CALVIN COLLEGE WANTS LUIDENS

The following dispatch from a Grand Rapids newspaper announce­ good news for a member of this year's graduating class:

"John E. Luidens, the Grand Rapids

One Week More of Real Work Before Commencement

The atmosphere on the campus is rapidly becoming charged with the spirit of Commencement, as the closing days of the school year draw near.
It seems difficult to realize that there is but one more week of real school.
Next week occur the final exams for those under the groups who have to have them, and the rounding up of the year's work is supposed to be accomplished by Friday night.
This means the departure of almost half the student body for their homes,—the only ones to remain being the Seniors, although this year there is an additional inducement for the Juniors to stick around in the impressive inigural exercises of President McKenny.

At the end of the program will be President McKenny in Normal Hall on Sunday evening. Monday is given to class day exercises. The Degrees will be conferred at ten in the year draw near.

Rynearson Pitches Fine Ball Against Teachers from the North

The Normals took an easy victory from their fellow teachers from Mt. Pleasant Saturday afternoon, the score being 6-3.

Coach Brown aorning a surprise on the visitors when he assigned Bell, whom the upstarters expected to face, to cover the initial sack, thus strengthening the infield, and put Rynearson, the freshman twirler "find" of the year and a strong slabbist especially in cold weather, in the box. He allowed the upstart sluggers but six scattered bunts and whiffed as many batters. In addition he rapped out a double and triple himself, and scored two runs.

The visitors earned but one run when in the eighth P. Davidson got a walk, took two stolen bases and scored on LaFrankie's third single of the day. Their first two tallies came on Ypsilanti's errors, on hard chances and LaFrankie's single.

The locals, with Grouse getting three, Bell two and Rynearson two hits, finally drove the visitors out of the box in the seventh, Raymond retiring him and allowing no more runs.

The visitors played good ball, their errors not figuring in the score, all of the locals' runs being the result of walks and clean hitting.

The game was the shortest of the season, lasting 60 minutes.

The Immediate Need in our Dancing

The Normal College News publishes an article discussing the impact of college dances and the need for student control over dance events. The article highlights the transition period in the movement, bringing marked dissatisfaction and unrest among the dance friends across the country.

The article mentions the decision to select a successor to the outgoing principal of schools at South Bend, who has been in great demand.

The article concludes with a statement on the need for student control over dance events and the importance of recognizing lower and higher ideals in choosing future leaders.

The Normal College News, a publication of the Michigan State Normal College, covers various topics including dance, student control, and public speaking.

The issue is published on Friday, June 14, 1908, during the college year. For subscriptions, the price is $1.00 per year, and the office is located in Main Building, Room 17.
JUNE “AMERICAN SCHOOLMASTER”

A Normal graduate furnishes the leading article in this month’s “American Schoolmaster,” Herbert G. Hull, ’98, now associate professor of education in the University of Washington, at Seattle. It is entitled, “Moral Instruction Through Social Intelligence,” and makes a most readable plea for greater stress on the study of present-day problems and institutions. He says, “If the state is to realize the moral idea, it is plain that we must have, a deeper and more extensive knowledge of present social affairs.” Professor Mark Jefferson gives a re-interpretation of the government’s school statistics regarding the distribution of schooling in the United States that sets right some misconceptions. Another view of the shortcomings of normal school graduates is given by Cliff W. Stone, professor of education in the state normal school at Farmville, Va.

TO BONE ALL SUMMER

Persival Blanhausen, of Detroit, the holder of the Cecil Rhodes scholarship for Michigan, will spend the entire summer in hard study, preparing himself for one of the two severe examinations which he must take while attending Oxford college, England. This is known as the moderation examination, and he hopes to prepare himself so that he will be able to take that examination about two months after entering Oxford. The second examination is known as the final honors examination. It lasts for 36 hours, and to pass it a man must know about all there is to know about the Greek and Roman languages and literature, besides many more things. Unlike American universities, much attention is paid to attendance at the lectures, to classes, everything depending on the final test.

TO MAKE YPSI PRETTIER

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, of Chicago, will be in Ypsilanti for the summer, playing golf and doing a little writing. Miss Elta Loamps will have charge of the physical training work at Central Normal summer school.

Dramatic Reading Contest

Seventeen students entered the preliminaries Tuesday evening in the dramatic reading contest. Of this number six were selected to enter the final. The six were the Misses Noble, Oakley, Mason, McDougall, Flashland and Mr. Ernest Miller. Miss Joanna Graham was named alternate. The judges were Miss Ella Wilson, Miss Myra Gallup and Principal Erickson. The final contest was held in Normal Hall last evening, in account of which we cannot give until next week.

Juniors Steal Game From Weary Seniors Monday Afternoon

In a game filled with thrills of every description the Junior, performed the unusual last Sunday afternoon by whirling the Seniors to the tune of 16 to 12. This victory over up the series, giving one game to each class. The fireworks started out very tamely, Ayres doing the firing for the Seniors and Norton again for the younger. About the third inning the proceedings came to an abrupt stop, the committee on bats and supplies having failed to test the bats sufficiently. As a result a Junior was so rude and uncivilized as to lean on the bat a little too hard and broke the only bat on the field. After a delay of about a half an hour another was procured and the game proceeded.

Well, time passed, and groups of grieving Seniors begged to leave for supper and — things began to happen. The wine were making a last desperate effort to rally their failing strength. With a new pitcher, Rhamhart, in the box they began to revive and the game passed the ninth inning with the score a tie, 9 to 9. In the first half the game was apparently saved away by the Seikers with three runs to the good. The first Junior whiffed, the second Junior whiffed, the third Junior—did you see Wally muff that hot one? Three runs across, two on bases and no pinch hitter, Vandy Bogurt at bat, did you see Wally muff that hot one? Two triumphant ones closed the plate and ran home to supper.

THE NORMAL COLLEGE NEWS

SEND LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Normal athletic men were greatly shocked to learn Tuesday that Orrin M. Madsen, Albion’s star athlete, was lying at death’s door as the result of being struck behind the ear by a base ball Monday. Madison was playing in a class game. He was on first base when the pitcher threw to catch him off the base, the ball striking him at the base of the brain. He was carried off the field unconscious, with little hope given for his recovery, although he was still alive Wednesday night. The following letter of condolence was sent by our track team.

Ypsilanti, Mich., June 11, 1913.

Coach Kennedy,

ANNA COMPTON RECITAL

A charming recital was the last of the graduating recitals of the Conservatory of Music, given in Normal Hall Tuesday evening by Miss Anna Rene Compton, contralto, assisted by Miss Florence Waterman, pianist. Miss Compton’s voice is not powerful, but wonderfully sweeet and pure, with an undertone of pathos that is very appealing. She sings with true feeling and intelligent expression. Her personality is most winning, her beautiful simplicity, modesty and poise being exceedingly attractive. She sang two pleasing French songs and two of Schumann’s favorite compositions, the “Nunsham” and the “Widmung,” with excellent interpretation, and gave two arias, her voice showing to especial advantage in the wistful, pathic “Farewell, ye Hills” of Schicklow­sky’s “Joan of Arc,” and disclosing its loveliest notes in the impuring “Agnus Dei,” of Hibel, with its elaborate ac­companiment of organ, piano and violin, played by Mr. Alexander, Messrs. Lowden and Owen. Mr. Alexander’s accompaniments were striking. Miss Waterman plays enjoyably always, and her numbers were varied—the Last transcription of Mendelssohn’s “On Wings of Song,” a “Czardas” by Mc­Dowell, the Chopin “Valse in A flat, op. 42”—and she was warmly re­called. Miss Compton received encores after each number and was over­whelmed with beautiful flowers.
