OORATICAL CONTEST
ALMA COLLEGE

All Contestants Present: Buc Lynch, Who Remains Here Because of Illness.

The twenty-fifth annual oratorical contest held at Alma College on Friday, March 3, Alma College, this year, saw the oratorical contestants try to make it an expected bit of a remarkable event. The only cloud in the heavens was that Miss Helen Ward, of Kalamazoo College, was ill, Miss Grace Hoogspier, of Allium College, and Miss Marjorie Collins, of Olivet College, third place, other tour representatives, Miss Florence Larson, ranked fifth. In the men's contest, first place was won by Mr. Harri Lusty, of Albion, second, by Mr. Winifred Burgardt, of Hope College, and third, by Mr. William Schier, of Kalamazoo. Mr. Lusty will represent colleges in the annual contest, to be held in Indianapolis on April 15. If successful there he will participate in the final contest, at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Both of Michigan will represent Kalamazoo College, April 15. If successful, will represent Michigan in the annual contest.

Big Zone Meeting at the Benne School.

The monthly meeting of the educational English-teaching teachers, convened at the school, was directed by Dr. Pittman's department Miss Hoogspier, assistant instructor in general community intercourse. Miss Hoogspier, in her address, declared that many general community activities are of interest to the girls as a whole, during the past month's work, and for outlining the creative process of the coming month and the general community interests. Each month all of the schools are united by the help of the teaching teachers, accompanied in the last place by her successor for the next year. Last Saturday 87 men, women and children crowded Miss Crippen's pleasant school house to capacity. Mr. Sevner, supervising teacher of the past month's work, conducted the demonstration lessons were given, the month's study of oral reading, two periods of spelling, based on the Buck guide. Miss Sevner will use the long neglected work with boys. Her efforts are to be enjoyed by all and the music-loving populace of Ypsilanti, will be invited to be present. The program is as follows:

1. Opening Exercises, conducted by her successor for the next year. Miss Crippen's pleasant school house.
2. Demonstration lessons were given, the month's study of oral reading, two periods of spelling, based on the Buck guide.
3. After some discussion, Mr. Sevner will use the long neglected work with boys. Her efforts are to be enjoyed by all.

Numerous Normal GYMNASIUM

PLAYERS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT, WEDNESDAY

Several of College Faculty in Cast, Making More Interesting.

The Ypsilanti Players will present a very interesting program to their audience at Pease Auditorium, Wednesday evening, March 15. Three one-act plays, each one alone worth the price of admission, will be given at this time. These plays have been given on several occasions before this time. The players' playhouse on Huron Street and at out-of-town engagements, several Normal College instructors will figure in the presentation of the plays, which will add interest to the entertainment. Several Normal College instructors will figure in the presentation of the plays, which will add interest to the performance. The Ypsilanti Players' talent is good, in every sense of the word. Don't fail to see the Wednesday evening at the auditorium. Miss Welden batted the tremendous strides being made in the long neglected work with boys.

In conclusion, Dr. Pittman said that this work had been going forward quietly for several months and today he had invited a few students from the outside. After calling on Mr. Essery, and the County Commissioners, Miss Frisch, from Saginaw, and one or two others, he signed his grand surprise in introducing Mrs. Katherine M. Cooke, the representative of the Rural Department of the United States Bureau of Education, who had come on the Chicago meeting expressly to see the work we are doing in Washtenaw County through the co-operation of the College and the rural schools.

A bountiful luncheon was served by Dr. Pittman's department the good fellowship of the day.

The afternoon session was in charge of Mr. Sevner, in charge of the good fellowship of the day.

TRAIL BLAZERS

The Trail Blazers met at the home of Prof. Hover Monday evening. After a short business session every- one joined in singing the Trail Blazer songs. The program con- sisted of talks relating to the one relation of agriculture with various topics of the curriculum. Most practical and interesting data for such a conversation were given by the speakers. A written quiz of agronomy proved a desirable and mouth-provoking feature of the evening. Prof. Hover made a few remarks concerning the program, and Dr. Fittman encouraged the members who were being done and told of the great future: preplanned for rural education in the area given at the meeting of the N. E. A.

LIBRARY

The Library has assisted Dr. Fittman with keen interest in his most comprehensive of rural teachers by... each monthly book for the study of the specific subject that each of the eleven teachers should have one book. Perhaps it was a reward of merit that a member of the Library Staff was invited last Saturday to the monthly meeting at the Bennett School, where many Trail Blazer and others were in attendance. The school is of the old type with an obstructive excursion, but the school room has been made cheerful and pleasant by Miss Gipper, one of our alums. One of the chief features was the library, a most nice case, with fine books.

Albert Hensley, a student assistant in the Library, has been awarded the Socie Scholarship, which carries with it $75.00 and insures his return fo next year.

OUR OWN BOOK SHELF.

Two contributions to the educational world during the past year are Concise Latin Grammar and Elements of Latin, both from the press of Professor Benjamin L. D'Ooge. The purpose of the former was to state in its preface in the following words: "to provide, in as concise form as possible, a Latin grammar which should be of equal service to the high school pupil and to the college undergraduate. To meet the needs of the former the fundamental and essential facts of the language have been stated as simply as possible..." At the same time the scope of the book is wide, to include all that is needed for the translation of authors usually studied in schools.

The Elements of Latin is a book for beginners in which the technical grammatical knowledge needed is so simply and concisely stated as to require of the pupil the minimum of time and effort for its mastery. Much reading with a minimum rather than a maximum vocabulary offers opportunity for much practical gain of vocabulary and forms, together with the fundamental principles of syntax, in the latter the logical development characteristic of all of Professor D'Ooge's work is an important factor. A significant feature of the book is the attention given to derivation and English related words. Not only do all special vocabularies contain lists of English words related to the Latin, but paragraphs dealing with derivations are frequently inserted in connection with other topics to which they can be readily related.

Other features which cannot be enumerated here add interest to the material used, so that the result is a beginning's book with all the essentials of such a book so arranged and so clothed that interest is sustained and aid in the mastery of these essentials.
