convert this scholarship to an endowed scholarship.

VII. Faculty Survey – Director of Institutional Assessment Sandra Williams and Sr. Research Analyst S. Yan.
EMU moved to AQIP (Academic Quality Improvement Program), and, as a result, different areas need to be assessed. S. Williams will contact Graduate Council and Faculty Council during the Spring to test out a survey.

VIII. eMentoring
Representatives at the last Faculty Council meeting were asked to become e-mentors for about a dozen or so students. However, the lists sent out had many hundreds of names on them. Representatives were asked to do what they can to contact students and to request help from their department, and then to send the names not contacted back to Kathy Orscheln, Associate Director of Admissions. She can be reached at korscheln@emich.edu, 487-0239. Admissions was asked to provide the names and e-mail addresses next to each other and in electronic format.

IX. All Faculty e-mail list made available and used by a private corporation
The motion was made and unanimously approved that Faculty Council objects to the authorization which was given to a private corporation, Barnes & Noble, to use the all faculty e-mail list. Faculty Council requests that the authorization be rescinded.

X. Campus Beautification projects – Margrit Zinggeler
There is no staff available to plant and take care of flowers or plants. If you are interested in adopting an area, please let Margrit Zinggeler know. Please mark your area with a sign, so that your work is acknowledged, and the area is not mowed or weedwacked.

XI. Update on MOU – S. Moeller
It is not clear currently whether the MOU to pay Faculty Council members for meetings during the Spring and Summer will materialize. If it does not, then Faculty Council will not feel obligated to meet.

XII. Reports and announcements
- UTAC – D. Silverman. The faculty input into the computer refresh program has not followed proper process. D. Silverman is working with Ron Woody (ITC) to make sure that only those faculty approved through the FC are recognized to provide the input for faculty to the Computer Refresh Program Committee. UTAC is currently undergoing a change in its composition. John Dugger has stepped down as Co-Chair, currently Mike Erwin is the single Chair for the Committee and is working with Margaret Cline to address technology issues on campus.
• AQIP – D. Silverman. Twelve people including the President, Provost, a Regent, and more than one faculty member will go to Chicago. Feedback on the proposed projects will lead to a choice of the projects to be chosen. D. Silverman expressed delight that faculty will be so well presented among the individuals going to the meeting in Chicago. Information about the projects will be made available on the Faculty Council website.
