives by studying topics such as suburbanization, transportation and land use, and urban lifestyles.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: GPLN 115

Knowledge of the Disciplines:

The course provides an introduction to a variety of social science methods and ways of studying the complex relationships that exist between American cities and suburbs, and the people that inhabit them. Students in this course will explore how the urban experience has transformed the American landscape in recent years, and how our changing understandings of the issues of urban racial and ethnic identities, social class structures, and personal lifestyles have helped to reshape what the American city is in the 21st century. Students will gain an appreciation of various theoretical perspectives that have provided insights on how the city is both physically and socially structured. Sources of information about cities will also be discussed, and students will gain a fundamental understanding of how the various social sciences develop and utilize data in understanding urban phenomena.

URP 410L - Site Planning Studio (GELB)

A studio course in urban planning, gives hands-on experience in developing a site plan. Using an actual site and client, a project will be taken through the various stages of plan development. Activities include program analysis, data collection, development of alternative solutions, and selection and presentation of a final site plan.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: URP 215 and URP 306
Class Restrictions: Senior standing
URP 415W - Methods of Planning Analysis (GEWI)

This course will help students navigate through an urban planning research project from start to finish. Students learn the basics of research design, engage actively in gathering data using several data collection techniques, develop analytical skills to interpret the collected data, and learn to communicate results graphically, orally and in writing.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: URP 215, URP 276 and URP 306
Concurrent Prerequisite: URP 401
Class Restrictions: Sophomore standing
Previously Listed As: GPLN 415W

Writing Intensive:

Learning to communicate clearly and succinctly in written form and in a variety of styles is an important component of a professional planner's job. While courses in composition can provide you with the basics of writing, this class will teach you to write to a particular audience. Urban planners communicate information in a variety of ways: books, journal articles, refereed conference papers, reports, grant proposals, grant reviews, book reviews, plan reviews, plans, ordinances, memos, public announcements and flyers. While we will not be able to address these all within this course, you will be challenged with a number of these different methods of communication so that you can begin to develop an understanding of the conventions in the field. In this course, you will learn to not only formulate different types of research projects but also to present the results of your research in several ways that are accepted in the field: basic memo writing; persuasive writing; report writing, creative writing; and grant writing. In other words, this course will train you for your everyday job as a planner who creates flyers, writes professional memos, writes planning reports, and pursues grants. You will do this by accessing several data sources including city and county planning data; plans and ordinances; census data; GIS data; and academic literature. While you will also learn to present your ideas verbally, the primary emphasis will be on written communication.

History and Philosophy Programs and Courses

History and Philosophy

Major

History Major

Revised Program, effective Fall 2014

Through the study of history, students gain an understanding of the past as well as several widely transferable skills. History majors learn how to think critically and to write clearly. Students also learn how to conduct research, interpret sources, and create compelling arguments and intriguing narratives. Students of history also bring a historical and cross-cultural perspective to discussions of current affairs and can participate in public life as an informed, thoughtful, and articulate citizen and leader.

Majors in History take a class in historical research and writing and at least one upper-level course in the history of each of the following: the United States and Canada; Europe; and Africa, Asia, and Latin America. Beyond these basic requirements, the program allows students freedom to design a course of study focused on their own interests.

B. Europe (includes Russia and ancient Greece and Rome)
C. Africa, Asia, Latin America (includes Middle East and ancient Near East)

One of these courses must be designated as emphasizing "Historical Writing" (HW).

Elective Courses: 3 hours

HIST 481 - The Teaching of Social Studies may not be counted toward the major.

Minor Requirements:
This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Philosophy Major

The Philosophy major provides basic knowledge in the general field of philosophy and strikes a balance between topical philosophical groups. The program supplements those in many other disciplines, such as teaching, literature, the performing arts and the sciences. A philosophy major also prepares students for graduate work in philosophy, law, theology, literature, political science and other related liberal arts subjects. It is a nonteaching major.

The Philosophy major consists of 33 credit hours, 24 of which must be at the 200 level or above. Majors must satisfactorily complete at least one course in each of the following five core areas, with a minimum of twelve credit hours at the 300 or 400 level.

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission
In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.
Notes:

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Secondary Education Social Studies /Economics Comprehensive Major

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in social studies, certification code RX. MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:
Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education
Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Secondary Education Social Studies /History Comprehensive Major

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in social studies, certification code RX. Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.

Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.
Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
• Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
• Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
• Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
• Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
• Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
• Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
• Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  o Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  o Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. History

HIST 100 - The Comparative Study of Religion (GEKH)

An introduction to the systematic study of religious experience and expression; organized around representative motifs, phenomena and institutions, and illustrated with relevant examples from the various historical religious traditions.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This General Education course is an introduction to the academic discipline of religious studies. Religious studies is an interdisciplinary field that draws on approaches from both the humanities and the social sciences. Because this course focuses primarily on the questions and methods of the humanities, it counts toward the Knowledge of the Disciplines requirement in the Humanities area. Students in this class will develop their ability to interpret religious texts and other religious expressions, to analyze religious ideas about human existence and the nature of the world, and to understand religions as historical traditions characterized by conflict and change.

HIST 101 - Western Civilization to 1648 (GEKH)

A topical survey of western civilization from its Greco-Roman origins to the 17th century. Cultural development and institutional growth are emphasized. Greco-Roman contributions, the Judeo-Christian heritage, Byzantine and Islamic cultures, European expansion and militarism, the Renaissance and the Reformation are among the major topics considered.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
History 101 explores the cultural development of Western Europe from the classical world through the religious reformation of the sixteenth century, through the examination of literary, philosophical and religious texts. Students in this class will be given a solid grounding in the major political and social developments of the civilizations that flourished across Europe and the Mediterranean prior to 1648. This context will prepare them to explore various literary, philosophical and religious texts, to understand how they were both products of their age and powerful shapers of their cultures. Many texts will reflect how political and social power was structured and projected, and these texts will offer students ample opportunity to reflect upon issues of class, gender and race. Through an exploration of philosophical and religious writings students will gain an understanding of how men and women in various western societies viewed human nature and attempted to make sense out of good and evil, life and death. Students will leave this course having gained an appreciation for the past cultures of Western Europe and will have developed a sensitivity to the dynamic interplay between social and cultural institutions and values, and the writing and thought produced within the framework of those values and institutions.

HIST 102 - Western Civilization, 1648 to World War II (GEKH)

A survey of western history from the 17th century to World War II. Major themes include the rise of modern states, the emergence of science, the impact of European colonialism on the non-European world, upheavals in the arts and philosophy, and the origins and consequences of total war.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Previously Listed As: HIST 102 - Western Civilization, 1648 to World War I

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
History 102 explores the development of Western Europe from the mid-seventeenth century until World War I, through the examination of literary, philosophical and religious texts. Students in this class will be given a solid grounding in the major political, social and economic developments of early modern and modern Europe. This context will prepare them to explore various literary, political, philosophical and religious texts, to understand how they were both products of their age and powerful shapers of European thought, culture and society. Many texts will reflect how political and social power was structured and projected in this formative era of European history, and these texts will offer students ample opportunity to reflect upon issues of class, gender and race. Through an exploration of philosophical and scientific writings, students will explore the tremendous paradigm shift which occurred with the scientific revolution in early modern Europe, a shift which fundamentally altered the way in which men and women viewed nature, the universe and human nature. The study of religious and philosophical texts will also allow students to examine the repercussions of this paradigm shift in religious thought and practice as well. Finally, numerous literary works and texts will offer students an understanding of the mentality and values of bourgeois society in nineteenth century Europe, and help them grasp the terrible clash of war brought about by nationalism and bourgeois values in 1914. Students will leave this course having gained an appreciation for early modern and modern Western Europe culture and society, and will have developed a sensitivity to the dynamic interplay between social and cultural institutions and values, and the writing and thought produced within the framework of those values and institutions.

HIST 103 - 20th-Century Civilization (GEGA)

An examination of the international developments of the 20th century, with particular emphasis on the interactions between the West and other world cultures.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
HIST 103 fulfills the General Education Program's Global Awareness requirement for Perspectives on a Diverse World by providing the background necessary to understand today's chief global occurrences, especially the interactions between the Western world and other world cultures. This course examines not only the main political developments of the twentieth century, but also the era's chief trends in science and technology, economics, social changes and cultural and religious developments, and how these various trends interrelate with one another. After completing this course students should at a minimum be able to identify the most important individuals and terms of the twentieth century and know the causes and effects of the era's most important events. They should also have a better understanding of such world-wide problems as nationalism, imperialism, militarism, globalization, ideological and cultural conflict and the varying causes of wars and violence.

HIST 104 - Quest for Power: Famous Figures in History

An examination of the lives and times of selected leaders from the ancient and modern worlds. Examples of figures to be covered are Pericles, Nero, Napoleon I and Adolf Hitler. Major literary monuments of the periods will be examined as well. Team taught by a member of the History Department and a classicist.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

HIST 106 - Asian and African Civilizations

The civilizations of the Moslem world, Africa, India and East Asia in historical perspective. Philosophical outlook, cultural development and technological advances are emphasized with attention also being given to social and economic changes in the period since 1500.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

HIST 109 - World History to 1500 (GEKH)

A survey of world civilizations (Africa, Asia, Europe, Western Hemisphere) from prehistory to 1500. The course will emphasize the diversity and interrelationships of world cultures and civilizations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
HIST 109 - World History to 1500 meets the Humanities requirement of the Knowledge of the Discipline because it explores the history of world societies from the period of the earliest civilization to the sixteenth century mainly from a cultural perspective. During this period, humans in Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe developed a variety of literary, religious, and philosophical works that continue to this day to shape how we feel, think, act, interact with others, and understand the self and the outer world. A main goal of this course is to read, analyze, discuss, and write about these canonical texts of literature, religion, and philosophy. In so doing, students will gain a broad knowledge of the diverse cultures that humans in the past cultivated, and develop sensitivity to and appreciation for the cultures of both the Western and non-Western Worlds.

Last Updated: Gen Edu Credit 1/2014, effective Summer 2014

HIST 110 - World History since 1500 (GEGA)

A survey of world civilizations (Africa, Asia, Europe, Western Hemisphere) from 1500 to the present. The course will emphasize the diversity and interrelationships of world cultures and civilizations.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
History 110 meets the Global Awareness requirement of the Perspectives on a Diverse World, because it seeks to give students knowledge and understanding of the political organization, religious beliefs, and cultural practices of the world's peoples, and their interconnections over half a millennium. They will be encouraged to think globally so that they can see how events or new ideas that developed in one area, affected another, how America's cultural practices related to those of other societies, how wars and imperialism produced radical political and economic changes and why social, cultural and racial intolerance existed in so many countries. In the process, students will work on their skills of reading and interpreting historical material, asking the questions that historians ask, and responding to questions both verbally and in writing. The most important goal of the course is to give students the knowledge and understanding of the past that they need to interpret the contemporary world.

HIST 115 - Making American Society: Race, Ethnicity and Gender in Historical Perspective (GEUS)

Through historical perspective, students will understand the difficult questions about diversity that have confronted people of every generation and the accommodations made through law, institutions and changed social habits. By understanding past tragedies, successes, mistakes and wise choices, students will be better citizens of the present and guardians of the future.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, the following revisions will be made to this course, 1) Change to course title to "HIST 115- What is an American?", and 2) change to course description

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
To understand most clearly the issues surrounding diversity in the United States, one of the key goals of the General Education program at Eastern Michigan University, historians believe that students must understand the historical development of diversity: how the categories of race, ethnicity, gender, class and sexuality, among others, have been constructed and re-constructed over time. History 115 will explore why, throughout four centuries of the development of the United States. Americans have struggled over how (or whether) to make the words of democracy into reality in a land of diversity. Accordingly, the class will examine the conflicts presented when people of so many diverse backgrounds, values and options try to accomplish their separate and collective ambitions within a framework of democracy and capitalism. We will examine why too many men and women in each era were denied equality, and we will examine the slow but steady progress toward a "more perfect union" that gives voice, extends tolerance and offers equal opportunity to all of its people regardless of color, race, creed, national origin, gender and sexuality.

Through historical perspective, students will understand the difficult questions that have confronted people of every generation and the accommodations made through law, institutions and changed social habits. By understanding past tragedies, successes, mistakes and wise choices, students will be better citizens of the present and guardians of the future. Therein is the primary goal. HIST 116 - Intro to American Indian History (GEUS)

This course is a study of American Indian history and culture with an emphasis on the twentieth century. This course examines how interaction between native peoples and the diverse peoples of the U.S. has over time created a complex society and raised such issues as the theft of natural resources, poverty, the use of Hollywood stereotypes, inferior health care and educational opportunities and the need to redefine traditional cultures within the mainstream America.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
The study of America's indigenous people offers an in-depth look at diversity within the United States today and in the past. Historically, interactions between Indians and people of European, African, and Asian backgrounds shaped the economics, settlement patterns, gender roles, and even the vocabularies of all. Today, Native Americans are often a forgotten minority depicted in literature and film as cruel warrior, environmentalist, or sports mascot. Their demand for political access and legal justice, however, are frequently ignored or met with hostility. This course meets the requirement for diversity in the U.S. because it explores the traditionally non-western cultures of indigenous Americans, examines the origins and consequences of intolerance, and links their history with indigenous movements in Central and South America.

HIST 123 - The United States to 1877 (GEKS)

A study of United States history through the Reconstruction following the Civil War.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course provides an introduction to a variety of social science methodologies while emphasizing history's unique contribution to the social sciences, the notion that any period develops from the periods preceding it. In pursuit of that aim, you will gain the foundational content knowledge needed to understand and interpret the major trends, people, ideas and events that have shaped the United States before 1877. Second you will acquire and use the unique methods historians employ to critically select and evaluate evidence from the past, assess its significance and analyze the interpretive accounts that give this past meaning.

Last Updated: *

HIST 124 - The United States, 1877 to the Present (GEKS)

A study of United States history from the end of Reconstruction to the present.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course provides opportunities to acquire the procedures, practices, methodologies and fundamental assumptions of history in two ways. First, you will gain the foundational content knowledge needed to understand and interpret the major trends, people, ideas and events that have shaped the United States since 1877. Second you will acquire and use the unique methods historians employ to critically select and evaluate evidence from the past, assess its significance, and analyze the interpretive accounts that give this past meaning. In this iterative process, you will discover that the discipline of history places unique demands on those who aim to interpret and communicate a strange past - a past that is difficult to truly know and articulate. The application of historical thinking skills will help you discover much of the meaning, mystery, controversy and drama of history. This process of discovery requires that you question how historians view the relationship between evidence and historical accounts. you will learn to create interpretive accounts of the past by framing useful historical problems, marshalling and evaluating relevant evidence, detecting authorial bias, contextualizing or "historicizing" the past, assessing significance both in primary sources and in narrative accounts, debating competing theories of causation, using counter historical examples to critique narratives and exploring how theories of hegemony and human agency influence our understanding of the past.

HIST 151 - Reason and Revolution (GEKH)

An examination of the transition in political history, philosophy, art, literature and music from Puritan England and Louis XIV's France to Napoleon. Team taught by members of the Art and History departments. This course satisfies one art or one history requirement. Note: see honors humanities courses.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This inter-disciplinary course in history and art history is intended to introduce students to the works of art, philosophy and literature associated with a major turning point in European and world history- the Enlightenment and the French Revolution. It will offer students the opportunity to study the ideas that found their first political expression in the American Constitution, from their beginnings in 17th century France and England through the turmoil of revolution and war. The course will encourage students to analyze and write about a variety of artistic, philosophical and literary works in a specific historical context, and to understand how political events influenced humanistic thought and how the humanities shaped political and social change.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course is an introduction to the academic discipline of Jewish Studies, an interdisciplinary filed that draws on approaches from both the humanities and the social sciences. This course focuses primarily on the questions and methods of the humanities,because of this it counts toward the Knowledge of the Disciplines requirement in the Humanities area. Students in this class will develop their ability to interpret religious texts and other religious expressions, to analyze religious and historical ideas about human existence and the nature of the world, and to understand religions as historical traditions characterized by conflict and change.

To appreciate this educational requirements, it helps to recognize why the humanities are a distinct filed of learning. As the label implies, the humanities start with human experience, human activities and experience through time. The humanities recognize cultural differences as both the results and the causes of human activities. The humanities consider both the actual and the possible. The humanities encourage thinking from multiple perspectives.

The chief tool for describing and explaining in the humanities is narrative. Whether spoken or written, a narrative is essentially a story. In the humanities, explanatory narratives appeal to sources (in speech, writing, and experience) and logic to construct arguments about meaning.

Philosophy

PHIL 100 - Introduction to Philosophy (GEKH)

An introduction to philosophy by the study of important philosophical thinkers, problems and methodologies.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
For at least the preceding 2500 years, philosophical reflection has extended to all aspects of life, from politics, art and morality, to the very nature of knowledge and of existence itself. This course introduces students to the methods and trains of philosophical thinking that underlie the full range of human experience. Through the analysis of original philosophical texts, as well as the rich tradition of community on those texts, students in this course explore such fundamental questions as "What is the nature of truth?", "What is the ultimate nature of existence, e.g., is everything physical?", "How may a society best achieve justice?", and "What should be the role of art in our lives?". Introduction to Philosophy is also a skills course in that the serious investigation of issues such as those just listed enhances the analytic and critical skills required to address the intellectual and other challenges that inevitably complicate, and enrich, the lives of thoughtful human beings.

PHIL 110 - Philosophies of Life (GEKH)

An introduction to differing accounts of what constitutes a meaningful life and how an individual can attain it. Representative topics include the notions of pleasure, love, empathy and power as discussed by such writers as Plato, Epicurus, Nietzsche, Lao Tse and Buddha.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Knowledge of the Disciplines:
The traditions and methodology of philosophy can be introduced by the study of any of a number of specific fields within philosophy. This course, by probing the meaning of life, introduces students to the major methods and areas of philosophical thinking. This course permits students to study philosophical texts from around the world as well as the rich tradition of community on these texts. As an introduction to the discipline of philosophy, this course provides students with the opportunity to learn what the discipline of philosophy provides to ones overall intellectual development. More generally, its method is critical and analytical reasoning- habits of mind that everyone needs - and it addresses some of the most fundamental concepts in human thought- the nature of human reality, the meaning of life, and the life well-lived. Both the skills and concepts addressed in this course help students in their educations, careers and personal lives.

PHIL 120 - Introduction to Critical Reasoning (GEKH)
An introduction to the techniques of identifying and evaluating arguments. The emphasis will be on the enhancement of reasoning skills through the study of arguments in their natural setting in newspapers, political speeches, advertising, etc. The course also may include such related topics as fallacies, inductive reasoning and the logic of explanation in the social sciences.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
Critical reasoning is the methodology of philosophy, and philosophy is one of the central disciplines of the humanities. Critical reasoning is useful to everyone. It is the primary method used to analyze and evaluate the information we encounter daily. In this course, students learn to analyze written text from a variety of sources, to distinguish rhetoric from reason, and to distinguish good reasoning from bad. They are given opportunities to critique persuasive text from the history of philosophy to the rhetoric of talk television and to create arguments that stand up to vigorous critique. PHIL 120 Introduction to Critical Reasoning introduces students to philosophy by way of critical reasoning.

PHIL 130 - Introduction to Logic

An introduction to the analysis of arguments using the theory and techniques of formal logic. The theory underlies most formal systems, including computer applications. Students learn such concepts as deduction and induction and how to prove that arguments are valid or invalid.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

PHIL 177 - Special Topics

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

PHIL 181 - Logic and Model Theory (GEQR)

This course is designed to teach students the methods and principles of mathematical and philosophical logic, both deductive and inductive. Students will learn model theory, natural deduction, formal methods of proof and the methods and principles of inductive logic and probability.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Quantitative Reasoning:
PHIL 212 - Philosophy of Art (GEKH)

Can "art" be defined? Do artists owe a responsibility to society? Should works of art be primarily analyzed as "significant form" or as an expression of the artist's personality? Can we isolate a uniquely "aesthetic" attitude? Through considering such questions, the course introduces the student to philosophical reasoning and analysis.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
In this course, students are introduced to a number of "theories of art" deriving from the Western Philosophical tradition, beginning with Plato's "Imitation Theory." Questions such as, "What makes something a work of art?", "What are the proper standards for judging works of art?", and, "What is the relation of art to the rest of society?" are explored. Through the study of competing answers to these and related questions, students learn about and learn to apply, the reflective and critical methodologies of Western Philosophy, e.g., conceptual analysis, criteria for the evaluation of explanatory theories and an array of critical thinking skills.

PHIL 215 - Philosophy of Religion (GEKH)

A philosophical study of the nature, goals and proper function of religion. Some possible topics are traditional arguments for the existence of God, grounds for disbelief in God, immortality, religious experience, the nature of religious language, the relation of science to religion, the role of faith and revelation, the connection between religion and ethics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:

An examination of contemporary existentialist thought about the nature of reality and human existence as reflected in the works of such philosophers as Marcel, Heidegger, Sartre and Camus and the sources of existentialism as found in the works of Kierkegaard and Nietzsche.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Knowledge of the Disciplines:
This course is an introduction to philosophy by the study of Existentialism. Existentialism explores major topics in the field of philosophy: the nature of humanity, the possibilities of human freedom, the meaning of life and the nature of reality. Existentialism is a story of significant philosophical rebellions, united by common themes throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. In the quest to redefine human nature and human freedom, existential texts challenge the authority of Judeo-Christian religion, traditional views of the laws of nature, conventional and philosophical notions of truth and the notion of objective morality. Students study the social context of these philosophical rebellions and discover the ways that existentialism continues to transform society by its persistent challenge to ideological authority and to mass social movements. The traditional method of philosophy, critical and analytical reasoning is taught in this course. Students develop habits of mind and writing skills that enable them to develop and critique philosophical arguments.

Perspectives on a Diverse World:
Rationale for inclusion in Global Awareness: Global awareness courses are designed to expose students to issues influencing diverse cultures around the world. In this course, we will go beneath specific issues to address the very foundations of cultures. Specific issues within a culture arise within a specific cultural milieu and this milieu stands on philosophical foundations that distinguish it from other cultures. We will isolate the philosophical presuppositions of a variety of Asian cultures, focusing on their assumptions about the make-up of the world, how human beings fit into this make-up, how knowledge is formed within this framework, what the optimal goals of the human being are, and how, based on these presuppositions, human beings should best act in the world in order to achieve their goals. It will be important to discern how these philosophical foundations can play a role when covering specific contemporary issues and the roles they play when two cultures with contrasting philosophical foundations meet. Introduction to Asian Philosophy provides students with the opportunity to study the foundational cultures of several Asian societies. These cultures are based on philosophical assumptions that differ radically and in important ways form the common assumptions that people from other cultural traditions bring to living in the world. By understanding these philosophies, students will achieve both a foundational knowledge of the cultures and a sensitivity to diverse points of view. We will directly engage the texts of these traditions, which are broadly: Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism and Daoism.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Previously Listed As: Philosophy of Early China
Writing Intensive:

Students will complete frequent, short writing assignments tied to daily reading assignments, and two of those short writing assignments will be expanded into longer term papers. In the writing assignments, students will pose and answer questions regarding the content of the readings. Students will have the opportunity to also present these questions and answers orally in class and will choose from among these issues for development into standard analytic expository essays, which will also be presented in summary form orally in class.

Historically, there are many kinds of philosophical writing, from analytical essays, to aphorisms, to dialogues, but only one kind is generally accepted in academic circles today: defending a thesis. There are many kinds of these, such as interpreting a concept, refuting an argument in print elsewhere, offering a new perspective on a controversy or concept, and problematizing a generally accepted viewpoint or presupposition. In this class, students will work on the process of developing and defending a thesis.

Possible topics include: justice and the environment, ethical aspects of climate change, sustainability, conceptions of nature, the human place in nature, the philosophy of ecological restoration, and/or animals.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Writing Intensive:

This course is a writing intensive course in the philosophy program. Students will compose at least two essay exams and write a substantial philosophical paper. The essay exams will be devoted to understanding and critiquing arguments put forward by the authors studied in class. The substantial paper is a reasoned defense of a thesis. To fulfill the requirements of the paper, students will choose an issue with clear philosophical significance relating to the content of the course, formulate a thesis with respect to the issue, and defend that thesis.

A writing intensive course in philosophy offers students a unique opportunity to hone their analytical skills and to refine their capacity for self-expression through writing. The capstone term paper for this course provides a context for students to penetrate beyond superficial analyses of philosophical problems and to sort out their own view on some interesting, and often difficult, questions and problems. Although it takes many years to achieve deep understanding of philosophical questions and problems, this course is intended to provide a supportive context for students to make meaningful progress toward that goal.

Actuarial Science and Economics Major - Mathematics

Actuarial science and economics is a joint program of the Mathematics and Economics departments. In addition to following a prescribed series of courses, students are expected to pass the first two actuarial examinations. The examinations are sponsored by leading actuarial societies and administered in numerous U.S. locations. MATH 372 and MATH 472 are designed to prepare students for these examinations.

All majors must meet with the undergraduate advising coordinator in the Department of Mathematics to fill out a program sheet before graduation. At least 15 credit hours in the program at the 300 level or above must be taken at Eastern Michigan University.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 61 hours

Required Courses: 12 hours

- ACC 240 - Principles of Financial Accounting 3 hrs
- ACC 241 - Principles of Managerial Accounting 3 hrs

One course from the following:
COSC 111 - Introduction to Programming 3 hrs
COSC 120 - Computational Principles for Mathematics and the Sciences 3 hrs

One course from the following:
- ECON 361 - Financial Economics 3 hrs
- FIN 350 - Principles of Finance 3 hrs

Required Mathematics Courses: 25 hours
- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs
- MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 223 - Multivariable Calculus 4 hrs
- MATH 370 - Probability and Statistics I 3 hrs
- MATH 372 - Problems in Actuarial Studies I 2 hrs
- MATH 471 - Probability and Statistics II 3 hrs
- MATH 472 - Problems in Actuarial Studies II 2 hrs

Required Economics Courses: 18 hours
- ECON 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 202 - Principles of Microeconomics (GEKS) 3 hrs
- ECON 411 - Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 412 - Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis 3 hrs
- ECON 405 - Economic Analysis for Business 3 hrs
- ECON 415 - Introduction to Econometrics 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Courses: 6 hours

Any combination of electives from:
- Courses at the 300-level or above in mathematics
- ECON 340 - Money and Banking 3 hrs
- ECON 445W - Economic Fluctuations and Forecasting (GEWI) 3 hrs
- ECON 455W - Cost-Benefit Analysis (GEWI) 3 hrs

Minor Requirements:

This program does not require a minor.

Writing Intensive Course

Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.
Course Rotation Schedule

Click here to access the Course Rotation Schedules page for the courses required for this program.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more that one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Elementary Education Mathematics Major

Elementary Teacher Certification

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Elementary Provisional Certificate. This program of study meets all requirements of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. At least nine hours of the major must be completed at Eastern Michigan University. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this Certification test is #103. The endorsement test for Mathematics Elementary is MTTC #089.

Liberal Arts Major Requirements: 42 hours

Twelve of the required courses can fulfill General Education requirements

Note: Some of the courses listed below may also be listed in other areas of the program but only need to be taken once.

- ARTE 220 - Visual Arts for Elementary Teachers (GEKA) 3 hrs
- CHL 207 - Introduction to Children's Literature (GEKH) 3 hrs
- CTAC 124 - Foundations of Speech Communication (GEEC) 3 hrs
- ENGL 121 - Composition II: Researching the Public Experience (GEEC) 3 hrs
- CTAC 124 - Foundations of Speech Communication (GEEC) 3 hrs
- ESSC 202 - Earth Science for Elementary Teachers (GEKN) 3 hrs
- GEOG 110 - World Regions (GEKA) 3 hrs
- HIST 123 - The United States to 1877 (GEKS) 3 hrs
- HIST 313 - Michigan History 3 hrs
- MATH 108 - Problem Solving and Number Concepts for Elementary School Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 110E - Mathematical Reasoning: Applications for Elementary School Teachers (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 110E - Mathematical Reasoning: Applications for Elementary School Teachers (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MUSC 220 - Music for the Elementary Teacher (GEKA) 3 hrs
- PHY 100 - Physics for Elementary Teachers (GEKN) 3 hrs
- PLSC 112 - American Government (GEKS) 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- ENGL 307 - Writing Process for Elementary Teachers 3 hrs
- RDNG 240 - Reading and Writing Connections in the Elementary Grades 3 hrs

Content Requirements: 30 hours

Required Courses: 22 hours

- MATH 108 - Problem Solving and Number Concepts for Elementary School Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 110E - Mathematical Reasoning: Applications for Elementary School Teachers (GEQR) 3 hrs
- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 210 - Algebra for Elementary/Middle School Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 240 - Geometry for Elementary/Middle School Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 301 - Advanced Topics in Elementary Mathematics 3 hrs

One of the following:

- MATH 401 - Mathematics and Its History for Elementary/Middle School Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 403 - Current Research in Elementary School Mathematics 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Courses: 8 hours

Eight hours from the following. Note that at least 9 hours in the major must be courses 300-level or higher, taken at EMU.
• MATH 107 - Plane Trigonometry 2 hrs
• MATH 118 - Linear Models and Probability (GEQR) 3 hrs
• MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
• MATH 170 - Elementary Statistics (GEQR) 3 hrs
• MATH 382 - Technology in the Mathematics Classroom 3 hrs
• * MATH 401 - Mathematics and Its History for Elementary/Middle School Teachers 3 hrs
• * MATH 403 - Current Research in Elementary School Mathematics 3 hrs

Professional Elementary Education Sequence

Pre-Admission Phase: The Learner and the Community: 11 hours

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or higher.

- EDPS 322 - Human Development and Learning 4 hrs
- HLED 320 - Health Education in the Elementary Grades 2 hrs
- PHED 257 - Physical Education for the Classroom Teacher 2 hrs
- SPGN 251 - Introduction to Inclusion and Disabilities Studies in a Diverse Society (GEUS) 3 hrs

The following courses require formal admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program:

Phase I: Curriculum, Assessment, and the Social Context: 18 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Pre-Admission Phase is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.
 EDPS 340 needs to be taken with or after CURR 304.

- * CURR 304 - Curriculum and Methods: Elementary 3 hrs
- EDMT 330 - Instructional Applications of Media and Technology 3 hrs
-  EDPS 340 - Introduction to Assessment and Evaluation 3 hrs
- * PRCT 304 - Practicum I: Elementary 3 hrs
- RDNG 300 - Early Literacy 3 hrs
- SOFD 328W - Schools for a Diverse and Democratic Society (GEWI) 3 hrs

Phase II: Content and Methods and Teaching: 18 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase I is required.

* These two courses must be taken together.

- BIOT 303 - Life Science for Elementary Teachers 3 hrs
- CTAR 300 - Integrated Arts 3 hrs
- MATH 381 - Teaching Mathematics in Elementary School 3 hrs
- * PRCT 310 - Practicum II: Elementary 3 hrs
- * RDNG 310 - Literacy Across the Curriculum in the Intermediate Grades 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- CURR 308 - Integrated Elementary Social Studies Methods 3 hrs
- HIST 308 - Integrated Elementary Social Studies Methods 3 hrs

Phase III: Capstone Experience: 9 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Phase II is required.

- EDUC 492 - Student Teaching (GELB) 9 hrs
  This course requires a formal application to be submitted 7-8 months prior to the Student Teaching semester.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Note:

* MATH 401 and MATH 403 may each only be taken for credit in this major once. Each course may be taken as either a required course or a restricted elective; these courses do not double-count.

Initial Teacher Preparation Program Admission

In order to pursue the sequence of courses necessary to complete eligibility for recommendation for certification, one must apply for and be admitted to the teacher preparation program. Admission requirements are common for all teacher preparation programs, except that certain special education programs have additional requirements.
Each undergraduate student is responsible for applying to the teacher preparation program immediately after the semester in which the student has earned 56 credit hours. Transfer students with more than 56 credit hours should apply immediately after the semester in which they have earned 12 hours at EMU, including at least one course in their major. Students with 56 hours of transfer course work with a decision GPA of 3.0 may apply for admission to the teacher preparation program without 12 earned hours at EMU.

Admission to the teacher preparation program is not automatic. Only those persons who have formally applied are considered for admission. Not all persons who apply become eligible for admission.

Applications for the Initial Teacher Preparation Program at EMU are available within your my.emich account under the "Student" tab. Submit your completed application to the Office of Academic Services once you have earned 56 credit hours.

Teaching majors and minors are unofficial until program admission. Students pursuing teacher certification should follow the catalog that exists at the time of program admission. It is important that students apply to the teacher preparation program as soon as they have earned 56 credit hours.

Criteria:

1. Completion of 56 credit hours
2. Appropriate cumulative GPA. One of:
   1. An overall EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher based on a minimum of 12 credit hours taken at EMU. An EMU GPA of 2.5 or higher in your major, based on at least one course in your major. The Elementary Education Major is comprehensive, therefore, the elementary major GPA is based on the cumulative of liberal arts curriculum and content course work.
   2. Transferred 56 credits with a cumulative 3.0 GPA from all previous institutions.
3. A grade of "C" or higher (if taken) in the following courses:
   1. If Secondary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, Quantitative Reasoning (GEQR), one lab science, all professional education courses, and, if special education, PSY 101.
   2. If Elementary: ENGL 121, CTAC 124, MATH 108, MATH 110E, PHY 100, ESSC 202, all of the professional education courses, all courses that state "for elementary teachers," and, if special education, PSY 101.
4. Official Test Scores showing competency in each of the following areas: mathematics, reading and writing. Scores are accepted from the Professional Readiness Exam (PRE), Basic Skills Test (no longer offered), ACT, or Michigan Merit Exam (MME). The following scores are acceptable:
   1. Mathematics: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT mathematics 22 or higher, or MME mathematics 1116 or higher.
   2. Writing: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT combined English/writing 24 or higher, or MME writing 1129 or higher.
   3. Reading: PRE pass, Basic Skills pass, ACT reading 22 or higher, or MME reading 1108 or higher.
5. ICHAT criminal background check and Statement of Civil/Criminal Convictions. If you answered yes to any of the civil/criminal conviction questions on the application, you will need to provide:
   1. A copy of the Judgment of Sentence, or Registrar of Actions, or Certification of Conviction.
   2. A written explanation of the offense(s). Application of students with civil/criminal convictions will be carefully reviewed and may take longer to process.
6. Meet academic, social, moral, and financial obligations as a member of the EMU community.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 36 hours
Required Area Courses: 30 hours

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs
- MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 211 - Introduction to Mathematical Proof 3 hrs
- MATH 223 - Multivariable Calculus 4 hrs
- MATH 305 - Technology as a Problem Solving Tool for Secondary Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 341 - College Geometry 3 hrs
- MATH 360 - Statistical Methods 3 hrs
- MATH 411 - Abstract Algebra 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Courses: 6 hours

Six hours from the following:

- MATH 319 - Mathematical Modeling 3 hrs
- MATH 325 - Differential Equations 3 hrs
- MATH 372 - Problems in Actuarial Studies I 2 hrs
- MATH 400 - History and Development of Mathematics 3 hrs
- MATH 407 - Elementary Number Theory 3 hrs
- MATH 416 - Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 420 - Introduction to Real Analysis 3 hrs
- MATH 424 - Introduction to Complex Variables 3 hrs
- MATH 425 - Mathematics for Scientists 3 hrs
- MATH 471 - Probability and Statistics II 3 hrs

Professional Secondary Education Sequence

Secondary Education Pre-Admission Phase: The Learner and the Community: 7 hours

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or higher.

- EDPS 322 - Human Development and Learning 4 hrs
- SPGN 251 - Introduction to Inclusion and Disabilities Studies in a Diverse Society (GEUS) 3 hrs

The following phases require formal admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program:

Secondary Education Phase I: Curriculum, Assessment and the Social Context: 15 hours

Prerequisite: Completion of Pre-Admission Phase is required.
* These two courses must be taken together.
 These courses must be taken with or after CURR 305.

- * CURR 305 - Curriculum and Methods: Secondary 3 hrs
-  EDMT 330 - Instructional Applications of Media and Technology 3 hrs
-  EDPS 340 - Introduction to Assessment and Evaluation 3 hrs
- * PRCT 305 - Practicum I: Secondary 3 hrs
- SOFD 328W - Schools for a Diverse and Democratic Society (GEWI) 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase II: Content and Methods and Teaching: 9 hours

_Prequisite: Completion of Phase I is required._

* These two courses must be taken together.

- * PRCT 311 - Practicum II: Secondary 3 hrs
- * RDNG 311 - Teaching Reading in the Secondary School 3 hrs

Methods Course by Major:

Mathematics Majors take:

- MATH 306W - Teaching Mathematics in Secondary School (GEWI) 3 hrs

Secondary Education Phase III: Capstone Experience: 9 hours

_Prequisite: Completion of Phase II and 100 pre-student teaching hours is required._

- EDUC 492 - Student Teaching (GELB) 9 hrs
  This course requires a formal application to be submitted 7-8 months prior to the Student Teaching semester.

Minor Requirements: 20-24 hours

This program requires a minor. Please contact your program advisor for a list of possible minors.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.

Course Rotation Schedule

Click here to access the Course Rotation Schedules page for the courses required for this program.

Note:
Each student must choose a writing intensive course as part of major completion requirements. Consult your advisor for course options.

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours in their minor for a total of at least 50 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor.
- Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

- Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Minor

Elementary Education Mathematics Minor

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Elementary Provisional Certificate. This program of study meets all requirements of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. At least nine hours of the major must be completed at Eastern Michigan University. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this certification is Elementary Certification test #103. The endorsement test for Mathematics Elementary is MTTC #089.

Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.

• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU’s General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. A detailed description of General Education requirements is available in the General Education section of the catalog: General Education

Students who transferred to EMU may have modified general education requirements based on Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) or articulation agreements; consult your academic advisor for additional information.

University Information: Consult the online catalog at catalog.emich.edu.

Secondary Education Mathematics Minor

Successful completion of this course of study, in the context of other program requirements, qualifies the student for recommendation for the Michigan Department of Education Secondary Provisional Certificate endorsed in mathematics, certification code EX, and, depending on the major selected, an additional endorsement. This program of study meets all requirements of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. The Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) covering this field is #022, "Mathematics (Secondary)."

All minors must fill in a program sheet before graduation - see the undergraduate advising coordinator. At least six hours in the major at 300-level or above, not including MATH 306W, must be taken at Eastern Michigan University.

Required Courses: 26 hours

- MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR) 4 hrs
- MATH 121 - Calculus II 4 hrs
- MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 211 - Introduction to Mathematical Proof 3 hrs
- MATH 305 - Technology as a Problem Solving Tool for Secondary Teachers 3 hrs
- MATH 341 - College Geometry 3 hrs
- MATH 360 - Statistical Methods 3 hrs

One course from the following:

- MATH 304 - Middle School Mathematics Methods and Content 3 hrs
- MATH 306W - Teaching Mathematics in Secondary School (GEWI) 3 hrs

Restricted Elective Courses: 3 hours

Three credit hours from the following:

- MATH 223 - Multivariable Calculus 4 hrs
- MATH 319 - Mathematical Modeling 3 hrs
- MATH 325 - Differential Equations 3 hrs
- MATH 400 - History and Development of Mathematics 3 hrs
- MATH 407 - Elementary Number Theory 3 hrs
- MATH 411 - Abstract Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 416 - Linear Algebra 3 hrs
- MATH 420 - Introduction to Real Analysis 3 hrs
- MATH 424 - Introduction to Complex Variables 3 hrs
Minor Total: 29 hours

MTTC Subject Area Test

Starting January 1, 2013, Students seeking licensure in a secondary or K-12 area are not required to take the MTTC subject area test in their minor area. Students who elect not to take the test in their minor will be required to sign a statement indicating that they understand that they will not be endorsed in their minor area and will not be eligible for teaching positions in their minor unless they pass the minor subject area test within five years of completing field experience and course requirements.

Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
- Earn a minimum of 60 credits from a four-year college or university; courses taken at community colleges cannot be used to meet this requirement. (Some formal program-to-program articulation agreements modify this requirement. See specific agreements for details.)
- Earn a minimum of 30 credits from courses taken at EMU.
- Complete 10 of the last 30 hours for the degree from courses taken at EMU.
- Have a minimum of 30 unique credit hours in their major and 20 unique credit hours between them. Some majors that require 50 or more hours themselves do not require a minor; students should check requirements of the selected major in the undergraduate catalog to see if a minor is required.
- Earn no more than 60 credit hours in one subject area (prefix). Credits in excess of the 60 maximum will not be counted toward the minimum of 124 credits required for a bachelor's degree.
- Earn the minimum number of credits in 300-level and above courses in each major and minor as specified below - these credits must be earned in distinct courses, that is, no course can be used to fulfill this requirement in more than one major or minor.
  - Earn a minimum of 6 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each minor
  - Earn a minimum of 9 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that requires a minor.
• Earn a minimum of 15 credits in 300-level or higher courses at EMU in each major that does not require a minor
• Transfer credit will be awarded for courses taken at colleges and universities that are accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting bodies only if the courses are college-level (equated to 100-level or above at EMU) and the student earned a "C" (or 2.0 on a 4 point scale) or better. Transfer credit may be awarded on a case-by-case basis for college-level courses in which a "C" (2.0) or better was earned at institutions outside the U.S. or at non-accredited U.S. institutions; the internal review of such courses is conducted by individual departments/schools within EMU, and additional documentation may be required. Please note: EMU awards only credit for transferred courses; grades are not used in the calculation of an EMU GPA.
• Earn a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 in courses taken at EMU in order to graduate. In addition, a minimum GPA of 2.0 must be reached in courses taken at EMU in each major and minor. (Note: some programs may require a higher GPA - check with your program advisor.)

General Education Requirements:

EMU's General Education Program requires students to choose from a menu of approved courses in several different areas do not assume that other courses in the same department or with similar names will fulfill these requirements. Mathematics

MATH 091 - Basic Mathematics Review

This basic math review course is for highly motivated students who need only a short review of basic math concepts before attempting to place in to a developmental algebra course. Topics include principles and applications of decimals, fractions, percents, proportions, and order of operations. The course covers concepts in an intense, fast-paced setting.
Note: Credit for this course will not count towards graduation. This is a credit/no-credit course, students will not receive a letter grade.

Credit Hours: 1
Prerequisite: Arithmetic Placement Score of 60-99 points
Last Updated: New Course 3/2013, effective Fall 2013

MATH 097 - Pre-College Mathematical Concepts

A mastery-based developmental mathematics course designed to prepare students for a developmental algebra course; covers beginning mathematical concepts and skill development in a supportive but structured setting; includes help with math study skills and reducing math anxiety.
For more information about this course, review the Math 097 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: program placement
Notes: Credit for this course will not count toward graduation
Last Updated: Credit Hour Change 2/2014, effective Summer 2014; added course outline 6/14

MATH 097A - Pre-College Mathematical Concepts — Part I
The first part of a mastery-based developmental mathematics course designed to prepare students for a developmental algebra course; covers beginning mathematical concepts and skill development in a supportive but structured setting; includes help with math study skills and reducing math anxiety.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: program placement
Notes: Credit for this course will not count toward graduation

MATH 097B - Pre-College Mathematical Concepts — Part II

The second part of a mastery-based developmental mathematics course designed to prepare students for a developmental algebra course; covers beginning mathematical concepts and skill development in a supportive but structured setting; includes help with math study skills and reducing math anxiety.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: grade of ‘C’ or better in MATH 097A or program placement
Notes: Credit for this course will not count toward graduation
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

MATH 098 - Pre-College Introductory Algebra Concepts

A mastery-based developmental mathematics course designed to prepare students to succeed in a college-level mathematics course; covers beginning algebra concepts and skill development in a supportive but structured setting; includes help with math study skills and reducing math anxiety.

For more information about this course, review the MATH 098 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: (at least C in either of the following courses: MATH 097 or MATH 097B) and placement score
Notes: Credit for this course will not count toward graduation.
Last Updated: added Course Outline 10/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 098B - Pre-College Introductory Algebra Concepts — Part II

The second part of a mastery-based developmental mathematics course designed to prepare students to succeed in a college-level mathematics course; covers beginning algebra concepts and skill development in a supportive but structured setting; includes help with math study skills and reducing math anxiety.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (at least C in MATH098A) or placement
Notes: Credit for this course will not count toward graduation
Last Updated: 2/23/11

MATH 104 - Intermediate Algebra

A review of elementary algebra and a continuation into the study of functions, graphs and quadratic equations.

For more information about this course, review the MATH 104 Course Outline.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least C in either of the following courses: MATH 098 or MATH 098B)
Last Updated: added Course Outline 10/2012, Links 04/2011
MATH 105 - College Algebra (GEQR)

A study of functions and their graphs, including polynomial, rational, exponential and logarithmic functions; inverse functions; equations and inequalities; and applications.
For more information about this course, review the Math 105 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least a C in MATH 104)

Quantitative Reasoning:

This course will help students refine and extend fluency with algebraic skills. Additionally, the focus of this course is on the conceptual understanding of functions. The course makes the case for using functions to model physical phenomena and simultaneously teaches methods to analyze these functions in a meaningful way. The course presents a catalog of functions - linear, power, quadratic, polynomial, rational, absolute value, exponential and logarithmic functions. By the end of the course students should know the basic properties and graphs of these functions along with using them as models for real world applications. For these reasons, MATH 105 will count for the Quantitative Reasoning requirement in the General Education program Education for Participation in the Global Community.

Last Updated: Gen Ed approval 06/2011, effective Fall 2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 107 - Plane Trigonometry

An elementary course in plane trigonometry. Students who have good records in high school courses including trigonometric identities, trigonometric equations, and oblique triangles should not take the course.
For more information about this course, review the Math 107 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least a C in MATH 104 (B or better strongly recommended)) or (passing grade in any of the following courses: MATH 105, MATH 119 or MATH 210)

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 108 - Problem Solving and Number Concepts for Elementary School Teachers

The course examines topics in the elementary school mathematics curriculum from an advanced standpoint, with an emphasis on conceptual understanding and problem solving. Topics include number theory, real number systems and their properties, algebra concepts and functions. Required of all students in the elementary education program. Open only to prospective elementary teachers.
For more information about this course, review the Math 108 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least a C in any of the following courses: MATH 098, MATH 098B, MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 107, MATH 110E or MATH 118)

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 110 - Mathematical Reasoning (GEQR)

An introduction to quantitative reasoning, with the aim of developing the capacity to comprehend and analyze the quantitative information that is prevalent in modern society. Topics include mathematical modeling, basic probability and statistics and practical applications.
For more information about this course, review the Math 110 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least C in either of the following courses: MATH 098 or MATH 098B) or (passing grade in any of the following courses: MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 107 or MATH 112)

Major Restrictions: Restricted to students who have not declared Elementary Education intent; who are not in any Elementary Education program; and who are not in the Special Education Elementary program

Quantitative Reasoning:

This course will provide students with ways to approach the quantitative information that they are certain to encounter in later coursework at Eastern Michigan University, throughout their careers, and in daily life. The emphasis is on learning methods for comprehending, analyzing and using quantitative information and on techniques for using data to inform decisions about real world events and problems. For these reasons, MATH110 will count for the Quantitative Reasoning requirement in the General Education Program for Participation in the Global Community.

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 110E - Mathematical Reasoning: Applications for Elementary School Teachers (GEQR)

An introduction to quantitative reasoning, with the aim of developing the capacity to comprehend and analyze the quantitative information that is prevalent in modern society. Topics include mathematical modeling, basic probability and statistics, geometry and practical applications for elementary education majors.

For more information about this course, review the Math 110E Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs

Prerequisite: Placement or (at least a C in either of the following courses: MATH 098 or MATH 098B), or (passing grade in any of the following courses: MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 107, MATH 108, or MATH 118)

Major Restrictions: Enrollment in Elementary Education Intent or Elementary Education or Special Education for Elementary

Quantitative Reasoning:

This course will provide students with ways to approach the quantitative information that they are certain to encounter in later coursework at Eastern Michigan University throughout their careers, and in daily life. The emphasis is on learning methods for comprehending, analyzing and using quantitative information and on techniques for using data to inform decisions about real world events and problems.

In addition, MATH110E is specifically designed to meet the needs of students that are looking toward becoming elementary school teachers. While the content of this class mirrors that of MATH 110, the examples, applications and projects are designed to help you make connections to the K-5 classroom and help you to begin to think about how you will teach young children to make sense of some beginning mathematical concepts.

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 112 - Topics in Precalculus Mathematics (GEQR)

Provides a thorough preparation for calculus for students who are insufficiently prepared in college algebra and trigonometry or who need to review these subjects. Emphasis will be on topics from college algebra and trigonometry that are used in calculus.

For more information about this course, review the Math 112 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs

Prerequisite: placement or MATH 105

Notes: Some knowledge of trigonometry is assumed.

Quantitative Reasoning:

The focus of MATH 112 is on the important families of functions used in calculus, their properties, and their applications. Students will learn to use functions to model physical phenomena, and catalog of functions - linear, power, quadratic, polynomial, rational, absolute value. exponential, logarithmic and trigonometric. By the end of the course, students will know the basic properties and graphs of all of these families of functions, and will know how to use them as models for real world
MATH 118 - Linear Models and Probability (GEQR)

Linear models, systems of linear equations, linear regression, probability theory, probabilistic simulations, decision theory, descriptive statistics; combinatorics and/or financial models as time permits.

For more information about this course, review the Math 118 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least C in either of the following courses: MATH 098 or MATH 098B) or (passing grade in any of the following courses: MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 107, MATH 110, MATH 110E or MATH 120)

Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; Gen Ed Approval 12/2006, effective Winter 2007; added course outline 6/14

MATH 119 - Applied Calculus (GEQR)

Introduction to the concepts and applications of differential and integral calculus: behavior and properties of algebraic, logarithmic and exponential functions, derivatives and rates of change, optimization and definite integral as accumulation. Emphasis on problem setup, interpretation and applications.

For more information about this course, review the Math 119 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least a C in MATH 104 (B or better strongly recommended)) or (passing grade in either of the following courses: MATH 105 or MATH 210)

Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; Gen Ed Approval 04/2008, effective Spring 2008; added course outline 6/14

MATH 120 - Calculus I (GEQR)

Calculus of functions of a single variable; differential calculus, including limits, derivatives, techniques of differentiation, the mean value theorem and applications of differentiation to graphing, optimization and rates. Integral calculus, including indefinite integrals, the definite integral, the fundamental theorem of integral calculus, and applications of integration to area and volume.

For more information about this course, review the Math 120 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: placement or (at least a C in any of the following group of courses: (MATH 105 and MATH 107) or in (MATH 112) or in (MATH 210 and MATH 107))

Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Links 04/2011; Gen Ed Approval 03/2007, effective Spring 2007; added course outline 6/14

MATH 121 - Calculus II

Calculus of functions of a single variable continued; additional applications of definite integration to moments, centroids, arc length, surface area and work. Transcendental functions, infinite series, methods of integration, review of conic sections.

For more information about this course, review the Math 121 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: at least a C in MATH 120

Last Updated: Links 04/2011

MATH 122 - Elementary Linear Algebra

Vectors and matrices, operations on matrices, determinants, systems of linear equations, linear independence, linear transformations, applications.
For more information about this course, review the Math 122 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: (at least a C in MATH 105) or (passing grade in either of the following courses: MATH 120 or MATH 112) or placement
Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 140 - Applied Trigonometry and Calculus I for Technology (GEQR)

Plane trigonometry and trigonometric functions; complex numbers; basic identities. Single-variable calculus: limits, derivatives, rate of change, applications of differentiation to optimization. Integral calculus, including indefinite and definite integrals; integrals as accumulation. Applications will focus on electronics and other engineering fields.
For more information about this course, review the Math 140 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 105 with a C or better or math placement level 5
Equivalent Courses: MATH 119
Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Spelling Error 7/2014, Links 03/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 141 - Applied Calculus II for Technology

Single-variable calculus continued; Transcendental functions, applications of integrals to moments and work. Methods of integration. Applications will focus on electronics and other engineering fields.
For more information about this course, review the Math 141 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 140
Last Updated: Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 170 - Elementary Statistics (GEQR)

An introduction to standard methods in statistics, emphasizing the rationale behind them and their application to problems in a variety of fields. Data summary and representation, measures of center and dispersion, correlation and regression, basic probability, point and interval estimation, and hypothesis testing.
For more information about this course, review the Math 170 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Placement (or at least a C) in either of the following courses: MATH 098 or MATH 098B , OR a passing grade in any of the following courses: MATH 104, MATH 105, MATH 107, MATH 110, MATH 110E, MATH 112, MATH 118, MATH 119, or MATH 120.
Quantitative Reasoning:

Last Updated: Change to prerequisites 4/2014, effective Fall 2014
MATH 177 - Special Topics

These special topics courses will be used to teach some aspects of mathematics at an elementary level that would not be regularly offered. This course does not count on a regular major or minor in mathematics.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 178 - Special Topics

These special topics courses will be used to teach some aspects of mathematics at an elementary level that would not be regularly offered. This course does not count on a regular major or minor in mathematics.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 179 - Special Topics

These special topics courses will be used to teach some aspects of mathematics at an elementary level that would not be regularly offered. This course does not count on a regular major or minor in mathematics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 205 - Mathematical Structures for Computer Science

Propositional and predicate logic, sets and operations, discrete functions, sequences, finite summations, function growth, elementary number theory, matrices and applications, proof techniques, elementary combinatorics, discrete probability, relations.

Credit Hours: 4 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 120
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 210 - Algebra for Elementary/Middle School Teachers

Interpreting and applying graphical and algebraic representations of functions, including linear, polynomial, rational, exponential, and logarithmic functions. Connections to teaching algebra in grades K-8 will also be examined.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 210 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 108 and MATH 110E
Major Restrictions: Prospective Elementary Teachers only
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 211 - Introduction to Mathematical Proof

A transition to upper-level mathematics courses. This course highlights various types of mathematical thinking including direct, indirect and inductive proofs with careful treatment of quantified statements. Topics include sets, number theory and relations. Development of ability to write a precise mathematical proof is the primary goal.
MATH 223 - Multivariable Calculus

Vector products, lines and planes in three-dimensional space, quadric surfaces, cylindrical and spherical coordinates. Differential calculus of vector functions of a single variable: velocity and acceleration vectors, curvature. Partial differentiation, gradient, chain rule, directional derivatives, tangent planes, application to optimization. Multiple integration, change of coordinates, applications. Taylor's Theorem for Functions of Several Variables, line and surface integrals, Stokes' Theorem, Gauss' Theorem.

MATH 240 - Geometry for Elementary/Middle School Teachers

Informal geometry of the plane and space, congruence and measurement, elementary theorems and proof, and plane coordinate geometry.

MATH 277 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

MATH 278 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

MATH 279 - Special Topics
An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 301 - Advanced Topics in Elementary Mathematics

Acquaints prospective elementary teachers with new topics in the elementary mathematics curriculum such as algebraic systems, conic sections, trigonometry, statistical procedures and topics in number theory.
For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 301 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 108 and MATH 110E; or MATH 210; or MATH 240
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 304 - Middle School Mathematics Methods and Content

Consideration of the mathematics program in middle school and junior high school, its organization and content, methods of teaching and learning.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 240 or MATH 120
Notes: Not open to freshmen, sophomores or students on academic probation
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 305 - Technology as a Problem Solving Tool for Secondary Teachers

Focus on how using technology can lead to new and deeper insights into mathematical concepts and problems in the high school mathematics curriculum.
For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 305 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 120 and MATH 122
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 306W - Teaching Mathematics in Secondary School (GEWI)

Consideration of the mathematics program in the high school, its organization and content, methods of teaching and learning.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 120 and CURR 305; admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Class Restrictions: Junior standing or above
Notes: Not open to students on academic probation.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Writing Intensive:

Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 03/2011
MATH 311W - Mathematical Problem Solving (GEWI)

Problem solving strategies including deduction, argument by contradiction, induction, symmetry, the extreme principle, the pigeonhole principle and invariants. These strategies are exemplified by tackling open-ended problems in the areas of algebra, combinatorics, number theory and calculus.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 311W Course Outline

Writing Intensive:

Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 319 - Mathematical Modeling

The modeling process; model building and evaluation, techniques of modeling; model fitting and models requiring optimization; empirical model construction — experimental models, dimensional analysis, simulation models, dynamic models; use of derivatives in the modeling process, single and multivariable dynamic models.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 319 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 120 and MATH 122
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules

Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 325 - Differential Equations

First and second order differential equations with applications, linear differential equations, power series solutions, Laplace transforms.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 325 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 121 and MATH 122
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules

MATH 341 - College Geometry

An introduction to several geometries such as affine, projective, space-time and non-Euclidean.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 341 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 211
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules

MATH 360 - Statistical Methods
A comprehensive overview of statistical methods and analysis with applications. Topics include descriptive statistics, probability theory, random variables and probability distributions, sampling distributions, estimation and testing hypotheses, correlation and regression, introduction to computer-assisted statistical analysis.

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 360 Course Outline

MATH 372 - Problems in Actuarial Studies I

Applications of mathematics to actuarial science. Particular attention paid to subject matter not covered in the regular mathematics curriculum and to special techniques of problem solving appropriate to actuarial science. (This course can be useful in preparing for the Society of Actuaries Exam P: Probability.)

For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 372 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: Department permission only; minimum GPA in mathematics of 3.4 is strongly recommended
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012

MATH 377 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 378 - Special Topics

An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 379 - Special Topics
An exploration and study of topics not covered in other departmental offerings. Students may elect more than once, provided different topics are studied.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: department permission

MATH 381 - Teaching Mathematics in Elementary School

Learning how to teach mathematics to students in the elementary grades, with an emphasis on problem solving and concept development. Attention is focused on learning/teaching situations and effective use of learning aids. Required of all prospective elementary teachers.
For more information about this course please review the course outline: Math 381 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 108, MATH 110E and CURR 304; admission to the Initial Teacher Preparation Program
Notes: Not open to students on academic probation
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Course Outline 6/2014, Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 382 - Technology in the Mathematics Classroom

An introduction to way in which calculators and computers can be used effectively to enhance instruction in the elementary and middle school mathematics classroom.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 210
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 387 - Cooperative Education in Mathematics

Four to six months of full-time employment at an industrial firm specially chosen to provide practical experience in mathematics. The program consists of two work experiences (MATH 387/MATH 487) alternating with full-time attendance at the University.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 223
Class Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing
Major Restrictions: Mathematics Majors only
Notes: Admittance to program by application only; department permission; Use on mathematics major subject to department permission. Graded on a credit/no-credit basis.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 400 - History and Development of Mathematics

The course presents topics in the evolution of mathematics — the historical development of algebra, geometry and calculus provides the major focus. Problems will be assigned that reflect the content and methods of this development.
For more information about this course, review the Math 400 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 121 and MATH 122
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
MATH 401 - Mathematics and Its History for Elementary/Middle School Teachers

Topics in the evolution of mathematics from ancient times through the present, with an emphasis on connections with the elementary school curriculum. Development of numeration systems, algebra, different geometries, calculus; including the contributions of different cultures in the development of mathematics.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 240 and MATH 301
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 403 - Current Research in Elementary School Mathematics

A brief history of mathematics education, 1890 to present. Special emphasis on important recent research studies. Consideration of various textbook series, use and evaluation of supplementary materials, the place and value of teaching aids. Professional journals will be utilized throughout the course.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 301 and CURR 304
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 407 - Elementary Number Theory

Primes, Euclidean algorithm and prime factorization, congruences, multiplicative functions, quadratic residues and reciprocity, continued fractions, Diophantine equations, possible applications to cryptology and/or primality testing.
For more information about this course, review the Math 407 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 211
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 409 - Cryptology

An introduction to cryptology, the science of making and breaking codes and ciphers. Primes, modular arithmetic, probability, Euler’s phi-function, factoring algorithms, cryptographic and cryptanalytic techniques for classical and modern cryptographical systems including public key cryptography.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 205 or MATH 211
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 411 - Abstract Algebra
An introduction to the theory and concepts of abstract algebra. Topics from group theory: subgroups, cosets, Lagrange's Theorem, homomorphisms. Also selected topics from ring theory and field theory.
For more information about this course, review the Math 411 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 211
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 416 - Linear Algebra

For more information about this course, review the Math 116 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 122 and MATH 211
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Graduate Credit 07/2011; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 418 - Modeling with Linear Algebra

Topics in linear algebra such as linear transformations, eigenvalues, eigenvectors and inner products. Applications may include rotations in space and 3-D graphics, stochastic processes, systems of linear ODEs, Fourier series, orthogonal polynomials and projection methods for solving overdetermined systems.
For more information about this course, review the Math 418 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 121 and MATH 122
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 419W - Introduction to Stochastic Mathematical Modeling (GEWI)

Models of randomness in a variety of fields: actuarial studies, economics, biology, engineering and others as appropriate for student population. Discrete time Markov chains, Poisson processes and generalizations, time series, Brownian motion, and dynamic programming. An important part of the course is an opportunity for a student to become involved in an actual modeling problem.
For more information about this course, review the Math 419W Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 223, MATH 311W, MATH 319, MATH 360 or MATH 370 and MATH 122
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Writing Intensive:
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 420 - Introduction to Real Analysis
A rigorous introduction to the foundations of calculus: real numbers, elementary topology of the real line, sequences and series, limits, continuity, uniform continuity, introduction to differentiation.
For more information about this course, review the Math 420 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 211
Graduate Credit: This is an undergraduate course available to graduate students for graduate credit.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 424 - Introduction to Complex Variables

Complex numbers, analytic functions, elementary functions and their mapping properties, conformal mapping and applications; contour integrals, Cauchy-Goursat Theorem and its consequences, Taylor and Laurent series, calculus of residues.
For more information about this course, review the Math 424 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 211 and MATH 223
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 425 - Mathematics for Scientists

The scientific applications of mathematics. Topics chosen will reflect the interests of the class. Possible areas of study include Fourier series and transforms, complex variables, generalized functions, Laplace transform, Bessel functions, curve fitting, partial differential equations and the calculus of variations. A record of topics studied each semester will be kept in the mathematics files.
For more information about this course, review the Math 425 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 223
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 430 - Introduction to Stochastic Calculus

An introduction to stochastic processes, stochastic integration and differentiation, solving stochastic differential equations, martingale calculus, and martingale measures.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 223 , MATH 325 , and MATH 370
Last Updated: New Course 11/2012, effective Winter 2013

MATH 436 - Introduction to Numerical Analysis

Introduces the theory and application of numeric methods and error analysis; solution of nonlinear equations, interpolation and approximation, numerical integration, numerical solution of differential equations, numerical methods for solving large linear systems.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 121 and MATH 122; and COSC 111
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Course Revisions: effective Winter 2015, COSC 120 will be added as a prerequisite
MATH 448 - Differential Geometry with an Introduction to General Relativity

Curve and surface theory in three-dimensional space: introduction to special and general relativity. Not open to students with credit in MATH 548 Introduction to Differential Geometry.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 223 and MATH 325
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 460 - Applied Survey Sampling

A course in principles of sampling for assessment of data in business, social sciences or natural resource management. Sampling problem, selection of samples, designing questionnaires, estimation of means and variances, ratio, regression and difference methods, simple and stratified random sampling, systematic sampling, cluster sampling, probability proportional to size sampling. A special survey software package is used.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 360 or MATH 370
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Links 04/2011

MATH 461 - Linear Regression Analysis

Topics include modeling a response as a simple or multiple regression model, validity of assumptions, using models for estimation and prediction, multicolinearity, auto-correlation of error terms, residual analysis and stepwise regression. A statistical software package (SAS) is used extensively.

For more information about this course, review the Math 461 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 122 and either MATH 360 or MATH 370
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 462 - Design and Analysis of Experiments

A basic course in principles of experimental designs and analysis: randomized blocks and Latin squares, nested experiments, experimental and sampling errors, fixed and random effects models, factorial and fractional designs. A statistical software package (SAS) is used extensively.

For more information about this course, review the Math 462 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 360 or MATH 370
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011; added course outline 6/14

MATH 468 - Introduction to Biostatistics
This course introduces statistical concepts and analytical methods as applied to data encountered in biomedical sciences. Topics include sensitivity, specificity, ROC curve, nonparametric tests, Chi-square goodness-of-fit test, risk measures and survival analysis.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 360
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; New Course 07/2011

MATH 469 - Introduction to Categorical Data Analysis

An introduction to hypothesis testing strategies in measuring associations between a categorical response and a set of explanatory variables in a contingency table setting. Nonparametric methods and some regression analysis techniques such as logistic regression, Poisson regression and loglinear models will be considered.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 360
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; New Course 07/2011

MATH 471 - Probability and Statistics II

Nature of statistics; distributions, measure of central value and dispersion; sampling; statistical inference, estimation and tests of hypothesis. Methods of computation, applications and data analysis will be stressed. Nonparametric statistics: sequential tests, analysis of variance.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 370
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 472 - Problems in Actuarial Studies II

Applications of mathematics to actuarial science. Particular attention paid to subject matter not covered in the regular mathematics curriculum and to special techniques of problem solving appropriate to actuarial science. (This course can be useful in preparing for the Society of Actuaries Exam FM: Financial Mathematics.) For more information about this course, review the Math 472 Course Outline

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: Department permission; a minimum GPA in mathematics of 3.4 is strongly recommended
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; added course outline 6/14

MATH 474W - Applied Statistics (GEWI)

This course stresses the empirical approach to statistics: Monte Carlo methods to generate samples and to model distributions; tests of fit to assumed distributions; medians vs. means and range vs. standard deviations; demonstrations of basic theorems; randomness and independence. For more information about this course, review the Math474W_CourseOutline

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: MATH 360 or MATH 370
MATH 477 - Special Topics

A senior-level course in a specific area of mathematics. The area to be studied will be determined by the field of specialization of the staff member teaching the course and the interest of the students enrolled.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission

MATH 478 - Special Topics

A senior-level course in a specific area of mathematics. The area to be studied will be determined by the field of specialization of the staff member teaching the course and the interest of the students enrolled.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission

MATH 479 - Special Topics

A senior-level course in a specific area of mathematics. The area to be studied will be determined by the field of specialization of the staff member teaching the course and the interest of the students enrolled.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission

MATH 487 - Cooperative Education in Mathematics

Four to six months of full-time employment at an industrial firm specially chosen to provide practical experience in mathematics. The program consists of two work experiences (MATH 387/MATH 487) alternating with full-time attendance at the University.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: Admittance to program by application only; MATH 387; department permission
Class Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing
Major Restrictions: Mathematics Majors only
Notes: Use on mathematics major subject to department permission. Graded on a credit/no-credit basis.
Terms Offered: Course Rotation Schedules
Last Updated: Link 5/2012; Links 04/2011

MATH 497 - Independent Study

A report on an approved subject in the field of mathematics under the guidance of the Mathematics Department staff.

Credit Hours: 1 hr
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission

MATH 498 - Independent Study
A report on an approved subject in the field of mathematics under the guidance of the Mathematics Department staff.

Credit Hours: 2 hrs
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission

MATH 499 - Independent Study

A report on an approved subject in the field of mathematics under the guidance of the Mathematics Department staff.

Credit Hours: 3 hrs
Prerequisite: undergraduate grade point average in mathematics 3.0 or above and department permission
Music and Dance Programs and Courses

Music and Dance

Major

Dance Major

Dance Curriculum-Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Science
This curriculum leads to either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree. (Students who complete one year of foreign language will be awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree.) Each degree offers students a choice of three career-track options: (1) pre-dance therapy, (2) studio management and (3) performance and choreography. Students in the studio management track will also complete a minor in the College of Business.

Students planning admission to the dance major must officially enroll in the program at the Academic Advising Center and complete the following:

1. An audition into the program.
2. An application into the dance program is available at N101 Alexander or online at www.emich.edu/dance/html/dance_future.html.
3. A course of study is planned with a dance advisor upon admission into the dance program.

All students must meet the General Education Requirements and the other courses specified in each area below. Suitable adjustments can be made in consultation with a dance faculty advisor. Some of the track required courses can be used to fulfill General Education Requirements.

Dance majors and minors are encouraged to enroll in a technique class every semester while attending Eastern Michigan University. Ballet or modern technique classes may be repeated for no credit.

Department Website

All prospective students (including transfers) must apply to the Department of Music and Dance and complete an entrance audition. Admissions information and access to the department's online application are available here. Applications must be submitted at least seven days in advance of the requested audition day.

In addition to the degree requirements stated below, students must learn and abide by additional department polices posted on the department's website.

General Education Requirements:

For specific requirements refer to the General Education Program.

Major Requirements: 63-77 hours

Dance Core: 40 hours

- DANC 107 - Rhythmic Analysis and Dance Accompaniment 3 hrs
- DANC 208 - Classical Ballet Technique III 3 hrs
- DANC 209 - Classical Ballet Technique IV 3 hrs
- DANC 210 - Modern Dance Technique III 3 hrs
- DANC 211 - Modern Dance Technique IV 3 hrs
- DANC 245 - Elements of Dance Composition 3 hrs
- DANC 255 - Dance Production 3 hrs
- DANC 320 - Dance Workshop 1 hr
- DANC 350W - History of Dance: Prehistoric to Renaissance (GEWI) 3 hrs
- DANC 351W - History of Dance: Romanticism to the Present (GEWI) 3 hrs
- DANC 354 - Methods and Materials in Teaching of Dance 3 hrs
- DANC 422 - Dance Workshop 2 hr
- DANC 450 - Advanced Dance Composition 4 hrs
- DANC 455 - Seminar in Dance 2 hrs
- DANC 497 - Directed Study 1 hr

Select from one of the following tracks:

Track I: Pre-Dance Therapy (DANC PTHY): 32 hours

- EDPS 325 - Life Span Human Growth and Development 4 hrs
- PHED 200 - Anatomy and Physiology 5 hrs
- PHED 204 - Kinesiology (Biomechanics of Physical Activity) 3 hrs
- PSY 309 - Social Psychology 3 hrs
- PSY 360 - Abnormal Psychology 3 hrs
- THRC 250 - Fieldwork in Recreation Therapeutic Recreation 1 hr

Choose 12 hours from the following courses:
• MUSC 103 - Introduction to Music Therapy 3 hrs
• PHED 330 - Adapted Physical Education 3 hrs
• PSY 321 - Child Psychology 3 hrs
• PSY 322 - Psychology of Adolescence 3 hrs
• PSY 323 - Psychology of Human Aging 3 hrs
• PSY 362 - The Psychology of Stress and Relaxation 3 hrs
• PSY 365 - Behavior Modification 3 hrs
• THRC 200 - Recreation for Persons with Disabilities 3 hrs

One course from the following:

• DANC 331 - Service Teaching–Ballet 1 hr
• DANC 333 - Service Teaching–Modern Dance 1 hr

Track II: Studio Management (DANC STMG): 37 hours

The studio management track must select a minor from the college of business with advisor approval (21 credit hours).

• DANC 103 - Tap I 2 hrs
• DANC 331 - Service Teaching–Ballet 1 hr
• DANC 333 - Service Teaching–Modern Dance 1 hr
• DANC 456 - Creative Dance for Children 2 hrs
• PEGN 102 - Aerobic Dance (GELB) 1 hr
• PEGN 103 - Ballroom Dance (GELB) 1 hr
• PHED 200 - Anatomy and Physiology 5 hrs
• PHED 204 - Kinesiology (Biomechanics of Physical Activity) 3 hrs

Track III: Performance (DANC PERF): 23 hours

• CTAR 158 - Fundamentals of Acting (GEKA) 3 hrs
• CTAR 370 - Audition 3 hrs
• CTAR 380 - Musical Theatre Acting 2 hrs
• DANC 103 - Tap I 2 hrs
• DANC 201 - Jazz II 2 hrs
• DANC 320 - Dance Workshop 1 hr
• DANC 422 - Dance Workshop 2 hr
• PHED 200 - Anatomy and Physiology 5 hrs
• PHED 204 - Kinesiology (Biomechanics of Physical Activity) 3 hrs

Minor Requirements:

This program does not require a minor.

Program Total:

Students must earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level or above.
Critical Graduation Information:

Each undergraduate student will be responsible for the fulfillment of the requirements or their equivalents of the Eastern Michigan University catalog in force at the time of their initial registration at a college or university or a subsequent catalog including the one in effect at the time of their graduation.

In the event an undergraduate student does not complete the degree requirements within seven years of the date of their original registration at a college or university, the student may be required to have their credits re-evaluated by the academic department(s) of their major/minor in keeping with catalog requirements in force during the year of their graduation.

The following are minimum requirements for all bachelor's degrees awarded by Eastern Michigan University. Some majors and minors require more than the minimum in one or more of the areas below; students are urged to consult the online catalog for the requirements of their particular programs.

- Earn a minimum total of 124 credits at the 100-level and above. Courses with numbers below 100 will not be counted toward this degree requirement. At most 8 credit hours of physical education (PEGN) activity courses will be counted toward this requirement. A Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of one year of college credit in a world language.
- Meet the requirements of the General Education program (see information below).
- Complete a Writing Intensive (WI) Course in your major.
