What do you know?

1. What is the source of Yule Log's name?
2. What time is the sky most often broken, and how?
3. Who founded the University of Virginia?
4. What distinguished character graduated from the University of Virginia and went on to become a famous war hero?
5. In what state were the first normal schools established and admitted to the state university system?
6. What is the name of the famous television show that features a man named John Adams and his wife Abigail?
7. What is the "Feast of the Paschas" and why is it celebrated?
8. What are the "Horns of Plenty"?
9. What is the "Farmers' Market"?
10. Where is the home of the famous "Tally Ho?"

I. The source of Yule Log's name is the Greek word "yulos," which means "fat." The Yule Log is a large log of wood that is cut and brought into the home during the Christmas season as a symbol of good fortune and prosperity. The word "yulos" comes from the Greek word "yulon," which means "to feed." The Yule Log is a symbol of the ancient belief that the gods and goddesses were fed by the fire, and that the fire would bring good fortune and prosperity to the family. The Yule Log is also a symbol of the ancient belief that the fire would drive away the evil spirits and protect the family from harm.

II. The sky is most often broken at midnight, which is the time of day when the sun is at its lowest point in the sky. The sky is also most often broken during the summer solstice, when the sun is at its highest point in the sky. The sky is most often broken at midnight because the sun is at its lowest point in the sky, and the sky is most often broken during the summer solstice because the sun is at its highest point in the sky.

III. The University of Virginia was founded in 1819 by Thomas Jefferson, the third President of the United States.

IV. The distinguished character who graduated from the University of Virginia and went on to become a famous war hero is Robert E. Lee, the Confederate general who led the Southern forces during the American Civil War. Lee was a graduate of the University of Virginia in 1832, and he went on to become a famous war hero during the Civil War.

V. The first normal schools established and admitted to the state university system were in Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana. These schools were established in the 1830s and were designed to provide a high-quality education for the nation's teachers.

VI. The name of the famous television show that features a man named John Adams and his wife Abigail is "The Adamses." The show was produced by the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) and aired from 1962 to 1963. The show was based on the true story of the Adams family, and it starred Henry Fonda as John Adams and Florence Eldridge as Abigail Adams.

VII. The "Feast of the Paschas" is a winter festival that takes place in Greece. The festival is celebrated in honor of the Virgin Mary, and it is a time of joy and celebration for Greeks around the world. The festival is celebrated with a special meal, called a "pascha," which includes traditional Greek dishes.

VIII. The "Horns of Plenty" are a symbol of abundance and prosperity. The horns are a symbol of the ancient belief that the gods and goddesses were fed by the earth, and that the earth would bring good fortune and prosperity to the family. The horns are also a symbol of the ancient belief that the earth would drive away the evil spirits and protect the family from harm.

IX. The "Farmers' Market" is a market that is held in a city or town to sell fresh produce, meats, and other foods that are grown locally. The market is a place where farmers and growers can sell their goods, and where consumers can buy fresh, healthy foods. The market is also a symbol of the ancient belief that the earth would bring good fortune and prosperity to the family, and that the earth would drive away the evil spirits and protect the family from harm.

Principles of Teaching in Secondary Education by Dr. Foster of the Department of Education is reviewed in the JournaU Educational Review which describes it as “by far the best attempt of this kind applied to the secondary school, this new type (of book on teaching) is more analytical, and deals much more with theories that are fundamental to all subjects.”

Gwendolyn Webster, A.B. 1920, is teaching in the high school at Vicksburg and is also in charge of the service high school library.

Mrs. Katherine B. Kiefer of Port Huron, President of the Michigan Branch of the Parent-Teachers Association, writes us as follows sending information and printed matter requested by the library. “Ypsilanti is quite unusual in its Parent-Teachers Associations (there are three) in that every president seems to be a father rather than a mother, and it seems as if they realize that fathers are also parents.”

YOUNG VIOLINIST TO MAKE DEBUT AT ANN ARBOR

Erkki Martini, the phenomenal young Galician violinist, who will be heard in the Choral Union Series a hall Auditorium, tonight, February 3, will offer an especially attractive program in the Hone. Concerto in D minor, Bruch—Allegro con spirito. Allegro con-emotion. Violin duet and Allegro—Paganini-Knebel, Hummel-Mozart, Romance Andante—Stravinsky, Cavatina—G. Del Piano. Yehu Creecy—Shawnaoi and Max Feis-—Paganini (Variations on G. Leit). She will be accompanied on the piano by Mr. Emmanuel Pahadini.

Impressive critics pronounce her the very greatest young violinist and add that more is that she is probably the greatest young violinist in the world. An ambitious young artist, Mr. Martini has shown a genius that has ever lived. A leading New York critic has described Mr. Martini as the "second greatest violinist in the New YorkAmerican. Stated after the concert was given in the Grand Hotel in New York, January 30, 1927, where she played the Concerto and the Concerto symphony orchestra under the baton of Arthur Rubinstein, that "this is probably the most remarkable young violinist that has ever lived.

Erkki Martini was born in Vienna of Italian extraction something like twenty years ago. Having the war she played many concerts in Central Europe. She was the first artist to tour America and Piqued after the Adagio, she was engaged for an American tour by F. C. Cogdill of the Metropolitan Opera. In the violinist of 1927, making her debut in Carnegie Hall on the latter member. Her triumph was a success. The New York Times, May 1, 1927, in their review wrote: "Her performance outstands as an outstanding event in every way.

WORK ON THE COLLEGE ANNUAL

For an early date. In other words, according to the established rule for the annual, the work should begin in July.

The head of best-selling is always extended to representations of organizations. We still have space left. In our campus activity column for those organizations which desire to be represented in this spread, there is a permanent record of the year's activities. Officials of these fine organizations which desire this representation should contact for more space at the office.
