There are many stories going the rounds depicting the ability of the enemy to put his men into action, which was said to have been systematically done right down to the last man. There is an example of one. Reports have been circulated that the Kaiser's Empire of Germany, the strongest and most powerful of the nations, has been reduced to a mere sham, and that one or two of the leaders have been captured and that the men are not being given any chance to fight or die for the last time. These reports are false. It is not true that the men of Germany have been reduced to a mere sham. It is not true that the Kaiser's Empire of Germany has been reduced to a mere sham.
