SENIOR GIRLS

What is perhaps the biggest event of the college year takes place in the gym tonight and tomorrow night, when the Senior and Junior girls hold their annual indoor meet. This contest is always the occasion for the most spirited display of class rivalry of the year, and it is expected that the talk of setting up a scrub debating team will be the least of their worries. What characterized the Juniors last year. The material was a substitute for the customary minstrel show has been under consideration for the past few weeks. The meet will be supervised by the Oratorical Board, and will take place in the gym tonight and tomorrow night. The Junior and Senior girls hope to have a better showing this year than on advertising the same. There is a delightful uncertainty surrounding what the dark-horse Juniors may be able to do. They expect a hard contest for several classes, but probably the exact reverse will be true. This year, as in the past, the Senior girls are not to admit the Junior girls to the meet. It is expected that there will be a very good showing of students and that advertising the same will be permitted to take a draw from the box. No more than two tickets will be issued for each person.

The program for tonight:
- Dart Semi-Finals
- Class Folk-dancing
- Walking Relay
- Pony Marching
- Basketball
- Four Miles
- Field Team: Newcomb.
- Traveling Rings
- Tennis
- Emperor Ball
- Debate with the aforesaid Laws at the University for the girls of the school to get busy for the contest and not to be deterred by the hard work of the day.

The contest is worth while from a financial standpoint, there being a first prize of the gift of R. K. Las~ing automobile maker. The second prize is 16. Prof. B. P. McKay is treasurer of the League, which has been organized five or six years.

The task of getting up a scrub debating society was re-organized by Professor Olds, the acting director in which normal students and instructors, and is the only course offered in the college dealing directly with the subject of education, and is the only course offered in the new course on Climatology, Geography department, term 10-11.

Appendix—A little money on the side.

"Dose Resa powder?"
"Powder? Why, to kiss her is like eating a marshmallow."

"Had any accident on this road lately?"
D. U. A. Agent: "Three cars on time Tuesday.

You can never be sure of winning the ring of matrimony until you reach the last lap.

There was an awkward break in the conversation as she dropped the subject.

Do You Get This?
"Fine night!" he said, glancing at the heavens.
"No, you mean, infinite," she corrected.

"Hello, Bill, who are you?"
I'm the guy that put clever in Cleveringa.

What I Paid For
"But doctor," the unfortunate student protested, "You don't mean to ask for merely taking a under out of my eye do you?"
"De coo," responded the ophthamologist, "My charge is for removing a foreign substance from the cornea."

A Dream of Heaven
At the gate.
"Peter, how long is a minute here?"
"Oh, about a thousand years.

"And how much is a cent?"
"Oh, about a million dollars."

"Send me a cent," begged the dreamer, knowing that in his waking moments he was dead broke.
"I will," replied St. Peter, "In a minute."

Mr. Burton entertained the managers for the girls' meet and the teachers of the physical education department Monday evening.

The Quadrangle Club was entertained last Friday evening by Agnes Allen at 304 Ellis street. The guests appeared costumed as children and were very successful in acting their parts.

The Lincoln club officers for the spring term are: President, Glen Lockwood; vice-president, John McNamara; secretary, Mr. English; treasurer, Reuben Boyne; reporter, Lu Willison; yellemaster, Roland Welch.

The News was in error last week in stating that the class of 1906 had left a memorial to the college in the form of a handsome addition to the students loan fund. It was the class of 1908 instead.

Bobby Bishop says that if we mention about his staying over Sunday at Adrian in this yellow, soulless sheet, it will be something doing. Well, we won't be saying a thing about it; so cheer up, Bobby.

The 1913 year book and the summer school catalog will appear the middle of April.

William Reyer, who is studying in Berlin under J. Cortland Cooper, writes that he has been engaged as solo tenor in the English chapel of St. George of Berlin, and also as soloist in Walther's "Crucifix" to be given Holy week.

The degrees will discuss swing-out and this day exercises at their next meeting, which is called for Tuesday, March 24, at 4 p.m. in room 49. Those who have ordered class pins should immediately get them from the horizon. Light refreshments were served and all members of the club are well agreed that the Boyle Club people make excellent entertainers.

The Lincoln have chosen Messrs. Gretinger, Wilgen, and Hendershot to represent them in the debate with the Webster tomorrow morning when the three best men will be selected to compose the first college team in the triangular series with Alma and M. A. C. The Websters who will oppose them are Messrs. Ludden, Wood, and Goody. The Lincoln team obtained an unusual practice Saturday morning when three girls from Professor McKay's class in debating took the platform with them; Misses Callaghan, Burke and Graham. After considerable hesitation the judges declared in favor of the men.

The list of those who came out from Detroit last Friday night on the special car "Yolande" to hear Miss Georgie Richardson's piano recital in Normal Hall is:

Mr. and Mrs. George Hargreaves, Mr. and Mrs. Friman Lovel; and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Reiter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Redenheimer, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Lapian, Mmes. Abraham, Elizabeth Proto, Walter Fritz, Petithines and Stilwagen, Misses Deans Richard, Clare Fritz, Prannie Hargreaves, Belle Apel, Harris, Gertrude Proctor, Lillian Daily, Messrs. Samuel McCracken, James Culman, James L. Hibbard, Charles Hargreaves, Dr. W. J. Fenner and Robert J. Barkeville.

Members of the Detroit club enjoyed a Saint Patrick's social given at Starkweather Hall Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in pleasant story telling. Dr. Harvey's clever and humorous rendering of several stories was the most enjoyable part of the evening.

Normal students who spent the week-end out of town: Arah Farrell at Detroit, Gladys Poole and Lyra Tucker at Birmingham, Gladys Lee at Milford, Dorothy Mudge at Leslie, Florence Crawford and Viola Hanna at Birmingham, Effie Sutherland and Elizabeth Symmeth at Detroit.

The editor's heart was gladdened by three distinct signs of spring Tuesday. First he heard a Robin chirping; secondly, he beheld two co-eds studying aloud on the part of the campus which used to be green grass; and thirdly, Mr. Gibson, the efficient janitor on the first floor of the main building, brought in a genuine dandelion.

We can't guess what the signs may be when this is being read, but it looked like spring Tuesday sure as fate.

The Boyley Club members of the Charlevoix-Antrim Club entertained the club at 604 Ballard last Friday evening. A series of games and "stunts" were performed, which, if not highly scientific, will linger in the memories of those present long after more intellectual activities have faded from the horizon.

The 1913 year book and the summer school catalog are now in the press.

The year book will be ready for distribution within a couple of weeks, and the summer school catalog will appear the middle of April.

The pianist recital by Miss Georgia Richardson, who has recently returned from study in Paris which formed the sixth concert in the Normal course, introduced Thursday evening a young pianist who gives promise of large attainments. Miss Richardson played a tremendous program with a technique truly amazing and showed unusual talent developed by years of hard study. She has not yet, however, outgrown her consciousness of the technical side of her playing and there was in some numbers a lack of spontaneity, notably in the group by Mozart and Beethoven that opened her program and proved entirely outside her métier.

In the Chopin and Liszt compositions she played with more freedom and interpretative power than before the larger audience and giving a memorable interpretation of the Liszt “Rhapsodie No. 19.” She played with greater freedom and feeling than before the larger audience and the hour was thoroughly enjoyed by those privileged to be present. It is very evident that Miss Richardson has a brilliant career before her. A large party of friends came out from Detroit for her concert. It will interest Ypsilantians to know that the young artist was formerly a pupil of Mrs. Belle Beardsley Mettawagen, who was for some time a member of the Normal Conservatory faculty.

On Friday morning Miss Richardson gave a delightful impromptu program at the Conservatory, playing some of the modern music of France and Spain, several of the Chopin “Etudes,” and giving a memorable interpretation of the Liszt “Rhapsodie No. 19.” She played with greater freedom and feeling than before the larger audience and the hour was thoroughly enjoyed by those privileged to be present. CONTEST A CLOSE ONE
State Oratorical Contest at Adrian Closer Than Ever Before
North College fared about as usual in the intercollegiate oratorical contest at Adrian last Friday. Max Harris won seventh place in the men's contest and Ora McKim fourth in the women's. It is very much to Mr. Harriss's credit that the winners of fifth, sixth and seventh places were only two points apart in the Judges' scoring. Mr. Harris attracted much attention by reason of his fine delivery, many rating him above any other contestant in that respect, but it was in thought and construction that he fell below the others. At that, both contests were much closer than usual and the band of 45 rooters who went over to Adrian felt that both Mr. Harriss and Miss McKim ably represented the college. It must be remembered that Vpsl was the only two-year in-istitution among the nine colleges that competed, and in oratory this makes an important handicap.

The Sunday News-Tribune had the following account of the contest:
"Oliver college, Friday night, by the decision of the judges of the state intercollegiate oratorical contest, took one big step forward, and now stands as a factor of national interest, as the representative of Michigan in the coming interstate contest. "The Equili-rium of Political Principles" was the subject and Willis B. Perkins, the orator, ably won from the eight competitors the honor of the state, after Al-bon came in third on 'The Demand of Efficiency.' The interstate contest will be held at Worcester university, Worcester, Ohio, May 16.

Judges at the men's contest were:
Sup't. Vanden Berg, Grand Haven;
Judge Henry Jewell, Grand Rapids;
Charles M. Wilson, Grand Rapids;
Charles H. Kavanagh, Berrien Springs.

A bidon won first place in the Women's contest on essays, and by the efforts of a freshman student, at that. Miss Ethel L. Bigdell, Albion's essayist delivered 'The Tragedy of the Low Wage.' Hope stood second place and Kalama third. Judges in this contest were: Prof. J. B. Edmonson, Jackson, Capt. E. C. Warriner, Bay
City; Prof. Mitchell, Bay City; C. A.
H. Rome, Coldwater.

It was announced, in giving the decision, that the closest marking in the history of the state organization was necessary to arrive at a decision.
This clos discrimination was made in both contests.

Hillisdale's special train brought over 100 from that college. Albion furnished 125 rooters, including President Dickie. Vpsl students numbered 35. Other colleges brought a number of visitors up to nearly 400.

The contest next year will be held in Albion."

Among those who accompanied the judges were: Perry Franier, Edith Bickett, Claude parrowcliff, Ruby
Barker, Edna Oatley, Louis Burtis,
White, Miss Rosenthal, the Misses Vier, Robert Bishop, George Willard, Vera Slocum, Lucille McCluskey, Beatrice LaMere, Tecla Anderson, Mrs.
Storrey, Arthur Cable, Roy Norton,
Alice Flanigan, Ilah Gofford, Hazel
Maan, Jeanne Bennett, Miss Smith, John Pears, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Hansnus, Professors Lathe and McKay.

Miss Faye Allen who is coaching
on repertory with Professor Alexander,
will give a song recital today in Albion at the home of Mrs. J. M. Robinson.

THE NORMAL COLLEGE NEWS

ALL THE SENIORS
Men's Meet Goes to Upper Classmen
by Score of 697-577
The men's meet Friday evening in the gym was a pleasant affair, entirely striped of anything suggesting that it was a contest to the death between the Juniors and Seniors. In the preliminaries the day before, the Seniors won by the score of 830 to 551. In the finals they were still more decidedly victorious, the result standing at 697
to 577.

The preliminaries by events were as follows: Lift, J. 146, S. 209, Shot 2-99, J, 163, S, 220, 30 Yard Dash: J, 103, S, 104. These events were fig-ered on the basis of effect. Frank's orchestra of Detroit furnished excellent music while the banquet was being served.

Miss Ellison Straayer, the patroness,
presented and introduced Lucille Mc-Cluskey as toastmaster, who called on Beatrice La Mere, Alice Flanigan, and Miss Campbell for toasts.

The initiates were: Irene Herbison,
Lansing; Katherine Schnerk, New
Baltimore; J. Inez Black, Detroit;
Irene Clement, Ironwood; Edna Bli-ser and Harriette Souquet, Blissfield and Miss Margaret Campbell of the facyulty.

ARM OF HONOR

The Arm of Honor Fraternity held its semi-annual initiation Saturday, March 5, followed in the evening by a dinner at the home of Dr. D'Ooge.
Speeches were given by Dr. D'Ooge, Prof. Norris, Prof. Pearce, Prof. Everett and Herbert Moore. A dance was held at the Maccabee Hall followed.
The society was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. George Handy. Good music was furnished by the orchestra, the feature being a duet by Messrs. Becker and Parsons. The initiates were:
Andrew Chalmers, Toledo, Ohio;
John Luidens, chaptered by Miss
Huts, Professors Lathe and McCay.

Miss Paige Allen who is coaching
on repertory with Professor Alexander,
will give a song recital today in Albi-
on at the home of Mrs. J. M. Robins-
on.

In spite of the continued high prices of poultry and eggs, our stock of both is of these is not only large but fresh and the prices as low as they have ever been at this season of the year. We also have on exhibition some fine White Rabbits. Stop and see these tiny creatures eating their National Food.
Among our exhibits this year we have a whole flock of Dwarf Japanese Chickens, "too cute for anything" and some Easter Baskets that the big as well as little folks must admire and also buy.
