COLLEGE OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY DATE

COMMENCEMENT WEEK MARKS SEVENTH BIRTHDAY OF M. S. N.

The seventh birthday of the Michigan State Normal College was most fittingly celebrated during the commencement week of last session. From the opening of the impressive burials of service on Sunday, June 15th, to the lovely "banquet" at the alumni banquet on Wednesday, June 18th, the college, upon whose children and smiled the hospitable hosts of a large volume has journeyed a long way well, has received the greetings of many, and is still moving steadily and hopefully toward an even more promising future.

On Monday her children spent a happy hour on the campus. The two-year-olds, the Life Certificate Class, held their last gathering in the early afternoon at the auditorium. After his meeting, the Ivy Procession, the centennial feature of commencement week, took place. The long column of students, led by the President, made its way from building to building, stirring the enthusiasm of the crowd. Those who contributed the tributes of music and speech were, as usual, of great interest and appeals to the heart. The large assembly at Peas Audition, Marynor Heath at the gymnasium, Providence Regal at the Trapeze Club, Carver Street Methodist Church, and Hazel Grider Field were other events upon which had fallen the honor of the principal opening ceremony for the main building. Here, too, the class of 1922, was presented by Wyckoff, the vice president of the Students' Council, and the President, Carpenter of the Sophomores.

AaurorA, COLLEGE ANNUAL OVERSOLD

The 1922 Aurora, although delayed by the recurrent summer heat, was suffered, Tuesday, June 20, for the graduation ceremonies. As the class of 1922 had been involved, the text is the same.

The organization had adopted the policy of "first come, first served," and in consequence many of the students were not able to secure seats at the cost of an initial payment were disappointed in the various clinics at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

This year's annual is dedicated to the Community, Mr. John McCann.

The Michigan Education Co., represented by Dr. Raiff, and Mr. J. B. Breakey, has an exhibition of educational material, and is in the corridor of the main building this week. This company has the privilege for all educational libraries of note and also sells library and school supplies of all kinds. The representatives of the company will be here for another week in order to give every summer school student an opportunity to supply his wants.

Professor Bowen of the Physical Education Department, is teaching this summer at the University of Southern California, located at Los Angeles.

MUSICAL CONCERT

FACULTY DELIGHT ABSENCE WITH VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSICALS

Those who were so fortunate as to be present at the conservatory in their appearances at Peas Audition Thursday were loud in their praises of the performance. The program was presented by the faculty of the department and consisted of a variety of selections, both instrumental and vocal. Miss Madge Quigley and Mr. Breakey, two young artists of more than ordinary ability, delighted the audience with their presence.

The program which was as follows:

1. Hymn: Ronda Cupicriones, Mendelssohn; Pasquale, Delinee, K. Beale, Zechiner; Requiem, Altdorfer; "Sketches." Solos for Banos Cantata: 1, Palaron (Vesper Sinfoniet), Verdi's Kaye Song; Irish Old Irish; The Acid Fisher; Old Scotch; The Hundred Pipers, Old Scotch; Mr. Carl Linder.

3. Sing for Contralto: O, don fatale (Mendelssohn) in English; My Little House, Sessa Pierer, Mr. Carl Linder; Grey 2.

4. Solos: Minuet (From Fantasia Op. 38), Schubert; Turkish March, Rubinstein; Waltz Op. 70, No. 19, Chopin; March, James Breakey.

5. A fragment is in the first of a series to be presented by the conservatory department.

The next entertainment of this nature will be presented by the music faculty.

The management was particularly fortunate in its selection of a staff of artists who have all been chosen. Although by no means perfect, this year's Aurora has been presented for the first time by the college, and the staff deserves great praise for their efforts.

See the next week's issue.

Methodist Men's Bird Club

CRANSTON, RI

Wednesday morning at the regular meeting of the church, Dr. Winship, the well-known lecturer and editor, was invited to the pulpit of the church. Dr. Winship is not a stranger here, having lectured before summer commencements in the last years. Each year he brings to us something new, interesting, and useful.

Dr. Winship spoke on the subject of his book, "Who Are You, Here?" and emphasized that the Christian does not come out here to learn how to teach school but to learn how to be learned. A teacher must learn to teach first from child and then from books. He must adapt his method of teaching to the requirements of the students.

Dr. Winship compared the growing child to a growing tree, dividing the growth into periods of unequal periods of three years each. The first period is that of the germinal period, in which the child exhibits characteristics of growth similar to its early stages. The second in the second the home-coming period, and the third the fruit-borning period. The fifth stage is the fourth, in which the development resembles the ripe fruit stage. The sixth period is the bearing period, and the seventh is the pruning period, the eighth the sowing period, and the ninth the harvesting period.

The speaker said that a Christian is to teach the child, like the fruit of the tree, goes out among others.

The home meeting is necessary today for the boy or girl who is in school or who has been in school. For many, it was thought that a common achievement was the greatest of the ideals and the fulfillment of the idea was accomplished for the girls in high school graduate now has the preference. In the evening Dr. Winship lectured again at the auditorium. At this time the speaker emphasized and uplifted the entire human race. The speaker said that the Christian does nothing more than a benefit to God, lifts the human race to a higher level of existence.

The enrollment of summer school students at the Ypsilanti Normal College this season is probably three times as large as the enrollment of last year. The last year's total enrollment for the summer sessions was 1546, while this year the total attendance had reached 6096, bringing the total enrollment to an all-time high. At this time the speaker emphasized the fact that God, the higher power, is the teacher, and we must strive to practice our faith in the field for this purpose.

A most cordial invitation is extended by the church to all the students to attend any or all of the services.

ATHLETIC NOTES

A tennis singles tournament for men will be held by the Physical Education this summer. Elimination contests will begin next week. All men are urged to sign up immediately for the tournament at the gymnasium office. The winner of the competition will receive a gold medal, the runner up a bronze one.

Harry Clark, Robert Peel and Ferdinand Blackwell have passed the tests for Sigma Delta Psi, the national honorary athletic fraternity, and are eligible for membership. Summer school students have the opportunity to try for admission to the fraternity during the summer term. Examination of candidates will be held at the close of the summer term.

Esther Buckeye, Harriet Gates, Caribell Bowen, Pearl Lancaster, Mary McNulty and Homer Ham have recently passed the American Red Cross Life Saving Test in swimming.

Prof. Olds is district examiner for the National School of Physical Education and will give summer school students the chance to secure the tests.

Increased attendance at the Normal College has made necessary the addition of five new tennis courts to those already in use. Prof. W. W. Adams is in charge of the courts during the summer term.

The new physical education bulletin is ready for the printer and will be out in a short time.

The summer school baseball candidates are practicing daily from three until five o'clock.

Bessie Beubier a Normal College student, was married recently to Cy Young at Lansing. Miss Beubier is a member of the Theta Lamba Sigma chapter, and while in college was on the Normal News staff. She has been teaching art in the Jackson public schools during the past year. Mr. Fox is a graduate of Kalamazoo College and is director of manual training in the Jackson schools.

Professor Port of the Chemistry Department is spending his vacation with his family at Crystal Lake, near Franklin, Mich.
