APPROPRIATION BILL PASSES BOTH HOUSES
Gov. Ferris Sure to Sign It: Construction Program Involving $700,000 to Be Begun at Once

The passing of the appropriation bill for the Michigan State Normal college the House and Senate last week practically assures the school of a sum of money for building and repairing reconstruction work that is an increase over appropriations of the past ten years by many hundred per cent. Although the governor has not yet signed the bill; he is almost certain to do so.

In the last ten years, the Normal has expended just $42,000 for new buildings and repairs. In that decade, the appropriation bill has increased 350%. The only provisions to accommodate this growing attendance have been a small increase in Training school and class rooms. Under the provisions of the bill recently passed, the Normal will be benefited to the extent of over $700,000.

The bill provides for certain sums and the use to which each is to be put. $350,000 is appropriated for current expenses, to be paid in two payments of $150,000 each. It specifies $15,000 for general repairing; and the remainder of the total sum, amounting to $360,000, is for building and improving the buildings now in use.

Many Buildings Planned
An auditorium and conservatory costing $50,000 is to be built at once and will be finished and ready for use as it is now planned, some time during the present school year. A men's gymnasium, at $35,000, will also be erected at once. It has been ordered that when the other buildings arranged for in the bill will be started. It is decided that the building, be erected on the site of the present one, which has been found too small for its purpose.

The second item of importance is the addition to the Training school; a domestic science building, a cottage to be used for a school infirmary; a lighting plant; and enlargements and improvements in the plant house.

Legislative Favors Bill
President McKenny says that the bill owes its passing to a legislature that was morally pledged to the care of state institutions after the inattention of those of the past years, and to the broad and progressive spirit of the committee of the House and Senate with regard to matters pertaining to educational and educational institutions. The bill passed with only one dissenting vote in the house, and unanimously in the senate. He expresses no fear that Gov. Ferris, who as a school man himself, and well acquainted with the needs of such institutions, and interested in state welfare, will veto the bill. The sub-committee appointed for the bill was a fortunate one, composed of Reps. Jerome, of Detroit, and Morgan, of the Upper Peninsula. It is due in great part, also, to the efforts of Senator McGregor and Rep. McLeachlan, of Washtenaw county, that the bill was passed. To Senator Kelly, chairman of the senate committee on Normal college, belongs the credit of fathering the plan of reconstructing the main building wing by wing.

CHOIR CONCERT A DELIGHTFUL EVENT
Normal Singers Give Program of New and Old Masterpieces; Mrs. Gray and Miss Crossette Aid

Per half a century the Normal Choir has had a national reputation as the best choir of its size in the middle west, a joy to every collected soloist and orchestra. The choir has increased, and is more than ever entered with it, and these have been many. Certain it is that the music concerts by artists of worldwide fame are given in Ypsilanti, and these have been quite a few, there is an intimacy between audience and conductor that stimulates to the best possible interest on the part of the music. To begin with, the audience has the happy certainty that the music chosen will be distinctive always, beautiful, true qualities of and the delightful quality of art. There is often the newest outgoing of a modern master, and occasionally one of the immortal old choral favorites. The choir feels the confidence in the scholarly readings, the artistry that is so characteristic of these bless-eds, and a Normal choir that willusually a genuine and well-grounded love-team.

Mr. Alexander is an excellent program maker, and there is an expression and variety in the concert given by his choir in Normal Hall, Tuesday evening. It is, as usual, a brilliant course. The chorus of men's voices is one year made up of excellent young voices, and in the first number, the lofty, deeply religious "Kylie of Bex," this group of singers with remarkable volume and sympathetic tone quality. Their delightful work is shown later in the wild rush of Von Weber's lusty battle song of the "Lion," "warrior," the gay "Hunter's Farewell" of Mendelssohn and the tender pathos of that charming old song, "Dear to the Farewell." The "Lut­ter" number and the folk-song had to be repeated to satisfy the appreciative audience. There were two, noteworthy numbers given by the chorus of women voices, Berger's felicitous trans­position of the haunting tenderness and inexpressible longing of a "Sierra Evening," and Barney's immortal "Meditation," that go to the heart. The double choir of mixed voices was also varied in style. Gräfin 's lovely prayer to "Mary, Star of the Sea" was given with reverent fervor, and Colé's charming arrangement of the English classic, "Drink to me only with thine eyes" was rendered with fine shading and beautiful expression. Then came the lively quaint old English catch, "Cherry Ripe," set to modern words by the composer with this composer's characteristic intimacy and charm. The vocal quartet for which the quartet was sung by Mls. Milsapnagh, Mrs. Gray, Mooney, James and Pettit, Johnson and Conklin was a great success and the whole number had to be repeated. The last of the numbers

DEBATING TEAMS
March and April saw our teams as state delegate for the Normal Ora torical Association. His speaking is in a fine combination of searching anal-sis and direct delivery. He will make the rebuttal speech for his team.
Mr. Johnson secures a place upon the teams as a result of two years of persistent club work. To him has been assigned the difficult task of interpreting the question for the negative.
Mr. Staley is a product of Ferry Institute and has been an enthusiastic Websterite this year. He can be counted upon to "make good" as the closing constructive speaker for the negative.
This year for the first time the debaters and orators are to be rewarded in a manner behooving their splendid work. Handsome gold medals de-nosed by Miss Goodson of the Art Department and executed by Wright Kay and Co., of Detroit, were received last week by the Oratorical Board and will be presented at a public meeting in May.

CHOIR CONCERT
for mixed voices was Mendelssohn's impassioned motto, "Judge me, O God," and its devoting prayer and its transition into peace and hope. This was though the last of the program, was so appealing that the audience insisted on its repetition. All the numbers were unaccompanied and showed therefore the remarkable quality of the chorus singing.
The solo artists were Mrs. Anna D. Gray, contralto, and Miss Frances M.
Chrestien, pianist of the faculty of the Conservatory. Mrs. Gray's lovely voice, with its liquid, deep notes, its radiant, colorful higher tones, and its appealing quality, seems especially suited to Gounod's music, and the superbly rendered the proud yet desperate prayer, "My Soul, etc."
Miss Crossette plays always with brilliant technique and abundant temperament, but her selections were unusually happy Tuesday night. Her singing tone, her luminous phrasing, the clarity and authority of her playing were especially in evidence. The sings "Laisse-moi dorner" of McDowell told its own tale through her stiltful fingers, and the dreamy atmosphere of the Dubois "Poem" and the glowing, glittering, fascinating quality of the Chopin "Valse in A flat" were reproduced vividly.
One of the happy incidents of the evening was the presentation to Mr.
Alexander by the choir of a great artful of magnificent American Beauty roses.

PROF. ROTH LECTURES
The Scientific Society held a very interesting meeting Monday evening.
A lecture was given by Filbert Roth, Head of the Department of Forestry in the University of Michigan. The subject of Professor Roth's lecture was "Forestry Problems in Central Europe." The lecture was illustrated by some fine views which Professor Roth had taken during his travels in Europe. He said: "Forestry was born in Central Europe. The period during 900-1300 represents the great age of clearing land for the purpose of agriculture. Much of the clearing was done by hand and was encouraged by the authorities. Forestry was started during the time of Charlemagne. By 1500 the most of the forests of central Europe were cleared. The people became addicted to their wood supply, and the clearing of forests was stopped.

were employed. It is remarkable that the people of America have not profited by the experience of the Europeans in that they are now going through the same stages in the development of their forestry problems that the Europeans did several hundred years ago." The evening was much enlivened by the blowing out of a fuse which extended the lecture.

Mr. Elliott will address the men Sunday afternoon on the topic, "The Main Question."

The classes in social service are progressing nicely and we invite any-ones who has not yet been out to join us in this interesting work.

Next Sunday at 4:45 Sup't. Arbaugh of the city schools will speak at Starkweather on the "Grace of Good Speech." This promises to be interesting and every girl is urged to attend.

Next Wednesday there will be a spiritualistic lecture on Genesis by Miss Calhoun, a retired teacher who is teaching in the school of Calhoun.
Miss Pearson, the field secretary for the schools and college of the central district, which includes Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin, has been giving a series of talks which have been very helpful. Thursday evening at the training school chapel she spoke on the topic: "Your Religion is Scoundrel-Hand, or Real?" In this talk she brought out the idea that religion is a matter of the will and is not involuntary or reflex. Friday night at Normal High she continued with the thought of the day before, her topic being: "The Radiant Life;" showing that religion is not only a matter of the will, but the will plus life. Saturday night, while dwelling upon the thought of life, she spoke of some of the practical problems involved in living, and on Sunday was the climax of the series when she spoke on "The Reality of Service in Life."
This series was so arranged so that each topic logically followed the other, and each talk was complete in itself.

Normal Arthur, '19, came out from Detroit to attend the Sigma Nu and Zeta Tau parties this week. Miss Maltz, of the Detroit Pub- lic Library visited the College library on Friday, the guest of Miss Walton. The Pi Kappa Sigma sorority gives a reception to the faculty tomorrow from three to four at the home of Miss M. B. Putnam. Carl Wirth, '18 of Ypsilanti now attending Ann Arbor has been elected a member of the honor scientific fraternity Sigma Xi.

The Washita County Club will give its annual party tomorrow evening in the gymnasium. Plieffer's orchestra will furnish the music. The Washita County Club meets Friday evening at the home of Miss Edison Pifer. A business meeting was held, and after that a social time was enjoyed.

Stanley Osburn, who left school last quarter on account of illness, expects to leave for a drier climate. He will start for Seattle, Washington, next Tuesday.

Five of the Normal high boys will enter the inter-scholastic meet at Adrian tomorrow. They are Ola German, Woods, R. Jameson and J. Jameson.

Dean Grace Pifer will have charge of the domestic science section of the meeting, and Miss C. T. Steinle and manual training teachers at DePauw next week.

Mr. Editor's ideal woman—should have the voice of Melba, the figure of Venus, the charm of Cleopatra, the constancy of Caesar's wife, the purse of Hetty Green and hair of her own.

The Chicago Alumni Association of the University of Michigan have succeeded in arranging for two performances of the Michigan Union opera, "Contrarie Mary," in Chicago May 24th.

The Halycon Club gave a party for their new members, Laney White, Anika Pillow, and Hazel Gramp, at the Country Club Saturday evening. Miss MacKenzie, the patroness, and C. P. Steinle chaperoned the occasion.

There will be five reels of very interesting pictures shown today in Normal hall at 3:30 and 8 p.m. They are the pictures stolen by an expedition to Alaska and Siberia in the fall of 1911, by the Carnegie Museum of Edinburgh.

The Juniors hold their annual hop in the Masonic Temple tonight. The music will be furnished by Plieffer's six-piece orchestra and there will be a program added in addition. Admission will be by membership card. 287 Juniors have paid their dues and taken out cards. The annual June exhibition of the physical training department will feature an arrangement of an interesting character. The exhibition is to be out-doors this year, the plan being to put up a canvas, on the football field and light it with electricity, thus in surmounting a pleasing change from the usual indoor event.

A propos to the M. A. C. and Alumni debaters to be held next week, it may be said that plans are nearly completed for a strong quadrangular debating league of Normal schools and colleges. There is at present a debating league comprising the Illinois and Indiana Normal schools and the William state Normal at Oak Park. The idea is to join our own Normal with these schools and make the league a four-sided one, and steps are being taken to this end.

The annual track meet and baseball game with Albion takes place Saturday, May 30th, in Ypsilanti. The new order track will be ready to be initiated by then, and everything points to a banner meet. The MacMullins tell us to us in the lido meet here unit form, but they usually place the title on the outdoor work, and may be counted upon to try to hand us a lemon as they did last year. A good aggregation of the faithful are training every day in preparation to hold Normal's end of it and propose to show the visitors a thing or two when the two teams meet in action.

According to an ancient custom the Websters and Lincoln's home have, with the advent of Spring, torn down the platform and the dry能否 delete of the latter and taken up the hatchet with the dire intention of scaling each other. The challenge to combat was sent by the Lincolns and promptly accepted by the Websters. The captains of the opposing forces ask that all combatants up on their given bind their wings, or in other words, prepare for the fray. The contest will be staged as soon as a battle field can be found large enough to prevent a hairball from rolling away into oblivion.

The Civic League program for next Monday evening at 7:30 in Star theater is under Miss Downing's direction. At that time a brief report on the papers and libraries of the city will be given. It will be followed by a simple dramatization by M. A. C. and A. C. boards. The cast: David, Hard, Anna Dangherly, Margaret Van Wyck, Elise Chamberlin, and Olive Vomastatic representing an ideal library. This will set forth some of the simple facts of library life in small towns.

The program lasts only one hour, but at the end of which time circulars sent out by the state will be distributed.

They deal with the care and management of small libraries. Everyone is welcome.

MAY DAY PROGRAM

May Day—the Green occurs Tuesday, May 15, weather permitting, in the amphitheater back of Proxy's residence. The program is most interesting, and will include the following numbers: March with floral arches and May-baskets; drill with floral poles; drill with floral hoops; Swedish and Japanese folk-dances, shepherd dance of the millennials, highland plaid and gypsy dance, all in costume; floral club swinging, and the grand finale, the winding of the May poles. There will be five poles this year, one in the center and in each corner. No one who has ever seen these beautiful dr Isles and dances against the background of the hilly landscape will want to miss this year's program.

A New Era for M. S. N. C.

Normal students and alumni should feel elated over the passage of the appropriation bill through the legislature and the near-certainty of its signing by the governor. The program of growth made possible by the passage of this bill is nothing short of magnificent. A new auditorium and conservatory, a new men's gym, the old main building torn down and replaced by a modern structure, a domestic science building, a lighting plant, and enlargements to several other buildings—all this will be realized, is not a dreamer's vision, but a certain reality of the near future. Architects' plans of the more important new structures have already been drawn up and in a short time will begin the work of changing the face of the campus to an extent that will amaze the old grads. We have had these projects held before us so long that it hardly seems possible that at last they are mere prospects of hopeful hearts, but actualities soon to be visibly realized.

To President McKenny will naturally fall the lion's share of the credit for having achieved this stupendous program. It surely makes a brilliant beginning for the new administration. Normal students will feel, also, (despite that gentleman's earnest denial that any of the credit should be his) that the new era opening before us must be largely due to the President's grasp of the institution's needs, both immediate and future, his largeness of plan and his ability to approach legislators in a sincere and convincing manner. To these abilities of the President's there should be added, as he is quick to point out, the aiding factors of sympathetic legislators and governor. President McKenny states as his sincere conviction that at no previous time in the history of the college has there been a combination of advantageous conditions and President McKenny's personal abilities, has resulted in an epoch-making event for Normal. Whatever the process, the triumphant conclusion is before us, and remains only to be made visible by carpenter and mason.

Whatever may be the status of scholarship among the university Greek letter societies, friends of the Normal may find comfort in knowing that our own societies are beyond reproach. Figures are not available for the winter quarter, but those for the fall show that the standings of the Greek letter society students average slightly higher than the average for the rest of the school. RUTH SOCVILL IN RECITAL

The first of the Conservatory graduating recitals will occur next week Thursday, May 5, at 8 p.m., when Miss Ruth Scovill will give a program of organ music, assisted by Mrs. Anna D. Gray, contralto. The recital is open to the public without admission fee. All interested in organ music are cordially invited to attend. The program is as follows:

1. Toccata in F. J. S. Bach
2. Sonata No. IV Gounod
   Andante Menuetto
4. a. Impromptu Leschetizky
   b. Cantabile Salieri
6. Magnificat In D minor Lemenigre
   Allegro: Moderato

HAVE THEIR EYES OPENED

With much enthusiasm and anticipation of a good time, the Chemical Club, twenty-four strong, left for their annual visit to the industrial plants of Detroit last Friday at 7:30 a.m. They were accompanied by their patron, Prof. E. W. Post, Miss Meta Daniel chairpersoning the ladies. W. S. Tomsich, licentiate, cook, with much foresight and intuitive knowledge of the ways of humanity, provided the club with a very tempting lunch on the car.

Arriving in Detroit the club first visited the Morgan & Wright Tire company, where they saw the complete process of making automobile tires.

Surprising indeed was the course of the rubber from the crude state until it emerged as a full-fledged tire.

From here the club went to the Detroit Creamery. Here, where the sanitary conditions were perfect, they saw the artificial ice plant and cream machines and were finally treated to a very tempting dish of ice cream.

Dinner was next in order. This they secured at Newcomb-Dodson's dining room. Everything passed very nicely, there being no serious breaches of etiquette. Afterward they were coached beforehand not to drink from the fudge bowl.

Peter Smith's new grocery store received the club at 1:30 p.m., where our patron showed his colors by refusing artificially colored gelatine food for him.

Most interesting of all was the final visit to the Mallable Iron Works. Time and space will not permit a full account of the wonders of this place. It was wonderful to see men rushing hither and thither, carrying ladles of boiling molten metal. Smoke and sparks played around the visitors until it all seemed unreal, a vision of another world.

Tired but happy, most of the members returned to Ypsi on the 6 o'clock train expressing much joy over the interesting and instructive revelations of the day.

BLANSHARD WINS AGAIN

Paul Blanshard, of the University of Michigan, won the interstate Peace contest at Goshen, Ind., April 25.

The contest was extremely close, and the decision was in doubt until the final report came in.

Roy R. Weaver, of Carroll College, representing the state of Wisconsin, took second honors. Blanshard acquitted himself admirably, although unfortunately he had to speak first. He delivered his oration, "The Evolution of Patriotism," while a puffing engine and noisy train was just outside the hall. This is the location that the Ypsi Locals claim is now the place in the state contest held here last March, and which Ypsi students admired so much.

FRATS PROBED

Ann Arbor Societies Given Time Limit to Improve

The fraternities, sororities and house clubs of the University of Michigan have been given until March, 1915, to justify their existence. If at the expiration of that time they shall have failed to do so, either they will be taken under the control of the university senate, and lose their self-government, or else they will cease to exist in the university.

This is the ultimatum given them by the university senate, after listening to a report, based on rigid examinations of every group of students in every university by a committee appointed by the university senate, and composed of Profs. Alfred Lloyd, A. G. Hall, Charles Thilen and Joseph Hursley.

Low scholarship among the Greek letter student has been deplored for a long time past, and this, together with reports of irregularities in house parties, customs of fraternities and sororities and rushing and pledging; the great number of social activities; the serious financial loss of credits to be earned during this time; and the effect of all this on the average scholarship of each student, shows the following scholastic standings of fraternities, sororities, house clubs, athletes and the independent and unclubbed students, as follows:

VICTORY NO. 2
Adrian Taken Into Camp in Drizzling Rain, II-1

Ypsilanti's promotor of the national truce handed Adrian what might safely be termed an ignominous defeat last Saturday, finding no trouble in touching Hart and Sals four times. These same biggies combined with fourteen pillered hiccous and a few errors on the part of the Adrian team resulted in a total of fourteen runs for the Normals. On the other hand, the invading aggregations could find Rynearson's delivery for but three safeties, two of which were converted into scores.

Although a drizzle fell during the entire game, Ypsilanti's pitching was the feature of the afternoon. He had worlds of speed, and with the aid of a pocket full of real, good control, gettingstrikeouts and allowing no masses.

The unusually large number of stolen bases may be largely attributed to the fact that Adrian's best catcher covered the second sack. But that should not rob Ypsilanti of any glory. It may also be of interest to know that Adrian's best catcher should not rob Ypsilanti of any glory. It may also be of interest to know that Adrian's best catcher for this game was Alf ord.

It was the especial honor of the Grand Haven Club to entertain Sup't. E. P. Cummings of Lansing, with an afternoon coffee, in the library annex.

Mr. Cummings, addressed the Senior assembly and was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all. Mr. Cummings lived in Grand Haven, graduating from the High School, and after his course at the U. of M. returned to Grand Haven as principal of the high school, and later served several years as superintendent.

The members of the club all had the pleasure and privilege of graduating during Mr. Cummings administration, and all feel the deepest loyalty and friendship towards him. President McKenna, Miss Walton and Prof. Roberts also honored the little party with their presence. Miss Pearce, formerly from Grand Haven, was unable to attend.

Mr. Cleveringa and Miss Miltie, of the library staff, were also invited, because of their residence in Grand Haven, Mr. Cleveringa being a graduate of the high school.

The members of the club are Helene Hillert, Henrietta Van Dyk, Elsie Andrews, Gertrude Hillert, Maude Scott, Mathilda Tietz, Sylvia Miller and Sophia Locke.

WHERE?

AT ROWIMA

The Sigma Nu Phi Sorority held its annual party Friday night at the gymnasium. Sigma Nu Phi was in evidence everywhere, the decorations being in their colors, yellow and white. A reception preceded the dance. It was held in the men's gym, which was decorated with yellow and white paper butterflies, suspended from the ceiling. On a large central light was the Sigma Nu Phi monogram. The dance room was decorated with yellow and white lights and daisies.

Out of town guests were Helen Bion­
