EXCITING GAME

WITH DORWEST FIVE

Normals Come Within One Basket of an agreeable surprise before a big crowd of spectators in the gym Friday morning. The much-famed University of Detroit team. The local Normals led the Detroit team, but eventually lost by a small margin. Normal's playing was a genuine surprise to many, as they had not been expected to fare well. The line-ups:

THREE GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT

There are three games of basketball scheduled for tomorrow evening at Normal Hall. The Albion and Olivet contests will be followed by the Normal High vs. Ann Arbor High game, which is expected to be a very close match. Normal's playing was a surprise to many, as they had not been expected to fare well. Normal High's line-up:

Field baskets: Hanrohan, 1; McNamara, 2; Mills, 3; Newton, 4; Henry, 5. Baskets: Davis, 1; Mills, 2; Johnston, 3; Smith, 4; Wimble, 5. DATE FOR GIRLS' PARTY CHANGED

On account of the basketball game scheduled for tomorrow evening at Normal Hall, the girls' party will occur on the following evening instead. Misses Loomis and Clark will chaperone.

MEN'S MANAGERS

Three Nominees for General Manager and Each Prelim.

The Junior and Senior managers make nominations for managers for the men's meet. The fifteen highest were arranged by event, three nominees for each. The balloting on the names will be done Monday, and the names posted today, simultaneously with their appearance in the News. The men's meet differs from the girls in that they are not managers for each event, but only five in all—one general manager for the meet, and three managers for the four events of the preliminaries, shot, high jump, weightlifting and swimming. The nominations are:

Managers Elected; Largest Senior Enrollment Ever; But Junior-Awards are:

The result of the election for managers of the girls' meet makes Laura Stearns senior manager and Mary Byers junior manager. The Junior vote was heavier than the Senior's, but on the other hand the Senior vote was larger than in any previous year, which is a strong indication that this meet will be an exciting one. The tie in the choice of Senior manager, and the broken by the other managers' casting votes, is followed by the Seniors given first, then the Juniors.

THE GAS-JET

We're wager it's mighty seldom you hear a Normal fellow sign, "a-las!"

ON N. Y. WORLD STAFF

Normal Grad Wins National Reputa- tion as Editorial Writer

The American magazine for this month has a full-page portrait and an interesting write-up of Frank Irving Cobb, '09 chief editorial writer on the New York World. Mr. Cobb married Delta Bailey of the same class, a sister of Mrs. Kief of this city. The Ameri- can says:

"Seeking an infusion of new blood into the World's editorial page. Jose- phus Pulitzer, the proprietor, had his se- cretaries read him to the editorials of a dozen of the leading newspapers of the country for several weeks. The regular story-book sequel of this "finest-hand-tasting" by the great publisher was a call to Cobb to write the World's leaders and look after the page. The Pulitzer test of fitness in this case has been vindicated by the un- surpassable clarity, compactness, and variety of the World's treatment of events. No healthier, saner, or more unfettered thinking and nothing like the center-shot lucidity of style, are to be found in any other American journal. Cobb's grasp on political par- tisans and his elucidation of govern- ment by law as opposed to government by man are probably unmatched by any journalist of the present day. An example of his power as an advocate was the series of brilliant editorials exposing the nomination of Woodrow Wilson by the Democratic party as being an insult to the public."

Still a young man, still an om- nivorous reader and eager student and seasoned observer of men and events, Frank L. Cobb will achieve—you can- not tell his associates on the World that he has not already done so—an enduring place on the roster of the illustrious exponent of New York journalism, where, such great names as Godkin, Raynond, Greeley and Dana are enrolled.

W. H. Gordon, '09, is teaching at Downey, Cal., and also has charge of a night school in Los Angeles, of which Downey is a suburb.

Miss Harriet Culver, '02, who since graduating from the University of Michigan has been doing notable work on various Grand Rapids newspapers, has recently become editor of the wo- man's page of the Detroit Free Press.

Minstrel Show or Vaudville?

There is talk around the campus of dispensing with the customary minstrel show this year, and substituting a vaudville or musical comedy in its stead. The argument is that the last few shows have grown progressively thinner, and that the minstrel show does not offer enough range for students to display their talents. It is maintained that only the interlocutors and the end-men get into the game and fewer men should be given a chance, to take an active part in the program. Perhaps a bigger reason in favor of the change is the limits which the nature of a minstrel show places upon the program. The things which can be done in a minstrel show are pretty well fixed by custom, and it is thought that a vaudville or musical comedy might be a welcome change.

Of course the final decision on the program should be left to the Oratorio Board. This means that the Oratorio Board will have practically the say as to what is to be done.

We suggest that the men of the college start thinking about the matter now, and then tell some member of the Board what they want. Whatever may be decided upon, we surely do want a student production that shall worthily represent the student life of the school and demonstrate that Normal College has its lighter as well as its more serious side.

The authorities of Olivet have had to call in on the carpet certain local correspondents for the Detroit papers. Their crime consisted in spreading the "copy" that did not get within gunshot of the truth about the college. We could mention other "correspondents" who are occasionally subject to the grand jury, but we are too polite.

The Sunday News--Tihbuse contained an interesting bear-story about a monkey acting as mascot for the UI of D. basketball team on their visit to Ypsilanti Friday night. The story stated that the Normal co-eds went wild about him. The News has asked a number of the co-eds about the monkey, but they insist that they didn't notice any one monkey in particular.

The Hillsdale Collegian has discarded its magazine dress and appears in four-page newspaper form, the same size as the News, the Almanian and other distinguished contemporaries. It will be issued weekly hereafter in

Additional Campus Happenings

The Degree class met Tuesday evening and elected Iva Holmes of Wyandotte,虹, Aurora, representative. This learned group will distinguish themselves in the XIII Aurora by having their pictures taken in caps and gowns. The class will hold a social meeting Saturday evening-February 1.

A regular meeting of the college O. E. S. will be held at Starkweather Hall Monday evening at 7:30. There will be a pose program and refreshments. Every O. E. S. in college, whether frail or student, will be welcomed. H. L. GIBB, Worthy Patron.

Edward Bogart, secretary of the Junior class last fall, writes from Detroit that he has been cost accountant for the National Candy Co. for the past two months, but did not consider his eyesight sufficient to enter college this quarter.

The football men are wearing a pleasing smile in conjunction with an outer garment of knitted material, V-neck, and bearing a significant letter N. In other words, the sweaters awarded for football service came and made an early unsuccessful recitation in English III. The professor said, "Alas My Student, you are better fed than taught."

"That's right professor," sighed the young subauditing heavily, "you teach me—l feed myself."

A real joke was sprung by a student at M. A. C. last week. This student suffers from the stigma of obesity. It appears that even the professors do not think a fat man. After a particularly unsuccessful recitation in English III, the professor said, "Alas My Student, you are better fed than taught."

"That's right professor," sighed the young subauditing heavily, "you teach me—I feed myself."

A number of the men students have become interested in the meetings of the men's class at the Congregational church and attend quite regularly. Instead of meeting with the rest of the Sunday school in the morning, the class meets at six o'clock around a table in the basement. After tea, everyone settles back comfortably to listen to a discussion on some live religious topic, such as "Why Smith Doesn't Go to Church."

A majority of the members are on the faculty of the college, and it is extremely profitable and a little delightful to listen to one's professors take each other up in discussion. We understand that the meeting are open to all men.

ROF JEFFERSON IN "MOVEY"

Appears in Pathe Weekly to the Surprise of Himself and Audience

Normal students were surprised last Friday evening to see one of their professors appear in the motion pictures shown in Normal Hall. It would not ordinarily occur to anyone to expect a dignified professor to enter the new profession of acting for "movies."

The mystery is cleared up by understanding that the reel was a Pathe Weekly, and presented a view taken of the party of geographers which toured the United States last fall. The group showed the scientists leaving of Chancellor Kent of the University of Washington at Seattle, and there was instant applause when Professor Jefferson, a Professor of Geology, walked into sight with the others. Professor Jefferson was present in the hall and was as surprised as anyone to find himself an actor in a motion picture. He took down the number of the reel and sent it to the other members of the party that they may watch for it.

THE YOUNGSTERS ENTERTAINED

Last Friday afternoon, at 3:30, the school children of Ypsilanti were afforded an unusual treat in the form of a moving picture show in Normal Hall. The occasion was unusual in that the price of admission was only a copper penny and the entire program was one which most of the children could understand and appreciate. Some of the scenes, however, were too much for the very little people, and the teachers and assistants present were beseeched with questions galore, of course, had to be rather hardly answer. Occasionally the delighted high-pitched voice of some little girl could be heard above the rest. "Oh, isn't that beautiful!" And the inevitable answer would come back, "Yes, dear, it isn't, but that's the way it is supposed to be."

It is suggested that at future performances, and there are to be many more, we are told, the operator can be prevailed upon to run the printed explanations through a little more slowly, for the sake of the children who can read them. Possibly the operator took for granted that the audience was not equal to the occasion. But this was a great mistake. A little attention to this detail would add greatly to the enjoyment of the boys and girls.

LEGISLATORS MAKE CALL

Senate and House Committees Inspect Campus Friday

An acquaintance with the needs of the Normal College and a realization of its worthiness will certainly not be lacking in Lansing when the question of Normal appropriations comes up among the legislators.

Again visitors from Lansing have been conference with the president in the private office; again they have climbed the 141 steps of St. S. Normal Hall to 1144, urbanity to the students; again they have been feasted by the domestic science department in the training school building; again they have departed less to the little springs of hope and mystery to spring up in their aug 'most hopes.

Two members of the legislative party were Senators L. L. Kelly, Weidman and Straight from the senate committee, and Representatives McLauglan, Downey (brother of Miss Ethel Downey of the faculty), Griggs and Amburn of the legislative committee. They arrived, without much warning, Thursday night late, and spent Friday on the campus.
