

Volume 33, Number 41
June 30, 1987

FOCUS EMU

Produced by Public Information
and Publications

Capsules

Black Faculty and Staff to Hold Annual Picnic

The Black Faculty and Staff Association will hold its annual picnic Saturday, July 11, at Ypsilanti Township's JYRO Park.

The picnic will begin at 10 a.m. For more information, call Kathi Hollie at 7-0272.

Symposium to Feature 'Quality of Life For Women'

EMU's College of Health and Human Services will hold its fourth annual Quality of Life Symposium, this year focusing on quality of life for women, in three Friday and Saturday sessions, July 10 and 11, 17 and 18 and 24 and 25, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Roosevelt Hall.

The first session, titled "Women in Families," will explore the variety of family lifestyles that exist today.

The second session, titled "Women and crisis," will explore how women find meaning in their daily lives, gender stereotyping, how crises affect women differently and women and chemical dependency.

The final session, "Women and Aging," will discuss how gender roles change in later years, how urbanization and industrialization has undermined the traditional extended family support systems of minority families, older women who work and older women as caregivers.

Participants may earn one EMU undergraduate or graduate credit per session attended and the fees will be consistent with EMU graduate and undergraduate tuition rates.

For more information, call the College of Health and Human Services at 7-0077.

Hewitt Road Ribbon Cutting Ceremony July 10

A ribbon-cutting ceremony marking the opening of Hewitt Road, which runs through EMU's West Campus, will be held Friday, July 10, at 10 a.m. on Hewitt Road near Rynearson Stadium.

A 30-minute program commemorating the event will follow.

Summer Institute guests include actor, UFO 'abductee'

Chelsea resident and actor Jeff Daniels, members of the Michigan Opera Theatre and a UFO "abductee" are just some of the featured guests expected at EMU's fourth Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institute on the Arts and Sciences Sunday, June 28, through Saturday, July 11. The two-week program, which will host 100 talented and gifted high school students, is based on the theme "Michigan, a State of Young Minds."

Daniels, who will be meeting with students Tuesday, July 7, starred in the films "Terms of Endearment" and Woody Allen's "Purple Rose of Cairo" and "Radio Days." Although his presentation and UFO "abductee" Shirley Coyne's talk (on July 2) are not open to the public, several of the institute's other activities welcome public involvement.

Among the free public activities in EMU's Sponberg Theater is a panel discussion on international business trade in Michigan Wednesday, July 1, at 1 p.m.

Titled "Michigan's Current Position and Long-term Strategy in Internationalizing Its Economy," the July 1 panel will feature William Gibson, trade specialist for U.S. and foreign commercial service in the U.S. Department of Commerce; Blaire Houchens Miller, EMU alumna and international bank officer at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit; Russ Leach, EMU alumnus and director of business attraction for the Detroit Economic Growth Corp.; and Dr. Jack Trojanovich, internal consultant, Manufacturing Group, at Chrysler Corp.

Sunday, July 5, storyteller extraordinaire Michael Garcia will perform at 8 p.m. and Dr. Robbie Johnson, director of student

Transfer student applications cut off

EMU's Office of Admissions announced June 24 that applications to the University from transfer students will be accepted only until Thursday, July 2.

The July 2 deadline is 13 days earlier than the July 15 cut-off date originally approved by EMU Regents in April as part of the University's enrollment management plan.

According to Courtney McAnuff, dean of admissions and financial aid at EMU, the earlier deadline is essential to avoiding an over-enrollment crisis in the fall.

"Currently, transfer applications are up 22 teaching at EMU, will present "The Future of Teaching in Michigan" Monday, July 6, at 1 p.m.

Continued on page 2

The future of the automobile industry in Michigan will be the focus of a presentation by Dr. David Cole, director of the University of Michigan Transportation Institute, Thursday, July 9, at 1 p.m.

And, a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts will put the Michigan Opera Theater onstage with a "Michigan Music Revue" Friday, July 10, at 1 p.m.

In addition, summer institute participants will present a talent show Thursday, July 9, from 8 to 11 p.m. in Sponberg Theater and a showcase of student projects and performances is slated for Friday, July 10, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Quirk Dramatic Arts Building.

Except for the final showcase, all of the public events will be held in EMU's Sponberg Theater.

EMU football to be broadcast on ESPN

For the first time in its history, the EMU football team will play a nationally televised game when the Hurons take on the University of Toledo this fall.

Eastern was slated to meet Toledo in a 4:30 p.m. Mid-American Conference game Saturday, Nov. 7. That game has been changed to Thursday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m. as part of ESPN's six-game mid-week television package for the 1987 season.

ESPN reaches 42.8 million homes nationwide. This is the third year that ESPN has televised collegiate football games on Thursdays.

The EMU-Toledo television matchup is only the third nationally televised regular season Mid-American Conference game. The Bowling Green State University-Miami University game on Oct. 25, 1980, was televised on ESPN when the network was in its infancy. The Miami-Cincinnati game on Nov. 18, 1982, was televised nationally by Turner Broadcasting Co.

The only other appearance by EMU on network television was in 1971 when the Hurons participated in the Pioneer Bowl against Louisiana Tech University. That game, won by Louisiana Tech, 14-3, was televised on a regional basis by ABC. The EMU-Miami game last year also was a regionally televised contest.

WEMU taking auditions for 1987 jazz competition

EMU's public radio station, WEMU-FM (89.1), presently is accepting audition tapes for its Seventh Annual Jazz Competition to be held Friday through Sunday, Aug. 21-23, in Ypsilanti's Depot Town.

The competition is for semiprofessional and student jazz musicians living in Michigan who are looking for exposure, experience and a unique way to break into the jazz business.

There are no age limits and entrants will be accepted representing many styles of jazz including traditional, swing, bebop, contemporary mainstream and avant-garde.

Cosponsored by WEMU and the Depot Town Association, the competition will offer winners $1,200 in cash prizes, engagements at top Detroit and Ann Arbor jazz clubs and, for high school musicians, $5,000 in scholarships to the Berklee College of Music in Boston.

The competition has two divisions, high school and semiprofessional, and three categories: singers, group instrumentals and solo/duo instrumentals. In the high school division, the group first prize is $150, solo/duo prize is $50 and singer prize is $75. In addition, seven performers from the high school division will be awarded $1,000 or $500 scholarships to Berklee.

In the semiprofessional division, the group first prize is $400 and second prize is $200, solo/duo first prize is $100 and second prize is $50. The winner of the singer division will receive $150.

In addition, some of the winners will be booked at top jazz clubs in southeastern Michigan. Group first prize winners will perform at Dummy George Lounge in Detroit as well as at the Del Rio and Bird of Paradise in Ann Arbor. The solo/duo first prize winner and the singer division winner will perform in the 1988 WEMU-Depot Town Winter Jazz Series.

All musicians who perform in the jazz competition will receive a $5 per player stipend for expenses. All bands and singers also will receive cassette recordings of their performances to use as promotional tools or demonstration tapes.

WEMU will broadcast the 30-hour competition live from Ypsilanti's Heritage Festival.

Audition is by cassette only. The tape must include three songs performed by the musicians who will actually be in the competition.

To obtain official rules and an entry blank, call WEMU at 487-2229 or write to: Competition, WEMU, 426 King Hall, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, Mich., 48197.

Audition tapes must be postmarked by Monday, July 6.

Metler, retired prof, dies

Dr. John W. Metler, professor of educational psychology in the Department of Teacher Education at EMU, died suddenly Friday, June 5, at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Metler, 63, taught at EMU from 1978 to 1986 and was curriculum coordinator of EMU's Somali Project from 1966 to 1968.

A resident of Ypsilanti Township, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Western Ontario in London, Ontario, Canada, in 1947 and a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Victoria University Emmanuel College. He earned his master's degree in 1952 and doctorate in 1957 from Columbia University. He also did postdoctoral work in marriage therapy at the University of Minnesota.

Metler began his career in education as a middle school teacher. He was a special education teacher for one year and worked as a minister in several Congregational churches. He retired in 1986 after four years at the First Congregational Church UCC in St. Clair.

"He was a loving, gentle friend to colleagues and to students," said Dr. Marvin Pasch, head of the Department of Teacher Education.

Metler is survived by his wife Sally, his son Paul, his daughter Susan Henry of Ypsilanti, grandchildren Arista, Zachary and Nathan Metler, and his stepson John Mertz of St. Clair. He also is survived by his sister Marjorie Marchant of California and Lois E. Metler, mother of his children.

Memorial contributions in Metler's name may be made to the First Congregational Church of St. Clair.

8 on faculty awarded Grants

Eight EMU faculty members recently were awarded $1,200 grants from EMU's Faculty Center for Instructional Effectiveness for innovative teaching projects.

Created in 1985, the FCIE supports EMU faculty in their efforts to design innovative and effective ways of teaching. The grant awards particularly are based on student-centered learning projects which reflect awareness of current research about effective teaching and learning.

The recent grant recipients and their projects are:

—Jean Bush-Bacelis, instructor of management, who will help students improve their writing skills by having them evaluate each other's written work based on evaluation methods which focus on several specific areas;

—Dr. Jeffrey Dansky, professor of psychology, who has created activities to help psychology students develop creative im-percent for the 1987 fall semester and we are receiving an average of 180 transfer applications each week. Already, we have 2,645 applicants for our 1,600 available spaces," he said.

Continued on page 3

Applications

Continued from page 1

McAnuff also said that the number of transfer students admitted to the University is up 22 percent when compared with the same period last year and the number of transfer students already enrolled is up 143 percent when compared with 1986 data.

A major objective of EMU's enrollment management plan is to limit 1987 fall semester enrollment to approximately 23,250 students so that adequate and quality services can be maintained for students.

The closing date for new freshmen applications was April 10, 1987.

Last fall, EMU experienced its highest enrollment ever with 23,095 students enrolled.

Research

Solid Waste/Resource Recovery Educational Curricula

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has issued a Request For Proposals for the development of solid waste management/resource recovery curricula materials. The completion of this project will result in the development of four curriculum kits that included a variety of written and audiovisual education components for: lower elementary (K-3), upper elementary (4-6), junior high (7-9) and senior high (10-12).

For copies of the RFP, contact Cheryl Kozell at 7-3090.

Aging and Formal Health Care

The National Institute of Aging is inviting applications to investigate the complex interrelationships among health care systems, aging processes and health and functioning in the middle and later years. Social and behavioral research is requested on all types of health services and treatments including outpatient visits, hospitalizations, institutional care, home care and other alternatives to institutional care for preventive, curative as well as palliative or custodial purposes.

Submission deadlines are Oct. 1 and Feb. 1. Contact Rick Howard at 7-3090 for more information.

FOCUS EMU is published for faculty and staff every other Tuesday during the spring and summer by the Public Information and Publications Office. The deadline to submit copy is 5 p.m. Tuesday for the following week's issue.

Kathleen D. Tinney, director.

Communications

Susan Bairley, associate director.

Public Information

Debra McLean, FOCUS EMU editor

Openings

To be considered for vacant positions, all Promotional Openings Application Forms MUST be sent directly to the Employment/Affirmative Action Office and received no later than 5 p.m. on the expiration date.

The Employment/Affirmative Action Office announces the following vacancies. The expiration date for applying for these positions is Wednesday, July 8. Detailed job descriptions may be reviewed in Room 310 King Hall.

CLERICAL/SECRETARIAL

(Minimum Biweekly Rate)

POSTING # CLASS/GRADE

CSAA87028 - CS-05 - $539 - Senior Secretary - Educational Service Center (Word processing experience and/or the ability and willingness to learn; basic bookkeeping experience desirable.)

CSBF87025 - CS-05 - $539 - Account Specialist - Parking & Paving (Familiarity with micro-computer system using Condor software desirable.)

CSAA87027 - CS-05 - $539 - Senior Secretary - Nursing Education (Word processing experience and/or the ability and willingness to learn; experience in an academic department desirable.)

ADMINISTRATIVE/PROFESSIONAL/TECHNICAL

(Biweekly Salary Range)

POSTING # CLASS/GRADE

APEX87006 - AP-12 - $1,380.58 - $2,251.83 - University Attorney - President's Office - July 15 deadline

PTSA87008 - PT-06 - $636.02 - $920.58 - Area Complex Director - Housing

PTSA87009 - PT-06 - $636.02 - $920.58 - Area Complex Director - Housing

PTBF87008 - PT-06 - $636.02 - $920.58 - Supervisor, Parking Operations Parking & Paving

PTAA87007 - PT-08 - $833.88 - $1,276.25 (FTE) - Administrative Assistant, College of Technology (40 percent) - College of Technology (temporary six-month appointment)

PTSA87010 - PT-08 - $833.88 - $1,276.25 - Senior Accountant - Housing/Food Service

FACULTY

POSTING #

LCAA87035 - Communication & Theater Arts - Lecturer (Forensics Program) - ACADEMIC YEAR, 1987-88

LCAA87036 - Communication & Theater Arts - Part-time Lecturer (Drama/Theater for the Young) - ACADEMIC YEAR, 1987-88

LCAA87037 - Communication & Theater Arts - Part-time Lecturer (Speech/Communication) - ACADEMIC YEAR, 1987-88

LCAA87038 - Communication & Theater Arts - Part-time Lecturer

(Telecommunications/Broadcasting) - ACADEMIC YEAR, 1987-88

LCAA87039 - History & Philosophy - Part-time Lecturer (History) - FALL SEMESTER, 1987 and/or WINTER SEMESTER, 1988

FOOD SERVICE/MAINTENANCE

(Minimum Hourly Rate*)

POSTING # CLASS/GRADE

FMSA87003 - FM-01 - $7.21 - Food Service Attendant - Dining Commons I - Sat. - Wed., 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

FMSA87002 - FM-06 - $8.25 - Cook - Dining Commons I/Food Service - Tue. - Sat., 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

*Pay rates stated above do not include shift differential, when applicable.

An Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Grants

continued from page 2

agination skills necessary in problem-solving techniques:

—Dr. Stuart Karabenick, professor of psychology, who will introduce computer conferencing into a psychology course to increase individual student involvement.

—Dr. John Novak, assistant professor of biology, who has created materials and instructional kits designed to help beginning biology teachers teach basic laboratory skills to secondary school students.

—Dr. Shirley Rose, assistant professor of English, who will have beginning English composition students collaborate on their writing projects and edit the writing of peers to enhance their writing skills.

—Dr. F. Elizabeth Van Voorhees, associate professor of special education, who will use a cooperative learning technique titled "Jigsaw" to prepare teachers to help children with learning disabilities:

—Katherine Watson, assistant professor of nursing education, who will involve her students in joint decision-making about patient care and the critiquing of each other's written plans for patient care; and

—Dr. Nesa Wu, professor of operations research and information systems, who has developed real-life simulations of information taught in his production/operations management course to provide students with hands-on experience.

Summer study trips offered

EMU's Office of International Studies will sponsor three 1987 summer travel/study trips to Europe, Russia and Poland, and Ecuador's Galapagos Islands.

All three trips are open to EMU students and the general public and offer optional college credit in addition to unique travel experiences.

The 28th Annual Travel/Study Program, conducted by Dr. Reinhard Wittke, professor in EMU's History Department, will visit Spain, Portugal, Nice and Corsica, Switzerland, Munich and Bavaria from June 25 through Aug. 5.

The tour costs vary according to the length of the trip elected, with travel options of from 22- to 40-day tours available.

The tour of Russia and Poland, from July 31 to Aug. 22, will visit Leningrad, Tallinn, Moscow, Kalinin, Warsaw and Gdansk.

Led by EMU history professor Dr. Walter G. Moss, the tour will include excursions to the former Tsar's Palace at Peterhof and the Orthodox religious center of Zagorsk.

The group also will spend a day in Brussels before flying on to Leningrad.

For those with a scientific adventure in mind, EMU will offer a trip to the Galapagos Islands, 600 miles off Ecuador's coast. The unique geography of the islands has resulted in an unusual collection of wildlife, some call "the world's most zany zoo." Some of the animals found on the island are the bluefooted booby, the marine iguana and the short-eared owl.

Participants will explore land formations, vegetation and wildlife of key islands with James Hinkle, an experienced naturalist guide, and Dr. William Fennel, EMU biology professor. Participants will lodge, dormitory style, on cruise boats to allow easy access to the islands.

The trip, which runs July 10 through 24, also includes three days of cultural sight-seeing in Quito, Ecuador.

For more information about the trips, call George Klein, director of EMU's Office of International Studies, at 7-2424.

Adviser

Academic Advising Center
229 Pierce Hall
Hotline: 7-3344

Summer Hours—Early Morning Hours

As of June 25, the Academic Advising Center is no longer open after 5 p.m. We will continue our early morning hours Monday through Friday from 7:30 to 5 p.m.

Last Day—Summer

Thursday, July 2, is the last day to receive a 100 percent tuition credit for summer course load reduction or complete withdrawal from the University. Wednesday, July 8, is the last day to receive 50 percent tuition credit for course load reduction or complete withdrawal from the University.

Participants

Several members of EMU's faculty and staff recently have been involved in numerous professional activities.

Dr. Carl E. Ojala, professor of geography, recently had his article "A Geography of Major Interscholastic Women's Sports In the United States" published in the May 1987 issue of The Geographical Bulletin.

Ojala also presented the subject at the 83rd Annual Meeting of the Association of American Geographers held in Portland, Ore.

Dr. Donna M. Schmitt, professor in the Department of Leadership and Counseling, recently presented "Moving Ahead Professionally" at the Professional Development Program of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society in Plymouth.

Dr. Don R. Lick, head of the Department of Mathematics, was one of four in a delegation of mathematicians which met at the State Capitol in Lansing. The group presented data showing a national crisis in mathematics, which is affecting universities.

industry and government.

Dr. Marvin Johnson, professor in the Department of Health Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, recently was selected to represent the United States as a gymnastics judge at La Coupe Excellence, an international sports event held in Montreal, Canada.

Johnson also was a judge at the U.S. Gymnastics Federation College Championships held at the University of Wisconsin at Oshkosh.

Nancy Erickson, unit manager in the Huron Hideaway, had a full-page article about the Hideaway's marketing efforts published in the January 1987 issue of Food Management magazine.

Ronda Glikin, assistant professor in the University Library, recently had her report "Career Education: Foreign Languages and the Librarian" published by the Educational Resources Information Center as part of its data base of articles in education. The report describes the cooperation between librarians and the rest of the university community in promoting career planning for students.

Dr. Israel Woronoff, professor of educational psychology in the Department of Teacher Education, recently spoke on stress management at the Staff Development Center of the Ann Arbor Public Schools.

Woronoff also presented a stress management workshop at St. Thomas High School in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Jack Minzey, head of the Department of Leadership and Counseling, recently was keynote speaker at the Maryland Association for Adult, Community and Continuing Education Conference held in Annapolis, Md.

Dr. John Ginther, mathematics professor, recently spoke on "Informal Geometry in High School: Ideas and Challenges" at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics annual meeting in Anaheim, Calif.

Dr. Warren S. Williams, professor in the Department of Teacher Education, recently presented a paper titled "Advanced App-leworks: Undocumented Techniques for Productivity Improvement" at the National Educational Computer Conference in San Diego, Calif.

Events of the Week June 30 - July 13

Wednesday 1

WORKSHOP — The Office of Human Resources Development will present a workshop titled "Work Styles: A Method for Understanding Self and Others," Tower Room, McKenny Union, 1 p.m.

PANEL DISCUSSION — As part of the Michigan State Board of Education 1987 Summer Institute for gifted and talented high school students, a panel of business experts will address international business trade in Michigan, Sponberg Theater, 1 p.m.

Friday 3

HOLIDAY — In recognition of the Independence Day Holiday, all offices and departments will be closed and no classes will be held, All campus, all day

Sunday 5

STORYTELLER — As part of the Michigan State Board of Education 1987 Summer Institute for gifted and talented high school students, Michael Garcia, noted storyteller, will speak, Sponberg Theater, 1 p.m.

Monday 6

PRESENTATION — As part of EMU's 1987 Summer Institute for gifted and talented high school students, Dr. Robbie Johnson, coordinator of student teaching at EMU, will speak on the future of teaching in Michigan, Sponberg Theater, 1 p.m.

Wednesday 8

CONFERENCE — EMU's Department of Leadership and Counseling and Educational Service Center will sponsor a conference titled "Drugs and Alcohol: Employment Issues in Educational Institutions." Topics will include the legal aspects of drug testing in the educational workplace and employee substance abuse assistance programs. Registration is $75 per person and $40 for students, which includes lunch. For more information, call 7-3134, Holiday Inn Holidome, Ann Arbor, 8 a.m.

Thursday 9

WORKSHOP — The Office of Human Resources Development will present part I of a workshop on techniques of supervision using the Two-minute Manager concept, 201 King Hall, 9 a.m.

PRESENTATION — As part of EMU's 1987 Summer Institute for gifted and talented high school students, Dr. David Cole, director of the University of Michigan's Transportation Institute, will speak on the future of the automobile industry in Michigan, Sponberg Theater, 1 p.m.

TALENT SHOW — Participants in the Michigan State Board of Education 1987 Summer Institute for gifted talented high school students will perform in a talent show, Sponberg Theater, 8 p.m.

Friday 10

SYMPOSIUM — In the first session of the "Quality of Life—Women" symposia sponsored by the College of Health and Human Services, the role of women in the family will be discussed today and tomorrow. For more information on the symposia, call the college at 7-0077. Fee, Room 2, Roosevelt Hall, 9 a.m.

WORKSHOP — The Office of Human Resources Development will present an orientation for new EMU employees, 201, King Hall, 9 a.m.

RIBBON CUTTING — To commemorate the opening of Hewitt Road, which runs through West Campus, a ribbon-cutting ceremony will be held, Rynearson Stadium, 10 a.m.

SHOWCASE — The final student projects and performances for the 1987 Summer Institute for gifted and talented high school students will be presented, Quirk Building, 7:30 p.m.

CONCERT — As part of the 1987 Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institute, the Michigan Opera Theater will perform a Michigan Music Revue, Sponberg Theater, 8 p.m.

RECITAL — The Music Department will present Steve Gustasson in a junior piano recital, Alexander Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Saturday 11

PICNIC — The Black Faculty and Staff Association will hold its annual picnic. For information, call Kathi Holley at 7-0272, JYRO Park, 10 a.m.

Sunday 12

SUMMER QUEST — EMU's Summer Quest '87, a residential program for college-bound high school students, will run today through Saturday, Aug. 8. For more information, call Neeta Delaney at 7-0345. All campus, all day.